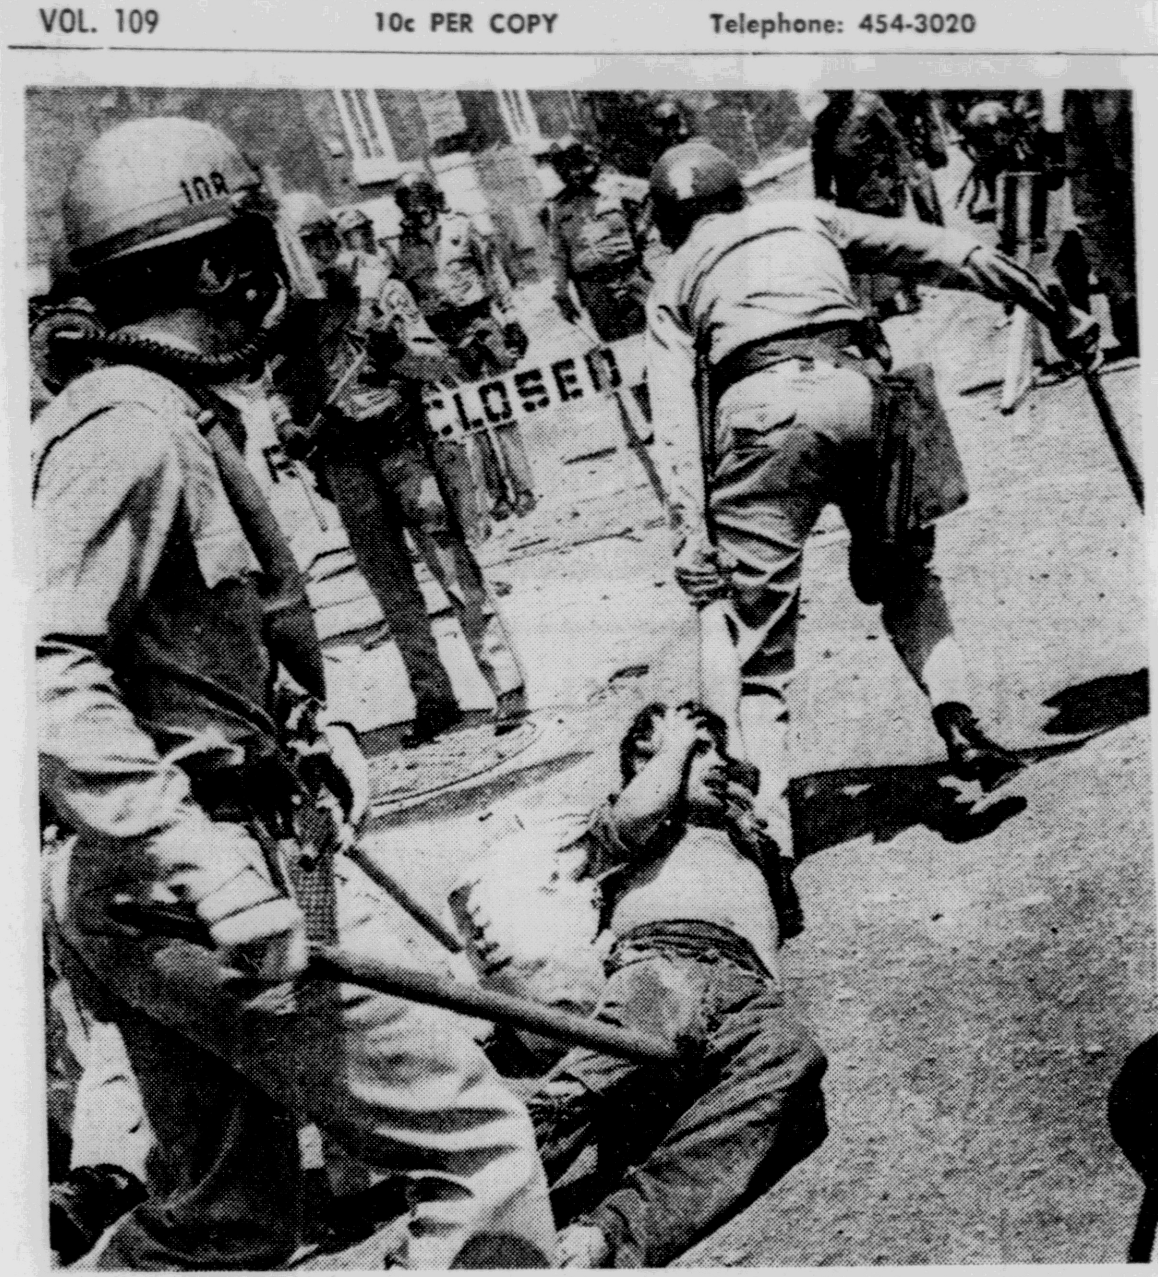
Riot Guns Used On Berkeley Mob; Reagan Orders Guard



DRAGGED AWAY — Berkeley police dragged away an injured demonstrator during a clash yesterday with 2,000 University of California students and non-students over conversion of U.C. land into a sports field. (UPI Telephoto)

128 Hurt In Park Protest

BERKELEY (UPI)—National guardsmen today patrolled streets near the University of California where 500 police used riot guns yesterday to rout 2,000 rock-throwing demonstrators in a four-hour melee.

The soldiers moved in shortly after dawn to keep order in an 18-block area adjacent to the campus where students and "street people" clashed Thursday with police.

DISPUTED PARK

The guard was concentrated around a disputed People's Park three blocks from the school. The riot began when demonstrators tried to "liberate" the park from authorities.

At least 128 persons were injured in the conflict, including 32 hit by blasts of bird shot from police shotguns. Sixty officers were given first aid, including one policeman who was stabbed.

Three protesters were in critical condition from birdshot wounds. Doctors said three others were treated for rifle wounds.

Police officials said officers fired buck shot, bird shot and rock salt from sawed off shotguns as well as tear gas during the battle, described as the worst in Berkeley's history.

47 ARRESTED

Authorities said 47 persons were arrested, including 37 adults and 10 juveniles.

Gov. Ronald Reagan mobilized a "substantial number," of guardsmen and clamped a strict nighttime curfew on the city and campus. He described the park dispute as a "phony issue" used as "an excuse for a riot."

Guardsmen remained off the campus, which was calm with students and staff reporting to classes and jobs as usual.

The violence erupted shortly after noon when demonstrators marched from a rally at Sproul Hall Plaza to the People's Park, constructed in recent weeks on university - owned property by

Business License Revisions Sought

A major revision of San Rafael's business license ordinance, aimed at simplifying the whole thing and making charges "fair and equitable," will go to the city council Monday night.

The proposed ordinance generally would base license fees on a flat rate plus an amount for each employee. Currently, most fees are based on gross receipts.

The revision is not aimed at increasing revenue, said City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen.

Finance Officer James H. McCown reported the existing business license fees total $125,000 to $128,000 per year and predicted proceeds from the new fee schedule would be in that range.

Andersen said he hoped to get away from the concept of the more a business makes, the more the city takes. "I think we will encourage people to come in," he said.

McCown, who did much of the work on the new ordinance, said it would greatly reduce the administrative burden on both the city and businesses.

The ordinance would change the licensing period from six months to one year, as is the practice in most cities.

In addition, under the existing method, some business records had to be thoroughly checked to make sure gross receipts were accurately reported, he said. Under a flat rate fee schedule, that would no longer be necessary.

McCown said he used figures from the League of California Cities, from other cities and current charges as the basis for much of the proposed ordinance.

However, the trend in the league and in most other cities is to change from flat rates to the gross receipts plan.

Sausalito, for example, changed last August with an eye toward upping its revenue from $24,000 to $48,000 annually. Corte Madera is currently working on a proposal to go from a flat rate plan to gross receipts while Novato uses the flat rate, plus an amount for each employee.

McCown also pointed out the old ordinance is hard to interpret because it does not specifically list the types of businesses

Russia Gets Signals In Venus Probe

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet space ship Venus 5 reached the area of Venus today and sent down a capsule that radioed back information on the atmosphere during a 53- -minute transmission, Tass news agency said.

Tass implied the instrument capsule reached the surface through the hot atmosphere, saying: "The station delivered to the surface of Venus a pennant with a bas relief of Lenin and the USSR coat or arms."

Venus 5 dropped the capsule before entering the atmosphere. The capsule reported "a considerable growth of temperature" before its parachute system was released, Tass said.

"During the 53-minute long descent on the parachute, the instruments on board the capsule measured the temperature, pressure and chemical composition of the atmosphere," the agency added.

The 2,491-pound Venus started braking at 7:01 a.m. Moscow time at the end of a 217-million-mile trip that began Jan. 5.

Reagan Likes Handling Of U.C. Melee

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Gov. Ronald Reagan today praised the University of California Berkeley administration for acting quickly and efficiently in putting down a melee involving 2,000 rock-throwing demonstrators yesterday.

Reagan, here for a U.C. regents meeting, spoke briefly on the Berkeley turmoil at a news conference. He said he was pleased by the administration's reaction.

The governor reiterated his belief that the responsibility for dealing with campus militants lies basically with college and university administrators.

Commenting on campus disruption in general, he said, "It will stop when university regents, faculties and administrations make up their minds that the campus is going to return to being a place of teaching and learning."

Reagan blamed Students for a Democratic Society for causing most disruptions and said the group's initials should be changed to STS—"Students for a Totalitarian Society."

As the regents met, the specter of violence at the Berkeley campus and a threatened confrontation by militants at UCLA hung over the proceedings.

Heart Recipient Is Hospitalized

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — Dr. Philip Blaiberg, the world's longest surviving heart transplant recipient, was taken to hospital by ambulance today.

Three days ago, doctors ordered the 59-year-old former dentist to bed in his Wynberg apartment for a week's rest to recover from "exhaustion."

Mrs. Blaiberg said her husband was admitted to the hospital for X-ray examination which could not be performed in their apartment.

His condition was satisfactory and he was expected back home Monday, she said.

Work Furlough, Drug Traffic Links

By MARY LEYDECKER

Narcotics offenders in Marin County Jail who are allowed to go out each day on work furlough may be continuing their careers as drug peddlers even to the extent of bringing contraband back into the jail.

Jailers, drug agents and judges — convinced that work furlough for drug offenders is not only not rehabilitating them but is causing drug traffic in the jail — have begun measures to stop the situation.

A second look is being made at the kind of rehibilitation being offered when a convicted marijuana seller is allowed to work at three successive jobs where drugs are believed to be present.

Although narcotics agents and jailers have long opposed work furlough for drug violators, the situation came to a head in March when a man on work furlough was arrested for selling marijuana at a cleaning establishment in Larkspur.

Steven Cowan has since been indicted for the sale in the shop, where an agent said they found the "largest amount of LSD he had ever seen."

However, no charges were filed against another jail inmate also working at the shop and arrested at the same time. John Robert Thiele was no longer allowed to work at the Larkspur Cleaners but soon found another job at the Blue Unicorn in San Francisco's Haight-Ashburg district.

"We know there are drugs at the Blue Unicorn," Lt. James Schwedhelm, head of the Marin Drug Abuse Bureau said today.

However, according to Deputy Probation Officer Jesse Johnson, who runs the work furlough program, Thiele asked to change jobs recently.

His latest place of employment is a "hippie-mod" curio shop called The Helios, in Mill Valley, which is owned by James Myron Tupper, who was just released from Marin Jail after a short term for possession of marijuana for sale.

Although all men returning from work furlough are "skin-searched" at the jail, personnel at the sheriff's department said today it is impossible to prevent narcotics from being smuggled in.

Full Alert For Da Nang Allied Troops

SAIGON (UPI)—More than 30,000 Allied troops around Da Nang went on full alert today in anticipation of renewed Communist attacks against or near the northern coastal city.

The full alert was ordered as a 10,000-man Allied force swept through the A Shau Valley near the border with Laos in a drive to cut off the main Communist supply lines.

U.S. paratroopers leading the offensive today reported killing 88 North Vietnamese defenders of what appeared to be a major Guerrilla supply dump.

The report coincided with the U.S. Command's announcement in Saigon that 44 aircraft were lost in Vietnam last week, 36 helicopters and eight war planes.

UPI correspondent David Lamb reported from Da Nang that South Vietnamese commanders canceled all leaves and days off for their soldiers

Some Nixon Points Rejected As Absurd

PARIS (UPI)—The Communist side at the Vietnam peace talks today dismissed as "absurd" part of President Richard M. Nixon's eight-point peace plan. But the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong negotiators adopted a softer line on their own demands.

The Communist delegates declined to comment on five of the points spelled out by Nixon in his proposals to restore peace to Vietnam within a year.

Henry Cabot Lodge, chief U.S. negotiator, presented the Nixon plan at today's session and asked the Communist side "not to answer hastily and to think over our proposal just as we are thinking about yours."

After the 17th full-scale session of the talks, Lodge declined comment to newsmen on whether he thought progress was made. But he did say: "The other side gave every indication they will consider these proposals."

Asked about the atmosphere of the session which lasted just five minutes short of four hours, he said: "I don't know. It is very hard to characterize these meetings."

Lodge took the floor after the negotiators from both Communist delegations had denounced in almost identical terms Nixon's eight-point proposal that the path to peace begin with a mutual withdrawal of all foreign military forces. The chief North Vietnamese negotiator, Xuan Thuy, dismissed this proposal.

The Viet Cong's "foreign minister", Tran Buu Kiem, called the plan an attempt to "pose conditions on the withdrawal of U.S. troops which we have many times rejected." "The Nixon administration continues to maintain its absurd demands and continues to intensify the war," Thuy said to newsmen as he arrived for the session.

Kiem said "everybody knows that U.S. and satellite troops are the only foreign troops of

Commuter Tax Threat Looms Again

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

BERKELEY — The threat of a commuter tax by San Francisco loomed again yesterday with the collapse of efforts by the Association of Bay Area Governments to find another source of revenue that would satisfy San Francisco.

San Francisco Mayor Joseph L. Alioto agreed in November to put off any tax that would hit commuters so long as ABAG was working to find new tax revenue on some regional basis, but the final report yesterday by ABAG's property tax relief committee was rejected by Alioto's representative on the committee, Chief Administrative Officer Thomas J. Mellon.

The committee's recommendation that 10 per cent of state income taxes be refunded to cities and counties on the basis of population alone — without regard to need — would "severely penalize" San Francisco, Mellon

Nixon In No Hurry To Replace Fortas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Abe Fortas's resignation under fire from the Supreme Court gives President Richard M. Nixon an opportunity to fulfill a campaign promise, but also leaves him the task of removing a cloud over the nation's highest tribunal.

Nixon is in no hurry to nominate a successor to Fortas who quit Thursday after a week-and-a-half ordeal — for himself and the court — that started with disclosures he received $20,000 from the family of a man subsequently sent to prison for stock manipulation.

With the court scheduled to recess in mid-June, the President has plenty of time to find a successor, both to Fortas and to Chief Justice Earl Warren, who is resigning next month.

No new justice could act effectively on the court in such a short time. Also, a new appointment following closely on the heels of the Fortas affair might stir unwanted controversy.

White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said yesterday following acceptance of Fortas' resignation that Nixon doesn't even have a "time-frame" for choosing a successor to Warren. The matter of replacing Fortas would have lower priority, he implied.

The absence of the pressure of time will allow Nixon to move carefully, both in finding politically acceptable replacements and satisfying public concern about the integrity of the court raised by Fortas.

Both Warren and Fortas, appointed in 1966, were of the liberal wing of the court, which has been under fire from conservatives for its social and racial decision.

During his campaign last fall, Nixon appeared to join these critics and promised to appoint "strict constitutionalist" judges of a stricter law-and-order frame of mind.

Some of those mentioned recently as possible Nixon choices include Herbert Brownell, former attorney general in the Eisenhower administration; the current attorney general, John N. Mitchell; Nixon's secretary of state, William P. Rogers; former Justice Arthur J. Goldberg; and two federal court of appeals judges, Henry Friendly and Warren Burger.

The shadow fell on the court a week ago last Sunday when Life magazine reported that Fortas, shortly after being seated on the Supreme Court, had accepted and kept for 11 months a $20,000 fee from the family foundation of Louis E. Wolfson, a Florida industrialist and former client.

Plant Gun Rampage Leaves Three Dead

TWINSBURG, Ohio (AP) — An employee at the Chrysler Corp.'s stamping plant shot two fellow workers fatally and wounded 10 others before killing himself.

Sheriff Robert Campbell identified the assailant in the shooting rampage just before midnight yesterday as Robert K. Smith, 31, of Mogadore, an inspector at the plant.

The other two dead were Sam S. Zucchero, 57, of Alliance, and Vincent Bell, 39, of Cleveland. Two more of the wounded were in critical condition.

Sheriff Campbell said the shifts were changing when Smith arrived at the plant with three guns and started shooting. The firing lasted about 15 minutes.

Williams Schuholz of Akron said he was leaving the plant when the assailant, a gun in each hand, shot two men just outside the main entrance to the plant.

"Then he went to a lunchroom about 50 feet from the entrance and started shooting again," Schuholz added. "I didn't stick around to see what happened after that."

Charles L. Harris, 64, of Cuyahoga Falls, said he was sitting at a lunch table with five other men when the assailant entered.

"I saw this guy walking up behind the guy sitting across the table from me," said Harris, who was wounded in the hand. "He had a gun in his hand. I thought it was a toy or a prank.

"He shot the man sitting across from me right through the back. I think the bullet that went through him hit me."

Harris, a stock checker at the plant, said "three or four more shots" were fired as he fell to the floor.

Traineeship For Sonoma Student

Renee Le Boeuf, a Sonoma State College sophomore from Rohnert Park, has been awarded a Shell Oil Co. summer traineeship for research in biochemistry at the University of California at Davis.

Miss Le Boeuf, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Le Boeuf, 340 Burton Avenue, will spend two months doing research work at the university. A 1967 graduate of the Rohnert Park Junior-Senior High School, Miss Le Boeuf as a senior received the northwest region Ford Foundation Award for original scientific research.

The award was for a report on the behavior of tidal crabs under various environmental conditions.

FDR's Son Is Stabbed In Geneva

GENEVA (AP) — James Roosevelt, oldest son of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, was stabbed in the back in a "family quarrel" last night, police reported.

Police today described the wound as serious but associates of the 61-year-old former congressman reported his condition was good and that he would be discharged from the hospital in the next few days.

A spokesman for Geneva's Surete, the criminal police, said no charges had been brought in the case.

Mrs. Roosevelt was taken to a rest home.

Roosevelt's lawyer, Dr. T. Tritabov, told newsmen Roosevelt himself had telephoned him from the hospital and that he was in good condition.

Roosevelt, a former California congressman, was stabbed while at his villa in the suburb of Vesenaz, police said.

He was taken to the cantonal hospital where he underwent emergency surgery. The hospital refused to give any information on his condition.

The police duty officer refused to say who stabbed Roosevelt but said it "was not likely to have serious judicial consequences."

Roosevelt and his third wife came to Geneva to live early in 1967 after he became a director of three mutual funds sponsored by Investors Overseas Service and president of the I.O.S Management Company. Shortly before he took the posts, the group of foreign-based mutual funds was criticized by the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

To Visit Carrier

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Richard M. Nixon will board the aircraft carrier Saratoga in the Atlantic tomorrow to see an Armed Forces Day firepower and antiair warfare demonstration.

A White House announcement yesterday said the President would make the trip to the carrier, 45 miles off Norfolk, Va., by helicopter.

Malaysian Crisis

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — With gunfire and arson continuing in Malaysia's capital for the fourth day, a new National Operations Council took over the government today in an effort to halt the communal battles between Malays and Chinese.

The emergency council was headed by Deputy Prime Minister Tun Abdul Razak. It was reported to have supplanted the federal and state parliaments, and sources said a new, all-Malay cabinet would be announced later today.

After a night of relative calm by a driving monsoon, shots and fires broke out anew this morning. The worst fires since the rioting began Tuesday night appeared to be concentrated in the city's suburbs. From the downtown area, eight pillars of thick, gray smoke could be seen billowing over the capital.

Powell Drops Out

NEW YORK (UPI) — Reps Adam Clayton Powell and John M. Murphy dropped out of New York's crowded mayoral race at the first turn yesterday reducing the number of contenders for the Democratic nomination to six.

On the Republican side, there are only two contenders — incumbent Mayor John V. Lindsay, who has already been endorsed by the Liberal Party, and state Sen. John J. Marchi, who has the support of the Conservatives.

The six Democrats still in the running for the June 17 primary are former Mayor Robert E. Wagner; city controller Mario A. Procaccino; Bronx borough president Herman Badillo; Rep. James H. Scheuer; writer Norman Mailer and "mystery candidate" John W. Seder.

Not Indicted

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — A grand jury has declined to indict Winton M. Blount III, son of the U.S. postmaster general, in the auto accident death of his wife Beverly, 24, two months ago.

Blount was charged with second degree manslaughter after the accident, but the charge was dropped when the case came to court. The city prosecutor then presented the evidence to the grand jury.

Six Arrested After Grape Boycott Talks

OAKLAND (UPI) — Six farm workers union delegates, including a Catholic priest, were arrested yesterday after they staged a day-long sit-in at Safeway Stores' national headquarters building.

The delegates sat in a basement conference room from the end of a morning meeting, when the food chain rejected their demands to stop selling California table grapes, until officials called police late in the afternoon.

The six arrested were part of a 14-member delegation from the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee, AFL-CIO, who met with six Safeway officials at the food chain's invitation to discuss the union's grape boycott.

The union's leader, Cesar Chavez, was unable to attend the session because of a chronic back ailment.

Outside the Safeway headquarters, a noisy crowd of about 200 farm workers union supporters marched and waved the red and black union banners, but Safeway did not request police to arrest them.

The arrested included three labor leaders: Russell Crowl, president of the Alameda County Labor Council, Richard Groulx, secretary of the Alameda Countil, and Art Carter, secretar of the Contra Costa County Labor Council.

Also arrested were Larry Itliong, assistant director of UFWOC, Felix Yton, a striking vineyard worker, and Father W. J. O'Donnell of Hayward, a member of the Bishop's Committee for the Spanish-speaking.

UFWOC began its boycott of California table grapes last summer in an effort to force growers to the bargaining table. Safeway, second largest food chain in the country, became a special target.

Safeway refused to comment on the meeting with the union delegates, which was held in closed session, but a union official complained later that "they are completely on the side of the growers."

Furniture Store Permit Approved

The Fairfax Planning Commission last night approved a use permit sought by Ronald A. Randall for a new and antique furniture store at 1599 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

The board also continued study of a proposed new zoning ordinance, but made no major changes, Secretary Eileen Foster reported.

The board set another study session for 8 p.m. Wednesday at city hall, and scheduled meeting at 8 p.m. each Tuesday in June to correlate the proposed new zoning with the city master plan map. The board also is scheduled to hold its regular meeting at 8 p.m. Thursday.

The new ordinance would establish 10 types of residential districts instead of seven, and add zones for commercial-recreational and highway frontage commercial uses.

The Hamilton Air Force Base procurement office today issued invitations for bids to be opened at 3 p.m. June 5, on alterations to two buildings at Hamilton.

SENIOR CITIZENS

Organizers In Running For Honor

Organizers of the Novato and Fairfax senior citizens clubs are two more nominees for Senior Citizen of the Year in Marin County.

The winner will be chosen from among the 12 nominees and announced at a luncheon Wednesday at the Peacock Gap Country Club.

Today's nominees are Eleanor M. Snare of Novato and Nora McPartland of Fairfax.

Mrs. Snare, 74, of 850 Cypress Street, was nominated for the award by the Novato Senior Citizens Club, which she helped organize seven years ago. The group is now part of the Novato Parks and Recreation Department.

Born and reared in Moorestown, N.J., Mrs. Snare has lived in Novato eight years and formerly lived in San Francisco, where she belonged to the Good Samaritan Episcopal Church and the Aquatic Park Senior Center.

She is a former Sunday school teacher for Trinity Episcopal Church in Novato and served on the Church Altar Guild. Mrs. Snare also was treasurer of the Business and Professional Women's Club.

She has been secretary and chairman of the publicity, legislation, by laws and incorporation committees of the Women's Auxiliary. Mrs. Snare is writing a history of the Novato Senior Citizens Club, which she has served as secretary and corresponding secretary.

She belongs to the Young Women's Christian Association and likes to sew and paint.

NORA McPARTLAND
Club organizer

Mrs. McPartland is a zestful Irishwoman who joined the Italian Catholic Federation in Fairfax for a lark — and because she likes organizations.

Her fondness for clubs led her and a friend, Alfreda Schunk, to form St. Rita's Senior Club in Fairfax about three months ago. So far, Mrs. McPartland reported, the club has been organizing and holding social events.

Mrs. McPartland was born in Ireland "approximately" 74 years ago and came to the United States in 1920, attracted by other members of her family who were here.

She settled in Texas and became a registered nurse, a job she eventually had to leave as she became the mother of eight children. One, Mrs. Eleanor Shaleski, is currently living in Fairfax while her husband is on duty with the Air Force. Another daughter is a nun and the rest of the family lives in San Francisco. She has 15 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Mrs. McPartland moved to Fairfax 23 years ago.

She is active in St. Rita's parish and as a member of the Catholic Daughters of Fairfax and Marin's Needlecraft Ingathering.

She enjoys gardening and traveling and confessed her family calls her the "flying grandmother" in conjunction with her trips around the country to visit her daughter and son-in-law wherever they were stationed in connection with his Air Force duties.

She has not yet flown as far as Ireland, but reported she is considering visiting the land of her birth next year for the first time since she left 49 years ago.

$50 Million Sub Sinks At Mare Island Shipyard

VALLEJO (AP) — A $50 million Navy submarine being remodeled at Mare Island Naval Shipyard sank last night into the Napa River. No one was injured.

The Navy said the USS Guittaro was at dockside for outfitting as a nuclear-powered fast attack submarine when she started to sink bow first in the 34-foot-deep river.

There is no danger of radioactivity, the Navy said, since the nuclear core for the power plant had not yet been installed.

Flooding started in a forward compartment, Navy officers said, and the crew and Mare Island workmen were quickly forced from the craft which was launched here in July 1968.

No cause for the flooding was given immediately.

Workmen and the crew were unable to close hatches quickly since welding lines and air hoss had been pulled through them from the shore.

The 3,500-ton sub sank in five minutes, an official said. Since she is on a tilt, the rear sail fin and the mast remained out of water.

Bystanders said electrical equipment appeared heavily damaged.

TV, Change Stolen

Stephen N. Scheinman of 100 Rose Road, Sausalito, reported to the sheriff's department Monday his apartment had been entered and a portable television set and $9 in change taken, officers said yesterday.

Red Hill Exercises Set For June 12

Red Hill Intermediate School in San Anselmo will hold its graduation exercises at 7:30 p.m., June 12, in the school amphitheater. There are 123 graduating eighth graders.

Class speakers are Susan Brower and Mark McKee and the school band will play with a trumpet duet by Jeff Lederman and David Farey. A dance will follow the exercises in the Isabel Cook auditorium.

Theft Of Tools

Burglars who entered the apartment of William McCabe Richardson at 243 North San Pedro Road, Santa Venetia Tuesday took a bottle of whiskey, check book and a too box containing a hydrometer, two sockets sets, electric meter, compressor and a gauge, sheriff's deputies said yesterday.

Business License Revisions Sought

which are included in each classification. The new ordinance, with definite lists under each category, is more clear cut, he said.

Another change is the inclusion of newspapers, radio and television stations. Annual charges, based on league figures, would be a $50 fee plus $5 per full-time employee working in San Rafael. It is the only classification which does not have a sliding fee scale for employees.

A category which has been greatly expanded, because the business has, is the coin-operated machine classification.

Under the current ordinance "mechanical amusement devices" and juke boxes were charged fees of 75 cents and 50 cents a month respectively. The new fees would be $15 and $10 per year.

Persons who distribute, rent or lease a coin operated machine would pay an annual fee of $35. In addition each machine would be taxed to the owner of the business where it is placed unless the distributor chose to pay the tax.

In addition to amusement devices and juke boxes, vending machines would be taxed $5 per year.

Among the changes in other classifications is the revision for retail stores.

Under the existing ordinance, written in 1948, a maximum of $350 is charged for businesses grossing $25,000 or more per month.

Under the new ordinance, such stores would pay a fee of $35 plus $5 per employee for the first 10; $3 each for employees 11 through 40, and $1 each for employees in excess of 40.

A major department store which currently pays the maximum indicated the new schedule would result in higher payments from the store. However, the store would not reveal the number of employees so the difference could not be determined.

A San Rafael service station also paying the maximum $350 a year would pay less than half that much under the new ordinance.

Other businesses included in the "retail-wholesale business" category in the proposed ordinance are: automobile sales, auto supply, bakery, building supplies and materials, boat sales, cocktail lounge, dairy, delicatessen, doughnut shop, drug store, equipment sales and rental, feed store, florist, grocery store, hardware, paint and glass.

Service business, most of which are currently paying $15 a year, would pay a flat fee of $30 annually plus $4 for the first 10 employees; $3 for employees 11 through 40, and $1 for employees in excess of 40.

Included are alterations, appliance repair service, auto repair service, auto painting, auto towing, auto upholstering, auto wrecking, barber shop, beauty shop, bicycle shop, blacksmith, boat repair, bondsman, cabinet shop, catering, cemetery, ceramics shop, dressmaking, dry cleaning.

Also, finance company, gardner, gun repair, hobby shop, janitorial service, laundry-launderette, linen supply, machine shop, manufacturer's repair, miscellaneous services, monument works, patrol service, pawn broker, pest control, pet and groom shop, printer, refrigeration service, savings and loan, searchers, service and repair, schools and teachers, swim pool service, transport and trucking, upholstering and warehouse and storage.

Professionals, semi-professionals and trade businesses, currently paying $30 a year, would pay $45 a year plus $7 per employee for the first 10; $4 each for employee 11 through 40, and $1 for each employee in excess of 40.

Included in the category are: accountant, appraiser, architect, attorney, auctioneer, auditor, bookkeeper-stenographer, artist, bacteriologist, brokers, chemist, chiropodist, chiropracter, collection agency, credit bureau, crematorium, dentist, detective agency, doctor, employment agency, geologist, income tax expert, insurance company.

Also, interior decorator, laboratories, lapidary, masseur, osteopath, orthopedist, pathologist, physician, physiotherapist, real estate, surveyor, stone cutter, title insurance, urologist, veterinarian, X-ray technician, engineer, miscellaneous professions.

Other categories with fees per year unless otherwise noted include: advertising, outdoor, unchanged at $90; ambulance service (new category) $50 plus $10 per vehicle; yacht harbor, unchanged at $1 per berth; undertaker, unchanged at $75; bowling alley or pool hall, from $60 to $50 plus $10 per alley or pool table;

Hospital, from $50 to $75; rest home, from $30 to $40; contractor, from $25 to $35 plus $10 for each vehicle; taxi, unchanged at $30 per vehicle; garbage collection, from $630 to $900; carnival, unchanged at $150 a day;

Theater, down from $350 to $300; theatrical performance, from $10 to $25 per day; hotel, auto court or motel, from $30 plus $1 for each unit over 10 to $35 plus $1 for each unit over 10; boarding house, down from $15 to $10; rooming house, unchanged at $10; apartment house (three or more units) unchanged at $6 per apartment.

West Point Man To Hamilton Post

Col. Wallace B. Frank, 48, a 1942 West Point graduate, has been named Vice Commander of Hamilton Air Force Base's home unit, the 78th Fighter Wing, it was announced today.

Frank was recently transferred to Hamilton from Osan Air Base in Korea where he was director of operations with the 314th Air Division. Frank flew in the European theater in World War II and has served in Morocco and Panama.

He holds the Legion of Merit and the Distinguished Flying Cross, the nation's fifth and sixth highest military awards, and two Purple Hearts for injuries received during World War II.

The 78th Fighter Wing, responsible for the air defense of the Bay Area, is commanded by Col. Donald H. Lynch.

Kentucky Appraises Mary Todd's Home

LEXINGTON, Ky. (UPI) — The state of Kentucky is moving ahead on an appraisal of the 19th Century home of Mary Todd Lincoln, wife of the Civil War president.

The state hopes to obtain the building, owned by a hardware firm in recent years. Local legend has it that Lincoln visited his future wife in the home as a young man.

TAX

told the committee, which met in the Hotel Claremont.

The distribution of tax revenue should be on the basis of where it is collected, not where the taxpayer lives, he argued. "We'd be far better off putting in our own tax," Mellon declared.

Asked how he would resolve the problem of the commuter whose home county also wanted to tax his income, Mellon said "that's his problem when he gets home."

The older, core cities, bearing the brunt of the region's urban problems, cannot buy the needed solutions with tax revenue paid on the basis of population alone, Mellon argued.

His arguments, however, failed to change the committee's recommendation, which had been approved, 5-1, before he arrived. The committee's recommendations will go before ABAG's executive committee on June 19.

Committee members conceded Melon's objections were valid, but said that their study had turned up no guideline more reliable than population to determine need.

The committee, which has said that at least $100 million in new tax revenue is needed for Bay Area cities and counties, also agreed to recommend that the Legislature authorize all cities and counties to levy a 5 per cent tax on utility bills, increase state aide to schools and shift welfare financing to the state and federal governments.

But if the state fails to act on these recommendations, the committee said, then charter cities in the Bay Area should initiate city income taxes. In Marin, San Rafael is the only charter city.

The 10 per cent refund to cities and counties of state income taxes would yield about $30 million in the Bay Area, and the utility tax would raise about $20 million a year, the committee estimated. Utilities have opposed such a tax in the past, but Alameda County Supervisor Joseph P. Bort noted that it would be equal to 33 cents on the property tax rate in Berkeley.

At present, only charter cities may levy a utility tax.

Napa Mayor Ralph Trower, noting the committee had talked only about more tax revenue, asked "where's the tie to property tax relief?"

The chairman of the committee's technical advisory group, Kenneth H. Smith, Richmond city manager, answered that the new taxes only "would take off the pressure for further increases" in property taxes.

Hayward Mayor John K. Smith, chairman of the committee, conceded "it does depend on the good will of the local jurisdiction to use the revenue for property tax relief."

Mass Production Of "Soul Food"

WALTERS, Va. (UPI) — "Soul food" has been put on the production line here by A. L. Duck Jr. At his new $60,000 plant, Duck cooks 12,000 to 15,000 pounds of chitterlings (processed hog intestines) a week.

Duck, who bills himself as the "last of the big chitterling cookers" puts the cleaned intestines in large vats at 7 p.m. and cooks them throughout the night for about 10 hours.

The next morning the "chitlins" are coarsley chopped in a grinding machine, then packed in six-pound loaf pans with gelatin and placed in refrigeration to congeal.

Stanford Lab Is Picketing Scene

STANFORD (AP) — With arms linked, more than 100 demonstrators, most of them Stanford University students, tried today to prevent employees from entering a Stanford Research Institute building.

The pickets are opposing war-related research at the institute.

About a dozen employees passed pickets to go to work. Others were caught in a traffic snarl created by a barricade on nearby Page Mill Road, where an additional 300 persons gathered.

students and "street people" from the Telegraph Avenue hippie coony. The university had police clear the park at dawn Thursday and built a chain-link fence around it.

Reagan activated the guard and imposed a curfew under a state of emergency declaration issued earlier this year.

His order specifically banned loitering, meetings, assemblies, parades and the use of voice or sound amplifiers in Berkeley or on the campus between 10 p.m. and 6 a.m.

"These regulations are effective immediately and will remain in effect until further notice," the governor said in Sacramento. He gave no indication how many guardsmen had been called up.

The fighting broke out several hours after police and workmen cleared the one-third acre park, where dissidents recently installed playground equipment, sculpture and grass. The university planned to construct playing fields on the property and eventually use it for additional dormitories.

During a noon rally on the campus, student body president-elect Dan Siegel shouted: "Let's go down and take over the park?" The crowd, clapping and cheering, marched to the park where they were confronted by Berkeley police, state highway patrolmen and sheriff's deputies.

Tear gas cannisters were fired after several charges by club-swinging police failed to disperse the demonstrators. The dissidents then broke into groups and roamed through the streets, smashing windows, battering cars and engaging the police in hit-and-run clashes.

For four hours, the Telegraph Avenue area was a battleground, choked with tear gas and reverberating with occasional shotgun blasts. It was the first time riot guns had been used in Berkeley demonstrations.

A spokesman at Herrick Hospital said 44 injured persons were signed in there, but many were treated for wounds and departed before they could be registered.

Because of the presence of the National Gaurd, only 10 officers from the California Highway Patrol in Marin were sent to Berkeley today. More than 50 highway patrolmen, sheriff's officers and municipal police were dispatched from Marin yesterday.

number of narcotics offenders on work furlough. Sheriff Louis B. Mountanos last week began talks about the situation with the probation department.

According to Undersheriff Sidney Stinson, there were eight out of 17 men on work furlough last week who were drug offenders.

Jailors would like to limit the number of men on work furlough to six, who can be kept in one cell block. This week that has been accomplished, but at least two of the men are drug violators.

"I am totally opposed to narcotics offenders being given work furlough," Lt. Schwedhelm said today. "The whole idea of incarceration is to remove these people from the drug culture and give them a chance to learn they can live without drugs."

Judge Harold J. Haley, of Marin Superior Court, who sentences many offenders, said that he had just learned of the situation and that he thought a new look should be taken of the eligibility of narcotics violators for work furlough.

Stories of drugs in the jail had reached him earlier, he said, and a jailer had told him of finding "a great deal of contraband in a search of the jail."

Ohter judges have become concerned, too, after hearing of a man sentenced to jail for one day for a traffic violation who reported to a Municipal Court judge that he had been offered marijuana "for the first time in his life."

Jailers said yesterday that they feel the separation of the work furlough inmates from the other men is helping. "We can tell when there are drugs in the jail," one said. "We have trouble waking the men up in the morning and there are more fights."

Stinson said today that more conferences with the probation department will take place when the sheriff, who has been home this week with a broken wrist, returns to work.

for the first time since mid-February.

Extra U.S. Marines were ordered into defensive positions around American bases. Da Nang, about 350 miles north of Saigon, is U.S. Marine headquarters in South Vietnam.

Military sources expected the Communist attacks might coincide with the birthday of North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh on May 19.

The 44 planes lost in combat last week represented one of the heaviest aircraft losses this year.

Military spokesmen said Communist gunners shot down 18 of the helicopters while the others were lost to operational difficulties or on missions into Laos.

OBITUARIES

Alice Yates Dies At Age 80

Mrs. Alice Wulzen Yates of Mill Valley, 80, died today in a local hospital after a long illness.

A native of San Francisco, she lived at 297 Miller Avenue.

Mrs. Wulzen retired about 10 years ago after serving as a bookkeeper for 14 years with the Marin County Schools Department.

She is survived by a daughter, Carlita Hawthorne of Oakland, and a graddaughter.

Her family asked that memorial contributions go to donors' favorite charities.

Burial will be private.

BERTHA SMITH

Bertha Eveline Smith, 63, a former long-time resident of San Anselmo, died last evening after an illness at her home in Rossmoor Leisure World, Walnut Creek.

Mrs. Smith and her husband, Morgan M. Smith, resided at 34 Hawthorne Avenue, San Anselmo, until moving to Walnut Creek about a year ago following Smith's retirement from the Roy Smith Knitting Mills.

Mrs. Smith was a charter member of Fairfax Chapter, Order of Eastern Star.

Besides her husband, she leaves a daughter and two sons: Mrs. Diane M. Peck of Fremont, Roy M. Smith of San Jose, and Thomas W. Smith of Novato, and three sisters, Miss Edith Cull and Mrs. Anthony Silva of San Mateo and Mrs. William Copeland of Burlingabe; also 11 grandchildren.

Funeral will be at 3 p.m. tomorrow at Hull's Walnut Creek Mortuary, 1139 Saranap Avenue, Walnut Creek, followed by private cremation.

LESLIE HENNESSY

Leslie Hennessy, 79, of 130 Meadowcroft Drive, San Anselmo, died yesterday at Marin General Hospital, where he had been a patient two days.

Hennessy had been brought from Center Medical Hospital in Kentfield after falling while confined there.

ENGELTJE VAN DER LAAN

Funeral for Engeltje Van Der Laan, 77, mother of Tonnis Van Der Laan of 1182 Simmons Lane, Novato, will be held at 2 p.m. Monday at El Camino Chapel in San Bruno. Entombment will be at Skylawn Memorial Park, San Mateo County.

Mrs. Van Der Laan, a native of Holland, died in Millbrae Wednesday. She had lived in California for two years.

Besides her son, she is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Vallie Slate of Millbrae and Henderika Van Der Laan of Holland.

EUGENE BISCAILUZ

SANTA MONICA (AP) — Eugene Biscailuz, a little man with a courtly manner and wide-brimmed hat who became "Mr. California" among lawmen during his 26 years as sheriff of Los Angeles County, died today at 86.

He was known as a crack shot, a top rider favoring the sombrero and silver mountings of the state's Spanish past, a top administrator, a relentless tracker of crooks, and developer of a number of rehabilitation centers for prisoners.

He retired in 1958 after 51 years in law enforcement and had been in seclusion at his home here since suffering a stroke several years ago.

For decades he was a familiar sight in parades, dressed like a Spanish Don, astride a prancing horse, waving and smiling, often accompanied by his close friend, the late actor Leo Carrillo.

The grandson of William Warren, first city marshal of Los Angeles, Biscailuz joined the sheriff's department in 1907 when the force had only 27 men. At the time he retired, more than 3,000 men were under him.

He studied law by night and rose to assistant chief deputy sheriff's department in 1907 Gov. C. C. Young called Biscailuz to Sacramento to help organize the highway patrol.

When Sheriff William Traeger was elected to Congress in 1932, Biscailuz was appointed sheriff. He stood for election two years later and was elected until forced to retire by age.

Born in Los Angeles in 1883, he married Willette Harrison, his wife of 48 years, in 1902. After his retirement, he became the local chief of the March of Dimes and hosted the annual Sheriff's Parade in Los Angeles.

He is survived by a son, Martin.

Funeral services are pending.

aggression to be found in South Vietnam."

Both Communist negotiators repeated their demands—contained in the National Liberation Front's 10-point peace package—that the United States must withdraw all its forces from South Vietnam "without posing any condition whatsoever."

Although the Communists sharply attacked the mutual withdrawal proposal, which is covered in the first three points of the Nixon plan, they refrained from attacking others. These dealt with international supervision of the eventual ceasefire and general elections, the exchange of prisoners of war and the neutralization of neighboring Laos and Cambodia.

Compared with their representations in previous sessions, the statements of both Communist delegates were brief and restrained today.

Kiem said Nixon's reaction to the Viet Cong peace plan was "not a proper response to the over-all solution to the South Vietnam problem as set forth by the National Liberation Front."

He repeated the Viet Cong's oft-stated demand: The United States "must withdraw all U.S. and satellite troops from South Vietnam without imposing any condition," and stop supporting the "warlike and corrupt" Saigon administration and let the people of South Vietnam "settle among themselves their internal affairs without foreign interference."

Winn Says Hamilton Phase-Out Will Not Affect Air Defenses

The phasing out of the Western Region headquarters of the North American Air Defense Command at Hamilton Air Force Base will have "no effect whatsoever" on the nation's defenses against enemy attack, Maj. Gen. James R. Winn, commander of Western NORAD, told a group of Marin government, military, business and education leaders yesterday.

At the same time, Winn raised the possibility that other Air Force units might be moved into Hamilton after the NORAD and Fourth Air Force headquarters are closed down.

The two headquarters are to be closed by September as the result of a long-planned economy move by the Nixon administration restructuring the nation's air defenses. The move affects about 600 military men and 200 civilians at Hamilton.

Winn, who will retire this year, called the move of the NORAD unit from Hamilton to Richards-Gebaur Air Force Base near Kansas City a "good military move." He told the luncheon audience at the base officer's club, "We are not degrading our defenses. We'll just have fewer people."

He added, "It will have no affect whatsoever on the air defense of the western United States. There will be the same fighter units and the same NIKE (missile) sites. We're just cutting down on command and control."

He said the move to Richards-Gebaur was sound militarily because it put the control point on any air battles further away from the Pacific coast, making it less possible for submarine-launched guided missiles to knock out the command post.

It is also a good economy move, he said, because advancing technology in communications and commuters has made it possible for the same job on defense to be done with fewer people, fewer facilities and less cost.

In response to a question, Winn said base officials had no way of determining what economic effect the closing of the two headquarters and the placing of the base's combat center on a standby basis would have on Novato and Marin County.

He said that some units remaining at Hamilton would be beefed up, thereby absorbing some of the manpower reduction.

Earlier, before his formal remarks, Winn said he had been told by another official at Hamilton that 22 other Air Force organizations had requested that their units be transferred to Hamilton since announcement last month of the closing of NORAD and Fourth Air Force headquarters.

Air Force information spokesmen hastened to clarify the remark by Winn, an Army man, saying that while an unknown number of such requests have been made, none of them are in official channels yet.

W. J. Wider Wins Command Again

William J. Wider of San Rafael has been re-elected commander of the Marin County Council of the American Legion.

Other new council officers are F. W. Mosher Jr., of Mill Valley, first vice commander; Casey Van Gronigen of Novato, second vice commander; and Frank Swift of San Anselmo, finance officer.

Ex-Marin Man Sent To Jail

Robert Bruce Lane, 28, former Marinite who now lives in Tacoma, Wash., pleaded guilty Wednesday to one charge of car theft as his trial was about to begin in Marin Superior Court.

Judge Samuel W. Gardiner gave Lane a suspended prison sentence but ordered him to spend one year in the county jail. He also placed him on five years probation.

Lane was arrested March 5 by Mill Valley police, who said he was driving a car stolen in San Francisco. A charge of stealing another car on Feb. 13 was dismissed yesterday.

Teen Faces Hearing On Depot Burglary

John Edward Brown, 19, of San Rafael, will appear in Sonoma County Superior Court next Thursday for a preliminary hearing on a burglary charge.

Brown, who pleaded innocent in Southern Sonoma Municipal Court and was bound over, is charged with the March 10 burglary of the Greyhound Bus Depot in Petaluma. The safe, containing $1,526, was taken from the depot and later found unopened near Stafford Lake, Novato.

Congress Hears Bay Called An Open Sewer

WASHINGTON (AP) — San Francisco Bay was described in Congress yesterday as an open sewer, in danger of further pollution by federal projects and, because of land fills, facing reduction to the size of a river.

California members of Congress voiced alarm over the prospects at a hearing before the House Government Operations subcommittee on conservation and natural resources.

Chairman Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., said the problems of the world famous bay are of such grave national concern that it was selected for the first phase of a subcommittee study of the destruction of the nation's waterways and estuaries by pollution and excessive filling.

Reuss, in a proposal that could stop in its tracks the proposed dredging of Saucelito Canal to Mill Valley's small craft harbor, said the Army Corps of Engineers should bar dumping of dredged wastes off Treasure Island and Alcatraz. Instead, all wastes should be dumped in the ocean, he said.

Marin County officials, however, have said that the extra cost of barging the mud from the canal out to the ocean could make the dredging prohibitively expensive.

Reuss' proposal was particularly significant because the Corps of Engineers now is considering Marin's application for permission to dump the 700,000 cubic yards of mud from the dredging off Alcatraz. About half to two thirds of the mud would be flushed out the Golden Gate Bridge by the tides, according to corps estimates.

Reuss also suggested that the Corps of Engineers consider revoking its old permits giving federal approval for filling in miles of shoreline behind dikes. All corps permits are revokable, he noted.

Reuss, who conducted the seven-hour hearing, instructed the Interior Department to provide evidence that the quality of the bay water would not be ruined by the planned diversion of huge quantities of Northern California water to Southern California.

He also declared the detergent industry should get rid of detergents that encourage the growth of algae.

Rep. Don Edwards, D-Ninth Dist., who called the bay an open sewer because of unregulated pollution for more than 100 years said "it is almost too late to save the bay."

If it is to be saved, he said, it must be done basically by Californians in California, but the federal government can help.

He said Rep. Paul N. McCloskey, R-11th Dist., said the effort to reverse the trends would require massive amounts of federal money.

McCloskey said the efforts of 110 cities around the bay to increase their tax base to meet ever-rising budgetary loads had contributed to their pproval of land fill projects. The original area of the bay, he said has been reduced from 680 square miles to 430.

With more fill projects under consideration, he said, "it is conceivable that by 1990 the filling of shallow waters of the bay could reduce it to the status of a river across which our grandchildren will be skipping rocks."

Rep. Jerome R. Waldie, R-14th Dist., complained that two proposed federal projects, the Peripheral Canal and the San Luis Drain, would further damage the bay's estuarian system, particularly in the Sacramento-San Joaquin delta.

The proposed canal would be devastating, he said, in diverting the input of fresh water, decreasing the size of the estuaries, reducing the number and variety of fish, and damaging the ability of the water to assimilate wastes.

Waldie said the proposed terminus of the San Luis Drain at Antioch would dump agricultural residues containing fertilizers and insecticides into the water system and add to pollution.

"This," commented Reuss, "does not seem to be one of the soundest uses of the tax dollar."

Reuss said that if he were a Californian "I think I would join a revolt to get the state to take legal action against those who have engaged in land fills for somewhat ill-gotten gains."

McCloskey said the federal government "has been as big a plunderer as anyone." He mentioned the Alameda Naval Air Station, the navy yard at Treasure Island, and the San Francisco airport as examples of bay fills by governmental action.

Congregation To Join In Clean-Up Day

Members of the congregation of San Geronimo Valley Community Presbyterian Church will go to worship service earlier than usual Sunday and all prepared to roll up their sleeves and go to work.

Rev. Willard L. Frederickson, pastor of that church as well as the Presbyterian church at Point Reyes, has set both the 11 a.m. worship service and 9:30 a.m. church school ahead to 9 a.m. and has asked his congregation to wear work clothes to church.

The purpose is have the congregation join forces with a newly created committee in the valley, Geronimo, to perform community cleanup work Sunday from 10 a.m. to noon.

Geronimo, a committee composed of members of the San Geronimo Valley Association and the valley's hippie community, was created in the aftermath of bitter differences that flared into occasional violence after hippie-style Easter observances in the valley. Geronimo's purpose is to seek ways in which the hippie and "straight" communities can live side-by-side in peace.

Frederickson said the cleanup effort will be followed by a picnic and discussion.

The changed church schedule, he announced will continue on a trial basis through June 15 to see if a shorter, earlier worship and school program can lead to greater community involvement of the congregation.

The Point Reyes Station churc hservice, as a consequence, will be changed from 9 to 11 a.m. Sundays, he sadi.

16,619 Are Eligible For Bond Election

A total of 16,619 persons will be eligible to vote in the $2.1 million bond election in the San Rafael Elementary School District June 10, according to Peter Meyer, head of the county elections department.

Sample ballots are being mailed today and Monday, Meyer said. Of the total registered voters, 12,967 live in San Rafael and 3,652 in unincorporated areas of the district, he said.

Cotati Plans Tie-In To Aqueduct System

The Cotati City Council last night approved a change in the city water system and the financial study for a new sewer system.

In changing the water system, the council decided it would be better to hook into the Coyote Aqueduct System that supplies water to the Rohnert Park and Rural areas rather than making improvements to the existing water well system.

Robert Heid, city engineer, said improvements on either system were estimated to cost $25,000. Noting general dissatisfaction in the community with the high content of minerals in the well water, the council decided that joining the Coyote system would be best.

Heid was instructed to draw up plans for a new booster pump system for the change. Anticipating the needed water improvements, the council set aside the required funds last year.

Beginning preparations for the tie-in of Cotati sewer lines with those of Rohnert Park, the council approved the use of the services of Bartle Wells Associates of San Francisco to make a financial study. The study cost was estimated at $400.

The Cotati city council also:

WALKERS — Gave approval to the request of the Bahai Church Club of Sonoma State College to walk through Cotati in a group on May 30 at 7 p.m. the group, seeking to demonstrate the plight of the Biafran people, is planning a cross-country walk from Guerneville to the college. A group of 20 to 75 persons is expected to participate.

NOISE — Received a petition from 10 residents in the vicinity of the inn of the beginning coffee house complaining of excessive noise. The city attorney was directed to find what power the city has to assist the residents.

PATCHES — Approved purchase of 170 shoulder patches for the police department at a cost of $214.

WATER LINE — Approved the expenditure of $220 to install a 12-inch water line in the Plaza

Inmates Indicted By Grand Jury

The Marin County Grand Jury last night indicted two San Quentin inmates who fled while out of prison on the institution's new work furlough program.

Charged with escape were David Ralph Clutts, 31, and William J. Arrowsmith, 25, both of whom were convicted burglars.

Arrowsmith, who had been due for parole in nine weeks, disappeared Feb. 24 from a San Rafael gas station where he had been working nights. He was captured April 21 in Dallas, Tex.

Clutts fled the next day but was caught in East Peoria, Ill. in April.

There have been 10 inmates on the work furlough program since it was started six months ago. In addition to the two men who fled, two have completed the program and six are still in it, according to prison officials.

Judge Drops Case At Victim's Request

Felony car theft charges against a Richmond boatworks owner and his employee were dismissed yesterday in Marin Municipal Court by Judge Alvin B. Goldstein Jr. after the victim said she wished the case dropped.

Donald Charles Harlander, 43, of Orinda, and Quentin Tripp Lewton, 24, of San Anselmo had been arrested in San Anselmo March 20, when the car's owner called police to say, "Someone just took my car and they are going down the hill."

Redwood's Brigadoon

The musical "Brigadoon" came out "Bridegroom" in a headline yesterday in the Independent-Journal. The Redwood High School music department will present the show at 8 p.m. today and tomorrow in the school's Little Theater.

Alioto To Speak At Novato Dinner

San Francisco Mayor Joseph L. Alioto will speak at the annual dinner meeting of the Novato Chamber of Commerce, tentatively set for 7:30 p.m. June 19 at the Marin Country Club, chamber secretary Billie Garl said today.

Mrs. Garl reported the chamber's nominating committee named 11 candidates for five vacancies on the board of directors. Ballots will be sent to members next Tuesday, she said, and must be returned by May 30. Votes will be counted on June 2 and then a special meeting will be set to select officers.

The Novato Chamber of Commerce also:

FLY-IN — Agreed to publicize at Bay Area airports a fly-in to Gnoss Field by the Southern Marin Kiwanis Club Aug. 16-17.

CAREERS — Decided to study establishing a careers program for Novato high schoolers by expanding the annual tours of Novato businesses currently given foreign exchange students.

INFORMATION — Received a recommendation from a chamber member to set up a tourist information booth on Redwood Highway to furnish travelers information for the entire West Coast.

Revised Library Plans Due Study

Marin County Librarian Bruce Bajema will show revised plans and a model of the proposed Novato Library to members of Friends of the Novato Library at 8 p.m. in the Novato Community House.

Bajema will also give a status report on efforts to secure new funds for the library as a result of the recent withdrawal of federal money, according to James McConnell, secretary of the library group.

Mrs. Aaron Counters Attacks In Magazine

Bella Aaron, chairman of the Marin County Personnel Commission, yesterday blasted the manager of the Marin County Employees Association for "scurrilous attacks on me and the commission" through the employee newspaper.

Mrs. Aaron took Randall M. Prevo to task for using "misstatements" in the May issue of MCEA News to attack her. She declared Prevo should criticize her in public, before Marin County supervisors or the commission instead of using the indirect medium of the employee newspaper.

"I'm sorry Mr. Prevo is not here today," flared Mrs. Aaron at the personnel commission hearing at the Civic Center. "He has been to almost every meeting, and today is one of the rare exceptions. . . . "He's had ample opportunities to attack me in the open. What bothers me is that he uses this paper to make scurrilous attacks on me and the commission."

Mrs. Aaron said she referred to two news articles in the May issue of the county employees association newspaper.

One article said that Mrs. Aaron "wishes the supervisors to express themselves on a philosophy of qualification of job applicants as related to special interest groups. Her position on the Human Rights Commission naturally lends itself to championing minority groups and she wants further commitment from the supervisors on this issue."

Mrs. Aaron said she is not alone in seeking a policy clarification on relaxing of requirements to help minority employment such as under the New Careers Program.

A second article by Prevo said in part: "Commissioners (Robert B.) McCreadie and (A. Bruce) McKenzie both appeared to question the advisability of adulterating the merit basis of government service with concessions to a special group."

These statements are completely erroneous, charged Mrs. Aaron. Both McCreadie and McKenzie said they did not make the statements attributed to them.

Flag Pole Plans At New Station

The Kentfield Fire Department plans to install a flag pole in front of its new station at 1004 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in about two weeks, Chief Kenneth Kamp said today.

Installation has been delayed awaiting outcome of a request by Union Oil Company for right-of-way across a portion of the fire station property where the pole was to be placed.

Now that the Marin County Planning Commission has turned down the oil company's permit to install a service station west of the fire department, the firemen plan to erect the pole, Kamp said.

Oakland Men Held On Burglary Count

Two Oakland men charged with a Petaluma burglary were denied release on their own recognizance yesterday in Sonoma County Superior Court.

Sherman Lee Shaw and Lonnie Cooper, both 23, were ordered held in lieu of $6,250 bail in the county jail to await a probation report May 27. Both had pleaded guilty to the April 30 burglary of the Western Auto Store, 120 Petaluma Boulevard North, Petaluma.

Two Boys, 18, Face Arraignment Monday

Michael R. Rundle and Phillip R. McFarren, both 18 and both of Novato, yesterday were bound over to Marin Superior Court on a charge of burglarizing the Lu Sutton School in Novato March 1.

They were told to appear in court Monday for arraignment.

$305,655 Office Contract Awarded

Marin Junior College District trustees last night awarded a $305,655 contract for a group of portable buildings to be used as an office center at the Kentfield campus.

The job went to Speedspace Corp. of Santa Rosa, lowest of three bidders.

The buildings will be used to house offices displaced when Harlan Hall is demolished for construction of a new building, to be known as Harlan Center.

The buildings will be located in the main parking lot off College Avenue, resulting in the loss of 84 parking spaces.

Planning Director Dale A. Fleming had reported at past board meetings that the portables, when no longer needed for office space, could be moved to the north campus at Novato for classroom use.

The Marin Junior College Board Also:

CREEK WORK -- Received a warning from Russell M. Ridge, biology instructor, that Corte Madera Creek flood control work at the east boundary of the campus was a threat to wildlife since water was cut off from a stretch of the creek. Trustees urged the staff to seek cooperation from the contractor to correct the condition.

CONCERT-LECTURE — Approved a proposed $29,275 budget for the concert-lecture program for 1969-70, with notice that it will be subject to modification.

LAPIDARY CLASS — Received a petition with 22 signatures and several comments protesting the proposed closing of the adult education lapidary class, and urged the staff to continue to seek space for the class scheduled to make way for credit sculpture classes.

MERIT SYSTEM — Set June 3 for an election by nonteaching employees, about 90 in number, to determine if they want to work under the state civil service system.

BID CALLS — Authorized calling bids for an expanded parking lot, 213 spaces, next to the physical education building, and for an enclosure for the kiln between the old Fine Arts Building and the Engineering Building.

NEW COURSES — Approved as new courses, business management with internship option, general oceanography, Western civilization, mathematics appreciation for the liberal arts student, string instrument workshop, urban community health, and directed studies, a social science unit.

RESIGNATION — Accepted the resignation of Calvin Riemcke, head basketball coach who has taken a job with Whitworth College in Spokane, Wash.

HIRING — Approved the hiring of William Tower as supervisor of grounds at $693 a month.

BUILDING LEASE — Approved renewing its lease of a building at 21 Mariposa Avenue, San Anselmo, which is used for storage and apprenticeship classes, for two years at a cost of $600 a month.

INSTRUCTIONAL EQUIPMENT — Approved seeking bids for instructional equipment for the 1969-70 college year, estimated to cost $75,435, with state and federal grants expected to reduce the local outlay to $55,557.

NEWSPAPER — Granted the College of Marin Times, the college newspaper, a $450 loan to be repaid from Associated Students funds so the newspaper can put out its three remaining editions.

VOCATIONAL FUNDS — Approved a movement to have state and federal grants for vocational-technical education be allocated on a percentage basis with community colleges getting 60 per cent. Trustee Harry J. Moore, vice principal at San Marin High School, abstained.

WORKSHOPS — Scheduled a board workshop session on capital outlay for 8 p.m. May 28, and a workshop on budget, salaries and priorities at 8 p.m. Thursday.

JUNE SCHEDULE — Decided to meet June 5 and June 26, because the regularly scheduled second meeting of the month, June 19, would conflict with commencement.

Trustee Donald K. Felt was absent.

Joint Performance

The combined orchestras, bands and choruses of Novato and San Marin High Schools will perform at a music festival at 3 p.m. May 25 in the boys gymnasium of Novato High School.

Collegians Hit 'Pigs' At Berkeley

A student's outburst against yesterday's events in Berkeley opened the Marin Junior College District board's session last night.

The student arose from the audience to report about "the pigs in Berkeley" and people being wounded with shotgun blasts.

Board president Theodore C. Wellman said he doubted it was relevant to the session.

"Yes, it is," the student replied, "Marin County pigs are over there," and it's information. "Mad dog Reagan and all his people had better wake up."

Then another student, Ed Stone of the Irish Student Union, said he felt the board had been intimidated at a meeting of the financial advisory committee. "A member of the staff has been threatened" and no action has been taken, he said.

Edward S. Schimberg, a member of the newly-formed Students for a Democratic Society, said: "I want to know who was threatened and by whom."

Wellman replied: "This is not a court of law and we're not going into that," and the board started on its agenda.

Library Session

The May meeting of the San Rafael Library board, canceled Monday for lack of a quorum, will be held next Monday at 7:45 p.m. in the library, secretary Vivian Smith announced today.

College Faculty Asks 10 Pct. Salary Hikes

The College of Marin faculty put in its bid last night for a 10 per cent hike in the salary schedule for 1969-70 which would add $185,000 to faculty salary outlay.

Other raises were requested by administrators and nonteaching employees.

Raynes also requested that part-time and evening instructors receive 65 per cent of full-time pay instead of 60 per cent, a boost he estimated would cost an additional $18,050.

Another proposal was that the requirements for moving up in the salary categories be less stringent, a change that would cost an additional $6,000, he estimated.

On behalf of all employees he asked they be given broader health plan coverage, which would cost an additional $6,261.

Raynes contended that the district during the current year had allocated less than 50 per cent of its operating budget to teachers salaries as required by law. As a consequence, he noted, the district had to return from $9,000 to $10,000 to the state.

Trustee Harry J. Moore said he wouldn't argue with the need for a pay increase for teachers, but didn't think "the board has the ability to raise any more money."

Ann Jack, representing the nonteaching employees, presented their request for a 5 per cent cost of living increase, which would cost an additional $34,866.

She also requested longevity increases for nonteaching employees, 3 per cent after five years and 5 per cent after 10 years, a change which would cost an additional $8,878.

Non-teaching employees also requested a dental plan, which would cost $6,756.

Dean of Students Irwin P. Diamond, representing the administrators, asked that their salaries be related to the faculty salary schedule on a ratio basis.

The system used this past year of granting administrative pay raises under a merit pay system hasn't been successful, Diamond said.

Raynes requested a workshop session with the board on salaries, and later the board set the workshop for 8 p.m. Thursday.

Board members later approved rehiring teachers for the 1969-70 year, but Trustee Elizabeth M. Deedy dissented on the list of probationary teachers because the board hadn't been given an evaluation report.

Family Life Film Series Is Approved

The Old Adobe School Board last night approved 3-2 the use of KQED's "Time of Your Life" film series and the teachers guide prepared for family life education classes.

The motion of trustee Dora Eldredge drew support from Margaret Kullberg and John Thompson, but negative voted from board president Albin Bionda and James Gambanini.

Supt. Dean D. Magowan said there was little board discussion on the matter and no participation from the audience. The film series, which was the subject of a stormy public session March 17, had not been listed on the agenda, but was brought up at the request of Mrs. Eldredge.

Trustees Bionda and Gambanini had previously opposed the series, saying the concluding segments of the film were too advanced for sixth grade students.

Under the approved resolution, the general guide prepared by the district administrators was approved and student participation in classes on human reproduction made optional.

The Old Adobe School board also:

SPECIAL CLASS — Approved the formation of a class for the educationally handicapped starting in September. Magowan said the class will be limited to eight children in grades one and two, and 10 children in grades three through six. He said $13,000 in state funds would be available.

SALARY RAISE — Granted a 5 per cent salary increase to classified personnel and medical benefits to be determined later.

VICE PRINCIPALS — Granted a 1.15 per cent salary increase to the district vice principals.

TEACHERS — Granted medical benefits to teachers with the amount to be determined during salary negotiations. The teachers were also granted a duty-free lunch period.

HIRED — Approved the employment of Elizabeth Kind and Patricia Morris as teachers with salaries not set as yet.

Credit Cards Taken

Burglars took credit cards belonging to Norman Owen Ash of 456 Ethel Avenue, Mill Valley, from Ash's truck while it was parked on Madrona Street between Throckmorton and Miller avenues between 8:30 and 10 p.m. Tuesday, police reported today.

Buses are replacing trolleys in Rio De Janeiro.

After 30 Volkswagens, Father Bittman still believes.

In the beginning, Father Aloysius Bittman bought a bug.

That was in 1957 when he joined the staff of St. Anthony's Indian Mission in Mandaree, North Dakota.

Since then, Father Bittman has gone a long way. In 30 Volkswagens.

Owning two or three at a time, the Bittman staff travels 600 miles per week in each. Over dirt and gravel roads and in temperatures that go to 55 below.

A few VWs ago, Father Bittman's '65 broke through the Garrison Reservoir ice.

"It was a good time for praying," he said.

Luckily, one 255 pound priest and one 1808 pound bug floated to safety. After the ice was chopped away and a quick oil change, the good father and his faithful companion were on their way.

He was a bit peeved about the oil change though.

"It set the Mission back $1.80," complained Father Aloysius Bittman.

Enrollment Of Foreign Students Brings Heated Trustee Exchange

Marin Junior College District trustees are in the unhappy position of parents forced to decide which child they will have to kick out of the house.

With limited funds, the district apparently will have to hold enrollment of full-time students at 3,800, and there probably will be up to 5,000 knocking at door.

Trustees took a first look at setting up priorities last night and got involved in a controversy over where foreign students should stand on the list.

There was general agreement that there wouldn't be any increase in the faculty for the 1969-70 year.

Then came the proposed priority list for students: First, continuing students; second, current Marin high school students; new foreign students up to a limit of 2 per cent of full-time enrollment and high school students enrolled in selected college classes; third, Marin students returning to college full-time after an absence; fourth, other new Marin full-time students; fifth, part-time students; sixth, students from areas in the state without a community college; seventh, students from other community college districts, and eighth, out-of-state students.

Dean of Students Irwin P. Diamond said there wasn't any question that those in the first three priorities could be accommodated, probably those in the fourth category, but the fifth category was questionable, and the others had no hope.

Trustee Harry J. Moore strongly opposed having foreign students in a higher category than some students from Marin.

He explained that he wasn't against foreign students, but felt the board "would be violating a trust" by giving them priority over Marin students.

Acting president Louis H. Herkenhoff explained that to place foreign students any lower on the priority list would in effect be phasing them out, because of the advance assurance of enrollment they need before they can get a visa.

"We have an obligation to the taxpayer," Moore said. "If we deny someone five miles away and give to someone 6,000 miles away, we'll be subject to real criticism."

Student John Ruchenski said that having foreign students on the campus provides educational opportunity, and Harry Gilbert, vice president of Associated Students, said they provide person-to-person relationships that "enlarge the horizon of students."

Del Mar Jackson, a member of the Black Students Union, said: "If you stop things from coming in, you stop your growth. Good things you get from people."

Student Michael McGinn said that placing part-time students in the fifth priority would be hardship on poor students, who have to work and can't carry a full class load.

These students would be discriminated against by an economic situation, McGinn contended.

Herkenhoff said there would be opportunity for these students to enter by appealing to the scholastic standards committee.

Board president Theodore C. Wellman said the board "wants to avoid any priority with discrimination."

Trustees decided to give full review to planning for the 1969-70 budget and setting priorities at a workshop session at 8 p.m. Thursday.

Two Boats, Auto Reported Stolen

Burglaries of two boats and a car were reported by San Rafael police today.

A stereo player and 17 tapes valued at a total of $252 were stolen Wednesday night or yesterday from a car owned by Steven V. Stragnola of 217 Laurel Place, Apt. 10. The car was parked on Laurel Place.

A 34-foot boat docked at 135 Third Street owned by Lt. Col. Warren L. Andrews of 40 Juanita Court, Novato, was entered Wednesday night and binoculars, a barometer and fishing gear valued at $90 were taken, police said.

Entered Thursday was a boat owned by Gerald H. Smith of 124 Linden Lane, docked at Lowrie Yacht Harbor, 40 Point San Pedro Road. A depth finder and a chrome hatch cover valued at $155 were taken, police said.

Jewelry Is Taken From Novato Home

Novato police today reported the burglary of $205 worth of jewelry from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth E. Mitchell at 1337 Denlyn Street.

The theft of a watch and two rings occured between Tuesday morning and last night, police said.

Police Arrest Teen Suspect On Warrant

A Petaluma teen-ager, facing burglary charges in San Rfael and Petaluma, was arrested again yesterday on a warrant issued by Southern Sonoma Municipal Court for violating the conditions of his release.

Johnny Slaughter, 19, was held on $6,250 bail to await a hearing today. He is accused of burglarizing three Petaluma businesses on April 10 and is scheduled for a jury trial in Marin on June 16 for the burglary of a San Rafael doctor's office on the same date.

All-Modes Study Of Transit Asked

Another study fo "all modes" of transit between Marin and San Francisco was recommended yesterday by the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District's commuters' affairs committee.

No estimate of the cost was discussed, but presumably it would be more than $1 million because the study is to include a $902,000 study of extending rail rapid transit across the bay into Marin, as well as studies of buses and water transportation.

Virtually the same study was done by the state Division of Bay Toll Crossings in 1967 at a cost of $850,000.

Committee members voted. 7-1, to recommend that the full board authorize the district to seek a federal grant to cover the entire cost of the study.

San Francisco Supervisor William C. Blake, noting that the Marin County Transit District is about to complete its planning of a bus system, and that San Francisco and Marin are about to complete a joint study of ferries for $45,000, said the new study should be only of rail transit to avoid duplication.

Committee chairman Joseph E. Sheeks of Belvedere commented, "We're always throwing up balloons that never seem to come down in any tangible form." He urged action on bus transit as "much more immediate."

Gen. Mgr. Dale W. Luehring suggested the federal government may be more interested in funding a study comparing rail and bus transit systems, but his suggestion won no response from the directors, who by then and argued for more than an hour about what the study should include.

dakis of San Francisco voted against the study on the grounds aginst the study on the grounds it would emphasize bus and rail transit, but largely ignore his pet, ferries.

The bus transit system, reported in detail in yesterday's Independent-Journal, envisioned an exclusive right-of-way for buses between Novato and downtown San Francisco for $313 million. Rail transit would cost $738 million, Luehring estimated. Both probably would require a special election in the district to issue general obligation bonds financed by property taxes, he said.

The committee also recommended a tiny step toward getting the district into the commuter bus business with a system that would use existing highways. This proposal, drawn by the district's former engineer Arthur C. Jenkins, would provide 150 buses for $8.5 million, and cost $1.4 million a year to operate from bridge revenue, according to Jenkins.

The committee, which has considered the Jenkins proposal for five months, carefully avoided endorsing it, but recommended that Luehring prepare "implementing plans for the acquisition and operation of a bus transit operation" by July 15.

Both committee recommendations will go before the full board next Thursday at 10 a.m.

Mill Valley Mayor Dean N. Meyer, who made the successful motion on the Jenkins proposal, said the step "puts the bit in our manager's mouth so he can tie the strings together."

Gallinas Village Eyes Better Identity Name

Should the name Gallinas Village be changed to something else, like Venetia Village?

This question was posed by Albert Vaccaro, president of the Gallinas Village Improvement Association at last night's meeting of the Gallinas Village Community Services Districts at the Santa Venetia Presbyterian Church on Adrian Way.

District directors and improvement association members agreed Santa Venetia has a definite identity, but no one seems to know where Gallinas Village is located.

Marguerite F. Clark, secretary of the district, said no decision was reached, but the name Venetia Village seemed to be the most favored last night.

If a change is made, the new name would apply to the community services district, improvement association and perhaps the Gallinas Yacht Club.

The services district directors also:

SUMMER RECREATION — Hired Mrs. Barbara Gregory of San Anselmo to head the summer recreation program at a pay of $900 for eight weeks, and authorized the hiring of three youths at $100 per week. Kickoff day for summer recreation is June 21. Herbert C. Belben Jr. and Mrs. Gregory will draw up a precise summer schedule.

APARTMENTS — Reaffirmed opposition to a 56-unit apartment project planned by P. J. Tarrant at North San Pedro Road and La Brea Way.

PARKS — Heard from park maintenance supervisor Donald S. Endemann that improvements are being made at Pueblo Park, such as installation of covers for water valves, returfing portions of the park and restaking of trees.

U.S. Accused

TOKYO (UPI)—North Korea charged yesterday the United States violated the Korean armistice by firing heavy weapons toward the North Korean posts in the demilitarized zone (CMZ).

Tiburon Man In Beating Case

A Tiburon man was arrested today for investigation of assault with a deadly weapon after Sausalito police allegedly found him beating up a woman friend.

Kent Lorenz Beardsley, 42, of 34 Terrace Court, was held in Marin County Jail pending $6,200 bail. He was scheduled to appear today in Marin Municipal Court.

Police were sent to the home of Donna Radford Wilkins, 37, of 136 Filbert Street, Sausalito, at 3:02 a.m. after receiving complaints about screaming and other noise inside the house.

Miss Wilkins told police Beardsley entered her home while she was asleep and started to beat her up, first with his fists and feet, later by throwing tennis racquets and other objects at her.

Miss Wilkins was treated for multiple bruises and a cut eyelid at Marin General Hospital.

8 Medi-Cal Claims Run Over $100,000

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Medi-Cal, the state program of health care for the poor, paid eight California doctors more than $100,000 each in 1968 fees.

That was one of the facts revealed in a report to the U.S. Senate Finance Committee, which requested a listing of all Medi-Cal payments totaling $25,000 or more to doctors, dentists and pharmacies.

The committee is investigating soaring costs for the federally supported medicaid program operating in 38 states at a cost of $5 billion a year.

The report for California-s Medi-Cal program was prepared by Blue Shield-California Physicians Service, the agency processing Medi-Cal claims and payments.

The report for California's Bert A. Ducote of Inglewood topped all medical practitioners in 1968 Medi-Cal collections with $152,458 total on 11,569 claims.

Galloways Pharmacy in San Diego was paid $240,817 in prescription fees on 52,679 claims. Three other pharmacies collected more than $175,000.

Dr. Dean L. Whitlow in Fresno collected $135,101, on 1,653 claims. He was one of four dentists paid more than $100,000 during the year.

As the fee report was being made public, the State Senate Finance Committee in Sacramento killed a Reagan administration bill intended to curb abuse in the Medi-Cal program.

The bill would have made the suspension of a practitioner from the Medi-Cal program grounds for suspension or revoking of his license to practice.

"I'm not going to vote to suspend a man's ability to earn a living just because he got himself crossways with an agency," said Sen. Stephen P. Teale, D-West Point, a physician.

The report listed 588 doctors paid more than $25,000 by Medi-Cal during 1968.

The Blue Shield report said these 588 doctors collected a total of $24.02 million on 1.19 million claims.

Thirty-three doctors collected $75,000 or more and 104 were paid $50,000 or more.

Eight-four medical groups were paid $4.6 million on 221,975 claims.

Boats, Cycles, Cars To Compete

Owners of more than 100 hot rods, "old timers," sports cars, motorcycles and boats will compete for 65 trophies in the Northern California Car Show to be held from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m., May 25 at the Northgate Fashion Mall, Terra Linda.

Mike Convis, president of the sponsoring Drake Scholarship Foundation, said a total of 40 Northern California cities will be represented. Many winners from indoor shows at Oakland, San Jose, San Mateo and Sacramento will also be on display.

The show's proceeds are used to award scholarships at Sir Francis Drake High School.

Sausalito Waterfront Plan Due Unveiling

The latest version of the Sausalito Central Waterfront Plan, unveiled more times than Little Egypt, will be presented at a public hearing by the Sausalito Planning Commission at 8 p.m. Wednesday at city hall.

The plan, prepared by planning consultant William Spangle and Associates, has been under construction for more than five years.

Driver Charged In Bus Deaths

NEWHALL (UPI) — Manslaughter charges have been filed against the driver of an excursion bus which skidded off Interstate 5 and killed three Girl Scouts.

The California Highway Patrol said Buster LeRoy Beebe, 32, Visalia, was accused of operating the Orange Belt Stages bus with unsafe equipment, specifically excessively worn tires, and at an unsafe speed.

Beebe is in satisfactory condition at Holy Cross Hospital with a fractured collarbone and bruises received in the crash last Saturday.

Dubuque was the first white settlement in Iowa.

"If you want the job done right, 'do it yourself'. I'm convinced of the merits of this slogan so I've decided to totally take over the management of AMES FORD as I did many years ago.

"For fifteen years we've been Marin's number one dealer but recently we started to slip a bit. I want fewer mistakes, only top-notch service–and STILL offer the best car deal in the county!

"I'm personally going to see that our service, sales and parts departments will be completely customer–satisfying!

"I refuse to advertise junky cars at low prices to lure you in and then switch you to another car. I positively won't stand for poor service or any unethical practice. We can't be perfect, but I insist that we constantly strive for perfection."

Mill Valley Council Delays Budget Move

Residents, employees and staff all appeared before the Mill Valley City Council at a budget hearing last night, each group but one asking for its share of the city's tax dollar.

The council heard each group but delayed a decision until 8 p.m. Tuesday at city hall.

The revised 1969-70 budget presented by City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer called for a budget total of $2,098,767 to be financed by a property tax rate of $2.474 per $100 assessed valuation. The current tax rate is $2.31 per $100 assessed valuation for this year's budget of $2,000,406.

The only group who told the city to please stop trying to do them any favors were residents of Elm Street and Del Casa Drive who finally convinced the council they did not want improved streets in front of their houses if it meant having to pay any part of the estimated cost of $50,000 through an assessment district.

This prompted an outburst from Balmer, who said residents of the area had been "bugging" him for five years about the deteriorating street. Balmer said he thought it a "pretty shameful thing" that the residents were not willing to put a "small amount in now to develop a first class street."

Next before the council were representatives of 600 city tennis players who want two more tennis courts constructed in Boyle Park at a cost of approximately $30,000.

Their plea was backed by Recreation Director John Garber who said the city's three existing courts were overcrowded. Noting that interest in tennis is growing in the city, Garber said five years ago only 70 children signed up for the city's summer tennis program, but last year more than 200 children participated.

"As long as a child is on a court he's not going to be in a court," Garber said.

He added that the tennis courts at Tamalpais High School were inadequate because of a sloping and badly finished surface, nets in poor condition and a tremendous wind problem.

"Why, even the high school team plays their tournaments on our courts," he added.

About 20 persons in the audience said they would gladly support a 9-cent tax increase to finance the new courts.

"What can we do to convince you of the demand for these courts," one man asked the council.

"Well, if you bring a petition with 600 persons willing to pay the extra 9 cents, I might be more willing to listen," answered Councilman Jerome C. Hauke.

Mayor Dean N. Meyer, on the other hand, said a contribution from tennis players, "to get the project started and to show your interest" would help.

City employees appeared with a list of wage and fringe benefit requests totaling more than $110,000 in cost to the city.

Mill Valley Employees Association representatives asked for a 5 per cent salary increase across-the-board, estimated to cost $36,000; an additional salary increase to raise city salaries to the top one-third of the control group of 17 Bay Area cities used as a salary index, $36,000; four weeks vacation after 15 years, no cost estimate; paid hospitalization insurance for dependents, $10,138; paid dental plan insurance for employees and dependents, $10,440; overtime at time-and-a-half instead of compensatory time, $19,762.

City Engineer Stanley M. Bala outlined city street improvement and construction needs. The extension of Sycamore Avenue from Camino Alto to Highway 101 and Camino Alto between Miller and East Blithedale avenues are the two projects with top priority, Bala said, and both should be completed within the next four to five years.

Other important projects include a cross street between Miller and East Blithedale avenues in the vicinity of Forest and Millwood streets; East Blithedale Avenue widening from Forest to Carmelita streets; improvements to collector streets in the north ridge; Sycamore Avenue between Nelson and La Goma streets; East Blithedale Avenue from Lomita Drive to Ashford Avenue; extension of Madrona Street from Throckmorton to Miller avenues; Miller Avenue improvements, Reed Street to downtown; and street and sidewalk improvements to Montford, Molino and Edgewood avenues.

The final plea for city funds came from Public Works Director Ross Benson who urged the city to start a street maintenance fund of approximately $40,000 in the proposed budget, "so we can start maintaining the streets we already have before we build more streets we can't maintain."

Federal Approval To Marin Grants

I-J Special Report

WASHINGTON — Federal approval of $776,000 in grants to the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council and to the College of Marin were announced today by Rep. William S. Mailliard, R-Sixth District.

The council grant of $276,826 included funding of a three-month Head Start program by the Marin County Schools Office for 75 children and fundings of services for 2,500 elderly citizens by the Marin Senior Coordinating Council. Also included was money for a summer program for 500 youths.

The $500,000 grant to the college was for construction of a library to cost a total of $2,637,304.

Ear Cut In Crash

Robert E. Bohm, 43, of San Francisco, was treated at Marin General Hospital yesterday for a cut right ear after his car hit a pole and went into the ditch at 8:20 p.m. on South San Pedro Road east of San Rafael, the California Highway Patrol said.

Tip Leads To Arrest In Check Case

Acting on a tip from San Francisco police, San Rafael police yesterday arrested a Mill Valley man sought on bad check charges as he worked under a false name as an apartment house maintenance man.

James William Ferguson, 24, of 323 Molina Avenue, was booked at Marin County Jail on suspicion of passing bad checks, possessing a false driver's license, having a switchblade knife, and driving with a suspended license. The driving charge was on a warrant from Glenn County.

Ferguson was released on his own recognizance by Municipal Court Judge Hadden W. Roth to appear in court today.

Inspector Gerald Souza said Ferguson is suspected of passing bad checks for $55 Jan. 27 at Mayfair Market, for $11 April 16 at United Markets, and for $22 April 16 at Modern Eve.

Ferguson was arrested at 10 a.m. yesterday at Harbor Apartments where he was working as a maintenance man under the name of Teddy Ray Knowles, Souza said. He reportedly had a driver's license under that name, and the switchblade knife was reportedly found during booking.

Souza said San Francisco police passed along a tip about Ferguson's whereabouts because they are seeking him in connection with a burglary case.

Tam High Board In Budget Review

The effect of educational programs over a long period and keeping and adequate reserve were the concerns last night of the Tamalpais High School District board in continuing budget review.

A budget of $9.1 million has been proposed for 1969-70.

Edward J. Neumeier, district administrative assistant, said the board is trying to project needs over a three-year period to decide what to include in the budget for the coming fiscal year. At the same time, he said, the board would like to maintain a healthy budget reserve, possibly a minimum of $900,000.

Another budget session at 3:30 p.m. Tuesday in the district office will weigh the effect of salary requests from administrative and nonteaching personnel on the budget, Neumeier said.

No Cooperation Earns Jail Trip

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court yesterday sent a Vallejo man to jail and ordered him held without bail because he refused to cooperate with probation officers attempting to prepare a report to be used in his sentencing.

Jesse Jackson, 28, had earlier pleaded guilty to using another person's credit card at the Emporium to charge purchases totaling $54.59.

No new date for his sentencing has yet been set.

Water Plan Without Rate Hikes

General Plans for the long range improvement of the Petaluma water system — requiring no increase in rates — were presented to the Petaluma Water Commission.

David A. Young, city engineer, said Wednesday that more than $1 million in improvements have been made to the system since the city purchased it in 1959 from the California Water Co. He said there are portions that are deficient in supplying water to users and water pressure for firefighting.

For the future, Young recommended the commission consider adding a major storage tank in the McNear Avenue area and should replace many undersized lines, especially in the downtown business district.

Cecil Gealta, city finance director, said he is making a study of the self-supporting water system and how rates may be reduced while still making the needed improvements. The department now has $325,000 in the fund for modernization.

The Sonoma County Board of Supervisors recently increased rates in other areas of the county so that depreciation and improvement funds can be built as they have been in Petaluma and the North Marin areas.

Court Overturns Marincello Ruling

The First District Court of Appeals yesterday overturned a ruling two years ago by a Marin Superior Court judge that denied a referendum on the Marinello access road, but the ruling does not mean a referendum will be called.

The appellate court found that Judge Joseph G. Wislon erred when he ruled in April, 1967, that he must accept the determination of County Clerk George H. Gnoss that 94 of the signatures on the referendum petition were disqualified because of dissimilarities in handwriting with signatures on voter registration cards. The judge's own determination of the handwriting similarities should prevail, the court held. The 94 signatures would put the petition over the 6,090 total required under referendum law.

The ruling came in a suit brought by George W. Wheelwright and others in an attempt to block the Marinello development on the Golden Gate Headlands by forcing a referendum on the key access road — which subsequently was built.

It was one of three court attacks on the Marincello development. Of the others, one has been abandoned and the third, brought by the City of Sausalito on the contention of improper notice of hearing on the planned community ordinance for Marincello, is in the appellate court and probably will come up for hearing some time next year. Judge Harold J. Haley ruled against Sausalito in Marin Superior Court.

It's a long way from the appellate court ruling to a referendum, however — and the referendum itself might not decide much.

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney said today there are two routes which might be taken by the county, other than calling a referendum. Which route is taken will probably depend on attorneys for Frouge Corp. (the developer) and Gulf Oil Corp. (the landowner) "since they have their money involved," said Maloney.

One route, said Maloney, would be to ask a rehearing by the appellate court on the ground that it overlooked something. If that were denied, the case could then be carried to the state Supreme Court.

The other route would be to let the appellate court's ruling on the signatures stand, and attack the matter from another angle: the contention that a county ordinance establishing a route for a public road is not subject to referendum. This issue has never been before the courts, so if this route were taken the action would be brought in Marin Superior Court.

If the appellate court should deny a rehearing and the California Supreme Court should uphold the appellate court, and if the courts — superior, appellate and supreme — should hold that the road ordinance is subject to referendum, the resulting referendum still might not mean much.

If Marin County voters decided in referendum that they did not want the already-built Marincello access road, the developers could propose another road route, the board of supervisors could approve it, and the whole process could start all over again, Maloney explained.

The canceling machine used to process mail in the post office handles about 30,000 letters an hour.

Rohnert Park Homeowners Nominate

The Rohnert Park Homeowners Association last night nominated officers for the coming year and awarded prizes to youngsters who participated in the spruce-up campaign poster contest.

Nominated for president were James Cronin, Skyral Sweeney and Kay Hamann. They and the other nominees will be voted on at the June 19 meeting and take office in July.

Running for vice president are Dennis Oman, Dale Hummell and Henry Thomas. Nominated for secretary were Lorraine Latrielle, La Verne Thomas and Wanda Ayers. Norval Latrielle was nominated for treasurer.

Nominated for directorships were William Ayers, Frank Till, Bud Heth and Richard Day.

$50,000 In Losses Recovered By ABAG

I-J Special Report

BERKELEY — Recovery of $50,000 of the $511,442 embezzled from the Association of Bay Area Government by its former assistant director was disclosed last night by its special counsel, Arthur Harris of Berkeley.

With the $65,000 received several months ago from ABAG's bonding company, the recovery cut the loss to $396,442.

The huge embezzlement by Thomas N. Truax was discovered in February 1968, and he was arrested months later in Florida after a nationwide manhunt. He is in prison serving a 2-to-20-year state sentence.

Harris told newsmen he had "a reasonably good chance to get the balance" of the funds, which Truax gambled away in Las Vegas. He declined to identify how the balance would be recovered, but said "generally, financial institutions" were involved. To be more specific in identifying them, he said, "would kind of louse up my bargaining position."

Harris reported the recovery to ABAG's executive committee at the Hotel Claremont.

In other business, the committee endorsed proposals to be included in legislation giving ABAG broad new powers over regional problems. The proposals, reported in detail last Friday by the Independent-Journal, are to be incorporated in an ABAG-sponsored bill by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael.

The proposals are to go before ABAG's general assembly at 7:30 p.m. June 11 in the hotel.

Bagley's bill would empower ABAG to plan and implement regional facilities for solid waste disposal, an airport system, open space and parks, air and water quality control, transportation and bay conservation and development.

Fairfax City Councilman Adelaide P. Wilson unsuccessfully urged that the governing board of the regional body include representatives elected directly by the voters "in order to be really responsive." ABAG wants it to be run like ABAG, that is by elected city and county officials.

Church School Plans Approved

Plans for construction of added classroom facilities to Novato's Bethel Baptist Church at 1929 Novato Boulevard were approved yesterday by the city's plan review committee.

The committee also conditionally approved a proposal by Dr. John R. Glassmaker to build an animal clinic building on the east side of Redwood Road near Lamont Avenue.

Planning director Brian Mattson said the committee's approval was subject to Glassmaker's resubmission of revised site and landscape plans.

DINING OUT AND

By HARRY CRAFT

Many Marinites Like Eating At Variety Of Sonoma Places

This is the time of year when Sonoma County dineries come into the season of their greatest popularity.

Marin County diners-out are loyal habitues of many of these restaurants and it is not uncommon on a sunny weekend to find them almost as numerous as the Sonomans at certain places. Food generally is good and prices are reasonable.

While most Sonoma restaurants are open the year round, some — Golden Bear Lodge in Kenwood, Mark West Lodge north of Santa Rosa and Cazanoma Lodge in Cazadero — operate on seasonal licenses beginning March 1 and extending through November.

CAZANOMA LODGE started a six-day-a-week schedule the first of this month (Tuesdays through Sundays). Dinners are from 5 p.m., and there is both lunch and dinner service Saturdays and Sundays, starting at noon.

During July, August and September, dinners will be served seven days a week.

It's an interesting, woodsy place with pools and a waterfall. Food's German and American.

IN THE RUSSIAN RIVER AREA, Hexagon House Restaurant at the edge of Armstrong Woods near Guerneville reopened for dinners weekends April 26 and the schedule will continue through the remainder of May. During June, July and August dinners will be served seven days a week. Menu is continental. Rooms and grounds are pretty. Motel accommodations are available throughout the year.

ALONG THE SONOMA COAST, several good places are starting to fill their tables — The Tides Restaurant at Bodega Bay, Jenner By the Sea at the mouth of the Russian River and The Sea Ranch Lodge father north are all popular.

WITHIN THE NEXT five or six weeks, construction is expected to begin on a new McDonald's in Novato. This will be located on Highway 101 between Santa Rosa Savings and Loan Association and Denny's Restaurant.

Planned is a completely new design in buildings for McDonald's, which usually has one style of facade. The Novato one, promises a brick exterior and tiled mansard roof, according to present plans. It will probably be the style for other McDonald's restaurants.

McDonald's is the famous hamburger chain, specializing in take-out food. And from that standpoint it is not actually a restaurant because there is no interior seating — and there are no carhops.

Property is part of the Redwood Realtors development. An investor has bought this lot, will put up a 1,600-square foot building and lease it to McDonald's. Probably there will be no opening before late summer.

REOPENED and back in business is Sabella's, which has had its kitchen completely remodeled after the recent fire, with new equipment installed.

And it just occurs to me that possibly one reason why Marin restaurants seemed to be so crowded on Mother's Day this year, could be because of Sabella's temporary closing. After all, over 1,000 hungry people (the customary Mother's Day crowd for this restaurant) had to eat elsewhere.

DOCTOR'S PRESCRIPTION. A surgeon from Walla Walla, Wash., in San Francisco for the recent American Urological Association Convention has a happy thought. He called a doctor friend and his wife in Tiburon and invited them to the "fabulour 10-course Gala Dinner, with all the wines, at Cafe Bon Vin in San Anselmo."

Imagine his astonishment on being told that they had "never heard of the place," although they live only about 12 miles away from it and in spite of local publicity.

The Walla Walla doctor had picked up the information in a national medical journal last February from an unsolicited review of the restaurant written by one of his contemporaries who had visited here. I guess the Tiburon doctor doesn't read either medical reviews or newspapers.

THE SEVEN SEAS in Sausalito had a big purveyors' party last week to show off its new Rollamatic roof over the patio, with chefs Wally Price and Eric Benson giving their best to the menu.

Not to be outdone, the headliner of the evening — the movable roof — came in for frequent demonstrations, alternately serving to ventilate and enclose the patio, which now becomes an all-weather dining room, similar to that of La Petite Auberge in San Rafael.

This increases the table capacity for Paul and Della De Moss almost 100 per cent. The space will be put to good use every night, I am sure. And at lunchtime too for this is one of the most popular restaurants in downtown Sausalito.

FOR A LIMITED TIME, Bernard's Executive Lounge in San Rafael has a two-for-one dinner special going every night it's open — Mondays through Thursdays from 6 to 9 p.m. and to 10 p.m. on Fridays and Saturdays.

As I understand it, this applies to any dinner on the menu and it's worth while checking out, as Don Bernard has added several new items to the menu recently.

URSULA VALAN, partner with her husband in the Grotto, San Rafael is the one who prepares that fine seafood. She's very fussy about it and says she intends to keep at it no matter how big the restaurant gets.

THERE IS NOW fresh grilled salmon on the menu daily at Franchini's Chateau, 101 Highway at Lucas Valley Road. And Franchini's de luxe seafood plate is also available nightly. These, by the way, are the two favorites of most guests ordering from the Friday night seafood menu.

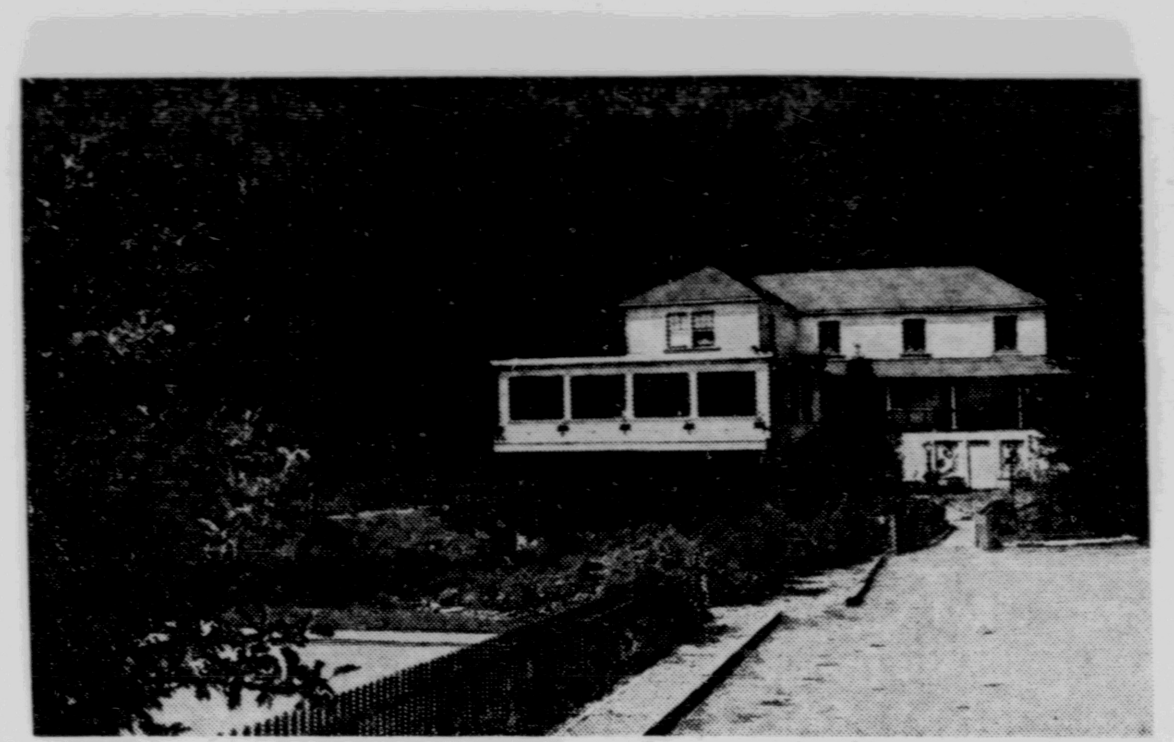
I WILL BE AWAY on vacation for the rest of this month and there will be no restaurant column on this page until June 6.

Meanwhile, I'd suggest you check out the new Holiday Inn on Northgate Drive at the Terra Linda entrance from Highway 101. The restaurant is due to open shortly and may even be ready sometime next week. The telephone is listed in the new directory.

Chef Ben Fujihara has returned to Marin to take over the food operation.

LOOKING AHEAD, I also understand that San Rafael Joe's will close on Memorial Day, May 30. That is a Friday. The next day, Saturday, Joe's will be open and then close on the following Sunday, June 1, as usual.

THE NEW Senor Alfredo's Mexican Restaurant in San Anselmo is still celebrating its grand opening for the rest of the week (tonight through Sunday). Champagne is being served on the dinner.



NOW OPEN SIX DAYS — Cazanoma Lodge near the Russian River is now open for dinners Tuesdays through Sundays during May and June.

Reagan Supports Personal Plates

SACRAMENTO (AP) — As far as Gov. Ronald Reagan is concerned, a California motorist should be able to name his car after a baseball team, his college, his wife — or even his mother-in-law.

That was the effect of the governor's announcement at a news conference yesterday that his administration backs proposed legislation allowing personalized license plates, at an unspecified extra cost.

The special plates could be any combination of two to six numbers or letters, except those which "violate common standards of decency or conflict with present plate number runs."

Plan Reaction Is To Be Aired

The Educational Services Committee of the Marin County Board of Education will discuss reaction of Marin County high school districts to the county schools proposals for a coordinated program for educating pregnant teen-agers at 7:30 p.m., Monday.

Meeting at 7:30 p.m. also is the board's Administrative Services Committee which will have on its agenda a report by Robert E. Spain, director of administrative services, on final teacher salary proposals for 1969-70.

The Special Services Committee, which meets at 8:30 p.m., will discuss plans for the proposed child development center to be built at Dominican College.

35TH BIG WEEK!
Every single week our business has increased. New guests every day and old guests keep returning. Thanks, Marin.

Corte Madera Council Approves Salary Hikes Costing $28,000

Salary increases for municipal employees which will cost Corte Madera approximately $28,000 next year were approved last night by the town council.

Councilmen tampered only slightly with the recommendations of Town Mgr. Ron Usher during a calm four-hour session in which the council studied each job classification individually.

The council made only five changes to Usher's recommendations and in each case called for a 2.5 per cent increase above the town manger's suggestion.

With a crowd of about 20 persons watching quietly, the council authorized 5 per cent raises for nine employees, 7.5 per cent increases for 23 employees, 10 per cent hikes for five employees and a 17.5 per cent jump for one employee.

Recipient of the 17.5 per cent raise was the town's director of public works, Art Morrison, who has taken on additional duties as the town's engineer. Beginning July 1, Morrison will fall in a bracket ranging from $1,155 to $1,405 per month.

Three of the five changes made by the council were in the public safety class. Usher had called for 5 per cent raises for the dispatcher-clerk, firemen and fire lieutenant, but the council hiked these positions to 7.5 per cent.

The council also raised the increases for the engineering aide and senior engineering aide from 5 to 7.5 per cent.

In each case, the changes made by the council were to keep the same differential between classes that had existed in the past.

The councilmen were in almost total agreement throughout the night, with only councilman Harold Wagstaff differing to any length.

"I think the minimum raises anyone ought to receive should be 5.5 per cent," he said. "I don't like the rationale of comparing what other cities are paying and then trying to fall somewhere in the middle. I think that the city can afford to pay its people well enough so that we don't lose good men."

The raises authorized were about 5 per cent under what the town's employee Association had requested, but the council's action drew no fire from association spokesmen.

Frank Nelson, who doubles as the town's fire and police chief, said he was "quite pleased with the increases given to the men in his departments.

The council spent nearly two hours juggling the salaries in the public safety catagory before restoring what mayor Edward W. Colthurst called the "historic differential of 2.5 per cent" between policemen and firemen, with policemen coming out on top.

The 2.5 per cent differential was also recommended by Nelson and the council changed Usher's recommendation which called for a 5 per cent difference.

Receiving 5 per cent increases were clerk typists, clerk stenos account clerks, the chief building inspector, the sewer maintenance inspector and the superintendent of public works.

Raises of 7.5 per cent went to steno-secretaries, senior clerks, dispatcher-clerks, firemen, policemen, fire lieutenants, police sergeants, engineering aides, senior engineering aides, maintenance men and groundskeepers.

Ten per cent hikes went to the city's finance director, police lieutenant, police chief, mechanic and assistant superintendent of public works.

The council also altered some of the fringe benefits by authorizing time-and-a-half pay for overtime (with minimum of two hours).

The council also upped the uniform allowance from $90 per year to $120 and doubled the employees life insurance from $5,000 to $10,000, providing the employee pays half the cost of the additional $5,000, which will amount to about $18 per year per employee, Usher said.

The council will take up general items in the budget next Monday night, discuss fire and police budgets Tuesday night and the public works budget on May 26.

Total salaries for the coming fiscal year are estimated at $440,000, according to Usher.

Bingo Booze Box Bounced Badly

The Elks Club's bingo committee booze box was burgled Wednesday night, but nothing appeared to be missing, club officials reported yesterday.

San Rafael police said the box was kept in the carriage house near the Elks Club, 1312 Mission Avenue, and was found at 5:40 a.m. today, smashed near the swimming pool. Scattered nearby was liquor, mix and other items such as dice, dice cups and band-aids.

Police said the closet where the box was kept was locked but there were pry marks around the lock. A bingo committee member was to check the box today to determine if anything was missing.

Bans, Limits Out On 66 Pesticides

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department has outlawed 10 pesticide chemicals for all use in food production and has tightened limitations on 56 others because of residue on food products.

The department's action involves withdrawal of federal registration, required when such chemicals are sold in interstate commerce.

Dr. Harry W. Hays, director of pesticide regulation, said the cancellations announced yesterday affect companies which received one-year extensions in 1968 but did not submit new information or progress reports.

A department spokesman said the 10 pesticide chemicals for which federal registration is canceled included: Anthracene oil, citronella, EMMI, nabam, phenylmercury monoethauol, ammonium acetate, phenylmercury nitrate, phenylmercury urea, potassium cresylate, 8-quinolinol benzoate, and sodium cresylate.

Seven Get Drunken Driving Fines

Seven persons have been sentenced in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving.

William Millard Woodyard, 38, of 940 Meadowsweet Drive, Corte Madera, was placed on one year probation and fined $240. He was arrested May 8 on Highway 101.

David Carlton Arsenault, 33, of 17 Midway Avenue, Mill Valley, who was arrested Monday in Sausalito, was also placed on one year probation and was fined $200.

Kenneth Silverside, 44, of 126 Endeavor Drive, Corte, was placed on one year probation and fined 200. He was arrested April 24 on Highway 101.

James Hudson Lenhart, 37, of 860 Pine Street, Novato, who was arrested Dec. 22 on Highway 101, was placed on one year probation and fined $125.

Russell Wallace Osterlye, 50, of Westlake, who was arrested Feb. 14 in Sausalito, was placed on one year probation and fined $250.

Paul Stephen Buckley, 29, of 220 Cleveland Avenue, Mill Valley, who was arrested April 7 on Highway 101, was placed on one year probation and fined $225.

Norman Kester, 51, of 393 Eliseo Drive, Greenbrae, who was arrested May 4 on Highway 101, was also placed on one year probation and fined $120.

Los Angeles Man Asks Diversion

An application to divert water from an unnamed tributary to San Antonio Creek for use in domestic, stockwatering and recreational purposes has been filed with the State Water Resources Control Board by J. F. Wolfram of Los Angeles.

He seeks 28 acre feet annually within the season of Oct. 1 to April 30. Cost of the project was set at $7,500.

Wolfram originally planned a beef cattle farm on the property he owns just south of the Marin-Sonoma county line but is now considering a dairy farm, a board spokesman reported.

NOVATANS TO STAGE 'SKIN'

Members of the teen drama department of the Jewish Community Center of Marin concentrate in rehearsals for their production of "The Skin of Our Teeth" by Thornton Wilder to be presented at Brown's Hall in Mill Valley at 8 p.m. tomorrow and May 24 and 25. Listening to directions from director Gregory Norgaard are (from the left) Kathi Davis, Dave Wagner, Craig Campbell, Sandy Morse, Kris Morse and Fred Joslin.

All-Day Consumer Assembly Slated Tomorrow In Hub

"Wanted Alive: Alert Consumers" will be the topic of David Shoenfeld, a consultant from the Consumers Union, at an all-day consumer assembly tomorrow at the Festival Theater on the San Francisco Theological Seminary campus in San Anselmo.

Schoenfeld is substituting for Walker Sandbach, executive director of the Consumers Union, who had been scheduled to speak.

The assembly — designed, according to its sponsors, the Berkeley and Marin Co-ops and the Association of California Consumers, to "educate and activate the buying public to make the best use of income" — will begin at 9:30 a.m.

Another speaker on the program is Professor William L. Rivers of the Stanford University Institute of Communications Research, who will discuss "Are Communications Media Facing Up to Their Responsibility?"

Tests quizzing consumers on food costs also will be held. A registration fee will be charged for the program. Information may be obtained from the Marin Co-op in Corte Madera.

111 To Graduate At Neil Cummins

Commencement exercises for 111 eighth grade students of Neil Cummins School in Corte Madera will be held at 7:30 p.m., June 11, in the Corte Madera Recreation Center.

Participating in the program will be Ingrid Scharpf, valedictorian; Alice Simon and Barbara Desmond, historians and Lyndon Larson, salutatorian.

Marin Mosquito District Votes Benefits Hike

Trustees of the Marin Mosquito Abatement District have voted employees a 5 per cent cost-of-living increase and fringe benefits, including full health plan coverage.

Dist. Mgr. Allan B. Telford said the district would pay $86,266 in salaries and benefits in fiscal 1969-70, compared to the current $84,562.

Telford said an additional raise might be possible in January. Benefits approved besides the health coverage were sick leave of up to 120 days, paid life insurance premium and three weeks vacation after five years and four weeks after 10 years.

Telford estimated the 1969-70 budget at $150,000, up about $6,000 from the current fiscal year. No increase in the district tax rate of 25 cents per $100 of assessed valuation is expected, Telford said.

Marin Processing Tax Refund Forms

Marin homeowners have another week, until May 23, to apply for the 1968 tax refund of $70 and the 1969 homeowner's tax exemption of $750 assessed valuation, Assessor Bert W. Broemmel announced yesterday.

He said the extension was approved Wednesday when acting Gov. Ed Reinecke signed AB 2344 to give homeowners who failed to file by the April 15 deadline another chance to get in on tax relief.

In Marin, 32,861 have filed for the 1968 refunds of $70 each, which represents a total refund of $2,300,270. The claims were delivered today in Sacramento, and the checks will be mailed by the state controller to individual homeowners about June 15, said Broemmel.

"Since April 15 we've been accepting applications for the 1968 refund and the 1969 homeowner's exemption, subject to the law being approved," said Broemmel. "Now that the law is passed, we will continue to process the filings through May 23." The late filers will not get their $70 refunds until about August, Broemmel estimated.

"Anyone who has any question about the tax refund or exemption or need application forms should contact the homeowners exemption section of the assessor's office in the Civic Center.

ANNUAL SPRING DEBRIS

The Fairfax Garbage Disposal Company will pick up debris on the regular routes during the week of May 19th, 1969. Debris such as garden cuttings, tree trimmings, brush, etc. (no refrigerators, stoves, remodeling debris or similar items) must be placed on the curb. If no curb exists, debris may be placed by the side of the road. Only paid-up accounts will be entitled to this free debris pick-up.

Grange Debris Boxes for other types of trash will be located in the area below the ball field on Saturday, May 24th, 1969. An attendant from Grange Debris Box Service will be on duty and proof of residency will be required.

SECOND SECTION Friday, May 16, 1969 19

FROM THE ROUNDED deck at the home of Mrs. Robert S. Green in Tiburon, a panoramic vista encompassing the East Bay, Angel Island, San Francisco and the Golden Gate Bridge delights the viewer. Mrs. James Atkin, left, shares the view with Mrs. Green, hostess. The house will be one of the six open for the house tour Wednesday. (Independent-Journal photos by Roger Bockrath)

Six Belvedere Houses On Tour

By BETTY FROST

Six unusual houses will be on display when the Belvedere House Tour, given each spring by St. Stephens Guild, is held on Wednesday.

Tours will begin at the San Francisco Yacht Club in Belvedere and continue from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. A fleet of station wagons will provide shuttle service to the homes. Tea will be served at the yacht clubhouse from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m.

Two houses on Beach Road on Belvedere Cove will be shown. Of historic interest is the home occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Frederick G. Zelinsky, which was originally a salon of the Pacific Mail Line's China, a paddle-wheeler with balancing sails which made the run to the Orient from San Francisco a century ago. Hand carved paneling, Corinthian columns, and mementoes of the maritime past give interest to the living area. Colorful plantings on the deck frame the view of Belvedere's yacht harbor.

A few doors down is the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rod Taft. This is one of the cozy shingled cottages built over 50 years ago, and designed by architect Albert Farr. Mrs. Taft has brought the vibrant water colors indoors where the living room combines dark blue and kelly green, making a bold background for her antiques, including a collection of Canton china. A collection of owls in media ranging from ceramic to crewel work reflect one of Mrs. Taft's hobbies.

ON THE BELVEDERE hill are the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Harris and Miss Barbara Bridge. A private interior garden is the focal point of the Harris home. Living room, dining room and master bedroom open onto the secluded garden. Inherited and collected antiques, such as the English butler tray in the living room, a Sheraton bureau in the master bedroom, and a Wells Fargo desk in the study are noteworthy.

The stained redwood contemporary home of Miss Bridge is set in a green and white garden. A pool and waterfall are highlights of the garden enhancing its natural wooded location. Richardson Bay, Sausalito and Mt. Tamalpais can be seen from the house.

On the Belvedere Lagoon, house tourists will visit the home of Adm. and Mrs. M. P. Evenson. Built of Philippine mahogany set in individual panels, the house was designed by Allan Steinau, Belvedere architect in 1964. An outstanding feature is the Texas shell stone fireplace, where impaled marine fossils can be observed. Portraits of Admiral and Mrs. Evenson done by artists Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Leyghton are hung in the dining room, with other paintings by these artists and a seascape by Alex Djigurski prominently displayed in the living room. A collection of guns and swords can be seen in the den. Unusual is the muzzle-loading flintlock musket brought on a log canoe up the Mississippi River in 1847 by the admiral's grandfather. Off the inner patio is a studio where Mrs. Evenson, an artist, does her work, and where some of her paintings will be displayed next Wednesday.

ON THE TOUR is the gracious three year old home of Mrs. Robert S. Green above Raccoon Strait in Tiburon. Site for the two story house is a Tiburon meadow. The pastoral locale commands a breathtaking bay view. Mrs. Green's nephew, William Drake Jr., now of Chicago, was the architect. Mrs. Green and her sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Drake of Illinois, combined their talents on decorating the interior. Touches such as the display of ceramic birds from the Dorothy Doughty collection kept in a lighted antique glass front cabinet, an Italian tile fireplace in the dining room, and a copper Danish chandelier, in pine cone shape, lighting the gracefully curved staircase, show the inclusiveness of their selections. Both charming and comfortable are the four large bedrooms, each with its own bath and built-in dressing room.

St. Stephens Guild members planning the tour are Mmes. James C. Irwin, chairman; James B. Atkin, publicity; Doty Edouarde, reservations; James Derryberry, hostesses; Jack Welisch, interiors and flowers; Thomas Fleming Jr., tea reception; Mr. and Mrs. Willard Pittman, transportation; Margie Matson, brochures and art work.

The work of Marin artists and artisans will be on display at the San Francisco Yacht Club during the tour. Represented will be Mr. and Mrs. Fred Palmer, bonsai plants; Margaret Atchley, collages and wooden assemblages; Helen Steinau Rich, drawings; Suzanne Himmelwright, Hazel Stitt and Nelcy Tarics, paintings; and Janet Van Evera, stitchery.

HAND BLOCKED LINEN used on antique chairs and for draperies gives a unifying effect in the spacious living room of the Belvedere hillside home of Miss Barbara Bridge, which also features dark plank floors and Oriental rugs. House tour committee members Mrs. John Hofmann and Mrs. James Crittenden observe an antique sword guard as Miss Bridge details its history.

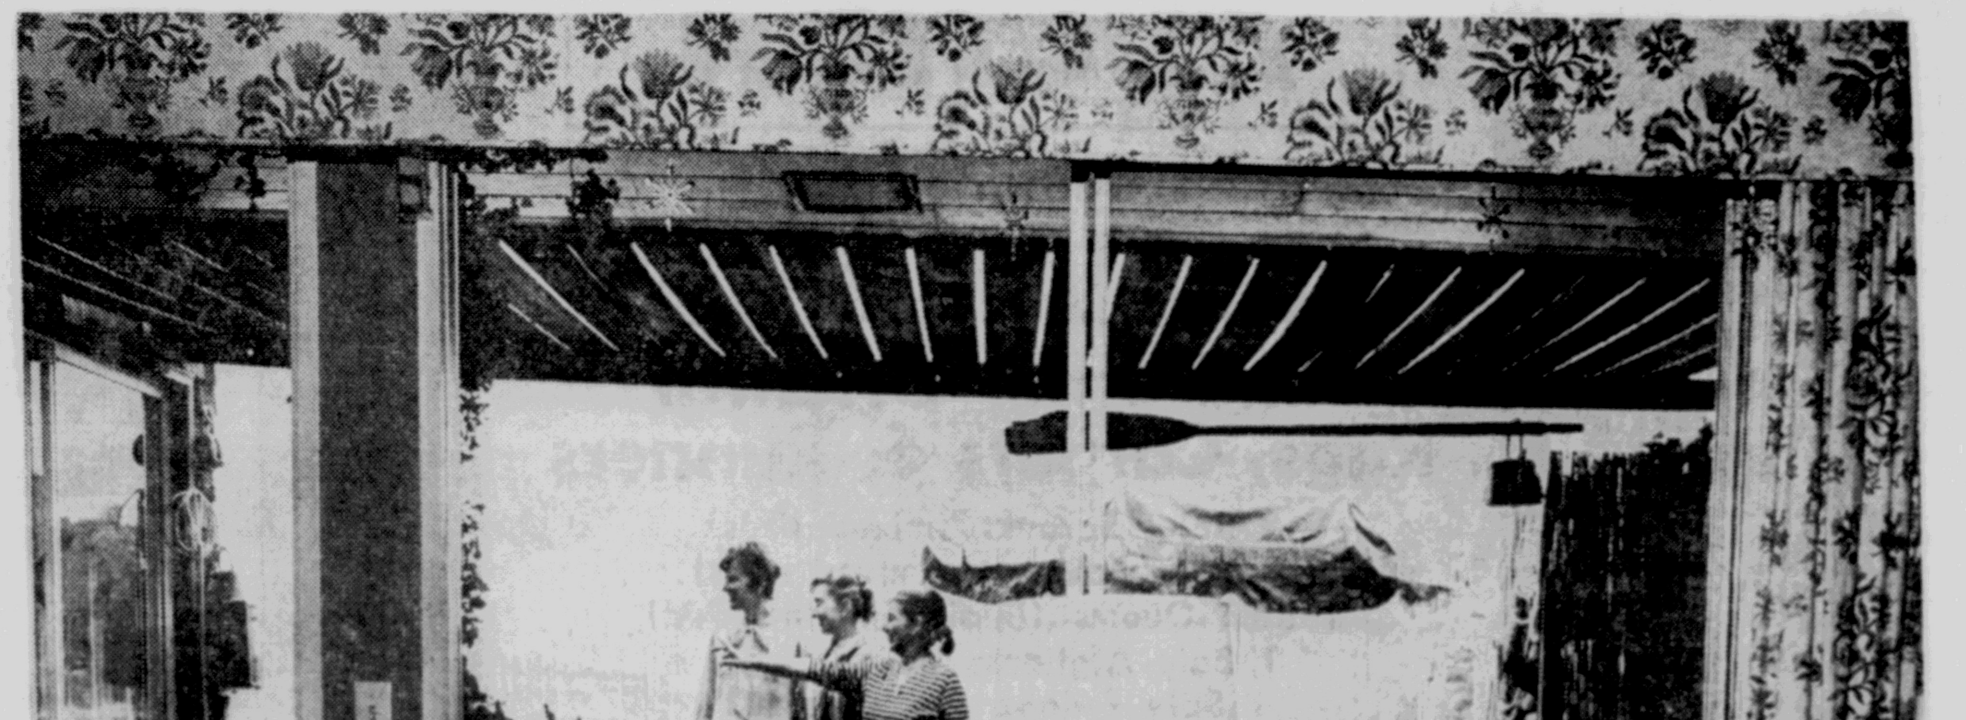
INSPECTING A SPINET made in England in 1804 is Joan Hofmann, 5. The unusual instrument in the home of Miss Barbara Bridge at Pelican Point, Belvedere, is one of the tastefully selected antiques in the home.



POINTS OF INTEREST in Belvedere Cove are indicated by Mrs. Rod Taft, right, from the deck of her home, to Mmes. Lawrence Daly and James Walsh, who will be hostesses at the home when it will be a stop on the Belvedere House Tour Wednesday. (Additional photo on page 21.)

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

She'll Stage Party Of Her Own If Excluded From Office Social

DEAR HELEN:

The office party hassle was most interesting, but none of the letters mentioned my gripe about them.

I'm not worried that some gal will swipe my husband because our arrangement has been that he has to take custody of the children, which scares off anyone with ideas.

What irks me is that wives are not included at office parties, even if their husbands want to bring them along, because the single gals feel odd about asking their boy friends to escort them. If parties were open to out-of-office invitations, the single fellows could bring their girls, the married women their husbands and that would leave the single gals out in the cold with no partners.

Here's the way to combat this: Next office party to which I'm not invited, I'll stage one of my own for other uninvited mates. And it will be a dinger. While my husband is cavorting with the little secretaries, I'll be dancing with the husband of his female boss. — MRS. M.B.

DEAR HELEN:

The letter from the lady who said her father whipped her with a switch at least once a day was the story of my life, except my father used a strap and my beatings continued until I was far into my teens.

When I was 17 I ran away and got married. Fortunately, my young husband was a kind and loving man and my mother and father-in-law treated me more like a daughter than my real parents had.

But even though I loved my husband dearly, I couldn't adjust to married life. I was very cold, and said and did mean things to him. Then I would feel terrible about it.

Our marriage was about to break up after a year, when my wonderful mother-in-law persuaded me to visit a psychiatrist. To my surprise, I found my case was not at all unusual among brides who had been overly punished and seemingly unloved as children. This treatment had made me hostile and resentful to all men.

As a teen, I was not allowed to date and when I got caught even talking with a boy I got a long lecture on morals and sex, as well as a whipping. This gave me a deep feeling of guilt about sex, even in marriage. Then I would try to hurt my husband because unconsciously I wanted to be punished.

The patience and understanding of my husband, combined with my new self-understanding, has finally brought us a very happy marriage.

Keep on telling married couples, Helen, that frigidity in either men or women is curable. It's often a childhood disease. — RUTH

DEAR HELEN:

I can't afford a baby-sitter and also get my hair done, so I bring Junior along with me. My shop changed hands recently and do you know that the new owner had the nerve to add breakage to my bill?

Junior tore a few magazines and upset some chemicals, but he didn't do any more than he always does and no one has complained before.

What can I do? — UPSET

DEAR UPSET:

SALLY DAGGETT

Sally Daggett Engaged To Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Emerson L. Daggett of Mill Valley announce the engagement of their daughter, Sally Katharine, to Craig Thomas Blake, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reinhart J. Blake of San Rafael.

Sally was graduated from Tamalpais High School and attended College of Marin. She is a student at San Francisco State College.

The future bridegroom is the brother of Reid Blake of Novato. He is a graduate of Marin Catholic High School and the University of California, where he is enrolled as a graduate student.

Phi Beta Kappa

Barbara Scatena of Greenbrae has been elected to Phi Beta Kappa national honorary society. She was graduated from the University of California in December and is working on a master's degree in communication disorders at San Francisco State College. Barbara, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dismo Scatena of Greenbrae, is a Marin Catholic High School graduate.

Honor Society

Barbara Stout of San Rafael has been selected for Spurs, sophomore women's honorary service group, at University of Redlands. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Stout of San Rafael. Spurs members serve as official hostesses to visitors for the university.

(Heritage Studio photo)

A reception at Peacock Gap Country Club followed the ceremony.

Margaret Martin of San Francisco was maid of honor for the bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David A. Stevenson of Larkspur. Bridesmaid was Jennifer Siebert of Corte Madera.

Best man was Kurt Koehler of Richmond, and James Bradley of Castro Valley, Evan MacGibbon of Portland, Ore., and Louis Hayes of Garden Grove ushered guests to their seats.

The bride is a graduate of Redwood High School, College of Marin and Chico State College. She attended St. Joseph's School of Nursing in San Francisco.

William is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Treytl of South Pasadena. He was graduated from Loyola High School and Loyola University, both in Los Angeles, and received a doctorate degree from Carnegie Mellon University. The bridegroom is employed in the Stanford University Medical Department in Palo Alto.

The couple will live in El Cerrito following a wedding trip to Lake Tahoe and Kent, Wash.

and Gerald Ranghiasci.

Guests of the Charles O. Joneses are the Thomas Mallorys of Carmel, Michael Winters and the Sid Stockwells, while the Larry Bartholows of San Rafael will have as their guests Messrs. and Mmes. Ronald Antonioli, Ben Catanrutti, Richard Gaither, John Ribeiro, Al Lamperti, John Bassett and Allen Thomas.

Attending with Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Bunds of Novato will be Messrs. and Mmes. W. Douglas Johnstone, William House, Robert Smith, Dale W. Thomas, George Peterson and Lt. Col. and Mrs. Robert C. Beebe.

COCKTAILS AND supper will be served Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Max Thelen Jr. of San Rafael prior to the Marin Civic Ballet Association concert "Festival Encores."

Guests will include Messrs. and Mmes. Woodward Melone of Novato, Edward Ruff of Ross, Kirk Frederick, John Busterud and Dr. and Mrs. Edward Sargent, all of San Rafael.

SOME 150 guests have been invited to a cocktail buffet "May Party" tonight at the home of the Paul Lysaughts in Paradise Cay, co-hosted by the Jan Farnsworths of Ross. The Lysaughts will leave in early June for a three week trip to Naussau, so the celebration will also be a farewell for them. Musicians will entertain during the evening, as will Dr. Steve Walsh, jazz pianist.

A RECEPTION was given by the Russell G. Smiths at their home in Ross to honor Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Drath of Kent Woodlands, who were married last week in New York at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Freymann.

The new Mrs. Drath is the former Mrs. Erika Arzensek Weil of Buenos Aires, who was escorted for the ceremony by her son, Thomas Weil, who came from Buenos Aires for the wedding. Daniel Gilbert Drath was best man for his father, a widower. A reception followed the New York nuptials at the Metropolitan Club, where the couple greeted their Eastern friends. Both have lived in New York in past years.

After a wedding trip to South America the Draths will return to live in Kent Woodlands.

MARY TILDEN Morton, Sausalito sculptor now living in Hermance, Switzerland, writes that the big excitement in her life these days is the inclusion of her work and that of her husband, La Mont Morton, also a sculptor, in a Paris show this month.

The show is being held at the Galerie Saint Placid. She says they feel honored because the French rarely show Americans' work. They have 22 pieces in marble and bronze in the show.

FEATURED THIS SATURDAY

The subject of much recent controversy in Marin County has been the master plan for the development of Angel Island State Park recently approved by the California State Park and Recreation commission. It has been defended as a moderate program that will permit increased public use of the island without damage to its special character. But it has been severely criticized by many conservationists. Writer Gil Pearson reports on the plans for Angel Island in tomorrow's Marin Magazine.

There is only one non-governmental hospital in the West that makes braces and other orthotic devices for its patients on its own premises. And it is the Center Medical and Rehabilitation Hospital of Northern California, in Kentfield. There is an orthotics department, braces are made and fitted exactly to the special needs of the individual patient. As a result, weak legs sometimes walk and injured spines gain vital support. Tomorrow's I-J weekend supplement reports on this valuable service.

ON THE AGENDA

Retirement Reception Planned For Dixie School Official

A reception Sunday from 4 to 7 p.m. at the Marinwood Community Center will honor Dennie B. Willis, retiring superintendent of the Dixie School District.

The Parents Clubs of the Dixie School District are sponsoring the reception for adults only. The 10 hosts schools are Vallecito, Bernard Hoffman, Nova Albion, Santa Margarita, Don Timoteo, Oakview, Lucas Valley, Dixie, Mary E. Silveira and Miller Creek. Cohosts are the Council of Music and Arts, Dixie Teachers Association, California State Education Association and the Coordinating Council.

VOLUNTEERS for Marin Child Development Center will conduct a rummage and bake sale at Painter's Hall, 701 Mission Ave., San Rafael. Hours are 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. both tomorrow and Sunday.

Mrs. Stanley Kane, chairman of the organization, has announced Mrs. Jerry Walters of San Rafael will head the sale committee. She will be assisted by Mmes. Earl Bailey of Mill Valley, Fred Pracht of Mill Valley, Mel Berman of Terra Linda and Jack Tallman of Novato.

Items being offered for sale include a 1908 volume dictionary of the Bible; a complete 1907 30-volume Encyclopedia Britannica; water color drawings; pedal cars for children; clothing; electrical appliances; baby furniture; jewelry; cosmetics and others.

The Marin County Development Center assists marginally handicapped pre-school age children.

ON SUNDAY afternoon Mrs. Beatrice Atwood, grand guardian, and grand associate guardian of the state of California, Mr. Fay Bates, will visit Bethels 48 of San Rafael, 183 of Novato and 16 and 300, both of Santa Rosa, all of the International Order of Job's Daughters, at the Masonic Temple on Fourth and Lootens Place in San Rafael. Jointly conducting the initiation ceremony will be honored queens Sue Owens, Charissa Jaques, Terry Wilson and Debbie Neal.

Preceding the 2 p.m. meeting will be a salad luncheon at 12:30 p.m.

ON SUNDAY, San Rafael Assembly International Order of Rainbow for Girls will hold a tea at the F. R. Peterson home to welcome new members. They are Joyel Brown, Irene Vanden Bos, Pam Farley, Carla Schwartz, Roberta Foster, Sharon O'Leary and Leslie Corston. Jane Van Dyke, faith of the assembly, will be hostess.

Assisting Jane will be Jan Peterson, Patti Garbarino, Robin Campbell, Kathy Dougan, Nancy Garcia, Michelle Laird and Judy Jestadt. Mmes. Bev Irish, Robert Fourcade and E. H. Pullin will pour.

THERE WILL be a day of recollection on Sunday for all women of St. Rita's parish in Fairfax at the church on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Fairfax. Father Joel Gronowski, a passionist priest from the San Miguel Mission House, will lead the discussion group. Mass will be given at 4:15 p.m., and refreshments will be served in the parish hall following the service.

PI LAMBDA Chapter of Phi Beta National Fraternity of Music and Speech will present its founders day program and tea at the home of Helen Crowe Snelling in Belvedere-Tiburon Sunday at 2:30 p.m.

Carol Roth, artist pupil of Adolph Baller and piano instructor at Dominican College, will perform works of Beethoven, Brahms and Schubert.

Phi Beta members in the area are invited.

ST. ISABELLA'S Women's Guild of Terra Linda will hold a Mother-Daughter communion breakfast on Sunday. Mass will be at 9 a.m., followed by breakfast at Nero's.

Mrs. Frank Ratto is chairman with Mrs. Maurice Carmody as cochairman. They will handle reservations with all women of the parish invited.

PAST STUDENTS and friends are invited to an open house at the Union School from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday in Petaluma. Union School, five miles west of Petaluma on D Street, is the former San Antonio School, established in 1858. The Union School Mothers Club is sponsoring the open house.

A FAREWELL dinner will be held on Monday to honor the four exchange students who have been attending Terra Linda High School and four from the high school who will go abroad this summer to live with families, through the International Student Committee.

The committee is sponsoring the dinner for foreign students Fanny Margolis Kraychinski, returning home to Uruguay; Brigitte Petersen of Denmark; Doris Reckewell of Germany and Voltaire Tupaz of the Philippine Islands; and for Experiment in International Living students Carole Campbell, visiting Austria; Sue Giacomini, Italy; Gary Katz, Great Britain; and Pat Orsini, Germany.

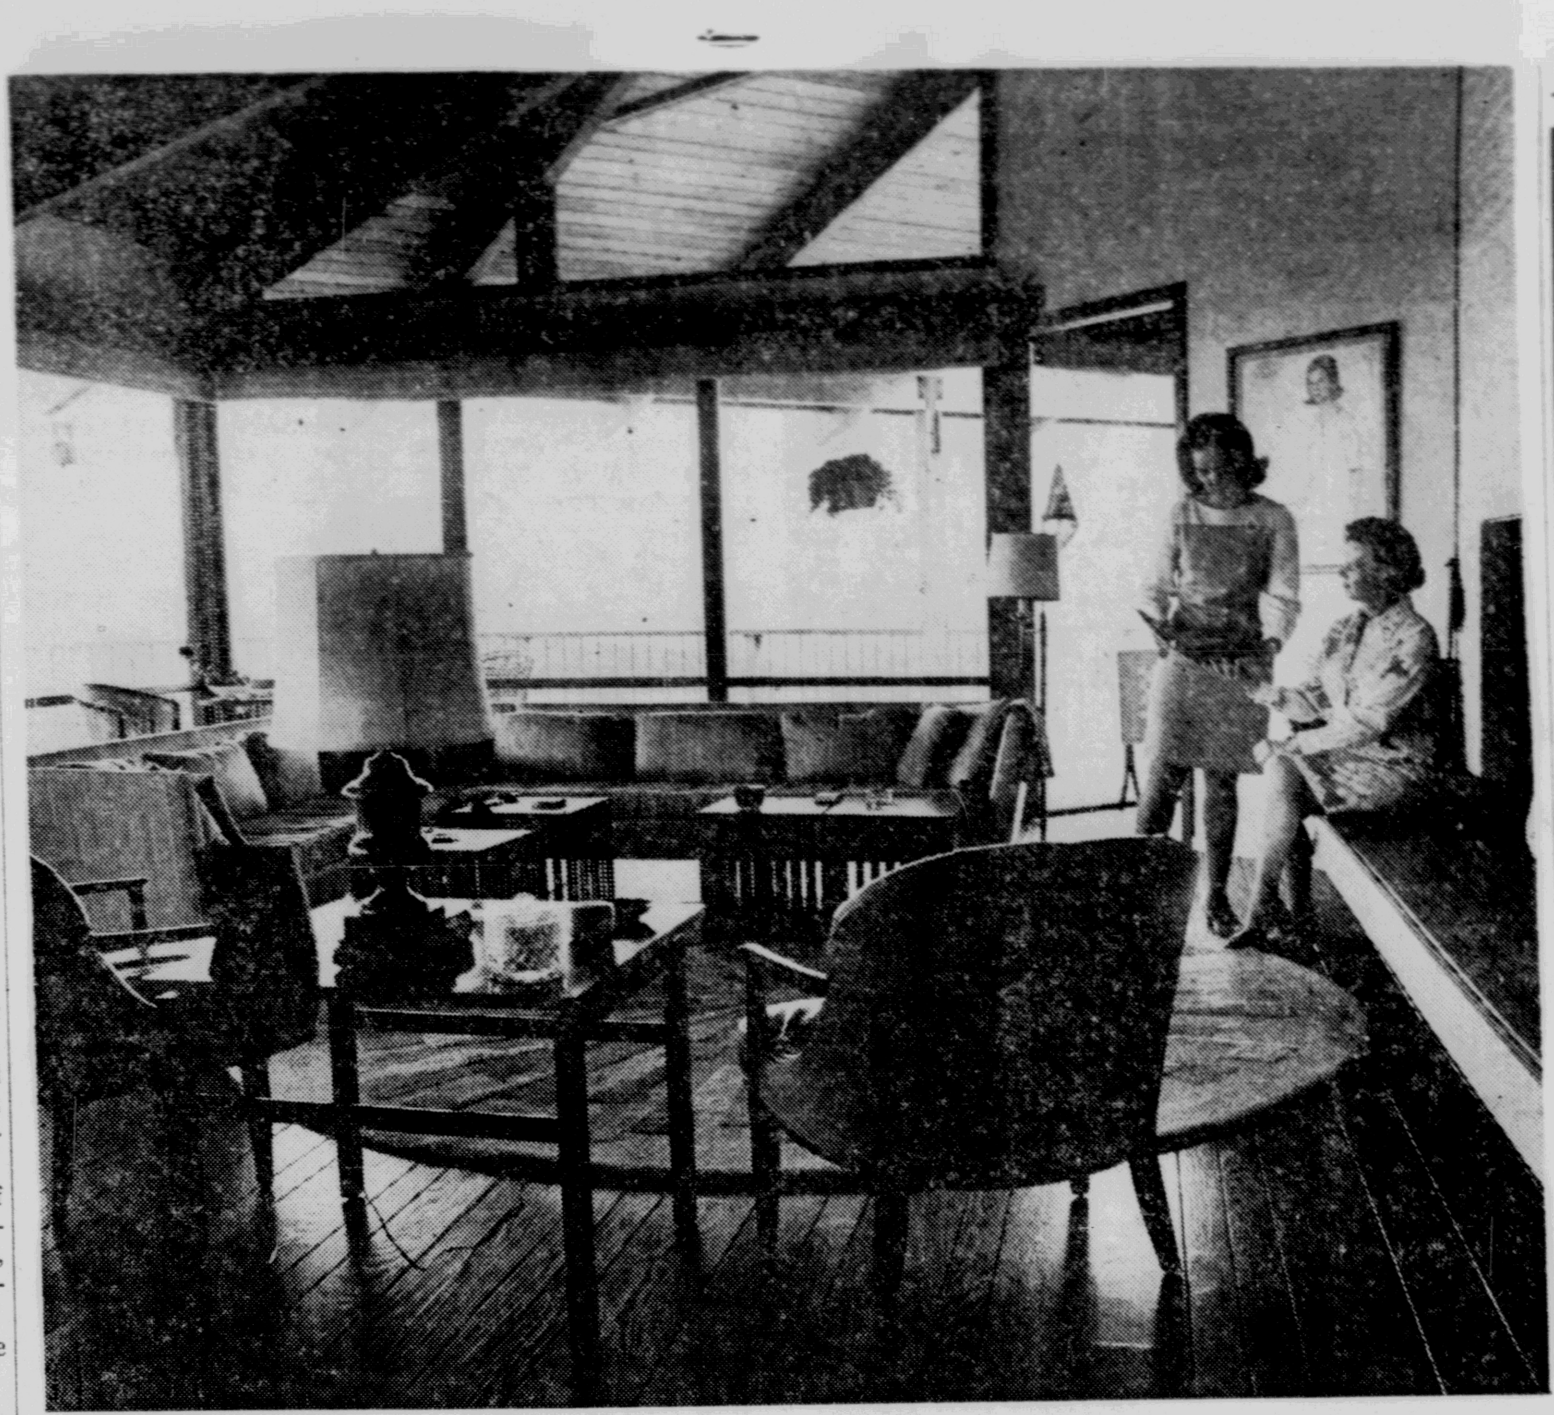
Clarence Leisure will be master of ceremonies for the dinner attended by students and parents, and entertainment will be by musicians and vocalists, Dan Jones, Marsha Bunney, John Pulsipher and Bill Hooks. The dinner will be given at the Terra Linda High School cafeteria.

THE LEAGUES of women voters of the Bay Area will hold their annual convention Monday at 9:30 a.m. at the Community Congregational Church of Belvedere-Tiburon, 145 Rock Hill Drive, Tiburon.

Anne L. Ellinwood, Tiburon councilwoman, will attend the convention as a special guest and will deliver a welcome address to delegates.

The 22 leagues of the bay area will give reports on regional problems particular to their area; steps they have taken in the past year to focus attention on these problems; and direction planned for the coming year.

The convention will adopt the scope for the second year of its current two-year study, evaluation of current proposals relative to regional government.



ON A GRAND SCALE in keeping with the "wide open spaces" setting on a Tiburon hilltop is the home of Mrs. Robert S. Green. Mrs. Vivian Whitney and Mrs. Dickerson McAfee preview the house for the Belvedere House Tour, sponsored by St. Stephen's Guild. The spacious living room is enhanced by antique pieces and a pair of Chinese paintings on silk purchased by the owner in Peking in 1935.

'WORLD' ANTICS — Dancers costumed like insects will be a colorful feature of "The World We Live In," the 52nd annual Mountain Play. Performances will be at 2 p.m. Sunday and May 25.

Large Cast Slated For Mountain Play

One of the largest casts in this istory of the Mountain Play — more than 120 persons — will present "The World We Live In," a Czechoslovakian satire about man and his environment, at 2 p.m. Sunday and May 25 at the outdoor theater atop Mount Tamalpais.

The 52nd annual Mountain Play also will present live music for the first time — stereophonic sound that will surround the open air audience.

"The World We Live In," also called the "insect comedy" or "bug play," features large dance scenes with performers costumed as ants, crickets, butterflies and moths. Written in 1922 by Joseph and Karel Capek, the work is a dramatization of the similarity between insect and human drives.

This year's Mountain Play is directed by Robin Jackson in cooperation with the College of Marin drama department.

Tickets will be available at the gate.

'Great White Hope' Wins Third Award

NEW YORK (UPI)—"The Great White Hope" by Howard Sackler finished a sweep of the three major best play awards for the 1968-69 theater season yesterday when it was chosen as the outstanding drama by the N.Y. Drama Critics' circle.

Lagunitas Artist Wins Lodi Awards

About 200 works will be exhibited at Barengo Cellars, three miles north of Lodi from 7 to 10 p.m. next Friday; 1 to 10 p.m. May 24, and 1 to 6 p.m. May 25.

St. Isabella's Revue

A variety show featuring songs and dances from around the world will be presented at 8 p.m. today, tomorrow and Sunday at St. Isabella's Parish Center, San Rafael, by students of St. Isabella's School.

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

The Marin Motion Picture and Television Council provides these ratings of movies currently being shown in Marin County. The council's findings are from the California and National Parent-Teacher Association magazines and the Film Report of the Film Estimate Board. More complete reviews may be obtained by calling the San Rafael Library.

FAMILY

"African Safari" — Story covers a span of five years in central and East Africa of capturing live animals and snakes for zoos. Photographer records some awesome scenes. Incredible — a must see.

"Endless Summer" — Two surfers circle the globe in their quest for perfect surfing conditions. A beautiful and exciting film.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"Buona Sera, Mrs. Campbell" — For their 20th reunion, three fliers and their families return to an Italian village. Each flier has been paying generous child support to an Italian woman for her illegitimate daughter. Risque comedy.

"Changes" — A film about a youth searching for answers. He is a taker and never a giver, his immaturity prevents him from assuming responsibility.

"Charly" — Poignant dramatization of a fictional case history of first human subject of a new type of brain surgery on a mentally retarded young man. Thought provoking, sensitive performances from the cast.

"Elvira Madigan" — Tragic love story in a Swedish film of rare beauty.

"I'm Alright Jack" — Very funny British satire about the snafu which results from a strike in a missile factory. Cast is outstanding.

"Morgan" — Far out British sophisticated comedy about an immature character who knocks his head against the wall of social order.

"Nobody Waved Goodbye" — Thoughtful drama about lack of communication between generations. Film poses many questions but answers none.

"Romeo and Juliet" — The great tragedy is made vividly new and immediate in a superlative production.

"Twist and Sand" — Fortune hunters seek a cache of diamonds. A taut advanture suspense tale with skilful performances by the cast.

"Whispers" — A poignant study of impoverished old age. Role played superbly by Dame Edith Evans is a genuinely work of art.

BORDERLINE
(Most Sources Say Adults Only)

"Coogan's Bluff" — Lawman from Arizona goes to New York to bring back a murderer who is a dope addict. There is much violence and explicit sex.

"Fistfull of Dollars" — Skillfully developed action western. This Italian - German - Spanish production has an unusual amount of raw brutality and sadistic torture, not for the queasy.

ADULTS ONLY

"Accident" — Artistically produced film throws light on the empty lives of amoral people. Fascinating social commentary.

"For a Few Dollars More" — Beautiful photography and competent cast do not compensate for the agony of watching indescribable sadism and perverted violence.

"Night of the Following Day" — Taut thriller melodrama about internal pressures among four criminals during a kidnapping. Morbid violence, sadistic brutality with an illogical ending.

"Thomas Crown Affair" — Criminal and investigator become involved in a torrid love affair. Crime pays well in this case. Very modern treatment; all phases of immorality are taken for granted.

"Twisted Nerve" — Expertly produced British film follows a psychopathic killer as he sadistically murders. Nudity, and erotic fantasies add to shock of terror.

Famed British Actor Is Dead

Casson and Dame Sybil, now 77, married in 1908 and appeared together in scores of plays around the world.

Casson began his stage career in 1900 and shortly afterward met Miss Thorndike when both were members of "Miss Horniman's Gaiety Theater Company" in Manchester.

Their last stage appearance together was in a London revival of "Arsenic and Old Lace." After that Casson's eyesight was too poor for further acting.

Petaluman Due In Court June 2

John E. Barry, 36, of Petaluma, will appear in Southern Sonoma Municipal Court June 2 for a probation report concerning the charge of threatening with a deadly weapon.

Barry, who was scheduled to stand trial this week, changed his innocent plea to no contest. Judge Alexander J. McMahon dropped a charge of false imprisonment.

Barry, free on $1,250 bail, was arrested Feb. 23 and charged with kidnaping Steven Harr, 18, of Petaluma. Police said Barry forced Harr from a car at Wickersham Park and took him at gunpoint on a short drive in his camper truck to question him about another youth.

Astronauts Try Emergency Plan

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Apollo 10 astronauts Thomas P. Stafford and John W. Young climbed into a command ship trainer today to practice emergency actions they might have to take if their Saturn 5 rocket fails Sunday as it boosts them toward an orbit around the moon.

Their traveling companion, Eugene A. Cernan, slipped into a lunar landing ship simulator to run through a systems check. It was the final test in which the astronauts wore space suits.

Store Art Exhibit

Paintings by Felice Shatz and Vera Bacharach of San Rafael will be exhibited at the Sherman Clay music store, Fourth and C streets, San Rafael, during store hours for a month starting tomorrow.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

That Certain High Card Needed To Make The Finesse A Weapon

The finesse is a wonderful weapon but has its limitations. A finesse will succeed only if a particular high card is in favorable position. If it is in unfavorable position, you need something better than a mere finesse.

WEST OPENS

When today's hand was played West opened the ace of hearts and continued with a low heart to South's nine. Declarer then took the king and ace of clubs, hoping that the queen would fall.

When no miracle happened in clubs, South led a low spade from dummy, trying a finesse with the ten. He would develop a spade trick if East had the queen or jack.

WITH SPADE

West won with the jack of spades and got out safely with a diamond. South won with the king of diamonds, entered dummy with the jack of hearts and led another spade to try a finesse with the nine. West thereupon defeated the contract with three spade tricks and the ace of trumps.

AGAINST THE ODDS

South's plan would have succeeded if East had held any of the three missing spade honors, but the odds were against any such luck since West had bid the suit. South should have relied on a much surer weapon: the throw-in play.

After winning the second trick with the nine of hearts South should cash the top diamonds and the top clubs. Only then would it be correct to lead a spade from dummy to try a finesse with the ten.

West would win with the jack of spades but would be unable to make a safe return. If West returned a diamond, dummy would ruff while South discarded a spade. If West could return a club, declarer could easily develop a club trick in dummy. If West returned a spade, South's king would win a trick.

ANSWER: Bid one spade.

You would have enough for this opening bid even if you had four low diamonds instead of four headed by the jack.

Bill To Require Auto Repair License

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UPI) — State Sen. Louis G. Hill believes most automobile repair businesses are honest, but he wants to bring the industry under state control through licensing in Pennsylvania.

His bill introduced in the legislature is designed to "further highway safety by promoting the proper and efficient repair of motor vehicles and to protect the consumers of this Commonwealth from dishonest and fraudulent practices in the repair of motor vehicles."

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, May 16, the 136th day of 1969 with 229 to follow.

The moon is new. The morning stars are Venus, Mars and Saturn. The evening stars are Mercury and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1866 the treasury department was authorized to manufacture and place in circulation the first five-cent piece to be called the "nickel."

In 1958 Capt. Walter Irwin flew an F-104 starfighter jet at an average speed of just over 1,404 miles an hour, a record.

In 1962 American forces began landing in Thailand to bolster the Asian nation against any spread of fighting from neighboring Laos.

In 1968 the defense department said 562 Americans died in Vietnam during the week ended May 11. It was the highest weekly toll of the war to that time.

A thought for the day: Virgil said, "Yield not to misfortunes but press forward the more boldly in their face."

India's Population Still On Increase

NEW DELHI (UPI) — Despite extensive family planning measures taken in the past decade, the population of India is expected to reach 560 million when the next census is taken on March 1, 1971. The country's population was 439 million when the last census was taken in 1961.

Estimates indicate that the population will reach 695 million in 1981. Any substantial reduction in population growth will be seen only after 1981, according to experts.

ON VIOLENCE: Philosophical Question Involved

By PETER J. GOLDSTONE

(Editor's note: Dr. Goldstone, 30, is an assistant professor of philosophy at the University of Maryland. One of the courses he teaches is called "The Philosophy of Violence," which he discusses below.)

COLLEGE PARK, Md. — (NEA) — When I first proposed a course on "The Philosophy of Violence," faculty committee eyebrows went up and thumbs went down.

It seemed my intentions were suspect. My colleagues feared that I planned (1) to circulate instructions on how to make Molotov cocktails or (2) to incite guerrilla warfare. I planned neither. Actually, ROTC classes and radical publications are much better at that sort of thing.

I wanted, rather, to help my students think clearly about violence: its causes and effects, what is being said about it and, finally, what is violence. With my colleagues' anxieties relieved, the course was sanctioned. Now 15 undergraduates take the course for credit and several former students also take part.

BUT THE QUESTION remains valid: Why a course on violence?

The answer is twofold. First, there is the academic approach. Violence whether depicted in assassinations or riots or Vietnam or student militancy or police brutality or crime in the streets, is indisputably an important problem in our society. Therefore, our schools have an obligation to consider this social and political dilemma, just as schools must seek to understand other problems of life.

Second, there is the personal aspect. Most of my students — as well as myself — are bothered by the question: "Should I be out there in the streets, too?" Others want to know whether there is justification for being drafted to fight in Vietnam.

These questions are sticky and must, of course, be solved individually.

THE STUDENTS are concerned with what, actually, is violence. To answer, it must first be determined who is committing what kind of action against whom. It is often said that institutions in our society, from college administrations to giant corporations to government agencies impose a quiet violence against underprivileged minorities. Spelled out, this is the assertion that economic exploitation, dehumanizing and irrelevant education, and unequal opportunity either are or should be regarded as violence.

An obvious reaction is that this is mere claptrap, that everyone knows the difference between knocking a man down and keeping him down. The first, it is said, is violence. The second, though admittedly unjust, is not violence.

But a counterargument is that economic exploitation, misguided education and so forth should be regarded as violence. Breaking a man's spirit incapacitates him as fully as breaking his arm.

JOHN LOCKE, whose ideas Thomas Jefferson relied upon to draft the Declaration of Independence, said that it is wrong to commit violence because it prevents a man from his inalienable right to live his life as he sees it, as long as he harms no one.

Locke went on to say that a man who commits violence sets himself against reason. And reason is what distinguishes man from anything else in nature. When a man commits violence he gives up his humanity. He becomes, then, an animal.

It is why Americans are so appalled at the upheavals in the schools. Yet they do not often consider the catalyst for physical violence, which is the subtle one imposed by the institutions themselves.

Issues of this kind are discussed in class. No student has yet constructed a Molotov cocktail (at least to my knowledge). But many, hopefully, are constructing balanced views on violence in today's society.

New And Hopeful Line In Nixon Peace Proposal

It is difficult any more to arouse much hope for peace in Vietnam. Hopes have been dashed too often. But President Nixon's proposal which was aired to the nation Wednesday night and presented to the Paris negotiators yesterday seems to offer more basis for hope than anything that has been presented before.

Nixon has faced up to two things which his predecessor in the White House refused to face: That we may have made a mistake in sending troops into Vietnam in the first place, and that to get them out of there with honor we must make some concessions.

The latter is true because a military defeat of North Vietnam would vouchsafe no honor to the United States, nor would it assure a non-communist future for that portion of Southeast Asia.

IF, AS HAS BEEN so often contended, we made our commitment in Vietnam to permit the people of that unhappy land to have self-determination, it follows that we must end that commitment in a manner which will make that self-determination possible.

Nixon's proposal, that the United States and North Vietnam phase out their military activity in South Vietnam over a year's time, would go far in clearing the way.

This in itself is, of course, not new (a six-month withdrawal was proposed by the United States and its allies in 1966). But other parts of the President's proposal are new and hopeful.

HE SAYS we would not require a formal treaty with Ho Chi Minh's government — only "an understanding."

He says all elements of the Vietnamese should be permitted to participate in elections if they foreswore the use of force or intimidation. This certainly opens the way for the Viet Cong to help shape the future of their country — which is what they say they are fighting for.

President Nixon goes farther yet. He says the program he outlined is not a "take it or leave it" proposition. He held the door wide open for counterproposals.

WE MAY AS WELL face the fact that Ho Chi Minh's government has become suspicious of United States' proposals with some reason. At various times during the Johnson administration, offers to move toward peace were made contingent upon certain moves by "the other side." But when "the other side" made what it deemed initial moves to meet the conditions, new conditions were introduced.

There was also the instance when major U.S. bombing raids in the north were undertaken at the very time that a proposal for peace negotiations by our government was given to Ho after long, difficult and devious efforts to get it to him.

This is not to suggest that Ho Chi Minh has kept all his promises. Quite the contrary! The story in Vietnam has been a sad story of each side so mistrusting the other that no progress toward peace was possible.

SO IT IS THE TONE of President Nixon's offer, even more than anything it contains, which gives some cause for hope. It is an offer made honorably in terms that recognize the adversary as also honorable. It is the very antithesis of the ridiculous, disgusting quarrel over protocol and table shape that marked the opening of the Paris talks.

It is a truism that to inspire trust, you must give trust. Because Nixon has presented his proposal in terms of trust, it may win trust from the adversary that no previous proposal has elicited.

It is on this that we can place some hope. It is for this that we may pray.

Valuable Project Goes Begging

A worthwhile project looking for sponsors is the "Guide for Youth and Parents" prepared by the Allied Juvenile Agencies of Marin.

This very useful booklet has been ready for the printer for several months, but the Allied Juvenile Agencies is without funds. And so far, according to Police Inspector Gerald Green, one of its leaders, it has been able to raise only $700 toward the $3,500 cost of printing the booklet for county-wide distribution.

This booklet could do a lot to close the gap between youth and law enforcement. It seems strange such a good work does not elicit financial support.

Time Running Out For The Alligator

Your newspaper does an excellent job on local conservation issues. May I call to your readers' attention an issue of worldwide conservation of paramount importance.

Bills to prevent the importation of endangered species of animals, or their sale in interstate commerce, are now pending before the Senate Subcommittee on Energy, Natural Resources and the Environment, and the House of Representatives Subcommittee on Wildlife Conservation.

Time is running out for the alligator, the rhinoceros, the orang-utan, the leopard, and a host of other animals, and poachers do a lively business in their trade. Since the balance of nature is involved, man is also an endangered species.

Letters to both subcommittee chairmen (John Dingell in the House and Philip Hart in the Senate) and our own congressmen and senators are badly needed at this time.

What Circus Ticket Sales Accomplished

The Independent-Journal carried a routine article the other day calling attention to the circus to be held on June 21 at Marin Catholic High School under sponsorship of the Deputy Sheriff's Association of Marin County. The article mentioned that proceeds would be for the benefit of local charities, and that last year Marin Aid to Retarded Children received something over $7,300 from a similar circus. As president of MARC, let me elaborate a bit on the modest statement by the deputy sheriff's spokesman.

These fine people — the sheriff's deputies — were placed in an embarrassing position last year when their ticket solicitation, mainly by telephone, was misconstrued by several local people who understandably were wary of telephone promotion. Let there be no misunderstanding this year. The $7,300 donated to MARC was the largest single amount our organization, a purely voluntary one, has ever received. And what good did the money do? With such a meaningful amount, MARC was able to bring to reality a long cherished dream: the establishment of a respite home, "The Big R", which should open its doors in the next 60 days. The operation is a joint one with several other agencies serving the handicapped in Marin, aided materially by the Babcock Foundation. The Big R will provide a temporary away-from-home living experience for retarded and other mentally and physically handicapped children, and also give their families a temporary respite from the heavy responsibilities of constant care. . .

Zionists, Not Nasser, To Blame

I fear that Phil Newsom's column of May 8 contributed to the myth-information concerning the Middle East. He enumerates examples of the "new aggressiveness" of Egyptian troops which, he states, is encouraged by President Nasser. The headlines of his column also satisfy the brain-washed American liberal ("Nasser's Self Delusion Threatens Renewed War"). Pardon me, but what does Phil Newsom know about "the Arab ability at self delusion?'' Americans have shut their eyes to the subversive growth of Zionism in this country. Americans refuse to understand any other side but that of Israel. These same American liberals continue to remain ignorant of the following facts:

The emergence of the U.S. as a major world power after WW II and the decline of British imperialsim brought about a gradual shift of Zionist orientation from Britain towards the U.S. A stong Zionist lobby was built up in Washington and at the same time the pro-American elements in world Zionism gained supremacy over the pro-British faction.

The combined effect of these economic and political factors precipitated the clash between the Zionists and the British government. The war had transformed the Jewish community in Palestine into a nation with its own economy, army, political organizations, language and ideology . . .

In this new situation the Zionist demanded political independence in Palestine. As a result there are over two million Palestinian Arabs today (half of whom are under 18 years of age) waiting for the day when they can return home to their towns, houses, jobs, offices, field, vineyards and orchards. . . .

Now Der Spiegel newsmagazine and other sources report that Israel has built 6 20-Kiloton atomic bombs in the Negev Desert. The Arabs can only wonder in what monstrous way the Zionists will use these bombs to gain their ends. . . .

TRY AND STOP ME

A CURVACEOUS young private secretary asked her immediate superior if she could have a week off to visit Las Vegas with a friend. "I admire your honesty," chuckled the superior, "but I think you ought to get an O.K. from the president of the firm for a jaunt like this. You go right in and check with him." "Oh, there won't be any trouble from that quarter," she assured him. "You see, he's the friend I'm going with!"

THE DRUMMONDS

Samuel Ichiye Hayakawa, The Soft-spoken Strong Man

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

SAN FRANCISCO — Dr. S. I. Hayakawa, the soft-spoken strong man of San Francisco State College is using the kind of backbone other university administrators need. The man belies his image — the image of one who uses force and likes it. That's not the Hayakawa of reality; that's the Hayakawa of the headlines.

His guide to meet student violence or other violence is a quotation from British pacifist Bertrand Russell: "The only excuse for the use of force is to reduce the total amount of force in the world."

Hayakawa's backbone is two-edged — firmness against violence and responsiveness to needed change without violence. That is the kind of backbone President Nixon is pleading for and that is the kind of backbone Hayakawa is showing.

IT'S WORKING. It's gettin results. San Francisco State is not yet a happy nor a comfortable campus. But it is a college which is beginning to repair the terrible turmoil which nearly took its life. Tolerance and mutual trust are slowly beginning to emerge.

The distance this college has come since Dr. Hayakawa took over as acting president six months ago is tremendous. He inherited the most turmoil-ridden campus in the United States. There had been faculty strikes, student strikes, violent confrontations with police, temporary cessations of classes — all of which brought the college close to total suffocation.

There is little doubt it would have gone under were it not for the double-edged backbone of Dr. Samuel Ichiye Hayakawa, world-renowned semanticist, author and student of human behavior, who was proved to be the right man in the right place at the right time.

How did he do it? That's what we need to see because his answers at San Francisco State are applicable elsewhere if other university administrators and teachers are willing to look and learn.

DR. HAYAKAWA does not readily put together an instant kit of how-to-do-it rules. But how he did it and how he is doing it emerged from our conversation with him:

1 — Be thoroughly ready. Think through in advance what as an administrator you will be willing to do and believe you must do if violence arises. Dr. Hayakawa was himself ready when he was catapulted into the president's chair. From the very beginning of the violent protest which had turned the nearby Berkeley campus of the University of California into a battleground, he began to ponder what he would do if he were in charge. He did make up his mind, though he never expected to be called on to do it.

2. — Don't let a little violence succeed when it is first tried. That is when action can stop it in its tracks. That is the warning of worse to come. If a little violence is rewarded, then the process of escalating non-negotiable demands and the force to compel them will mount.

3. — Don't delay the use of force — adequate force — to put down violence when that is the only means which can do it.

4 — Listen to the students. Provide clearly available means so their views can be better heard and better heeded by faculty and administration.

5— Have the backbone to remake the college curriculum and restructure the faculty to make education more meaningful to today's social needs. On this the students are often right — except those who want violence without change rather than change without violence.

That's what Dr. Hayakawa wants — needed change without violence — and he's beginning to get it.

Others can, too.

AN EDUCATOR'S VIEW

Special Privilege Concept Causes Campus Crises

By JOHN W. GILBAUGH
Professor of Education
San Jose State College

Solutions to college and university crises abound on every hand. But those who could resolve the problems are also the selfsame individuals to whom nearly all the blame for chaos can be traced. And they are not about to admit responsibility for the turbulence their decisions have yielded.

Who are the culprits? They are numerous. In a sense they are part of the establishment. Among them are politicians, for example, who sponsor legislation that results in enforced special privileges for members of so-called minority groups. And, there are college and university trustees and administrators who establish programs that offer special privileges to blacks and browns not open to equally disadvantaged whites.

THE FIRST ACT in a series of enforced special privileges has been the waiving of admission standards for "promising" blacks and browns. Some of those admitted to colleges and universities under this arrangement are so poorly prepared in basic skills when they enter they find themselves confronted with failure almost from the moment they report to their first class.

It is surprising that large numbers of these react with hostility? In their frustration they seek radical changes in the curriculum so the threat of failure to meet even minimum standards of performance will be removed.

What blacks and browns who lack basic skills to succeed in college need is precisely the same as whites need to succeed. History has long since taught us that reading, writing, and study skills are necessary for college success. To permit students, regardless of color, to enter college without these skills is to subject them to failure.

THERE MUST NOT be further delay in changing the direction of our tax-supported colleges and universities if they are to avoid the fate of becoming phony diploma factories. Some of them have already approached that level. A few excerpts from a test paper written by a black student, admitted to a major west coast college with academic qualifications less than those required of regular students, demonstrates the erosion of academic standards. This college junior was admitted on probation, in good standing (also, a special-privilege category) after having attended a two-year community college and a midwest four-year college. Here are some excerpts: "The Afrikaner discribtion of his govt. is very true as long as he is only talking about the white (pig) (people) . . . all they are interested in is exploitation of one of the rich nations in the world (natural rescource) . . ."

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

Kitten, Second Graders, And Gas Station Men Revive Confidence

We adopted a kitten last week. Free kittens, the ad said, referring only to the purchase price and not the upkeep.

Our dog, who has been sole beast of the house for 18 months, has reacted with aggrieved restraint, her only complaint being an occasional heartfelt sigh and a look that says "How could you do this to me?"

The kitten, which weighs about a pound but should reach a hundredweight soon judging from its appetite, has staked out its own territory and challenges the dog whenever it gets too close. It has even appropriated the dog's permanent bone.

The dog spent much of the week lying around the back yard, contemplating fate and possibly considering desertion. But as time wore on, the two animals began edging toward a timid rapproachement.

The kitten's hiss of protest has become a formality, and once or twice when no one was looking it even approached the dog with play in mind instead of warfare. In another week we expect them to be lifelong friends.

The dog is black and white. The kitten is calico. This doesn't seem to bother either of them at all. Poor dumb animals!

THE SECOND GRADERS at Bel Aire School in Tiburon have started a money-raising campaign for "Wings Over Africa," a private airlift of food and medicine to bush country natives in Kenya and Tanzania. Teacher Helen Garvin met the people running the airlift on an African visit last year, and used the airlift as the basis for a study unit in her class this year.

The children picked up on it and began earning money to support the project themselves. The collection is $14 to date, which is a lot of money for second graders, and today added to their trove with a cookies and punch sale at the school.

Maybe this country will make it after all.

SPEAKING of language and cliches, as someone was doing in this space last week, there are a few more illiteracies that should be stripped of their buttons and dismissed from service.

Among my favorites are the overworked jargonese terms "overview," "viable," "thrust," "relate" and "communicate." Another favorite of a local city councilman is "pointful," which appears to be his own unfortunate invention.

Among the writing set, we could do without those misspelled homonyms — flair when flare is meant, hoard for horde, and others too dreadful to bare.

Four Arraigned In Ridge Protest

Four persons arrested during a protest of logging on the Righetti Ranch on Bolinas Ridge were arraigned yesterday in Marin Municipal Court on charges of failing to yield the right of way to vehicles and failure to disperse.

Gregory Alan Brougham, 18, of Bolinas, was also charged with marijuana possession.

A spokesman for the group, Michael Alan Bond, 26, of Bolinas, said the four have a lawyer, who will appear with them May 23.

The other defendants are Gillian LeProvest Baxter, 18, and Lorraine Barrow, 35, both of Bolinas.

The group was arrested for allegedly interfering with logging operations on the ranch by lying in a road and preventing trucks from passing.

$1,000 Burglary

Burglars stole a stereo system, a gold ring with a black sapphire, a suit and a pair of shoes valued at a total of $1,000 from his apartment Tuesday, John Callella of 519 North Street told Sausalito police.

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Hearings In Southern Marin On Flooding In Ross Valley

Fusselman

On Monday, in an extensive group of letters to the editor, there was one which had quite a personal interest for me. It was written by Mrs. Jean S. Barnard of Mill Valley. Some of you may have read it, others may have missed it, so I will give some excerpts.

It started: "Having attended board of supervisors meetings regularly for almost four years, I feel qualified to say that your news articles about them are very good but your Friday column, 'County Comment' and your editorials misfired badly" (about the Zucker matter). . . "The author of 'County Comment' ceased to be a supervisor on Dec. 31, 1964. I suggest that three men went off the board on Dec. 31, 1968 whose views would stem from recent experience, if, indeed, it is appropriate at all for a kind of 'supervisor emeritus' to comment from the sidelines, which I have always doubted . . ."

WELL, I, IN TURN, find it very hard to understand the lady's attitude now. She telephoned me several years ago, introduced herself, and asked me to subscribe to one of the county weeklies. And she was quite surprised when I said that I knew who she was, as she had been very active in organizing hearings, in Mill Valley, on the Ross Valley Flood Control Project, during 1963 and '64.

I had always wondered, "if, indeed, it was appropriate" to hold hearings in the southern part of the county on a flooding situation through out valley, which never ever flowed upward and over the hills to them nor approached their thresholds in any way.

She has called me numerous times since and has expressed great interest in how I was able to have such pertinent information. And she again called a month or so ago and urged my wife to tune in the first broadcast over KTIM of one of the "three men who went off the board on Dec. 31, 1968." She said it was "reminiscent" of my column.

HERE IS an excerpt from the 1968 grand jury report about the planning director, Paul Zucker, which I ran across the other day.

"Mr. Zucker has stated that 34 per cent of his extensive budget represents current planning. This in spite of the drop in building in the past few years. He explained that whether a permit was issued or not, the same amount of work was involved in processing the request. After repeated requests by this committee for a list dating from Jan. 1, 1968 of (1) number of applicants for building permits, (2) number of permits issued, and (3) decisions not to build. Mr. Zucker finally advised us that he couldn't provide this information. The committee found it frustrating that these figures could not be produced to substantiate the need for this high budget cost."

THERE IS A MATTER to come before the board of supervisors, which is vital to the safety of every one in the county. I propose to discuss it and believe it would be well to give you my background in this field.

While mayor of San Anselmo in the '20s I promoted and brought to San Anselmo the first two-way police radio syster in Marin, in fact one of the first for a smaller community in the state. I personally worked throughout the nights while the installation was being tailored to work in this terrain. I drove police cars testing for quality reception from the top of Tamalpais down through the valley.

I was designated then by the FCC to conduct the examinations and then several years later to give them for the entire county police and sheriff personnel.

More of the background next week.

Heart Doctor's Salary Cut Off

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the two doctors who implanted an artificial heart in a patient April 4 has been suspended from the federally-supported artificial heart program at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston.

Dr. Domingo Liotta, the Argentine-born researcher credited by Dr. Denton A. Cooley with developing the artificial heart, was suspended and had his salary cut off from the federal project, according to Leonard F. McCollum, chairman of the institution's board of trustees.

McCollum also said, in two letters to Dr. Theodore Cooper, director of the National Heart Institute, that Dr. Cooley acted without prior review in implanting the heart which McCollum said was subject to federal guidelines governing investigation in human subjects.

However, since Cooley is not receiving a grant from the government he is not subject to any disciplinary action such as that levied on his colleague, Dr. Liotta.

The first successful hydrofoil was launched by Italian inventor Enrico Forlanini in 1905.

Cove Association To Back Ordinance

The Mariner Cove Improvement Association board has agreed to write the Corte Madera Town Council giving its support to the proposed town solicitors' ordinance, treasurer Ray C. Nann said yesterday.

The board also, at its Wednesday night meeting, suggested to the Corte Madera Park and Recreation Commission that the association, Boy Scout Pack No. 90 and the town work cooperatively to improve the tiny tot playground at San Clemente School.

A Young Man Who Likes To Run

By KIMO CAMPBELL

To the average sports nut, distance men are the mystics of track and field, as romantic and enigmatic as Lawrence of Arabia.

Milers and two-milers are known more for their sufferings, strange diets, and the torture of their events than any other trackmen, and have more mystique than any group of athletes outside professional wrestling. Every track fan knows about the "loneliness of the long distance runner," the agony undergone for success.

It is therefore surprising to meet a distance man who refutes all the popular bunk about distance runners, and backs up his opinion with the athlete's best criterion — victory.

George Stewart, College of Marin's mile and two-mile record holder, is a slight, bespectacled young man who likes to run, something he does so well that his coach, Tony Bailey, describes him as "the best junior college runner in Northern California." George doesn't train on seaweed or sleep on a bed of nails to build endurance. He runs —nine miles a day for the last year and a half — because he likes to run.

"It's hard sometimes," he says, "but I like to run, to be on the team. I like the competition and getting to know guys I'm running against at meets. It's a litte hard sometimes, but if I didn't like it I wouldn't be doing it. Some guys fish, some play the guitar . . . I run."

Last weekend, George won the junior college two-mile at the Fresno Relays over 35 other runners in 9:15.2, well off his best of 9:10.6. This is common for Stewart, who worries little about times, but more about position and winning. In tomorrow's Northern California Track and Field Finals at Allen Hancock College in Santa Maria, Stewart will go in both the mile and two mile, hoping to qualify for the J.C. State Finals on May 24, held in conjunction with the Modesto Relays.

Stewart was a late-comer to track, after being cut from the baseball team in his senior year at Tamalpais High in Mill Valley. Coach Bruce Grant and assistant Kraig Vezie at Tam had four top sprinters — Alan Lee, Luther Brown, Bill Hindman and Reggie Walker, who were one-two-three-five in the 100-yard dash at the Marin County Athletic League meet in 1967. So George became a half-miler.

He promptly adjusted to the 880 by breaking a Tam record

They Call Tom Thomas Menlo's 'Mr. Baseball'

Tommy Thomas of Novato is known as Mr. Baseball around the Menlo College campus. And rightfully so.

Just this week Thomas was unanimously named first team third baseman on the All-Conference squad after which his teammates voted him the school's "Most Inspirational Athlete" and "Most Valuable Player" in baseball.

Says his coach, Tom Crawford, a former San Rafael Military Academy star: "Coaches in our conference rate Thomas a can't miss professional prospect. He is one of the most coachable boys I've ever worked with and at the end of this season was a totally polished player."

In 15 games for the runner-up Oaks, Thomas batted .347, led the league in stolen bases with 10, was second in runs batted in with 18, had five doubles, one triple and four home runs, walked 15 times and fanned only four times.

Thomas hopes to attend Washington State next year and will play semi-pro ball in Yakima, Wash., this summer.

Marin County Infield

Two of his three infield teammates at Menlo also are Marin products. Mark Newsom of Novato, great grandson of former major league star "Bobo" Newsom, played second base and did some pitching for Menlo. He was named second utility team on the All-Conference selections. He also hopes to go on to WSU with Thomas.

Menlo College is the only privately-owned junior college in the state.

AND NOW WE take you to Hanover, N.H. where Tamalpais High grad Barry Brink of Mill Valley is carving his name in two sports at Dartmouth College.

A defensive tackle in football, Big Barry also is doing a rather creditable job as a doubles player on the tennis team. Although he's had five different partners this season, Brink has the best won-lost record on the squad, 9-3. As a freshman last year Brink was the number two man on the Dartmouth squad in total victories, a 4-3 singles mark and 3-3 in doubles.

Coaches Want Stewart

DURABLE GEORGE STEWART, College of Marin's amazing one and two-miler, plans to further his education at Sonoma State College in Rohnert Park. But, several coaches have been talking to the bespectacled Mill Valleyan, hoping to lure his considerable track talents to their schools.

Stewart's tremendous stamina and recuperative powers are exemplified by his numerous triumphs in both mile and two mile races with only one hour, ten minutes between races. If he gets to the State J.C. finals in both events at Modesto May 24 he will have two hours of rest between races. Then, watch out!

A's To Open Road Trip, Happy To Leave Oakland

Tonight, the A's open an eight-game road trip against the Cleveland Indians with John Odom (6-1) pitching against Mike Paul (1-0).

The A's soured on the East Bay for two reasons. First, because of a lack of support during a seven-game winning streak, and second because most of the fans who did come to see them wound up rooting for the opposition.

Through the A's first 17 home dates this season only 158,040 have turned out to watch them, which is about 50,000 down from last year's attendance. What makes it especially galling to the players is that they are all alone in first place in the American League West and are playing exciting baseball.

In the Indians, whom they also meet tomorrow and Sunday, they are facing a club with all kinds of troubles. The Indians go into tonight's game with the worst record in the majors — 6-22 — and the lowest attendance figures as well.

Giants Vs. Phillies Tonight

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—The San Francisco Giants, who needed the extra off day more than most clubs, swing back into action against the Phillies tonight with lefty Mike McCormick entrusted with keeping alive a modest win streak.

The Giants defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates twice earlier this week and then relaxed yesterday. The idleness was especially welcomed by manager Clyde King who wanted to give some of his "walking wounded" extra time to rest from various ailments.

HOSPITAL LIST

The "wounded"—Willie Mays, Jim Hart, Bobby Bonds and Willie McCovey—aren't fully recovered but all except Hart should be in the lineup.

SECOND START

This will be McCormick's second start of the year. He went 7 1-3 innings in his other one —back on April 27 —and beat the Houston Astros.

At the moment, the Giants are 4-6 on this road trip. They play the Phillies, who have dropped their last six starts, again tomorrow and Sunday and then come home for an eight-day stand. The Giants need a sweep here to go over the .500 mark on the trip.

Redwood, Tam Win In Tennis

Redwood High School and Tamalpais High School continued to run almost neck-and-neck in the Marin County Athletic League tennis race, both teams winning yesterday.

Redwood ran its record to 12-0 with an easy 5-0 victory over Marin Catholic while Tamalpais (11-1) swept the singles matches to nick Terra Linda 4-3.

In other matches, San Rafael downed Drake, 4-1 and Novato topped San Marin, 5-0.

Redwood and Tamalpais battle Tuesday at Redwood.

Tamalpais 4, Terra Linda 3

Redwood Girls Win

Redwood High School's girl basketball team downed Marin Catholic girls 42-38 at Kentfield yesterday behind 14 points by Roberta Butler and 13 by Nancy Costa. The Marin Catholic junior varsity won, 31-15.

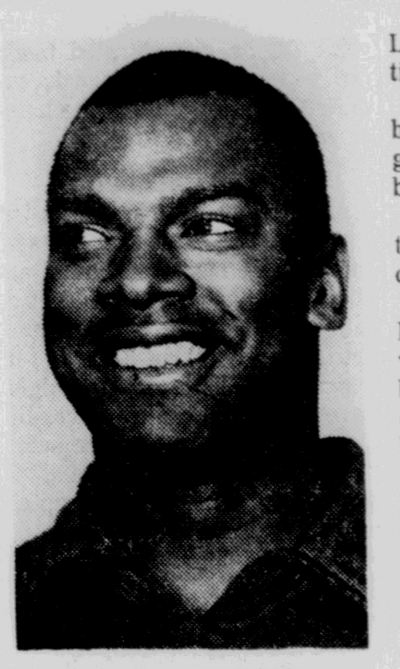
Hector Quits As Tam High Coach; Davlin Next In Line

Tamalpais High School is in the market for a new head football coach after Willie Hector turned in his resignation yesterday to take a job at City College of San Francisco.

Hector, 29, will teach physical education and assist head football coach Arthur "Dutch" Elston at the San Francisco junior college when he starts there in September.

A successor to Hector at the Mill Valley high school has not yet been named, although assistant coach Mike Davlin has a good chance to move up to the top job.

Hector, a graduate of Tam High, played football at University of Pacific and, after being graduated from the Stockton school, played professional football. He is one of the few men around who have played in all four professional football leagues — Los Angeles Rams of the National Football League, Denver Broncos of the American Football League, Calgary Stampeders of the Canadian League and San Jose of the Continental League.



WILLIE HECTOR
A move up

Four years ago Hector came to Tam High as a head grid coach, his first teaching job.

"I'm not leaving for good," Hector said. "I'll be back to watch the football games and basketball games and see some of my friends at Tam. It's been like a home to me."

But Hector, quiet and calm in his talk, just as he is in coaching, said he is looking forward to coaching at a college level. "I definitely feel it is a promotion," he said. "Because of the size of the staff at City College, I'll really be able to specialize my coaching."

His job will be closer to home, as he, his wife Joy, and their two children reside in San Francisco.

HUGE FIELD EXPECTED IN MARIN SWIM MEET

More than 700 young swimmers will be competing in the sixth annual Marin Invitational Class A Swim Meet tomorrow and Sunday in the Novato High School pool.

The meet is co-sponsored by Marin Swim Club, Independent-Journal and Novato Park and Recreation Department.

Santa Clara Swim Club is the heavy favorite to win team honors in the age-group meet.

It will start at 9 a.m. each day and run throughout the daylight hours. Admission is 50 cents for adults, with children admitted free.

Lakers' Hawkins Retires For TV

INGLEWOOD (UPI)—Tommy Hawkins isn't coming back to the Los Angeles Lakers next season.

Hawkins, 32, announced last night that he was retiring after 10 years in the National Basketball Association.

The 6-foot-5 forward from Notre Dame said he will go to work for a Los Angeles television station (KNBC-TV, Channel 4) as a sports reporter and commentator.

Marin Supply Whips Post Office, 10-3

Scott Moriarty hit a homer and a single to pace Marin Supply to a 10-3 win over the San Rafael Post Office in a C-II Division game in San Rafael Recreation Department softball play at Albert Field yesterday.

In a B division game, Marinwood Athletic Club downed Hamilton Athletic Club, 3-2.

Courtney Leading Golf Field

FORT WORTH (UPI)—Even a burglar alarm which jangled noisily near the 18th green failed to shake the front-running poise of little Chuck Courtney's golf game in the opening round of the $125,000 Colonial National Invitation golf tournament.

The sandy-haired, 160-pound Courtney's opening 33-33—66 tour of Colonial Country Club's 7.100-yard, par 35-35—70 layout gave him a two-stroke edge going into today's second round and provided him with confidence.

Gary Player started his round eagle-birdie, but wound up having to sink a 30-foot birdie putt on the 18th to get into a nine-way tie at par 70.

Defending champion Billy Casper faltered on the back nine after an opening 34 and was jammed into a 15-player logjam at 71.

Marin Country Club Gal Golfers Advance

The Marin Country Club Women's Golf Club held the second round of its spring handicap tournament yesterday in Novato.

JUST WALKS OUT

Tigers' Horton Listed As AWOL

"He's just emotionally upset or he wouldn't do that," said Manager Mayo Smith after the game, won by Detroit 2-1 on Dick McAuliffe's 10th-inning home run.

UNAWARE

Few were aware Horton, who grounded out and struck out twice in three at bats, had left the dugout. Rookie Ron Woods replaced him in the top of the eighth in a substitution not planned by Smith.

"He took himself out of the game," Smith said. "He came back into the clubhouse.

"Some of the guys came in to talk to him but he was just wild . . . He's got friends on the ballclub who couldn't even talk to him."

Horton led the Tigers in hitting (.285) and home runs (36) last year as they won their first pennant and World Series in 23 years. But he has slumped this year at the plate, hitting just .213 with four home runs and 13 runs batted in.

CLOSE TO FANS

He has struck out 34 times.

Horton always has had a special closeness with his fans, particularly children, many of whom show up time and again in the left field stands to cheer their hero.

"I've never had a guy take his uniform off in a game like that before," said a stunned Smith.

Smith said pitching coach Johnny Sain told him about Horton's departure.

"I didn't have time to go into the clubhouse to talk to him and find out what was wrong," Mayo said. "I had to worry about the game."

Tamalpais Golfers Win League Title

Tamalpais High School's unbeaten golf team officially clinched the 1969 Marin County Athletic League golf crown yesterday, running its record to 12-0 by downing Terra Linda, 178-185, at Mill Valley Municipal Golf Course.

That gave the Indians a three-game lead over second-place Novato (9-3) with only two meets left. The Hornets stopped San Marin, 207-230 at Indian Valley in Novato yesterday.

In another meet, San Rafael downed Drake, 209-222 at San Geronimo. Redwood and Marin Catholic were not scheduled.

McNally Only A Whisker Away From No-Hit Game

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Two years ago, Dave McNally's career was nearly ended because of a sore arm. Today he's one of baseball's premier left-handers.

He showed why last night as he pitched 8⅓ innings of no-hit ball and wound up allowing only one hit — Cesar Tovar's line single over shortstop — in hurling the Balitmore Orioles to a 5-0 victory over the Minnesota Twins.

McNally, one of the pitching stars in Baltimore's four-game sweep of the Los Angeles Dodgers in the 1966 World Series, sustained an arm injury the following season. His record dipped from 11-6 in 1966 to 7-7 and he spent more than three weeks on the disabled list.

STRETCHING MACHINE

After a number of physicians failed to provide a remedy for his ailing arm, veteran trainer Eddie Weidner suggested a stretching machine. It proved to be the answer as McNally rebounded with a 22-10 mark last season to win American League Comeback Player of the Year honors.

Elsewhere in the American League, Detroit edged Chicago, 2-1, in 10 innings and Kansas City downed Cleveland, 5-2. In National League action, Atlanta nipped New York, 6-5, and Philadelphoa blasted Cincinnati, 7-0.

KEY TRIPLE

Andy Etchebarren, McNally's batterymate, gave the Orioles a 2-0 lead in the second inning when he followed singles by Boog Powell and Dave Johnson with a triple. Powell drove in two more runs with a single and a sacrifice fly and Merv Rettenmund singled for the other Orioles' run.

Ed Kirkpatrick drove in four runs with his second homer of the season—a three-run blast in the fifth inning—and a sacrifice fly as Kansas City snapped a four-game losing streak with its victory over the Indians.

Kirkpatrick hit his homer off Luis Tiant, who suffered his seventh straight loss without a victory, after a walk, Mike Fiore's single and an infield out. Joe Foy singled, stole second, took third on Ray Fosse's wild throw into center field and scored on Kirkpatrick's fly ball in the seventh.

HOMER

Dick McAuliffe led off the 10th inning with his fifth homer of the season to lift Detroit over Chicago. McAuliffe's homer, off Bob Locker, helped Pat Dobson record his first victory of the season.

Sonny Jackson's two-run triple capped a three-run second inning outburst and Hank Aaron slammed two home runs—the 516th and 517th of his career—to power the Braves over the Mets.

PASSES GEHRIG

Aaron finished with nine total bases for the day and 5,061 for his career, surpassing Lou Gehrig's 5,059 for sixth place on the all-time list.

Richie Allen had four hits, including a tape-measure homer, and Deron Johnson drove in two runs to lift Dick Wise and Philadelphia to its victory over Cincinnati. Johnson singled and doubled to score Allen twice and Allen, knocked down by rookie John Noriega, slammed a 410-foot home run the next pitch.

HERB MICHELSON

A's Aggressive Catcher But Defensive Hitter

OAKLAND — Phil Roof has the sort of nightmares inimical to a major league baseball player who's never batted over .209 in five seasons.

"I just toss and turn in bed all the time trying to figure out why I can't hit," says the large Kentuckian. "It's amazing, I mean I can't understand why I can be so offensive and aggressive when I'm behind the plate and so defensive as hell as a hitter."

Phil got a so-far brief shot at being the A's number one catcher on the first of the month. Hank Bauer could no longer contend with young Dave Duncan's unfulfilled potential at bat and defensive inexperience. So the manager turned to the light bat but pitcher-handling expertise of Roof.

"IF I COULD hit .240, I could really help this club — and make myself some money," says Phil. The A's brain trust would be content if he could settle at .200.

Roof knows the Oakland pitchers better than Duncan or veteran receiver Jim Pagliaroni. Phil raised all of the toddling A's starters save Catfish Hunter. And the young hurlers seem to have confidence in Roof's handling. They say he's aggressive, adamant, sound defensively. Roof can bully them into staying calm in moments of stress.

"If I could only hit," Phil keeps moaning. "If I only knew how to improve."

STARTING BACK with the Milwaukee Braves in 1964, Roof has had big league averages of .188, .162, .209, .205 and .188. In the old days (the fifties, let's say), a guy like Phil would never have lasted long enough to be eligible for a major league pension.

But he's aware of the lack of catching talent in the majors. Even at the A's spring camp, with a half dozen fellows battling for the three jobs, Phil says he was never worried about continuing as a major leaguer.

"I KNOW I probably was on the expansion list," he says. "But why should a new club pay $175,000 for a 28-year-old catcher who doesn't hit when there are kids around who someday might hit? I figured that if I didn't stick with the A's, one of the expansion clubs would then pick me up later for a lot less money."

For a fellow who can never be quite certain from one fortnight to the next if he'll spend a game behind the plate or in the bullpen, Roof has surprising confidence. Perhaps it came when Alvin Dark managed Phil and the A's in Kansas City in 1966 and '67.

"ALVIN TOLD me I was his catcher. He told me not to worry about not hitting. He kept telling me, 'Don't give up out there. Keep trying.' "

Hand Bauer has given no assurances whatever to Roof. "I can understand that," says Phil. "But I could stick if I'd hit. I've come up so many times this season with men on base and two out. And you know what's happened. I go out, and the pitcher leads off the next inning with a hit."

DOES MR. ROOF feel he should perhaps be batting in the ninth spot?

"I know," he smiles, "I'm no hitting star. But let's not go that far."

Stewart Is Quite A Runner

that had stood for 34 years, one of the oldest in County annals. His 1:57.5 was good enough to supplant the 1933 record of former State 880 champ Bill McCurdy, an Indian all-timer who later served as track coach at Harvard.

Moving to College of Marin that fall, Stewart ran cross-country and track, adjusting to longer distances. His best effort was a fourth in the Golden Valley Conference two-mile. But come 1968-69, and he has established at three distances, and in early meets he was competing — and winning — in the 880, mile, and two-mile. As the year went on, he concentrated more on the longer events, and is undefeated on the year at the longer stretches.

AT SONOMA

A physical education major with an idea of coaching track someday, Stewart plans to attend Sonoma State College next fall, concentrating on P.E. and art history. Bruce Grant, for one, thinks that George might have a few other alternatives by the time the big meets are over. "He'll win the meets, and if some big college doesn't leap at him, they're crazy."

The intriguing thing about Stewart is that he has yet to approach his full potential, in his coaches' eyes. Tony Bailey says: "George constantly surprises me. He's a real hard worker, a very fine young man, and I really can only see him getting better He can compete well at any level because he runs to win." Bruce Grant: "Not even George knows just how good he is."

LOVES COMPETITION

But Stewart isn't worried about his improvement — tension, as he sees it, can only make him run better. He loves the competition and the running, and had a quiet sort of confidence in his ability that has built up this season as his victories mounted.

"George has gained a tremendous amount of confidence in himself," says Bailey, "and this helps a great deal. He beat some good kids early in the year, and realized he can beat anyone if he has confidence."

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Mickey Mantle, who retired at age 37 after 18 seasons with the New York Yankees, will be eligible to be voted into Baseball's Hall of Fame in 1974. A player must have been retired for five years to become eligible in the voting by members of the Baseball Writers' Association of America.

Owners Ratify Pension Plan

CHICAGO (UPI) — Major league baseball owners yesterday ratified the rich player pension plan that was negotiated in early March just in time to start spring training.

John J. Gaherin, an advisor for the 24 owners, said the owners also discussed the player-owner relationship agreement which expires Dec. 31, of this year.

The agreement covers such player grievances as the reserve clause and the scheduling of games which in many cases create hardships on players.

BOWLING TIPS

A chunky bowler may have trouble getting the ball to swing straight back. If such is the case, he should adjust his shoulders so he is facing slightly to the right as he gets set. The ball may also be held to the right of center.

MARIN BOWLING HIGHLIGHTS

Century Award For Marge; Ex-Cage Ace Hits Jackpot

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Marge, competing in the WIBC tournament in San Diego, rolled a 235 game, 106 pins better than her average, and won a "century" award for going more than 100 pins better than average. We couldn't get her series score, but understand she had all her pins in one basket.

THIS AND THAT — Walt Moreno, former J. C. All-American basketball player and now big rooter of the Warriors, saved everything for the last. In the 840 Scratch Sweeper, southpaw Walt rolled games of 222-256-191 for 669, his highest series of the season, and won the top money prize, $35. Sharing some of the loot were Al Dias, 236-641; Bill Nave III, 244-643, and Ron Baccei, 636.

While the money guys were rolling away, a championship match between the two half winners was going hot and heavy. Veteran 840 Scratch rollers called it the best title match the league has had. Hagen and Smith won it, scores of 968, 862 and 925 — 2755, over North Coast Distributors, 919, 896, 888—2703, big scores all.

STRIKES TO SPARE — Dennis Clivio was star of the Hi-Lo's, rolling 253-625 in the Country Club Bowl league . . . Linda Swann, 141 average, rolled 201-531 in the Daffodils League, also at Country Club . . . Olga Tomsky rolled her first 200, a 203 line in the Tuesday Women's Scratch at Nave Lanes . . . Commission To Study DDT Health Hazards

In a report from Washington, D.C., this week many facts were released pertaining to DDT Secretary Robert Finch of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare has appointed a commission on pesticides and their relationship to environmental health.

FROM STANFORD University comes a statement signed by professors, research students and graduate students that DDT and related pesticides are a threat to human lives.

From Lake Michigan, a shipment of 28,000 pounds of Coho salmon were seized by the Food and Drug Administration. The fish had a DDT concentration range of 12 to 19 parts per million.

And a recent article showed that the legislators from California were now making studies of DDT and other pesticides. All this activity is good, and I hope in time. Improvement in methods of use, and changes of pesticides that work on human health directly or through contamination of our environment could be of the greatest benefit to all of us.

I RECEIVED a card this week from John Segale of San Anselmo who seems to be enroute home from Saigon. He reads the column and all he was worried about was that some trout would be left when he gets home sometime late this month.

With the wind and the fog, I don't think he has any worries. I went up to Lake Lagunitas Monday, (it had just been planted), but that darned keeper wouldn't let me fish near the dam and that's where the fish were planted.

Some other joker came along and was casting a hookless lure through the schools that I could see in this closed area and each time he got about 10 hits. I fished close by, but didn't get a hit or even see a fish in my area.

SO I thought I would watch some of the other anglers who might provide some business, but my Sherlock Holmes approach wasn't up to par. The friendly fellow without the hooks kept yelling, "Hay Al, get a hit yet?". Then a lady came along and said, "Hi, Al" and two other guys said the column was fine. The clincher was when "Hookless Joe" wanted to see my license! Then to top it off that darned keeper called my friend, Enos Foster of Woodacre, and filled him in on all of the above. Naturally Enos called me to get his licks in for sweet revenge, as I sometimes rib him in this column.

ANYHOW, I'VE got news for that keeper! I'm usually the one who gets fooled by a poacher one way or the other, so it was almost funny to hear about the high schoolers who crawled out of their car trunk after they had passed through the gate where they were selling lake permits. You don't believe it? Ask Dave Ennis from Drake High.

I then went up to Kent Lake, but seeing only one angler there fishing with a bobber, saying, "No hits," I gave it up as a bad day. One day this week I have to go to Rodeo Lagoon. Mrs. Georgia Quadros of Mill Valley has got the fishing bug from reading how easy it is to catch fish. She is afraid of all worms, bugs, spiders and anything else that moves, and she hates anything messy like salmon eggs or roe and she won't touch a fish that's wiggling, so I may have a big problem. You think everything about this job is all bad? No sir, I heard this Georgia is really a peach!

FOR THIS weekend, the lakes should be good with plants made this week at Phoenix, Lagunitas and Rodeo Lagoon.

Lake Berryessa, with its heavy pre-season plants of trophy fish, 230,000 of them, should also be good.

If you're in the mood for traveling, Lake Tahoe and Donner Lake are now approaching their peak and Davis Lake near Portola, Plumas County, is rated great for big fish. Ralph Chatoian of the I. J. sports department says that he had the biggest trout in his life up at Shasta Lake last week, but lost it.

IF YOU like crowds and want to watch lots of kids fishing, try Stafford Lake in Novato. Black bass, bluegill and catfish are the main fare there.

NICASIO IS somewhat the same.

For stripped bass try trolling some of the bay's previous hot spots. The Sisters, The Brothers, Racoon Strait, Marin Island and the Marin Rod and Gun Club Pier. Somewhere there's a fish waiting! Use a pet spoon or bugeyes.

SALMON SEEKERS should check with party boat headquarters on weather conditions. When not too windy, fishing has been excellent.

THERE'LL BE one foot minus tides at 7:12 a.m. tomorrow and 7:54 a.m. Sunday, excellent for taking clams, abalones and eels.

Redwood In Track Showdown

The "IF" word is out for Redwood High School's track team.

The Giants of Larkspur, champions of the Marin County Athletic League track and field meet, and winners of the dual meet competition, have a crack at winning the North Coast Section, Division III, meet at Santa Rosa Junior College tomorrow, 2:30 p.m., if a few things happen.

They will get stiff competition from North Bay League teams, particularly Vallejo High School and Montgomery of Santa Rosa.

The ifs, according to Redwood coach Gary Shaw, center around Judd Pillar winning the discus, Tom Poppin and Tom Estudillo placing in the 440 yard run, Kevin Pusser and Tom Russell doing more than well in the mile, the mile relay and some help from fellow MCAL hurdlers Luther Brown of Tamalpais and Terry Stempel of Marin Catholic.

STIFF COMPETITION

Pillar will get stiff competition in the discus from Stan Paul of Montgomery. Poppin won the 440 in the league meet in 51.2 while Montgomery's Rod Koshnik has run a 51.3.

The mile relay should be a dandy. Vallejo has run a 3:25.2 on faster tracks while Redwood's team did a 3:29 in the league meet and a 3:26 in the El Cerrito relays.

Vallejo picked up 22 points in the hurdles in the North Bay meet, but Brown and Stempel, both of whom clocked 15.0 in the league meet, could cut into that total and help Redwood.

Todd Norris of the Giants has his best chance ever to take the 880 with a 1:59.1 qualifying clocking. Competition, and then some, will come from Steve Trujillo of Del Norte, who's done a 1:56.0, and Bob Hagler of Vallejo, (1:57).

The pole vault could be a dandy with both Mark Jones of Terra Linda and Mike Wurtz of Redwood right in there at 13½. Brian Hicks of Redwood, who's done 13-3 earlier in the season, could be a dark horse, after barely making it to the meet by getting the fifth-place spot in the MCAL finals in a jump-off with Dave Melcon of Terra Linda.

Both Rich Smartt of Drake and Mark Lewis of Marin Catholic have a good chance in the high jump, where the best North Bay effort was six feet, same as Smartt and Lewis.

Teen, Vet To Clash At Tiburon

It will be 18-year-old Mike Machette of Belvedere against the veteran Tom Brown and 17-year-old Sharon Walsh of San Rafael against highly-regarded Marcie Louie in two of the featured semi-final matches tomorrow in the Bay Counties Invitational Tennis Tournament at the Tiburon Peninsula Club.

The Machete-Brown match will begin at noon following the other men's singles semi-finals clash between Eugene Cantin and Bob Murio at 10 a.m.

WOMEN'S MATCH

The Misses Walsh and Louie will meet in their women's singles semi-finals at 10 a.m. The other women's match will send Barbara Downs against Eliza Pande at 11 a.m.

Machette will compete in two doubles matches in the afternoon.

Trainer Longden Shows Confidence In His 'Prince'

BALTIMORE, Md. (UPI)—Trainer Johnny Longden was certain today that Majestic Prince, the undefeated Kentucky Derby winner he trains for Frank McMahon, was better now than at Churchill Downs two weeks ago and that one change of scene would not bother the colt one bit in the Preakness Stakes tomorrow.

"The turns are a little sharper here and the stretch is not as long but he went around the turn pretty good in the workout yesterday," said Longden in comparing Churchill Downs with Pimlico where eight 3-year-olds awaited the 94th running of the classic. Nor is the race, at 1 3-16 miles, quite as long as the 1¼ mile derby.

There was confidence in the rival camps, also, as Arts And Letters and Top Knight awaited another shot at Majestic Prince. Al Hattab, Jay Ray, Greengrass Greene, Captain Action and Glad's Flame will face the undefeated winner of eight races for the first time.

Arts And Letters was second in the Kentucky Derby, a neck behind Majestic Prince.

"I thought he ran his best race in the Derby and I look for him to do even better in the Preakness," said trainer Elliott Burch.

Top Knight was a big disappointment in the Kentucky Derby. The winner of the Flamingo Stakes and the Florida Derby was second choice. But after taking the lead after six furlongs, he fell apart and finished fifth.

Trainer Ray Metcalf expects Top Knight to give a much better account of himself this time.

Lester Fights Monday Night

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Jimmy Lester of San Francisco trades punches Monday night at the Civic Auditorium with battling Cuban expatrte Pedro Miranda in a middleweight bout.

Each fighter sports a classy record, having tasted defeat eight times. Lester has won 35 fights with 2 7 knockouts and Miranda has kayoed 28 opponents while piling up 40 victories.

Cyclone Barth of San Jose, formerly from Biafra, takes on Phil Garcia of Los Angeles in a companion 10-rounder.

THE WEEK'S BUSINESS

McDonald's Restaurant Chain Directors Vote Stock Split

Directors of McDonald's Corp. national restaurant chain have voted for a two-for-one stock split to be distributed June 13.

McDonald's also plans to file a registration statement with the Securities and Exchange Commission, effective after split shares are distributed, covering approximately 250,000 pre-split shares on behalf of certain stockholders.

The corporation has agreed in principle to acquire four outlets in Maine from a multiple outlet licensee. A new McDonald's outlet will soon get under construction in Novato.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC CO. stockholders have approved a corporate reorganization plan to form a holding company which would own the transportation company. They have also voted to merge Southern Pacific Co. into a new corporation, Southern Pacific Transportation Co. which will take over all activities now performed by Southern Pacific Co. Stockholders will hold the same amount of stock in the holding company they now hold in the transportation company.

GREEN GIANT CO., Minneapolis, and Spencer Packinc co., Spencer, Iowa, have agreed in principle on a merger of Spencer into Green Giant. Terms call for an exchange of common stock. Green Giant is traded on the New York Stock Exchange and Spencer common is traded over the counter.

PACIFIC SOUTHWEST AIRLINES and Adlaw Investment Co., Ltd. have discontinued their discussion on the purchase by PSA of the San Franciscan Hotel in San Francisco.

RESERVE OIL AND GAS CO. and Mohawk Petroleum Corp. have signed a definitive agreement to combine the two companies in an exchange of stock. Reserve will acquire the outstanding capital stock of Mohawk.

GENERAL BREWING CORP., San Francisco, plans to adopt the name "Lucky Breweries, Inc.," next month. The firm was known as Lucky Lager Brewing Co. from 1949 to 1963 when, as producer of the added Fisher and LaBatt's brands, it changed back to General Brewing Corp.

LONGS DRUG STORES, INC. has reported an 19 per cent increase in sales for the first fiscal quarter ended April 30. Sales for the three months were $30.8 million against $25.9 for the 1968 period. Directors have voted to increase the quarterly dividend from 11 cents to 13 cents per share, with the first increased dividend payable June 24.

INTERNATIONAL TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH CORP. has reported record world-wide sales and earnings for any first quarter in its 49-year history. Consolidated net income for the first three months of 1969 rose to $42 million, compared to $37 million in the like period of 1968. Earnings per share climbed from 52 cents last year to 59 cents. Consolidated sales and revenues reached $1.013 million from $937 million in the first quarter of 1968. Directors have declared a dividend of 23 and three-quarters cents per share on the common stock payable July 15.

SKAGGS PAYLESS DRUG STORES in the first quarter of 1969 increased net sales from last year's $16.2 million to $20.2 million, but net income dropped from 16 cents to 15 cents per share of outstanding common stock. PayLess Drug Store in San Rafael is not part of the Skaggs chain.

THE BEKINS CO. and Pierose Building Maintenance Co., Inc. have signed a formal merger contract in which Bekins will exchange up to 150,000 shares of its common stock for all the common stock of Pierose, which now becomes a wholly owned subsidiary.

Consumption Up

NEW YORK (UPI)—U.S. synthetic rubber consumption in 1969 is expected to reach 1.95 million long tons, compared with 1.85 million long tons in 1968, nearly a 5 per cent increase, according to the International Institute of Synthetic Rubber Producers.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

American Telephone Has New Reinvestment Plan

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I own 534 shares of American Telephone and am interested in your comments on the plan offered to shareholders for reinvestment of dividends. Should I continue, as in the past, banking my dividends at 5 per cent. From time to time, I could purchase 100 shares with the accumulated dividends. — E. E.

A. You would probably be better off financially to reinvest through the telephone plan. First of all, the commission costs to you would be substantially reduced and, second, you would be taking advantage of the compounding effect that continual reinvestment generates. However, without knowing the full particulars on any other holdings you might have, I could not venture an opinion on the wisdom of adding to this one issue. In this era of historically high interest rates, this new plan opens a sizable potential reservoir of untapped capital.

Q. A year ago I bought 300 shares of Lehigh Valley Industries, my first stock purchase. I do not need the money at present but partial retirement is not far off. Is the company sound and should it be held? — G. H.

A. In 1954, a new management group took control of an old-line company with an annual deficit running at about $1 million. Sale of coal mining properties and purchase of profitable businesses were undertaken simultaneously. Beginning with a tax loss of $35 million, management had whittled this to $15 million at the 1968 year end. Sales fall into four major categories: electrical and metalworking, 35 per cent; motivational marketing, 15 per cent; shoe manufacturing, 35 per cent, and textiles, 15 per cent.

Oil Discovery

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI) — Woode Petroleum Corp. has made an apparent new oil discovery in Campbell County, Wyoming.

AN EASY TECHNIQUE

Joy Gaterud, a technician at the Tile Council of America laboratories at Princeton, N. J., demonstrates the ease with which one may tackle a redecorating project with tile. Her task is made easier with a new process known as Dry-Set Mortar, a thin-set cement designed specifically for tile. (UPI Telephoto)

Stocks Drift Easier Despite News Scene

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks drifted easier today in the face of a mostly bearish economic news background and Communist denunciation of President Nixon's Vietnam peace plan. Trading was brisk.

At the seventeenth session of the Paris peace conference the Communists called Nixon's proposal "absurd," but chief U.S. negotiator Henry Cabot Lodge said they were at least considering it.

Meantime, the Commerce Department reported corporation profits in the March quarter registered their smallest quarterly gain in two years. It also reported a slower monthly rise in April's personal income compared to the previous month.

The UPI stock market indicator was off 0.02 per cent. Of the 1,582 issues traded, 700 declined and 630 advanced.

Northwest Industries edged higher among the mixed rails.

Piper was a firmer aircraft. Chris-Craft said it increased its offer for Piper shares. Chris-Craft also strengthened. Martin-Marietta and Grumman traded in small fractions and mostly on the easier side.

Capacity Good

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The Penn Central said this week its high speed metroliner trains carried 135,600 passengers to run at 80 per cent of capacity in the first four months of this year.

How much do you think this Spitfire costs?

Chances are, you're high. Everything about the new '69 Spitfire Mk3 says "sports car" except the price.

And that everything includes a four forward speed gearbox. Rack-and-pinion steering. Four-wheel independent suspension. Contour seats with integral head-rests. Leather-covered steering wheel. Pencil-stripe sidewalls.

So come see us to look over and test drive a sports car that has everything. Except a big price.

What You Don't Know About OIL and GAS FUNDS May Be Costing You Money

Particularly if you are in the middle to high income brackets. Oil and Gas Funds are speculative investments which offer one highly attractive feature — the same tax write-offs and depreciation allowances available to major oil companies.

A seminar on this little-known aspect of investing will be held in San Rafael, Monday, May 19, 8:00 p.m., Bank of Marin Building, 3rd Floor Conference Room.

Jack Phillip Investment Services, Petaluma, in affiliation with Bonner Bell Investment Services, Incorporated, Walnut Creek, are hosting the seminar. Reservations may be made by calling 479-5200 in San Rafael.

SPRING CLEAN-UP NOTICE
MARIN COUNTY RESIDENTS

Back yard burning terminates December 31, 1969.

Have you an accumulation of fire hazards —

Debris — Brush — Lumber

Combustible junk in storage areas

Is there adequate brush clearance around your home for fire protection?

Check with your local fire department before burning and then dispose of your accumulated combustibles before the critical fire season.

If combustible debris is not burned now, it will have to be hauled after December 31 when backyard burning terminates.

CONTEMPORARY MEDITERRANEAN VILLA

We are privileged to present one of the most distinctive and beautiful homes in San Rafael where man has vied with nature for superb effects, combining a level ½-acre with an unobstructed view and a 5000-sq.-ft. villa to bring you one of the finest marine pictures you will ever see. This magnificent home is only 2 years old and overlooks the bay and the San Rafael Canal, surrounded with terrazzo decks and balconies with wrought iron railings. The private driveway leads to a beautiful garden, with lawns, aggregate patios and a fountain. The entrance and reception hall are done in terrazzo, with a beautiful staircase and balustrade, 4 bedrooms, a family room, 4 bathrooms (all terrazzo floors), a study, family kitchen with too many features to describe, living room, formal dining room and a social room with a 15-ft. wet bar. This room you won't believe until you see it. We could go on and on describing this magnificent home. No cost has been spared in its construction, but seeing is believing. Only qualified buyers — by appointment only. $170,000. A Davis exclusive.

Forman Rips 'Racists' In The Church

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)— Introduced to the 181st assembly of the United Presbyterian Church as a "prophet of our time," black militant James Forman responded yesterday by denouncing the Christian Church as "white racists and a financial institution."

Forman, deputy director of the Students Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNC) and head of the national black economic development conference, has demanded $360 million in "reparations" from the Christian Church.

He appeared before the 3.2 million-member United Presbyterian Church Assembly with a leader of the "brown power" movement, Eleazar Risco, editor of the Los Angeles newspaper La Raza.

Forman told the Presbyterians he wanted more than $360 million and Risco demanded between $250,000 and $500,000, plus other financial demands that would cost millions of dollars.

The Presbyterians invited Forman and Risco to San Antonio and were reported to have paid their plane fares.

Church leaders promised an answer to their demands before the assembly ends next Thursday.

Several thousand Presbyterian leaders heard Forman and Risco. Forman said he interpreted the invitation to speak as a sign his demands were being taken seriously.

By JOANNE GRANT

"Down at Tam everything is so tense it is unbelievable. You can sense when there is going to be trouble."

That is the assessemnt of senior Sue Peterson for whom a situation caused by a small number of younger black girls has become so unbearable she has left the high school to study at home.

Sue, who said she has several friends among the rest of the black student community, told her story in a letter to Supt. Chester G. Carlisle and members of the Tamalpais High School District board.

"I am a graduating B average student at Tamalpais High School," she wrote. "In all four years at Tam, I have been harassed by black girls. The most recent time was on Thursday, April 17. I went to the restroom between classes where I was verbally and physically attacked on my way out. I was then chased to my next class.

"Upon reporting this incident to the dean of girls, I was told to go to the back parking lot the next morning for 'safety precautions'. The following morning rocks were thrown at me, even until I reached the office.

"I have not attended school since, other than attempting to talk with the principal (Robert H. Prather). The principal's solutions to my problem were 'go to a different restroom, go to the library in the morning and at brunch, don't walk alone to class, avoid populated areas or transfer to Redwood'. In other words, run or seclude from places and things that are rightfully and equally open to me.

"As a conclusion, I feel that this trouble must stop. When I entered Tam, I came with an open mind; now I'm leaving unhappily with it closed.

"I have tried in every possible way to ignore these situations. Perhaps I would fight back physically but only if the odds weren't against me.

"This is the main reason that these girls still persist. They thrive on the white man's individual weakness. White girls walk away from trouble because they don't want to be involved. Nothing will be done about this until someone is seriously injured or killed," she ended.

Prather refused specific comment on the Peterson case. The matter will be brought to the Tamalpais High School District board Monday, he said, and he ethically could not comment on a matter pending before the board. If the board discusses the case it will probably be in closed session, Prather said.

He did say there "have been suspensions" in Miss Peterson's case, but did not elaborate.

He said there are several racial conflicts at Tamalpais every year, and suggested that Miss Peterson had over-reacted by withdrawing from the campus. Prather deplored the racial problems at the school, but said their incidence is minimal for a multiracial campus the size of Tamalpais.

Mary M. Baker, dean of girls at Tam, admitted such incidents do occur but "in other cases it usually irons itself out."

Miss Peterson didn't wait around to see if it would this time, as she remembered similar incidents in the past four years.

She could give no reason for the harrassment or why she was chosen instead of some other student. "Usually they pick people they know are going to talk back.

The problems follow a pattern, she explained in an interview in her Mill Valley home.

"Trouble always starts in hot weather," she said. It begins with verbal harrassment, then moves to kicking and pushing "and then finally the white people fight back."

It happens at the beginning and the end of the year, frequently at the attendance office "right under the nose of the authorities," she said.

Miss Peterson said she does have friends among the black students, mostly boys, and girls she was on the drill team with, but such friendships offer no insurance against problems.

She also noted that the troublemakers are a definite minority of the black students and are usually younger girls who have been in trouble previously.

School officials also searched for a reason for her harrassment, Miss Peterson reported.

One suggested the girls involved were jealous because she was friendly with some of the black boys, she said, while Prather said the ones involved were all mentally retarded.

Miss Peterson firmly disagreed with Prather's statement, although she has not been able to identify many of her attackers. She chose not to turn around when rocks were being hurled at her back and the back of a companion she had enlisted to walk her to class.

On jealousy, she said the attractive black girls are not the ones who cause trouble.

Her mother also was unable to figure out why Sue has been harrassed. About two years ago, a similar situation occurred with Sue's younger sister. It was much more understandable, said Mrs. Peterson, explaining the younger girl is extremely outspoken.

Mrs. Peterson said a meeting on Tam problems had been held recently at a Marin City church and suggested, "Maybe we will solve something if the community gets involved.

"I'm sure the black parents don't want it happening any more than we do," she said.

However, Mrs. Peterson pointed out, "It's so hard to get (Prather) to do anything." She and her daughter both hope something can be done.

Meanwhile, with shouts of "We're going to get you" ringing in her ears, Sue is finishing her senior year in the safety of her home.

Alert Driver Helps Solve Auto Thefts

A radio broadcast and an alert woman helped solve three car thefts this week, San Rafael police reported.

Recovered were a car stolen Sunday from David Eiseman of 27 Woodland Avenue and two cars stolen Monday, one from Carlos Transmission of 585 Irwin Street, another from James D. Holmes of 13 Larch Drive, Petaluma.

The Holmes car was recovered by Stockton police, San Rafael police said.

The youth accused of taking the three cars, police said, is Robert Bruce Long, 16, of St. Vincent's School for Boys, Marinwood. Police found him in Juvenile Hall where he was sent by the California Highway Patrol Wednesday on suspicion of yet another car theft.

Police said the woman, whom they did not identify, was driving in Santa Venetia Sunday when she heard a KTIM broadcast describe the stolen Eiseman car. A moment later, she saw the car in front of her and followed it to a Santa Venetia house, police said.

She then notified sheriff's officers, who relayed the message to police. A patrolman learned from Santa Venetia residents yesterday that Long had visited a girl at the house — and that he was in Juvenile Hall for investigation of car theft.

Police questioning of Long at Juvenile Hall led to recovery of the three cars: Holmes's car in a Stockton alley, the Carlos Transmission car on Mission Avenue, and the Eiseman car in a used car lot at Grand Avenue and Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael.

The highway patrol arrested Long and two other teen-aged boys Wednesday in a car stolen from William E. Hildreth of Marinwood.

No Money Left To Fund Coffee House Program

The coffee house program at Terra Linda Recreation Center and the use of the drop-in room by church organizations were terminated last night by the Terra Linda Recreation and Park District directors.

The directors, headed by John A. Colistra, announced that the weekend coffee houses are eliminated effective immediately because of lack of funds to carry on an extensive summer program.

"We had hoped for a $1,200 summer teen program," said Director Cecelia Martz, finance committee chairman. "But without county help, we just can't do it."

On Wednesday, Mrs. Martz and youth program director George C. Croke appeared before the county Parks and Recreation Commission and pleaded unsuccessfully for $352 in "seed money" from the county

The Terra Linda Recreation and Park District directors also:

PANCAKES — Announced a pancake breakfast will be served by Scout Pack 67 from 9 to 11 a.m. tomorrow, and the swimming pool will open at 11 a.m.

POOL CHAIRS — Approved up to $200 fro purchase of deck chairs around the pool.

INDUCTED — Heard from recreation supervisor Stephen Anderson, hired May 1, that he will be inducted into the military service next week. Anderson said he would try to get a replacement from among his college classmates at San Francisco State College.

SACRAMENTO ROUNDUP

Key Programs Gain Attention

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Gov. Ronald Reagan's key legislative proposals—including his $6.2 billion budget—are finally beginning to stir in the state Legislature.

The Assembly Ways and Means Committee was called into session today to put some more finishing touches on the budget bill, now slightly larger than when it was introduced.

The Senate Finance Committee also scheduled a meeting but not on the budget. That committee was wrestling with a series of bills.

It postponed action yesterday on a Democratic rival to Reagan's 10 per cent tax refund bill so they can be heard together, perhaps next week.

Reagan's annual attempt to change the method of selecting judges cleared the Finance Committee yesterday and moved to the Senate floor.

A constitutional amendment and companion bills, which cleared the Senate in two previous sessions but died in the then Democratic-controlled Assembly, establish commissions to screen possible bench appointees. The governor would make the final selections from a list of three.

The committee killed a rival plan by Sen. George Moscone, D-San Francisco, that would have given the judiciary a veto over any trial or appellate court appointee of a governor.

Earlier in the day, the Assembly denied Reagan's request for a two-term limit on the terms of governors. The constitutional amendment, needing 54 votes for approval, fell short ona 38-27 roll call.

Constitutional amendment proposals need approval of two-thirds of both Houses of the legislature.

Assemblyman Jess M. Unruh, D-Inglewood, said the people could simply vote a governor out of office when he became unpopular.

"The people themselves are quite competent to make that judgment," said Unruh, a possible 1970 challenger to an expected second term bid by Reagan.

"This is a sound measure to assure a reasonable continuation of good government while at the same time allowing new ideas to come along after a state interval," said Assemblyman Charles J. Conrad, R-Sherman Oaks, the plan's sponsor.

Reagan had sent the lawmakers a special message April 14 seeking approval of the measure and saying any governor should "step aside after eight years in office." This was taken as a hint that he expects to run for no more than a second term.

Reagan also asked in mid-April for legislation to allow the governor and lieutenant governor to be elected as a joint ticket after their separate selection in the primary.

A Conrad-authored proposed constitutional amendment to establish that system was defeated. It got only 40 of the 54 votes needed. Twenty-eight Assemblyman voted against it.

The lawmakers also defeated on a 42-18 vote a measure by Assemblyman L. E. Townsend, D-Torrance, that would have extended terms of state senators from four to six years and of Assemblyman from two to four years.

But the Assembly passed a bill by Assemblyman James A. Hayes, R-Long Beach, that would forbid a person from running for political office as an independent within a year after he was registered as a member of a political party.

Also the Senate Finance Committee yesterday defeated a resolution to designate a four-mile stretch of California 24 in Oakland the Martin Luther King Jr. Memorial Freeway in honor of the slain civil rights leader.

Sen. John G. Schmitz, R-Tustin, objected to naming the road after King, who he described as a "most controversial figure."

A bill pending in the Assembly would name the same stretch after Byron Rumford, a former Assemblyman who authored the state's open housing law.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Herpes-type Virus Implicated In Both Mononucleosis, Cancer

VAN DELLEN

Infectious mononucleosis is a common disease of children and young adults that strikes at any time of the year. Among college student, it is most prevalent in October and early spring. This may reflect the increased personal contracts at those times, justifying its nickname "kissing disease."

SOME EVIDENCE suggests that mono occurs frequently among children but is so mild that it is not recognized. This is why many adults have protective antibodies in their blood indicating a previous infection followed by immunity.

The disease varies from mild to severe. Most victims complain of sore throat and fatigue. The glands in the neck, back of the head, armpits, and groin enlarge. Fever usually is present.

But many internal changes ensue that are not visible. Almost all sufferers have liver involvement that escapes detection unless tests are done.

THE HEART, nervous system, bronchi, and skin may also be invaded by the causative virus. Changes in the blood and bone marrow occur and occasionally lead to the most serious complications.

The herpes-type viruses (EB virus) now thought to be the cause of mono, also are implicated in certain tumors (Burkitt lymphomas) of the lymph gland system, and cancer of the cervix and of the throat.

These disorders do not have too much in common but time will tell. The link to date is the discovery that victims of mono have protective antibodies against herpeslike viruses.

LEUKEMIA ALSO enters the picture in that persons with these antibodies may be protected from this blood disease. The National Cancer institute is now conducting a survey among 30,000 GIs of World War II who had mono to learn if any developed leukemia since then.

Almost everyone with mono recovers. When there is no fever, bed rest is not necessary. Those with severe manifestations and complications need the adrenal corticosteroids.

Insofar as bed rest is concerned a study of 131 persons showed that those who stayed in bed did not recover any faster than those who were up and about.

(Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

ALCOHOLIC NEURITIS

A reader writes: What are the symptoms of alcoholic neuritis? Can the condition be treated successfully?

REPLY

Pain, numbness, tingling, and muscle weakness are the most common manifestations of alcoholic neuritis. Treatment includes therapeutic doses of vitamin B complex, a nourishing diet, and no alcohol. Physical therapy utilizing massage, heat and whirlpool may restore muscle tone and strength. In severe cases, however, permanent nerve damage occurs and recovery never is complete.

HEAD PULSE: SEE DOCTOR

C. B. writes: A friend of mine says she can hear a heart beat in her head. Is this serious? She has had this sensation for three years. Lately sinking spells go along with it.

REPLY

When the pulse is felt in the head, a complete physical examination is in order because one of the vessels may be dilated or may be pressing on the skull or more solid portion of brain tissue. If this individual can hear the pulsation, the physician may also be able to detect it with a stethoscope.

COLD'S LONG NAME

A reader writes: What is nasopharyngitis?

REPLY

Inflammation of the nose and throat. It is a common upper respiratory infection.

Lagoon Transfer Bill Passed By Committee

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A bill to transfer jurisdiction over Bolinas Lagoon from the Bolinas Harbor District to the County of Marin won its first legislative test yesterday with a unanimous "do pass" recommendation by the Assembly Natural Resources and Conservation Committee.

But in an apparently unprecedented step, the committee amended the bill to require the county to come up with "a reasonable and workable plan" within three years to substantially improve, preserve and maintain the lagoon. Tideland grants traditionally provide 10 years to make improvements and have not contained planning deadlines.

The amendment came after Assemblyman Jesse M. Unruh, D-Los Angeles, objected that since the main objective of the county was to preserve the lagoon it simply should revert from the harbor district to the state.

The bill (AB 2295) was introduced by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, at the request of the Marin County Board of Supervisors after voters in the harbor district balloted in March to dissolve the district.

Thomas J. Barfield, a director of the harbor district, nevertheless urged the committee to bury Bagley's bill on the ground that the harbor district had not had a chance to complete its planning for improving the lagoon.

But Bagley countered that the committee did not need to get involved in a local dispute "that has been settled" by the March election dissolving the district.

The bill also provides that if the State Lands Commission does not accept the county's plan for the lagoon, then the lagoon grant will revert to the state.

The bill went to the ways and means committee before going to the Assembly floor.

Trio Arrested On Drug Charges

Two men and a woman, none giving Marin County addresses, were arrested by Novato police early today on suspicion of possession of marijuana and narcotics paraphernalia.

Booked into Marin County Jail and held in lieu of $625 bail were Laird Craig, 29, whose address was listed as Montpelier, Vt.; Diane Mary Juhr, 19, of Milwaukee, Ore., and George Seymour Riddle, 19, of Brea, Orange County.

They were to appear for arraignment in Marin Municipal Court this afternoon.

Novato police said they were arrested at 2:34 a.m. at highway 101 and Hill Road. Further details of the arrest were not available.

$12,000 Blaze To Apartments

Fire caused an estimated $12,000 damage last night to apartments on the top floor of u two-story frame building in downtown San Anselmo.

Two stores on the street floor of the building, at 8-10 Bank Street, escaped damage, firemen said.

The fire started shortly after 8:30 p.m. near a hot plate in one of the one-room apartments, firemen said. The name of the apartment occupant was unknown.

Firemen said a resident of another apartment, Jim Dayliss, suffered singed hair when he saw smoke coming from a second floor window and rushed inside to try to douse the blaze.

The room where the fire started suffered extensive damage while other apartments escaped with smoke and water damage. Two shops downstairs, Ten Bank Street Boutique and Viola's Beauty Salon, were not damadged.

Cause of the fire is unknown.

Cycle Leaves Road

Edgington Girl's Condition Critical

The 9-year-old daughter of H. Joe Edgington, superintendent of the Reed School District, was reported in critical condition today in Marin General Hospital with injuries suffered when she tumbled off a bicycle.

Cynthia Edgington, of 20 Circle Drive, Tiburon, is being treated for a fractured skull and punctured ear drum, said her father.

Edgington said his daughter was riding on a bicycle driven by a friend on Hanfield Drive when the accident happened after school Tuesday. Cynthia is a student at Bel Aire School.

Motorcycle Stolen From Tiburon Man

Joseph Louis Ely of 34-B Circle Drive, Tiburon, reported to the sheriff's office Tuesday that someone had stolen his 1969 Honda motorcycle from his carport.

Officers said the cycle's license number is 754581.

Attorney Hired For Aid Program

A woman attorney from San Francisco was hired last night as assistant to James Kovacs, attorney in charge of the Marin County legal assistance program for low-income persons.

The appointment of Mrs. Cecelia Landon, who formerly worked in the San Francisco legal services program, was made by the board of the Marin Legal Aid Society, which administers the legal assistance program.

Mrs. Landon will receive an annual salary of $10,750. The funds were provided in a $50,000 grant received April 1 to continue the legal assistanct project.

The legal services office will move Monday from the Legal Aid Society headquarters at 1010 B Street in San Rafael to larger quarters in the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council multiservice center at 1327 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael.

In other business last night, the society board chose Lloyd Tunik as new president, Ronald Schenck as first vice president; Charlotte Stewart, second vice president; Helen Iles, secectary, and Robert Murphy as treasurer.

'64 Auto Taken

A 1964 aqua-colored Plymouth, license MKG 286, owned by Arild Litsheim of 45 Mercury Avenue, Tiburon, was stolen Wednesday night or yesterday from Oak Drive in San Rafael, police reported.

Dust spirals often whirl in from nearby hills to shroud Cairo.

Board To Meet Salary Team

The Larkspur School Board will hold a special closed session at 7 p.m. Tuesday at the district offices, 20 Magnolia Avenue, to discuss salary negotiations with its negotiating team.

The board will then meet in open session with the teachers, negotiating council at 8:15 p.m.

The regular meeting of the board will be held at the district office at 8 p.m. Thursday.

Warrant Issued In Drug Probe

I-J Special Report

MARTINEZ — A bench warrant was ordered yesterday for former San Francisco policeman Richard Bergess when he and his attorney failed to appear in Contra Costa County Superior Court to plead to a charge that Bergess lit up a marijuana cigarette during a TV interview in his Walnut Creek home.

But Judge Martin E. Rothenberg withheld actual issuance of the warrant until Monday to allow Bergess or attorney Terence Hallinan to appear by then.

Bergess, widely known as Sergeant Sunshine, was fired from the San Francisco Police Department after lighting up a marijuana cigarette on the city hall steps last year.

Expecting Child

LONDON (AP) — Paul McCartney of the Beatles says his American wife expects their first child in December.

McCartney and the former Linda Eastman were married last March. It was his first marriage, her second.

BEST SHOWS FOR TONIGHT

Best bets on television tonight:

KGO (7), KNTV (11), 7:30 p.m.—"Comrade Soldier" is a one hour documentary on the American GI's Russian counterpart. The program is a study of the indoctrination methods of the Soviet army, filmed in the USSR, and was released without censorship. Peter Jennings narrates.

KQED (9), 8:30 p.m.—"NET Playhouse" presents "The Star Wagon," starring Orson Bean and Dustin Hoffman in Maxwell Anderson's comedy-fantasy about a time machine.

KTVU (2), 9 p.m.—The Australian singing group of "Georgy Girl" is featured in a musical program on "Showcase."

KPIX (5), KXTV (10), 10:45 p.m.—CBS news covers a preview of Apollo X.

Dutchmen Increase

THE HAGUE (UPI) — The Dutch population at the end of 1968 stood at 12,798,000. This was an increase of more than 137,000 over 1967, which in turn showed a rise of 126,000 over 1966.

Most Families Who Move, Trade Up Rather Than Down

By HARRY CRAFT

Whether a person's home is a house that he owns or an apartment that he rents, his reason for moving out of it is generally environmental.

This is particularly true in the case of home ownership. Two out of three families in this category change addresses because they want something better or larger, in another neighborhood, or smaller and cheaper — or simply because they have been renting and want to own the place they live in.

By far the great majority of these families trade up, not down.

Only one in six home-owning families moves for job-related reasons, compared with one in four families that rent.

And contrary to popular belief, only a few homeowners (7 per cent) move because a change in the family status requires it. Apartment dwellers are much more mobile because of job or family related reasons.

In Marin County, 71 per cent of the families own their own homes. Many are good homes — the best their mortgage money can buy. You will find them in well-planned subdivisions, some near golf courses or the water. One in six families has a swimming pool.

While new home construction here as elsewhere is still lagging behind the boom years it has picked up appreciably. And existing homes in excellent condition are still available in most residential areas of the county. The coming week is being pinpointed as a time to focus attention on these opportunities to buy.

Members of the Marin County Real Estate Board have prepared for it by screening their listings for the most desirable locations. And as we approach the season of heaviest moving activity, it will pay you to investigate the current market for new offerings.

Take It Easy On Waxing

When applying wax to floors, furniture and paneling most housekeepers make the mistake of applying it too liberally. This makes the wax hard to buff and results in a comparatively soft finish which is more likely to pick up dirt. For the toughest finish and the highest luster, wax should always be applied sparingly in thin layers. Allow to dry for about 20 minutes, then buff to the luster desired. For best results buff twice — once lightly and the second time with more pressure and preferably with a second cloth.

Home Ownership—Foundation of the Nation

Ownership Foundation Of Nation

"Home Ownership — Foundation of the Nation" has been selected as the theme of Realtor Week, May 18-24.

The 713 members and associate members of the Marin County Real Estate Board are joining with more than 87,000 Realtors throughout the nation in community-wide observances and activities directing attention to the professional services they render and their efforts to help solve the major problems of our cities and towns.

Home ownership is enjoyed by more than two-thirds of the families across the nation, according to Robert A. Roumiguiere, president of the Marin board. It is a record of home ownership matched by few other countries of the world, he said, but it can become an even greater boon as it is extended to increasing numbers of low-income families through special programs and efforts.

Roumiguiere defined the term "Realtor" as applying only to a member of the National Association of Real Estate Boards and one of its more than 1,550 local boards. He said that under the Realtor's code of ethics he is pledged to keep the interests of both the buyer and seller uppermost in his mind during a transaction.

"Realtor" is capitalized because it is a service mark (trademark) registered in the U.S. Patent Office, Roumiguiere said.

How To Buy If You're On The Move

Maybe you are facing this problem: You are relatively mobile, and often move from city to city because of the demands of your job. Now you find yourself in a new town and you don't want to rent an apartment but you can't find a satisfactory horse to rent.

At this point, you are probably thinking of buying a house for a short period of time. If you are toying with this prospect, it will pay you to follow these pointers for the short-term home buyer.

Study the market, find out the type of house that sells quickly in the area. Buy the house that is most popular in design, size and location. The market demand, not your personal tastes, should determine your selection.

Purchase a house that doesn't require repairs or major renovation. A little redecorating is fine, but make only a minimum of improvements because you may not get back all of your investment.

Remember that the ability to resell is usually based on the terms of the loan. Check out all avenues of financing, and choose the one most applicable to your situation.

Roses Are Choice For Longer Color

One reason the rose is high on the most-liked list of garden flowers to improve the outdoor appearance of the home, is that it gives gardens color from June into October and even longer, in some areas.

Even the novice gardener can have a steady supply of insect-free roses, either in the garden or as cut flowers indoors throughout this long season.

There are two keys to success with roses: cutting and spraying.

Knowing where to cut a rose flower is the secret of continuous bloom. On the flower stem you will see both three-and five-leaflet leaves. Cut the stem a quarter of an inch above any of the five-leaflet leaves. A new flower-producing shoot will emerge from the point of leaf and stem. In less than six weeks you will have another flower.

Of course, for longer in-home enjoyment of cut roses, cut the flower before it is fully open.

To insure insect-free roses, entomologists recommend spraying on a regular basis — every seven to fourteen days during the growing season.

There are a number of different kinds of insects found on roses during the growing season — which takes in spring, summer and fall.

CONTEMPORARY RUSTIC MANOR

This new home with wood finishing throughout features a natural wooded setting and offers a shaded view from both the inside and the outside deck. With four bedrooms, roofed patio area and laundry room it is being offered in Southern Marin by Fox and Carskadon, Inc., Realtors.

Accountant Is Important Consultant In Home Hunt

International Accountants Society, Inc., of Chicago suggests 10 questions to ask your accountant before buying a new home:

1. Do I have enough money to "get into" a new home (down payment, closing costs, moving expenses)?

2. Can I manage the carrying charges — amortization and interest, taxes, and insurance — compared with my present housing costs?

3. Can my income support the "hidden" costs (maintenance, commutation, utilities, etc.)?

4. What type of mortgage is best for me and how long a period should it span in order to realize the best financial advantages?

5. Should I make as large a down payment as possible in order to reduce interest costs or can my money earn more elsewhere if I make a minimum down payment and invest the difference?

6. Is there any difference in the cost if I purchase my home at different times of the year?

7. Is the financial condition of my real estate subdivider or contractor strong enough to complete special assessment improvements or make good on building defects?

8. What tax advantage will the purchase of a new home give me?

9. What affect will the purchase of a new home have on my personal estate?

10. If I need improvement in a re-sale home, what is the best way to finance it?

New Force Working On Problems

The Make America Better Program of the National Association of Real Estate Boards in just one year after its adoption in 1968 has become a potent force in social and economic improvement, according to Robert A. Roumiguiere, president of the Marin County Real Estate Board, in a Realtor Week statement.

Roumiguiere said that scores of the 1,550 boards throughout the nation have adopted Make America Better projects designed to help solve the major problems of America's cities and towns.

These projects range from "Light the Night" anticrime campaigns, to building housing for the poor, to activities on behalf of young people, to legislative drives which propose to right some of the wrongs in our taxing system.

Locally, the Make America Better Committee has been working with the Ecumenical Association for Housing in Marin County, to establish low-cost housing in the County for citizens of Marin. Chairman of this Committee is Lorraine Curley of San Rafael.

The range of activities is wide, Roumiguiere said, pointing out that the national program has six major objectives and 43 proposals for action.

One small board in Texas gave a plot of ground so that vocational students in the town could build a house as an educational project.

The Eau Claire, Wis., board built rent supplemtn apartments for the elderly. Real estate boards in scores of cities are building or rehabilitating housing for the disadvantaged families.

"We are not so presumptuous as to believe we can accomplish these goals all by ourselves," he said. "We offer cooperation, we offer leadership, and we offer a plan which already has proved itself in just one year.

"Realtors of America recognize that we must do more — much more — than wring our hands and shift the blame. So we adopted a positive program through which concerned citizens can work to build a better union.

"Are Mortgage Interest Rates Too High?"

by Tom B. Scott, Jr., President
United States Savings and Loan League

We have all read a number of stories decrying the "high price of mortgage money"; pitying the overburdened home purchaser; and complaining about "cold financial institutions." But did you ever read a story about the "neglected savers"?

We want to make a case for the savers. After all, it is their savings which make it possible for the people of the United States to have such a high standard of housing. It is their savings which make it possible for us to have one of the world's lowest mortgage interest rates. It is their savings which have enabled private enterprise to provide housing in fantastic quantities.

But do you ever read an article to the effect that the saver is entitled to a higher return on his money? No, the role of the saver in our economy is overlooked.

After all, it takes the savings of four savers to provide a borrower with the money he needs to buy a home for himself and his family.

Actually, the saver is getting a break in these days of tight money. The earnings have gone up on their savings funds because loanable funds are in short supply. Like any commodity, the price we pay for money goes up as it gets scarce, one of the unforeseen benefits to savers.

Our opinion is that the 44 million savers who save at savings and loans should receive a reasonable return on their savings.

We are just as firm in our belief that our own 10 million borrowers should be charged a reasonable interest rate on loans.

Let's look at the borrowers' side. Most savings and loan association borrowers are still paying rates which were prevalent before the current tight money market. In 1968 the average interest rate being paid by all borrowers on all outstanding mortgages held by savings and loan associations was around 6.01%.

Even the borrowers who are financing their homes with savings and loan mortgages in the current tight money market are getting a bargain. The average interest rate paid on mortgages by borrowers at savings and loan associations on new and existing homes during 1968 was 6.90%.

This is less interest than some nationally known corporations are paying to borrow money. As you may know, Aa Utility bonds are considered a yardstick for bond buying and often indicate the trend. Right now Aa Utility bonds which are optionally callable average 7.55% and the five-year callable bonds are now averaging 7.35%.

Specifically, on March 11, a $150 million bond issue by Aaa-rated New York Telephone Company of AT&T cost them 7.47%.

Closer to home, most people borrowing to pay for a car are now paying around 18% true interest.

So you see that, compared to those who borrow for other purposes, the man who borrows for a home is being charged a reasonable interest rate. And the four savers whose money he is using to buy the home are receiving a fair "wage" for their dollars.

We believe it is important to tell this story of the unappreciated savers. This explanation will provide the facts for those who don't know, don't remember, or don't care where their money for home loans comes from. Unfortunately, the uninformed are prone to think it is cash from "heartless corporations," "soulless lending institutions," etc. They never consider that it is the saver (although many are savers themselves) whose labor, denials, and prudent money-management accumulate the dollars to make such loans possible.

So, let's give some tribute—and fair profit—to the people who own the over 100 million savings accounts held by all types of financial institutions in the United States—the people whose important role is too often overlooked.

MOST POPULAR MODEL

Of several plans offered by Roberts and Aguirre (represented in Marin and Sonoma Counties by William Timmer, Realtor), this model home has been the most widely accepted and can be finished with ranch, Colonial or Spanish decor. Tile roof is optional at extra cost. A choice of wall-to-wall carpeting or hardwood floors is given.

Tailor The Heat To Fit While Boiling And Frying

Homemakers can improve their cooking and save on fuel bills by following a few basic guidelines.

First, the high flame should be used sparingly in most food preparation. While it is true that foods will cook faster with a high flame, more heat will not raise the boiling temperature of water.

In fact, turbulent boiling over a high flame creates steam in the kitchen and often cooks away flavor and nutrients. When frying, too much heat can make foods scorch and burn.

The flame should not extend beyond the bottom of the pan, as the extra heat merely warms the panhandle and the kitchen. The gas flame can be tailored to hug the contours of any size utensil.

Where liquid is added in vegetable cookery, it is better to use a minimal amount of water. Some vitamins and other nutrients are lost in the cooking water if it is drained off and discarded. Frozen vegetables need little additional water for cooking since they contain considerable moisture.

It's Work To Get A Good Finish

A simple but effective finish on bare wood is sometimes called an "elbow-grease" finish. That's because the beauty of the finish depends almost entirely on how much work you put into it.

The finishing material is a mixture of two products with which you are familiar — turpentine and linseed oil. There are several theories on how much turpentine and how much linseed oil should be used in the mixture. The most popular is two parts of linseed oil to one of turpentine.

The finish must be applied to either new wood or old wood from which the paint or varnish has been removed. It will be a clear finish, allowing the grain of the wood to show through, but it will make the wood slightly darker than it naturally is. Buy a good quality turpentine and the type of linseed oil called "boiled."

Apply the mixture with a cloth or a dry, clean brush. As soon as it has been applied, go over the wood with a dry cloth, removing all the excess oil. Do not rub, just run the cloth over the wood so that the excess oil is picked up.

After about half an hour, take another dry cloth and start rubbing. You cannot rub too long or too hard. If you get tired, put the cloth down and come back to it a while later.

Wait a week and give the wood another dry-cloth rubdown. And the week after that, do the same thing. What you are doing with all this rubbing is hastening the development of a satin finish that wood ordinarily gets only after many years of tender care.

The finish can be given new life every year or two with the same mixture and same rubbing

It's Risky Using Long Ladder Alone

Insurance records show that most accidents with outside ladders around the home are caused by a lack of knowledge of the fundamentals of safety. You can eliminate or reduce the chance of an accident by remembering these things:

1. Whenever possible, have someone assist you in raising a long ladder against the side of a house.

2. When it is absolutely necessary to raise the ladder without help, push the base of it against the foundation of the house. Move back to the top of the ladder and raise it to the level of your eyes. Maneuver yourself under it, grab one of the rungs with both hands and walk forward slowly, moving your hands from rung to rung as you walk toward the house foundation. When the top is against the house, move out the base a few feet to get the ladder in proper position.

3. The distance from the foot of the ladder to the bottom of the house should be one-fourth the height of the ladder.

4. When on the ladder, work with one hand while holding on with the other. You're looking for an accident when you reach out too far. This is true even when you are using one of the gadgets that enables the top of the ladder to be attached to the house.

Take Care On Applying Of Lacquer

Professional wood finishers generally use lacquer with a spraying machine. But most do-it-yourselfers do not have the equipment to apply lacquer in this manner. They either purchase it in a pressure container, which permits use of the spraying technique, or they buy and use the ordinary brushing lacquer that comes in a can.

Applying lacquer with a brush requires a certain amount of care, since this finishing material dries so quickly. Because of this quality, the lacquer must be spread quickly and surely. Once you have reached a second area of the surface, the first area has begun to dry. You cannot, therefore, go back and attempt to repair any segment which does not meet with your approval. If you do, a patched-up appearance is inevitable. It is better to wait until the entire surface has dried thoroughly, sand it lightly and then give it a second coat — repeating the procedure a third time if necessary.

A common mistake with lacquer is to use it just as it comes from the can. Applied in this manner, lacquer is difficult to use. It does not spread easily and it often does not dry properly. Lacquer thinner should always be mixed with the lacquer before applying. A 50-50 mixture is recommended for the beginner. After becoming accustomed to the use of lacquer, it is easy to determine what proportions of lacquer should be used for each particular project.

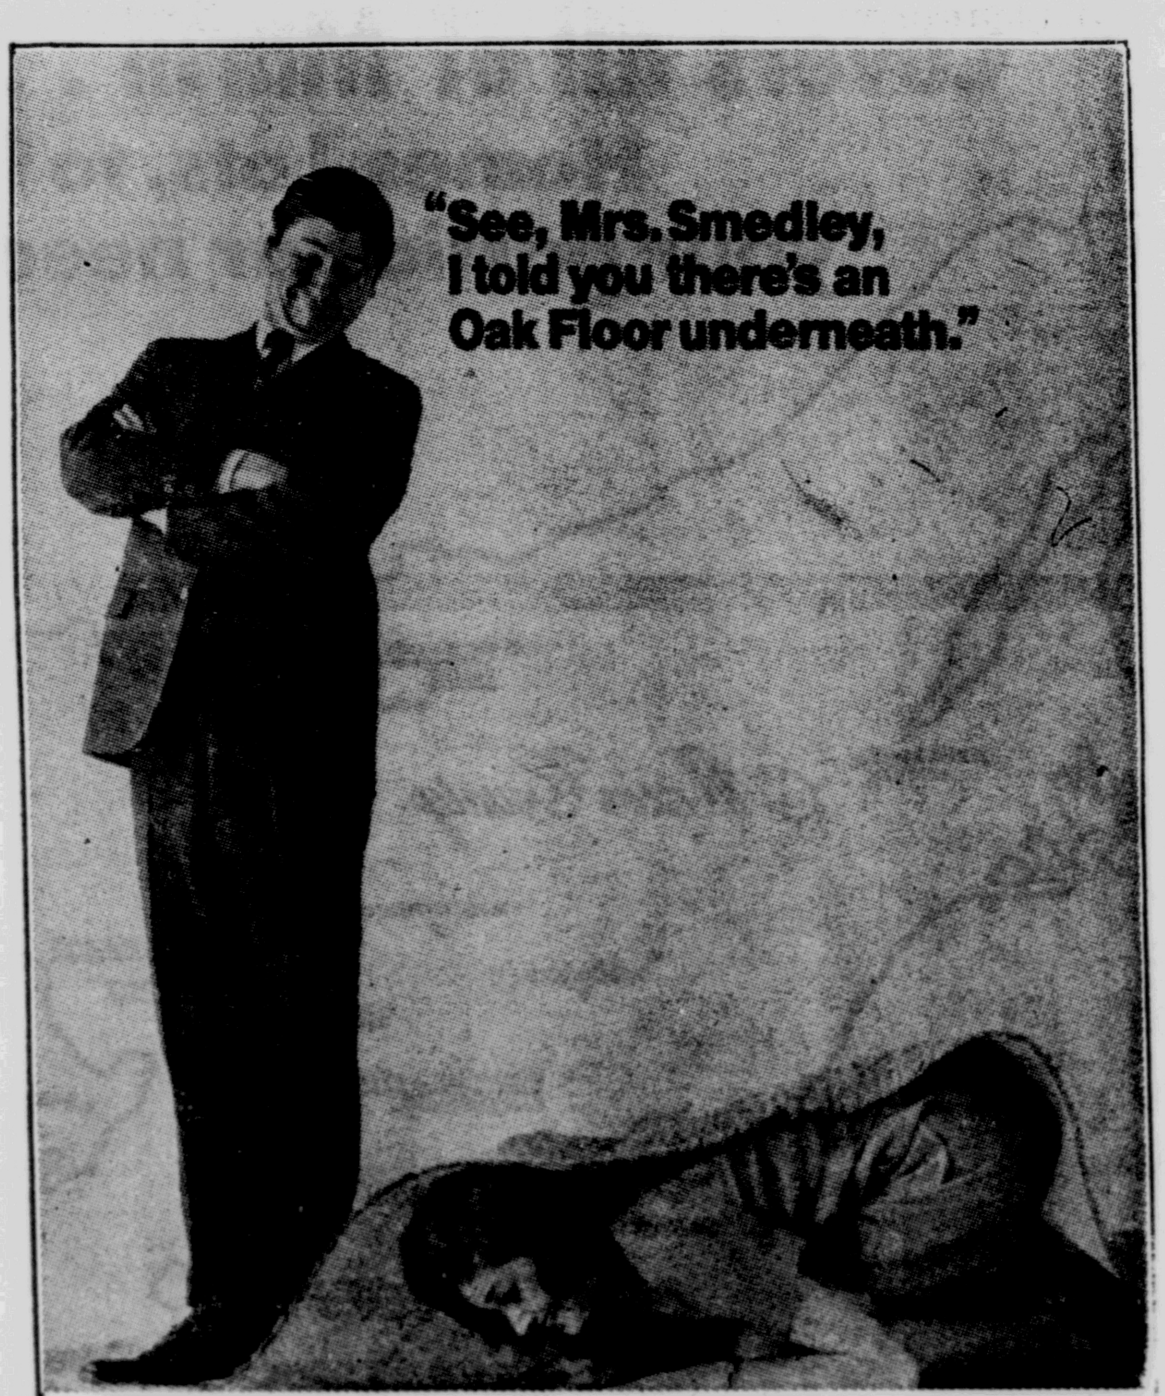
SOON TO BE CONSTRUCTED

Designed by D. Hugh Coleman, this three-elevation home to be built in Meadowland, west of Fairfax, will be available with either three or four bedrooms. Other features are patio area off the dining room, two decks off the bedrooms, cathedral living room and all-electric kitchen. Homes in Meadowland, a development of Matt Farr and Associates, are cluster-built or free standing, depending on lot size and terrain.



"See, Mrs. Smedley, I told you there's an Oak Floor underneath."

Most home buyers insist on Oak Floors, even with wall-to-wall carpeting. This enables them to change their room decoration to accent rugs when the carpeting gets worn and shabby, or needs replacement as a result of damage. Oak floors also insure higher resale values . . . make homes more salable than ones with carpeting laid directly over concrete or plywood.

Rather than furnish carpeting with your homes, doesn't it make more sense to provide a permanent floor of solid Oak and let the owners choose their own floor covering . . . in colors to match their furnishings and personal tastes?

Both you and the buyer come out ahead when you use Oak floors in your homes and apartments. Think it over.

Personal Inspection Needed In New Interstate Land Law

The new law which requires many interstate land sellers to register with the federal government does not lessen the need for personal inspection of any property being considered for purchase, according to Robert A. Roumiguiere, president of the Marin County Board of Realtors advised today.

Roumiguiere said that under regulations implementing the Interstate Land Sales Full Disclosure Act, sellers of 50 or more unimproved lots must, in most cases, file a detailed statement of record or registration statement with the newly formed Office of Interstate Land Sales Registration in the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

"It is important for would-be purchasers to realize that this new law is designed to be a disclosure statute, and nothing more," Roumiguiere said.

"There is a tendency on the part of the public to assume that because the federal government agency has cleared a registration statement, the judgment of the government is that the property for sale is reasonably priced. This is erroneous."

The new law merely assures that the purchaser has all the facts about the property available to him before he enters into a transaction. It is still the responsibility of the buyer to study the data and make his decision accordingly.

"We members of the National Association of Real Estate Boards have for years advised property buyers to inspect personally any land they are considering buying," Roumiguiere commented.

"What is more, this advice is just as valid now, even with the new full disclosure law in effect, as it ever was. The success of the new Interstate Land Sales Full Disclosure Act as another consumer protection law will depend on the restraint exercised by developers, the government's land sales registration office, and the public.

"The best assurance for the buyer that he is getting his money's worth in any real estate transaction, however, is personally to inspect the property and to confer with a professional in real estate.

Professional Decorator Says Designer Is Needed

Every now and then in the life of the homeowner comes the big question. Should a professional designer be called in to deal with the decorating.

"The truth is, the facts speak for themselves," says La Verne Neil, an interior expert of Cleveland. "A designer's assistance will save money and time and insure that your personality is expressed in the best of taste."

Time is saved, she says, because a professional can go to the heart of the problem. He knows where to find that elusive gilded bird cage or just the right silk for draperies. He knows the field and doesn't waste hours searching for furniture or materials.

A professional also has a knack with saving money. For one thing, says Miss Neil, he is not apt to fall prey to bargains that in the end, are nothing more than a mistake. And designers make their profit, at least those who are retained without fee, by buying times at wholesale and selling to their customers at the retail price.

Cooking With Gas Is Going To Be Changed

Speedy and convenient as the gas appliances of today are, they will within the next decade be regarded as awkward and poky as we now think of the horse and wagon.

For example, designers are working on plans for an automatic dish-maker. This device would produce inexpensive, disposable dishes for every meal.

The dishes would be formed from plastic sheets by gas heat then stored in the appliance's cabinet section until needed. Thus, the homemaker may look forward someday to being rid of dishwashing, drying or shelving chores.

Gas appliances will be portable in homes of tomorrow. There are, in fact, coupling links already on the market. These enable one to hook portable barbecue sets, for example, to patio gas line extensions.

The gas range of the future, at least as one manufacturer plans it, will have a single, flat translucent cooking surface. It may be disconnected quickly and wheeled to another area, such as the dining room or patio. Food will come from the freezer to the table ready to eat in a matter of minutes after gas cooking.

Gas heating and air conditioning units will be combined with air circulation panels to provide year-round climate control, according to the designers. Many of the wall panels will have built-in filters to reduce indoor pollen and dust counts, just as today's gas central heating and cooling systems do.

Wherever nighttime temperatures limit outdoor living, radiant heaters will keep patios and play areas warm enough for use twelve months of the year. Some heaters like this are already in use.

Remote controls may be added to appliances enabling housewives to dial cooking and washing instructions to their kitchens from any point in the house or, possibly, even from a telephone booth at the supermarket.

Now Redecorating Is A Pleasure

Moving into a new home or thinking of redecorating your present home? Smile! The home furnishings industry has made redecorating a pleasure, what with all the new finishes, fabrics, textures and exciting styles and designs.

First things to do, before you shop for furnishings, wallcoverings, draperies and floor coverings is to make a master plan.

Consider the needs of your family so when you review the uses of each room you'll know what it will have to do. A living room, for example, may range in activities all the way from special entertaining and large gatherings to a haven for peaceful reading.

Then, too, think of how you want the rooms to look. Do you want a reflection of interests and travels? And consider the interests of others in your family as well. And along with this, think of the maintenance and care needed.

Your next step, before shopping, is to draw a simple plan of each room. This is easy. Draw the shape of the room, square or rectangular, and have one quarter of an inch equal one foot of the actual room. A room that is 12 feet long then would be represented by three inches on the plan. Mark the locations of window, doors, heating units, electrical outlets and other physical qualities such as a fireplace.

Then draw little squares and circles on a separate sheet of paper. Cut them out. Use them as symbols of your furniture, tables and lamps. The professionals refer to them as templates and use them in planning furniture placement.

.When you begin furniture placement, remember that some rooms may have a natural point of interest which is the center of attraction. This may be an unusual window setting or architectural treatment or a fireplace. If you have such points of interest in your rooms, work your furnishings around them.

If you are going to create a local point, then it is wise to work it around a large piece of furniture such as a piano or sofa, or a grouping of matching chairs, a collection of paintings or sculpture exhibit.

Place your furniture —the smaller pieces around the point of interest. Finally, study the remaining areas of the room and use them for locating desks, chests, side tables, or storage units.

You may wish to move the smaller items around several times until they are "just right" in their location. Your last pieces will be the accessories such as ceramics, ashtrays, pillows, small lamps, paintings and books.

After you have studied your floor plans, review them with your family. Be sure in each case that the rooms have areas for movement and that they don't have a cluttered appearance.

Mark the locations of the furniture on your plan and take it with you when you shop. Also note the height of your ceilings. This is important so you will buy furniture in scale with the size of each room. Smaller scale furnishings for short, narrow rooms, and of course, more massive pieces in rooms that are deep, wide and spacious.

Five-step Sanitation Plan Is A Big Help Around Home

Garbage!

It's not a pleasant word or a pleasant subject but the handling of everyday household refuse — better known as garbage — is the key to better sanitation.

By following a simple five-step home sanitation program, every householder can contribute substantially to a safer, more comfortable home, as well as an attractive and healthier community.

1. Provide and use proper refuse containers. Garbage cans should be (a) watertight; (b) equipped with a close-fitting cover; (c) rust-resistant; (d) rat-proof and fire-resistant; (e) structurally strong to withstand handling stress; (f) easily filled, emptied and cleaned; (g) of a size that when full can be conveniently handled by one man; (h) furnished with side handles or a bail.

The conventional galvanized steel garbage can with a recessed bottom most nearly fits these specifications set forth by the U.S. Public Health Service. For home use, the maximum size should be 30 gallons.

2. Maintain the containers in safe and sanitary condition Rinse the cans out periodically with soap and water and spray with an insecticide to prevent odors and to keep away flies and insects. Replace cans and/or covers when they become worn and damaged.

3. Drain and wrap garbage before storing in refuse cans. If you do not have a food waste disposer, the most desirable way to handle household garbage is to drain and wrap it in several thicknesses of newspaper before placing it into a garbage can. This practice prevents fly production, keeps the container clean, reduces offensive odors, and prolongs the container's usefulness.

4. Remove trash from yard, basement or attic regularly and set it out for collection. Keeping premises clean will assure greater protection from disease, accident, fire and vermin. Rubbish in the form of paper, paint cans, bottles, lumber and packing cases not only presents a fire hazard but it often provides harborage for rats and other pests.

5. Place containers in right place at right time. It is advisable to keep containers on stands, at least one foot off the ground, where collections are made from alleys. This will protect containers from damage, from being upset by stray animals and from rusting out. You can also use a single post, with hooks, for hanging garbage cans by handle or bail.

Where collections are made from basements, porches or sidewalks, place the containers where the local rules require at the appointed time.

If refuse cans are in public view, decorate them with acrylic paint or large decals.

STACKED APPLIANCES TAKE LESS SPACE

A no-vent dryer feature in stacked pairs of washers-dryers passes the moisture-laden air over a cooling condenser, removes the moisture and disposes of it by draining through the plumbing system for the washer. The stacked pair takes up only 27 inches of floor space.

Keep Tools Handy

Home mechanics who like to keep their tools mounted on wall brackets near the workbench are often at a loss when trying to decide how to hang an electric drill. One of the easiest ways is to insert a screweye in the chuck of the drill, then tighten this securely, with the loop sticking out. The drill can then be hung up by hooking the loop of the screweye over a nail, or over a straight hook.

Drill Press Popular Now For Home Worker

It is possible to attain a high degree of proficiency with a portable electric drill, but nothing equals the drill press for precision drilling. It disadvantage is that, unlike the portable machine, the material to be worked on must be brought to the drill.

Professional workers find it necessary to have both the portable and stationary types to utilize the assets of each. The sales figures show that more and more home handymen are doing the same thing.

In the purchase of a drill press, the first determination is the size and type you want. The size rating is indicated in inches. A 12-inch press means that the machine will work to the center of a 12-inch circle. And so on.

The general types are bench and floor. The bench model can be attached to the top of a work table or to a separate stand. The floor model, as the name makes plain, is placed directly on the floor in any place desired.

When wood is being drilled, chips on the underside can be avoided by placing a piece of scrap wood under the stock. A tilting arrangement permits holes to be drilled at various angles.

THE CHANGEABLE HOME

Buyers at Peacock Crest, San Rafael are invited to discuss special family requirements with Boise Cascade Building Co. The company's architect then changes the model to suit the individual occupant. Boise Cascade, which acquired Perma-Bilt Enterprises in 1966, more than doubled its new home sales during the first quarter of 1969, compared with last year.

Vegetables, Flowers Can Grow Together

There is really no good reason why flowers should be grown in one bed and vegetables in rows nearby. The vegetables will taste just as delicious and the garden may look prettier if both are grown in the same beds. Try a few vegetables in with the flowers and see if you don't agree.

For instance, plant a row or groups of rhubarb chard with its deep crimson stems and leaf midriffs as a background for petunias of the same coloring as the chard stems.

Or try three plants of purplehead cauliflower to a group, evenly spaced with tall-growing yellow Zenith zinnias behind them and California poppies or Yellow Pygmy marigolds in front.

Plan a subtle color scheme with green peppers evenly spaced and groups of Sunset cosmos sown between the peppers. Even when the pepper fruits turn red the cosmos blooms will blend with them.

SIZE CAN BE CHANGED — This version of the family room in a Peacock Crest home of Boise Cascade Corp. has a game table, bar, desk and music system, and a pass-through makes it easy to serve snacks from the adjoining kitchen, but other features can be added in the company's custom-change plan.

MARINITES STRIKE GOLD

. . . and they'll share with you

If you're looking for a home away from home, just 2½ hours from Marin, nestled in the Mother Lode country, 3,500 ft. above the lowland heat and below the snow line so that you can enjoy it the year round, you're looking for Canyon View Ranch.

Three Marin businessmen discovered this nugget that glistens with the restful serenity of Sierra living. Canyon View Ranch, on the Ebbetts Pass Road (Highway 4) affords breathtaking mountain views, musical mountain streams, the quiet dignity of the mountain forest — yet, hunting, fishing, boating, swimming, golf and riding are just ten minutes away. In 25 minutes you are in Bear Valley — the closest major skiing area to Marin.

There are now a limited number of sites available. Paved roads and utilities are in. You buy direct from the owners who prefer to sell to Marin people (and for the present this offer is not being made elsewhere). Comparative study shows that sites, improvements, cost and financing are not being equaled in this area. Sites start at $4400. Financing Available. Pay as little as $60 per month. For additional information contact:

Require More Space? Clean Up The Garage

Garage getting you down? If your garage is good for nothing — including the family car — organize a family clean-up team and see how effective a garage can be.

1. Be daring with your throw-away operation. You'll be surprised how many products you intended to use are too old to be efficient or have evaporated in cans or bottles.

2. Make a clean sweep of the garage with the biggest broom you can find. Use a shovel for a dustpan.

3. After the sweep-up, mop the floor with a pine oil cleaner —disinfectant. This treatment degreases, disinfects and deodorizes all at once. Then use the hose. Remember to hose down after sweeping—if you use the hose before you've swept up, you'll have mud puddles from the dust and dirt.

4. Short or hanging up the car, get as many items off the garage floor as possible.

5. Organize with pegboard. Hang garden equipment from hooks, add shelves for paints, patio and garden products, car cleaning equipment and outdoor gear.

6. Spray storage hint: Hang up a shoebag for your aerosol products. That way they'll be easy to see and get to.

7. If the garage is still overcrowded after you organize, consider storing some necessary items in the attic. Garages are often damp and if there is anything which could be damaged by mildew, move it upstairs.

8. Be sure your garage smells as clean as it looks. After the clean-up, spray the garage with a pine disinfectant spray. Admire your handiwork and your pine-clean garage, now efficient as well.

There Are Different Ways To Mix In Applying Shellac

Anyone who has ever used shellac as it comes out of the container has probably regretted his selection of this ancient finishing material.

The secret to getting a good result with shellac is in the thinning, which is done with denatured alcohol. For most ordinary work, use two parts of shellac to one part of alcohol. For floors, a 50-50 mixture is fine. When the directions calls for a thin or "wash" coat of shellac, use two parts of denatured alcohol to one part of shellac.

Professional woodworkers all have their own favorites when it comes to mixtures of shellac and alcohol. After you have used shellac a few times, you probably will come up with your own pet formula. The big DON'T for beginners is: Don't make the common mistake of using too much shellac.

To prevent a clouded or whitened finish, don't apply shellac when high humidity is present. It also is important that any wax or oil remaining on the old finish be thoroughly removed before the shellac is applied.

Riot Guns Used On Berkeley Mob; Reagan Orders Guard

128 Hurt In Park Protest

BERKELEY (UPI)—National guardsmen today patrolled streets near the University of California where 500 police used riot guns yesterday to rout 2,000 rock-throwing demonstrators in a four-hour melee.

The soldiers moved in shortly after dawn to keep order in an 18-block area adjacent to the campus where students and "street people" clashed Thursday with police.

DISPUTED PARK

The guard was concentrated around a disputed People's Park three blocks from the school. The riot began when demonstrators tried to "liberate" the park from authorities.

At least 128 persons were injured in the conflict, including 32 hit by blasts of bird shot from police shotguns. Sixty officers were given first aid, including one policeman who was stabbed.

Three protesters were in critical condition from birdshot wounds. Doctors said three others were treated for rifle wounds.

Police officials said officers fired buck shot, bird shot and rock salt from sawed off shotguns as well as tear gas during the battle, described as the worst in Berkeley's history.

47 ARRESTED

Authorities said 47 persons were arrested, including 37 adults and 10 juveniles.

Gov. Ronald Reagan mobilized a "substantial number," of guardsmen and clamped a strict nighttime curfew on the city and campus. He described the park dispute as a "phony issue" used as "an excuse for a riot."

Guardsmen remained off the campus, which was calm with students and staff reporting to classes and jobs as usual.

The violence erupted shortly after noon when demonstrators marched from a rally at Sproul Hall Plaza to the People's Park, constructed in recent weeks on university - owned property by

Business License Revisions Sought

A major revision of San Rafael's business license ordinance, aimed at simplifying the whole thing and making charges "fair and equitable," will go to the city council Monday night.

The proposed ordinance generally would base license fees on a flat rate plus an amount for each employee. Currently, most fees are based on gross receipts.

The revision is not aimed at increasing revenue, said City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen.

Finance Officer James H. McCown reported the existing business license fees total $125,000 to $128,000 per year and predicted proceeds from the new fee schedule would be in that range.

Andersen said he hoped to get away from the concept of the more a business makes, the more the city takes. "I think we will encourage people to come in," he said.

McCown, who did much of the work on the new ordinance, said it would greatly reduce the administrative burden on both the city and businesses.

The ordinance would change the licensing period from six months to one year, as is the practice in most cities.

In addition, under the existing method, some business records had to be thoroughly checked to make sure gross receipts were accurately reported, he said. Under a flat rate fee schedule, that would no longer be necessary.

McCown said he used figures from the League of California Cities, from other cities and current charges as the basis for much of the proposed ordinance.

However, the trend in the league and in most other cities is to change from flat rates to the gross receipts plan.

Sausalito, for example, changed last August with an eye toward upping its revenue from $24,000 to $48,000 annually. Corte Madera is currently working on a proposal to go from a flat rate plan to gross receipts while Novato uses the flat rate, plus an amount for each employee.

McCown also pointed out the old ordinance is hard to interpret because it does not specifically list the types of businesses

Russia Gets Signals In Venus Probe

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet space ship Venus 5 reached the area of Venus today and sent down a capsule that radioed back information on the atmosphere during a 53- -minute transmission, Tass news agency said.

Tass implied the instrument capsule reached the surface through the hot atmosphere, saying: "The station delivered to the surface of Venus a pennant with a bas relief of Lenin and the USSR coat or arms."

Venus 5 dropped the capsule before entering the atmosphere. The capsule reported "a considerable growth of temperature" before its parachute system was released, Tass said.

"During the 53-minute long descent on the parachute, the instruments on board the capsule measured the temperature, pressure and chemical composition of the atmosphere," the agency added.

The 2,491-pound Venus started braking at 7:01 a.m. Moscow time at the end of a 217-million-mile trip that began Jan. 5.

A twin space ship, Venus 6, is due to penetrate the atmosphere of Venus tomorrow.

Reagan Likes Handling Of U.C. Melee

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Gov. Ronald Reagan today praised the University of California Berkeley administration for acting quickly and efficiently in putting down a melee involving 2,000 rock-throwing demonstrators yesterday.

Reagan, here for a U.C. regents meeting, spoke briefly on the Berkeley turmoil at a news conference. He said he was pleased by the administration's reaction.

The governor reiterated his belief that the responsibility for dealing with campus militants lies basically with college and university administrators.

Commenting on campus disruption in general, he said, "It will stop when university regents, faculties and administrations make up their minds that the campus is going to return to being a place of teaching and learning."

Reagan blamed Students for a Democratic Society for causing most disruptions and said the group's initials should be changed to STS—"Students for a Totalitarian Society."

As the regents met, the specter of violence at the Berkeley campus and a threatened confrontation by militants at UCLA hung over the proceedings.

Heart Recipient Is Hospitalized

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — Dr. Philip Blaiberg, the world's longest surviving heart transplant recipient, was taken to hospital by ambulance today.

Three days ago, doctors ordered the 59-year-old former dentist to bed in his Wynberg apartment for a week's rest to recover from "exhaustion."

Mrs. Blaiberg said her husband was admitted to the hospital for X-ray examination which could not be performed in their apartment.

His condition was satisfactory and he was expected back home Monday, she said.

Work Furlough, Drug Traffic Links

By MARY LEYDECKER

Narcotics offenders in Marin County Jail who are allowed to go out each day on work furlough may be continuing their careers as drug peddlers even to the extent of bringing contraband back into the jail.

Jailers, drug agents and judges — convinced that work furlough for drug offenders is not only not rehabilitating them but is causing drug traffic in the jail — have begun measures to stop the situation.

A second look is being made at the kind of rehibilitation being offered when a convicted marijuana seller is allowed to work at three successive jobs where drugs are believed to be present.

Although narcotics agents and jailers have long opposed work furlough for drug violators, the situation came to a head in March when a man on work furlough was arrested for selling marijuana at a cleaning establishment in Larkspur.

Steven Cowan has since been indicted for the sale in the shop, where an agent said they found the "largest amount of LSD he had ever seen."

However, no charges were filed against another jail inmate also working at the shop and arrested at the same time. John Robert Thiele was no longer allowed to work at the Larkspur Cleaners but soon found another job at the Blue Unicorn in San Francisco's Haight-Ashburg district.

The Blue Unicorn is a hippie establishment owned by John T. Stathos, another Marin County Jail inmate who is awaiting trial for the kidnaping and armed robbery of restaurant owner Luciano Sabella.

"We know there are drugs at the Blue Unicorn," Lt. James Schwedhelm, head of the Marin Drug Abuse Bureau said today.

However, according to Deputy Probation Officer Jesse Johnson, who runs the work furlough program, Thiele asked to change jobs recently.

His latest place of employment is a "hippie-mod" curio shop called The Helios, in Mill Valley, which is owned by James Myron Tupper, who was just released from Marin Jail after a short term for possession of marijuana for sale.

Although all men returning from work furlough are "skin-searched" at the jail, personnel at the sheriff's department said today it is impossible to prevent narcotics from being smuggled in.

Full Alert For Da Nang Allied Troops

SAIGON (UPI)—More than 30,000 Allied troops around Da Nang went on full alert today in anticipation of renewed Communist attacks against or near the northern coastal city.

The full alert was ordered as a 10,000-man Allied force swept through the A Shau Valley near the border with Laos in a drive to cut off the main Communist supply lines.

U.S. paratroopers leading the offensive today reported killing 88 North Vietnamese defenders of what appeared to be a major Guerrilla supply dump.

The report coincided with the U.S. Command's announcement in Saigon that 44 aircraft were lost in Vietnam last week, 36 helicopters and eight war planes.

UPI correspondent David Lamb reported from Da Nang that South Vietnamese commanders canceled all leaves and days off for their soldiers

Some Nixon Points Rejected As Absurd

PARIS (UPI)—The Communist side at the Vietnam peace talks today dismissed as "absurd" part of President Richard M. Nixon's eight-point peace plan. But the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong negotiators adopted a softer line on their own demands.

The Communist delegates declined to comment on five of the points spelled out by Nixon in his proposals to restore peace to Vietnam within a year.

Henry Cabot Lodge, chief U.S. negotiator, presented the Nixon plan at today's session and asked the Communist side "not to answer hastily and to think over our proposal just as we are thinking about yours."

After the 17th full-scale session of the talks, Lodge declined comment to newsmen on whether he thought progress was made. But he did say: "The other side gave every indication they will consider these proposals."

Asked about the atmosphere of the session which lasted just five minutes short of four hours, he said: "I don't know. It is very hard to characterize these meetings."

Lodge took the floor after the negotiators from both Communist delegations had denounced in almost identical terms Nixon's eight-point proposal that the path to peace begin with a mutual withdrawal of all foreign military forces. The chief North Vietnamese negotiator, Xuan Thuy, dismissed this proposal.

The Viet Cong's "foreign minister", Tran Buu Kiem, called the plan an attempt to "pose conditions on the withdrawal of U.S. troops which we have many times rejected." "The Nixon administration continues to maintain its absurd demands and continues to intensify the war," Thuy said to newsmen as he arrived for the session.

Kiem said "everybody knows that U.S. and satellite troops are the only foreign troops of

Commuter Tax Threat Looms Again

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

BERKELEY — The threat of a commuter tax by San Francisco loomed again yesterday with the collapse of efforts by the Association of Bay Area Governments to find another source of revenue that would satisfy San Francisco.

San Francisco Mayor Joseph L. Alioto agreed in November to put off any tax that would hit commuters so long as ABAG was working to find new tax revenue on some regional basis, but the final report yesterday by ABAG's property tax relief committee was rejected by Alioto's representative on the committee, Chief Administrative Officer Thomas J. Mellon.

The committee's recommendation that 10 per cent of state income taxes be refunded to cities and counties on the basis of population alone — without regard to need — would "severely penalize" San Francisco, Mellon

Nixon In No Hurry To Replace Fortas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Abe Fortas's resignation under fire from the Supreme Court gives President Richard M. Nixon an opportunity to fulfill a campaign promise, but also leaves him the task of removing a cloud over the nation's highest tribunal.

Nixon is in no hurry to nominate a successor to Fortas who quit Thursday after a week-and-a-half ordeal — for himself and the court — that started with disclosures he received $20,000 from the family of a man subsequently sent to prison for stock manipulation.

With the court scheduled to recess in mid-June, the President has plenty of time to find a successor, both to Fortas and to Chief Justice Earl Warren, who is resigning next month.

No new justice could act effectively on the court in such a short time. Also, a new appointment following closely on the heels of the Fortas affair might stir unwanted controversy.

White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said yesterday following acceptance of Fortas' resignation that Nixon doesn't even have a "time-frame" for choosing a successor to Warren. The matter of replacing Fortas would have lower priority, he implied.

The absence of the pressure of time will allow Nixon to move carefully, both in finding politically acceptable replacements and satisfying public concern about the integrity of the court raised by Fortas.

Both Warren and Fortas, appointed in 1966, were of the liberal wing of the court, which has been under fire from conservatives for its social and racial decision.

During his campaign last fall, Nixon appeared to join these critics and promised to appoint "strict constitutionalist" judges of a stricter law-and-order frame of mind.

Some of those mentioned recently as possible Nixon choices include Herbert Brownell, former attorney general in the Eisenhower administration; the current attorney general, John N. Mitchell; Nixon's secretary of state, William P. Rogers; former Justice Arthur J. Goldberg; and two federal court of appeals judges, Henry Friendly and Warren Burger.

The shadow fell on the court a week ago last Sunday when Life magazine reported that Fortas, shortly after being seated on the Supreme Court, had accepted and kept for 11 months a $20,000 fee from the family foundation of Louis E. Wolfson, a Florida industrialist and former client.

Plant Gun Rampage Leaves Three Dead

TWINSBURG, Ohio (AP) — An employee at the Chrysler Corp.'s stamping plant shot two fellow workers fatally and wounded 10 others before killing himself.

Sheriff Robert Campbell identified the assailant in the shooting rampage just before midnight yesterday as Robert K. Smith, 31, of Mogadore, an inspector at the plant.

The other two dead were Sam S. Zucchero, 57, of Alliance, and Vincent Bell, 39, of Cleveland. Two more of the wounded were in critical condition.

Sheriff Campbell said the shifts were changing when Smith arrived at the plant with three guns and started shooting. The firing lasted about 15 minutes.

Williams Schuholz of Akron said he was leaving the plant when the assailant, a gun in each hand, shot two men just outside the main entrance to the plant.

"Then he went to a lunchroom about 50 feet from the entrance and started shooting again," Schuholz added. "I didn't stick around to see what happened after that."

Charles L. Harris, 64, of Cuyahoga Falls, said he was sitting at a lunch table with five other men when the assailant entered.

"I saw this guy walking up behind the guy sitting across the table from me," said Harris, who was wounded in the hand. "He had a gun in his hand. I thought it was a toy or a prank.

"He shot the man sitting across from me right through the back. I think the bullet that went through him hit me."

Harris, a stock checker at the plant, said "three or four more shots" were fired as he fell to the floor.

FDR's Son Is Stabbed In Geneva

GENEVA (AP) — James Roosevelt, oldest son of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, was stabbed in the back in a "family quarrel" last night, police reported.

Police today described the wound as serious but associates of the 61-year-old former congressman reported his condition was good and that he would be discharged from the hospital in the next few days.

A spokesman for Geneva's Surete, the criminal police, said no charges had been brought in the case.

Mrs. Roosevelt was taken to a rest home.

Roosevelt's lawyer, Dr. T. Tritabov, told newsmen Roosevelt himself had telephoned him from the hospital and that he was in good condition.

Roosevelt, a former California congressman, was stabbed while at his villa in the suburb of Vesenaz, police said.

He was taken to the cantonal hospital where he underwent emergency surgery. The hospital refused to give any information on his condition.

The police duty officer refused to say who stabbed Roosevelt but said it "was not likely to have serious judicial consequences."

Roosevelt and his third wife came to Geneva to live early in 1967 after he became a director of three mutual funds sponsored by Investors Overseas Service and president of the I.O.S Management Company. Shortly before he took the posts, the group of foreign-based mutual funds was criticized by the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

To Visit Carrier

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Richard M. Nixon will board the aircraft carrier Saratoga in the Atlantic tomorrow to see an Armed Forces Day firepower and antiair warfare demonstration.

A White House announcement yesterday said the President would make the trip to the carrier, 45 miles off Norfolk, Va., by helicopter.

Malaysian Crisis

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — With gunfire and arson continuing in Malaysia's capital for the fourth day, a new National Operations Council took over the government today in an effort to halt the communal battles between Malays and Chinese.

The emergency council was headed by Deputy Prime Minister Tun Abdul Razak. It was reported to have supplanted the federal and state parliaments, and sources said a new, all-Malay cabinet would be announced later today.

After a night of relative calm by a driving monsoon, shots and fires broke out anew this morning. The worst fires since the rioting began Tuesday night appeared to be concentrated in the city's suburbs. From the downtown area, eight pillars of thick, gray smoke could be seen billowing over the capital.

Powell Drops Out

NEW YORK (UPI) — Reps Adam Clayton Powell and John M. Murphy dropped out of New York's crowded mayoral race at the first turn yesterday reducing the number of contenders for the Democratic nomination to six.

On the Republican side, there are only two contenders — incumbent Mayor John V. Lindsay, who has already been endorsed by the Liberal Party, and state Sen. John J. Marchi, who has the support of the Conservatives.

The six Democrats still in the running for the June 17 primary are former Mayor Robert E. Wagner; city controller Mario A. Procaccino; Bronx borough president Herman Badillo; Rep. James H. Scheuer; writer Norman Mailer and "mystery candidate" John W. Seder.

Not Indicted

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — A grand jury has declined to indict Winton M. Blount III, son of the U.S. postmaster general, in the auto accident death of his wife Beverly, 24, two months ago.

Blount was charged with second degree manslaughter after the accident, but the charge was dropped when the case came to court. The city prosecutor then presented the evidence to the grand jury.

Six Arrested After Grape Boycott Talks

OAKLAND (UPI) — Six farm workers union delegates, including a Catholic priest, were arrested yesterday after they staged a day-long sit-in at Safeway Stores' national headquarters building.

The delegates sat in a basement conference room from the end of a morning meeting, when the food chain rejected their demands to stop selling California table grapes, until officials called police late in the afternoon.

The six arrested were part of a 14-member delegation from the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee, AFL-CIO, who met with six Safeway officials at the food chain's invitation to discuss the union's grape boycott.

The union's leader, Cesar Chavez, was unable to attend the session because of a chronic back ailment.

Outside the Safeway headquarters, a noisy crowd of about 200 farm workers union supporters marched and waved the red and black union banners, but Safeway did not request police to arrest them.

The arrested included three labor leaders: Russell Crowl, president of the Alameda County Labor Council, Richard Groulx, secretary of the Alameda Countil, and Art Carter, secretar of the Contra Costa County Labor Council.

Also arrested were Larry Itliong, assistant director of UFWOC, Felix Yton, a striking vineyard worker, and Father W. J. O'Donnell of Hayward, a member of the Bishop's Committee for the Spanish-speaking.

UFWOC began its boycott of California table grapes last summer in an effort to force growers to the bargaining table. Safeway, second largest food chain in the country, became a special target.

Safeway refused to comment on the meeting with the union delegates, which was held in closed session, but a union official complained later that "they are completely on the side of the growers."

Furniture Store Permit Approved

The Fairfax Planning Commission last night approved a use permit sought by Ronald A. Randall for a new and antique furniture store at 1599 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

The board also continued study of a proposed new zoning ordinance, but made no major changes, Secretary Eileen Foster reported.

The board set another study session for 8 p.m. Wednesday at city hall, and scheduled meeting at 8 p.m. each Tuesday in June to correlate the proposed new zoning with the city master plan map. The board also is scheduled to hold its regular meeting at 8 p.m. Thursday.

The new ordinance would establish 10 types of residential districts instead of seven, and add zones for commercial-recreational and highway frontage commercial uses.

Base Bidding

The Hamilton Air Force Base procurement office today issued invitations for bids to be opened at 3 p.m. June 5, on alterations to two buildings at Hamilton.

18 Massacred

MANILA (UPI) — Primitive tribesmen armed with jungle knives raided the village of a rival tribe in the southern Philippines and massacred 18 persons, including nine children, police reported today.

The modern Olympic Games were revived in 1896.

SENIOR CITIZENS

Organizers In Running For Honor

Organizers of the Novato and Fairfax senior citizens clubs are two more nominees for Senior Citizen of the Year in Marin County.

The winner will be chosen from among the 12 nominees and announced at a luncheon Wednesday at the Peacock Gap Country Club.

Today's nominees are Eleanor M. Snare of Novato and Nora McPartland of Fairfax.

Mrs. Snare, 74, of 850 Cypress Street, was nominated for the award by the Novato Senior Citizens Club, which she helped organize seven years ago. The group is now part of the Novato Parks and Recreation Department.

Born and reared in Moorestown, N.J., Mrs. Snare has lived in Novato eight years and formerly lived in San Francisco, where she belonged to the Good Samaritan Episcopal Church and the Aquatic Park Senior Center.

She is a former Sunday school teacher for Trinity Episcopal Church in Novato and served on the Church Altar Guild. Mrs. Snare also was treasurer of the Business and Professional Women's Club.

She has been secretary and chairman of the publicity, legislation, by laws and incorporation committees of the Women's Auxiliary. Mrs. Snare is writing a history of the Novato Senior Citizens Club, which she has served as secretary and corresponding secretary.

She belongs to the Young Women's Christian Association and likes to sew and paint.

At Christmas, Mrs. Snare helps deliver gifts at convalescent homes in Novato.

NORA McPARTLAND
Club organizer

Mrs. McPartland is a zestful Irishwoman who joined the Italian Catholic Federation in Fairfax for a lark — and because she likes organizations.

Her fondness for clubs led her and a friend, Alfreda Schunk, to form St. Rita's Senior Club in Fairfax about three months ago. So far, Mrs. McPartland reported, the club has been organizing and holding social events.

Mrs. McPartland was born in Ireland "approximately" 74 years ago and came to the United States in 1920, attracted by other members of her family who were here.

She settled in Texas and became a registered nurse, a job she eventually had to leave as she became the mother of eight children. One, Mrs. Eleanor Shaleski, is currently living in Fairfax while her husband is on duty with the Air Force. Another daughter is a nun and the rest of the family lives in San Francisco. She has 15 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Mrs. McPartland moved to Fairfax 23 years ago.

She is active in St. Rita's parish and as a member of the Catholic Daughters of Fairfax and Marin's Needlecraft Ingathering.

She enjoys gardening and traveling and confessed her family calls her the "flying grandmother" in conjunction with her trips around the country to visit her daughter and son-in-law wherever they were stationed in connection with his Air Force duties.

She has not yet flown as far as Ireland, but reported she is considering visiting the land of her birth next year for the first time since she left 49 years ago.

Spanish Accidents

MADRID (UPI) — About 2,500 Spanish workers were killed in industrial accidents in 1968, according to the National Insurance Institute.

$50 Million Sub Sinks At Mare Island Shipyard

VALLEJO (AP) — A $50 million Navy submarine being remodeled at Mare Island Naval Shipyard sank last night into the Napa River. No one was injured.

The Navy said the USS Guitaro was at dockside for outfitting as a nuclear-powered fast attack submarine when she started to sink bow first in the 34-foot-deep river.

There is no danger of radioactivity, the Navy said, since the nuclear core for the power plant had not yet been installed.

Flooding started in a forward compartment, Navy officers said, and the crew and Mare Island workmen were quickly forced from the craft which was launched here in July 1968.

No cause for the flooding was given immediately.

Workmen and the crew were unable to close hatches quickly since welding lines and air hoss had been pulled through them from the shore.

The 3,500-ton sub sank in five minutes, an official said. Since she is on a tilt, the rear sail fin and the mast remained out of water.

Bystanders said electrical equipment appeared heavily damaged.

TV, Change Stolen

Stephen N. Scheinman of 100 Rose Road, Sausalito, reported to the sheriff's department Monday his apartment had been entered and a portable television set and $9 in change taken, officers said yesterday.

Red Hill Exercises Set For June 12

Red Hill Intermediate School in San Anselmo will hold its graduation exercises at 7:30 p.m., June 12, in the school amphitheater. There are 123 graduating eighth graders.

Class speakers are Susan Brower and Mark McKee and the school band will play with a trumpet duet by Jeff Lederman and David Farey. A dance will follow the exercises in the Isabel Cook auditorium.

Theft Of Tools

Burglars who entered the apartment of William McCabe Richardson at 243 North San Pedro Road, Santa Venetia Tuesday took a bottle of whiskey, check book and a too box containing a hydrometer, two sockets sets, electric meter, compressor and a gauge, sheriff's deputies said yesterday.

Business License Revisions Sought

which are included in each classification. The new ordinance, with definite lists under each category, is more clear cut, he said.

Another change is the inclusion of newspapers, radio and television stations. Annual charges, based on league figures, would be a $50 fee plus $5 per full-time employee working in San Rafael. It is the only classification which does not have a sliding fee scale for employees.

A category which has been greatly expanded, because the business has, is the coin-operated machine classification.

Under the current ordinance "mechanical amusement devices" and juke boxes were charged fees of 75 cents and 50 cents a month respectively. The new fees would be $15 and $10 per year.

Persons who distribute, rent or lease a coin operated machine would pay an annual fee of $35. In addition each machine would be taxed to the owner of the business where it is placed unless the distributor chose to pay the tax.

In addition to amusement devices and juke boxes, vending machines would be taxed $5 per year.

Among the changes in other classifications is the revision for retail stores.

Under the existing ordinance, written in 1948, a maximum of $350 is charged for businesses grossing $25,000 or more per month.

Under the new ordinance, such stores would pay a fee of $35 plus $5 per employee for the first 10; $3 each for employees 11 through 40, and $1 each for employees in excess of 40.

A major department store which currently pays the maximum indicated the new schedule would result in higher payments from the store. However, the store would not reveal the number of employees so the difference could not be determined.

A San Rafael service station also paying the maximum $350 a year would pay less than half that much under the new ordinance.

Other businesses included in the "retail-wholesale business" category in the proposed ordinance are: automobile sales, auto supply, bakery, building supplies and materials, boat sales, cocktail lounge, dairy, delicatessen, doughnut shop, drug store, equipment sales and rental, feed store, florist, grocery store, hardware, paint and glass.

Also ice company, liquor store, furniture-appliance, gift shop, meat and produce markets, men's wear, miscellaneous retail sales, nursery, office supplies, retail food sales, restaurant, shoe store, sporting goods, tire sales, surplus store, variety store, television-raido sales, wholesale (miscellaneous), wholesale (food), Christmas tree sales and closing out sales.

Service business, most of which are currently paying $15 a year, would pay a flat fee of $30 annually plus $4 for the first 10 employees; $3 for employees 11 through 40, and $1 for employees in excess of 40.

Included are alterations, appliance repair service, auto repair service, auto painting, auto towing, auto upholstering, auto wrecking, barber shop, beauty shop, bicycle shop, blacksmith, boat repair, bondsman, cabinet shop, catering, cemetery, ceramics shop, dressmaking, dry cleaning.

Also, finance company, gardner, gun repair, hobby shop, janitorial service, laundry-launderette, linen supply, machine shop, manufacturer's repair, miscellaneous services, monument works, patrol service, pawn broker, pest control, pet and groom shop, printer, refrigeration service, savings and loan, searchers, service and repair, schools and teachers, swim pool service, transport and trucking, upholstering and warehouse and storage.

Professionals, semi-professionals and trade businesses, currently paying $30 a year, would pay $45 a year plus $7 per employee for the first 10; $4 each for employee 11 through 40, and $1 for each employee in excess of 40.

Included in the category are: accountant, appraiser, architect, attorney, auctioneer, auditor, bookkeeper-stenographer, artist, bacteriologist, brokers, chemist, chiropodist, chiropracter, collection agency, credit bureau, crematorium, dentist, detective agency, doctor, employment agency, geologist, income tax expert, insurance company.

Also, interior decorator, laboratories, lapidary, masseur, osteopath, orthopedist, pathologist, physician, physiotherapist, real estate, surveyor, stone cutter, title insurance, urologist, veterinarian, X-ray technician, engineer, miscellaneous professions.

Other categories with fees per year unless otherwise noted include: advertising, outdoor, unchanged at $90; ambulance service (new category) $50 plus $10 per vehicle; yacht harbor, unchanged at $1 per berth; undertaker, unchanged at $75; bowling alley or pool hall, from $60 to $50 plus $10 per alley or pool table;

Hospital, from $50 to $75; rest home, from $30 to $40; contractor, from $25 to $35 plus $10 for each vehicle; taxi, unchanged at $30 per vehicle; garbage collection, from $630 to $900; carnival, unchanged at $150 a day;

Theater, down from $350 to $300; theatrical performance, from $10 to $25 per day; hotel, auto court or motel, from $30 plus $1 for each unit over 10 to $35 plus $1 for each unit over 10; boarding house, down from $15 to $10; rooming house, unchanged at $10; apartment house (three or more units) unchanged at $6 per apartment.

West Point Man To Hamilton Post

Col. Wallace B. Frank, 48, a 1942 West Point graduate, has been named Vice Commander of Hamilton Air Force Base's home unit, the 78th Fighter Wing, it was announced today.

Frank was recently transferred to Hamilton from Osan Air Base in Korea where he was director of operations with the 314th Air Division. Frank flew in the European theater in World War II and has served in Morocco and Panama.

He holds the Legion of Merit and the Distinguished Flying Cross, the nation's fifth and sixth highest military awards, and two Purple Hearts for injuries received during World War II.

The 78th Fighter Wing, responsible for the air defense of the Bay Area, is commanded by Col. Donald H. Lynch.

Kentucky Appraises Mary Todd's Home

LEXINGTON, Ky. (UPI) — The state of Kentucky is moving ahead on an appraisal of the 19th Century home of Mary Todd Lincoln, wife of the Civil War president.

The state hopes to obtain the building, owned by a hardware firm in recent years. Local legend has it that Lincoln visited his future wife in the home as a young man.

told the committee, which met in the Hotel Claremont.

The distribution of tax revenue should be on the basis of where it is collected, not where the taxpayer lives, he argued. "We'd be far better off putting in our own tax," Mellon declared.

Asked how he would resolve the problem of the commuter whose home county also wanted to tax his income, Mellon said "that's his problem when he gets home."

The older, core cities, bearing the brunt of the region's urban problems, cannot buy the needed solutions with tax revenue paid on the basis of population alone, Mellon argued.

His arguments, however, failed to change the committee's recommendation, which had been approved, 5-1, before he arrived. The committee's recommendations will go before ABAG's executive committee on June 19.

Committee members conceded Melon's objections were valid, but said that their study had turned up no guideline more reliable than population to determine need.

The committee, which has said that at least $100 million in new tax revenue is needed for Bay Area cities and counties, also agreed to recommend that the Legislature authorize all cities and counties to levy a 5 per cent tax on utility bills, increase state aide to schools and shift welfare financing to the state and federal governments.

But if the state fails to act on these recommendations, the committee said, then charter cities in the Bay Area should initiate city income taxes. In Marin, San Rafael is the only charter city.

The 10 per cent refund to cities and counties of state income taxes would yield about $30 million in the Bay Area, and the utility tax would raise about $20 million a year, the committee estimated. Utilities have opposed such a tax in the past, but Alameda County Supervisor Joseph P. Bort noted that it would be equal to 33 cents on the property tax rate in Berkeley.

At present, only charter cities may levy a utility tax.

Napa Mayor Ralph Trower, noting the committee had talked only about more tax revenue, asked "where's the tie to property tax relief?"

The chairman of the committee's technical advisory group, Kenneth H. Smith, Richmond city manager, answered that the new taxes only "would take off the pressure for further increases" in property taxes.

Hayward Mayor John K. Smith, chairman of the committee, conceded "it does depend on the good will of the local jurisdiction to use the revenue for property tax relief."

Mass Production Of "Soul Food"

WALTERS, Va. (UPI) — "Soul food" has been put on the production line here by A. L. Duck Jr. At his new $60,000 plant, Duck cooks 12,000 to 15,000 pounds of chitterlings (processed hog intestines) a week.

Duck, who bills himself as the "last of the big chitterling cookers" puts the cleaned intestines in large vats at 7 p.m. and cooks them throughout the night for about 10 hours.

The next morning the "chitlins" are coarsley chopped in a grinding machine, then packed in six-pound loaf pans with gelatin and placed in refrigeration to congeal.

Stanford Lab Is Picketing Scene

STANFORD (AP) — With arms linked, more than 100 demonstrators, most of them Stanford University students, tried today to prevent employees from entering a Stanford Research Institute building.

The pickets are opposing war-related research at the institute.

About a dozen employees passed pickets to go to work. Others were caught in a traffic snarl created by a barricade on nearby Page Mill Road, where an additional 300 persons gathered.

students and "street people" from the Telegraph Avenue hippie coony. The university had police clear the park at dawn Thursday and built a chain-link fence around it.

Reagan activated the guard and imposed a curfew under a state of emergency declaration issued earlier this year.

His order specifically banned loitering, meetings, assemblies, parades and the use of voice or sound amplifiers in Berkeley or on the campus between 10 p.m. and 6 a.m.

"These regulations are effective immediately and will remain in effect until further notice," the governor said in Sacramento. He gave no indication how many guardsmen had been called up.

The fighting broke out several hours after police and workmen cleared the one-third acre park, where dissidents recently installed playground equipment, sculpture and grass. The university planned to construct playing fields on the property and eventually use it for additional dormitories.

During a noon rally on the campus, student body president-elect Dan Siegel shouted: "Let's go down and take over the park?" The crowd, clapping and cheering, marched to the park where they were confronted by Berkeley police, state highway patrolmen and sheriff's deputies.

Tear gas cannisters were fired after several charges by club-swinging police failed to disperse the demonstrators. The dissidents then broke into groups and roamed through the streets, smashing windows, battering cars and engaging the police in hit-and-run clashes.

For four hours, the Telegraph Avenue area was a battleground, choked with tear gas and reverberating with occasional shotgun blasts. It was the first time riot guns had been used in Berkeley demonstrations.

A spokesman at Herrick Hospital said 44 injured persons were signed in there, but many were treated for wounds and departed before they could be registered.

Because of the presence of the National Gaurd, only 10 officers from the California Highway Patrol in Marin were sent to Berkeley today. More than 50 highway patrolmen, sheriff's officers and municipal police were dispatched from Marin yesterday.

number of narcotics offenders on work furlough, Sheriff Louis B. Mountanos last week began talks about the situation with the probation department.

According to Undersheriff Sidney Stinson, there were eight out of 17 men on work furlough last week who were drug offenders.

Jailors would like to limit the number of men on work furlough to six, who can be kept in one cell block. This week that has been accomplished, but at least two of the men are drug violators.

"I am totally opposed to narcotics offenders being given work furlough," Lt. Schwedhelm said today. "The whole idea of incarceration is to remove these people from the drug culture and give them a chance to learn they can live without drugs."

Judge Harold J. Haley, of Marin Superior Court, who sentences many offenders, said that he had just learned of the situation and that he thought a new look should be taken of the eligibility of narcotics violators for work furlough.

Stories of drugs in the jail had reached him earlier, he said, and a jailer had told him of finding "a great deal of contraband in a search of the jail."

Ohter judges have become concerned, too, after hearing of a man sentenced to jail for one day for a traffic violation who reported to a Municipal Court judge that he had been offered marijuana "for the first time in his life."

Jailers said yesterday that they feel the separation of the work furlough inmates from the other men is helping. "We can tell when there are drugs in the jail," one said. "We have trouble waking the men up in the morning and there are more fights."

Stinson said today that more conferences with the probation department will take place when the sheriff, who has been home this week with a broken wrist, returns to work.

for the first time since mid-February.

Extra U.S. Marines were ordered into defensive positions around American bases. Da Nang, about 350 miles north of Saigon, is U.S. Marine headquarters in South Vietnam.

Military sources expected the Communist attacks might coincide with the birthday of North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh on May 19.

The 44 planes lost in combat last week represented one of the heaviest aircraft losses this year.

Military spokesmen said Communist gunners shot down 18 of the helicopters while the others were lost to operational difficulties or on missions into Laos.

OBITUARIES

Alice Yates Dies At Age 80

Mrs. Alice Wulzen Yates of Mill Valley, 80, died today in a local hospital after a long illness.

A native of San Francisco, she lived at 297 Miller Avenue.

Mrs. Wulzen retired about 10 years ago after serving as a bookkeeper for 14 years with the Marin County Schools Department.

She is survived by a daughter, Carlita Hawthorne of Oakland, and a graddaughter.

Her family asked that memorial contributions go to donors' favorite charities.

Burial will be private.

BERTHA SMITH

Bertha Eveline Smith, 63, a former long-time resident of San Anselmo, died last evening after an illness at her home in Rossmoor Leisure World, Walnut Creek.

Mrs. Smith and her husband, Morgan M. Smith, resided at 34 Hawthorne Avenue, San Anselmo, until moving to Walnut Creek about a year ago following Smith's retirement from the Roy Smith Knitting Mills.

Mrs. Smith was a charter member of Fairfax Chapter, Order of Eastern Star.

Besides her husband, she leaves a daughter and two sons: Mrs. Diane M. Peck of Fremont, Roy M. Smith of San Jose, and Thomas W. Smith of Novato, and three sisters, Miss Edith Cull and Mrs. Anthony Silva of San Mateo and Mrs. William Copeland of Burlingabe; also 11 grandchildren.

Funeral will be at 3 p.m. tomorrow at Hull's Walnut Creek Mortuary, 1139 Saranap Avenue, Walnut Creek, followed by private cremation.

LESLIE HENNESSY

Leslie Hennessy, 79, of 130 Meadowcroft Drive, San Anselmo, died yesterday at Marin General Hospital, where he had been a patient two days.

Hennessy had been brought from Center Medical Hospital in Kentfield after falling while confined there.

ENGELTJE VAN DER LAAN

Funeral for Engeltje Van Der Laan, 77, mother of Tonnis Van Der Laan of 1182 Simmons Lane, Novato, will be held at 2 p.m. Monday at El Camino Chapel in San Bruno. Entombment will be at Skylawn Memorial Park, San Mateo County.

Mrs. Van Der Laan, a native of Holland, died in Millbrae Wednesday. She had lived in California for two years.

Besides her son, she is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Vallie Slate of Millbrae and Henderika Van Der Laan of Holland.

EUGENE BISCAILUZ

SANTA MONICA (AP) — Eugene Biscailuz, a little man with a courtly manner and wide-brimmed hat who became "Mr. California" among lawmen during his 26 years as sheriff of Los Angeles County, died today at 86.

He was known as a crack shot, a top rider favoring the sombrero and silver mountings of the state's Spanish past, a top administrator, a relentless tracker of crooks, and developer of a number of rehabilitation centers for prisoners.

He retired in 1958 after 51 years in law enforcement and had been in seclusion at his home here since suffering a stroke several years ago.

For decades he was a familiar sight in parades, dressed like a Spanish Don, astride a prancing horse, waving and smiling, often accompanied by his close friend, the late actor Leo Carrillo.

The grandson of William Warren, first city marshal of Los Angeles, Biscailuz joined the sheriff's department in 1907 when the force had only 27 men. At the time he retired, more than 3,000 men were under him.

He studied law by night and rose to assistant chief deputy sheriff's department in 1907 Gov. C. C. Young called Biscailuz to Sacramento to help organize the highway patrol.

When Sheriff William Traeger was elected to Congress in 1932, Biscailuz was appointed sheriff. He stood for election two years later and was elected until forced to retire by age.

Born in Los Angeles in 1883, he married Willette Harrison, his wife of 48 years, in 1902. After his retirement, he became the local chief of the March of Dimes and hosted the annual Sheriff's Parade in Los Angeles.

He is survived by a son, Martin.

Funeral services are pending.

aggression to be found in South Vietnam."

Both Communist negotiators repeated their demands—contained in the National Liberation Front's 10-point peace package—that the United States must withdraw all its forces from South Vietnam "without posing any condition whatsoever."

Although the Communists sharply attacked the mutual withdrawal proposal, which is covered in the first three points of the Nixon plan, they refrained from attacking others. These dealt with international supervision of the eventual ceasefire and general elections, the exchange of prisoners of war and the neutralization of neighboring Laos and Cambodia.

Compared with their representations in previous sessions, the statements of both Communist delegates were brief and restrained today.

Kiem said Nixon's reaction to the Viet Cong peace plan was "not a proper response to the over-all solution to the South Vietnam problem as set forth by the National Liberation Front."

He repeated the Viet Cong's oft-stated demand: The United States "must withdraw all U.S. and satellite troops from South Vietnam without imposing any condition," and stop supporting the "warlike and corrupt" Saigon administration and let the people of South Vietnam "settle among themselves their internal affairs without foreign interference."

Winn Says Hamilton Phase-Out Will Not Affect Air Defenses

The phasing out of the Western Region headquarters of the North American Air Defense Command at Hamilton Air Force Base will have "no effect whatsoever" on the nation's defenses against enemy attack, Maj. Gen. James R. Winn, commander of Western NORAD, told a group of Marin government, military, business and education leaders yesterday.

At the same time, Winn raised the possibility that other Air Force units might be moved into Hamilton after the NORAD and Fourth Air Force headquarters are closed down.

The two headquarters are to be closed by September as the result of a long-planned economy move by the Nixon administration restructuring the nation's air defenses. The move affects about 600 military men and 200 civilians at Hamilton.

Winn, who will retire this year, called the move of the NORAD unit from Hamilton to Richards-Gebaur Air Force Base near Kansas City a "good military move." He told the luncheon audience at the base officer's club, "We are not degrading our defenses. We'll just have fewer people."

He added, "It will have no effect whatsoever on the air defense of the western United States. There will be the same fighter units and the same NIKE (missile) sites. We're just cutting down on command and control."

He said the move to Richards-Gebaur was sound militarily because it put the control point on any air battles further away from the Pacific coast, making it less possible for submarine-launched guided missiles to knock out the command post.

It is also a good economy move, he said, because advancing technilogy in communications and commuters has made it possible for the same job on defense to be done with fewer people, fewer facilities and less cost.

In response to a question, Winn said base officials had no way of determining what economic effect the closing of the two headquarters and the placing of the base's combat center on a standby basis would have on Novato and Marin County.

He said that some units remaining at Hamilton would be beefed up, thereby absorbing some of the manpower reduction.

Earlier, before his formal remarks, Winn said he had been told by another official at Hamilton that 22 other Air Force organizations had requested that their units be transferred to Hamilton since announcement last month of the closing of NORAD and Fourth Air Force headquarters.

Air Force information spokesmen hastened to clarify the remark by Winn, an Army man, saying that while an unknown number of such requests have been made, none of them are in official channels yet.

W. J. Wider Wins Command Again

William J. Wider of San Rafael has been re-elected commander of the Marin County Council of the American Legion.

Other new council officers are F. W. Mosher Jr., of Mill Valley, first vice commander; Casey Van Gronigen of Novato, second vice commander; and Frank Swift of San Anselmo, finance officer.

Installation of officers will be held July 17 in the Twin Cities Legion Hall in Larkspur.

Ex-Marin Man Sent To Jail

Robert Bruce Lane, 28, former Marinite who now lives in Tacoma, Wash., pleaded guilty Wednesday to one charge of car theft as his trial was about to begin in Marin Superior Court.

Judge Samuel W. Gardiner gave Lane a suspended prison sentence but ordered him to spend one year in the county jail. He also placed him on five years probation.

Lane was arrested March 5 by Mill Valley police, who said he was driving a car stolen in San Francisco. A charge of stealing another car on Feb. 13 was dismissed yesterday.

Teen Faces Hearing On Depot Burglary

John Edward Brown, 19, of San Rafael, will appear in Sonoma County Superior Court next Thursday for a preliminary hearing on a burglary charge.

Brown, who pleaded innocent in Southern Sonoma Municipal Court and was bound over, is charged with the March 10 burglary of the Greyhound Bus Depot in Petaluma. The safe, containing $1,526, was taken from the depot and later found unopened near Stafford Lake, Novato.

Congress Hears Bay Called An Open Sewer

WASHINGTON (AP) — San Francisco Bay was described in Congress yesterday as an open sewer, in danger of further pollution by federal projects and, because of land fills, facing reduction to the size of a river.

California members of Congress voiced alarm over the prospects at a hearing before the House Government Operations subcommittee on conservation and natural resources.

Chairman Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., said the problems of the world famous bay are of such grave national concern that it was selected for the first phase of a subcommittee study of the destruction of the nation's waterways and estuaries by pollution and excessive filling.

Reuss, in a proposal that could stop in its tracks the proposed dredging of Saucelito Canal to Mill Valley's small craft harbor, said the Army Corps of Engineers should bar dumping of dredged wastes off Treasure Island and Alcatraz. Instead, all wastes should be dumped in the ocean, he said.

Marin County officials, however, have said that the extra cost of barging the mud from the canal out to the ocean could make the dredging prohibitively expensive.

Reuss' proposal was particularly significant because the Corps of Engineers now is considering Marin's application for permission to dump the 700,000 cubic yards of mud from the dredging off Alcatraz. About half to two thirds of the mud would be flushed out the Golden Gate Bridge by the tides, according to corps estimates.

Reuss also suggested that the Corps of Engineers consider revoking its old permits giving federal approval for filling in miles of shoreline behind dikes. All corps permits are revokable, he noted.

Reuss, who conducted the seven-hour hearing, instructed the Interior Department to provide evidence that the quality of the bay water would not be ruined by the planned diversion of huge quantities of Northern California water to Southern California.

He also declared the detergent industry should get rid of detergents that encourage the growth of algae.

Rep. Don Edwards, D-Ninth Dist., who called the bay an open sewer because of unregulated pollution for more than 100 years said "it is almost too late to save the bay."

If it is to be saved, he said, it must be done basically by Californians in California, but the federal government can help.

He said Rep. Paul N. McCloskey, R-11th Dist., said the effort to reverse the trends would require massive amounts of federal money.

McCloskey said the efforts of 110 cities around the bay to increase their tax base to meet ever-rising budgetary loads had contributed to their pproval of land fill projects. The original area of the bay, he said has been reduced from 680 square miles to 430.

With more fill projects under consideration, he said, "it is conceivable that by 1990 the filling of shallow waters of the bay could reduce it to the status of a river across which our grandchildren will be skipping rocks."

Rep. Jerome R. Waldie, R-14th Dist., complained that two proposed federal projects, the Peripheral Canal and the San Luis Drain, would further damage the bay's estuarian system, particularly in the Sacramento-San Joaquin delta.

The proposed canal would be devastating, he said, in diverting the input of fresh water, decreasing the size of the estuaries, reducing the number and variety of fish, and damaging the ability of the water to assimilate wastes.

Waldie said the proposed terminus of the San Luis Drain at Antioch would dump agricultural residues containing fertilizers and insecticides into the water system and add to pollution.

"This," commented Reuss, "does not seem to be one of the soundest uses of the tax dollar."

Reuss said that if he were a Californian "I think I would join a revolt to get the state to take legal action against those who have engaged in land fills for somewhat ill-gotten gains."

McCloskey said the federal government "has been as big a plunderer as anyone." He mentioned the Alameda Naval Air Station, the navy yard at Treasure Island, and the San Francisco airport as examples of bay fills by governmental action.

Congregation To Join In Clean-Up Day

Members of the congregation of San Geronimo Valley Community Presbyterian Church will go to worship service earlier than usual Sunday and all prepared to roll up their sleeves and go to work.

Rev. Willard L. Frederickson, pastor of that church as well as the Presbyterian church at Point Reyes, has set both the 11 a.m. worship service and 9:30 a.m. church school ahead to 9 a.m. and has asked his congregation to wear work clothes to church.

The purpose is have the congregation join forces with a newly created committee in the valley, Geronimo, to perform community cleanup work Sunday from 10 a.m. to noon.

Geronimo, a committee composed of members of the San Geronimo Valley Association and the valley's hippie community, was created in the aftermath of bitter differences that flared into occasional violence after hippie-style Easter observances in the valley. Geronimo's purpose is to seek ways in which the hippie and "straight" communities can live side-by-side in peace.

Frederickson said the cleanup effort will be followed by a picnic and discussion.

The changed church schedule, he announced will continue on a trial basis through June 15 to see if a shorter, earlier worship and school program can lead to greater community involvement of the congregation.

The Point Reyes Station churc hservice, as a consequence, will be changed from 9 to 11 a.m. Sundays, he sadi.

16,619 Are Eligible For Bond Election

A total of 16,619 persons will be eligible to vote in the $2.1 million bond election in the San Rafael Elementary School District June 10, according to Peter Meyer, head of the county elections department.

Sample ballots are being mailed today and Monday, Meyer said. Of the total registered voters, 12,967 live in San Rafael and 3,652 in unincorporated areas of the district, he said.

Cotati Plans Tie-In To Aqueduct System

The Cotati City Council last night approved a change in the city water system and the financial study for a new sewer system.

In changing the water system, the council decided it would be better to hook into the Coyote Aqueduct System that supplies water to the Rohnert Park and Rural areas rather than making improvements to the existing water well system.

Robert Heid, city engineer, said improvements on either system were estimated to cost $25,000. Noting general dissatisfaction in the community with the high content of minerals in the well water, the council decided that joining the Coyote system would be best.

Heid was instructed to draw up plans for a new booster pump system for the change. Anticipating the needed water improvements, the council set aside the required funds last year.

Beginning preparations for the tie-in of Cotati sewer lines with those of Rohnert Park, the council approved the use of the services of Bartle Wells Associates of San Francisco to make a financial study. The study cost was estimated at $400.

The Cotati city council also:

WALKERS — Gave approval to the request of the Bahai Church Club of Sonoma State College to walk through Cotati in a group on May 30 at 7 p.m. the group, seeking to demonstrate the plight of the Biafran people, is planning a cross-country walk from Guerneville to the college. A group of 20 to 75 persons is expected to participate.

NOISE — Received a petition from 10 residents in the vicinity of the inn of the beginning coffee house complaining of excessive noise. The city attorney was directed to find what power the city has to assist the residents.

PATCHES — Approved purchase of 170 shoulder patches for the police department at a cost of $214.

WATER LINE — Approved the expenditure of $220 to install a 12-inch water line in the Plaza

Inmates Indicted By Grand Jury

The Marin County Grand Jury last night indicted two San Quentin inmates who fled while out of prison on the institution's new work furlough program.

Charged with escape were David Ralph Clutts, 31, and William J. Arrowsmith, 25, both of whom were convicted burglars.

Arrowsmith, who had been due for parole in nine weeks, disappeared Feb. 24 from a San Rafael gas station where he had been working nights. He was captured April 21 in Dallas, Tex.

Clutts fled the next day but was caught in East Peoria, Ill. in April.

There have been 10 inmates on the work furlough program since it was started six months ago. In addition to the two men who fled, two have completed the program and six are still in it, according to prison officials.

Clutts and Arrowsmith are to be arraigned in Marin Superior Court Monday.

Judge Drops Case At Victim's Request

Felony car theft charges against a Richmond boatworks owner and his employee were dismissed yesterday in Marin Municipal Court by Judge Alvin B. Goldstein Jr. after the victim said she wished the case dropped.

Donald Charles Harlander, 43, of Orinda, and Quentin Tripp Lewton, 24, of San Anselmo had been arrested in San Anselmo March 20, when the car's owner called police to say, "Someone just took my car and they are going down the hill."

Redwood's Brigadoon

The musical "Brigadoon" came out "Bridegroom" in a headline yesterday in the Independent-Journal. The Redwood High School music department will present the show at 8 p.m. today and tomorrow in the school's Little Theater.

Alioto To Speak At Novato Dinner

San Francisco Mayor Joseph L. Alioto will speak at the annual dinner meeting of the Novato Chamber of Commerce, tentatively set for 7:30 p.m. June 19 at the Marin Country Club, chamber secretary Billie Garl said today.

Mrs. Garl reported the chamber's nominating committee named 11 candidates for five vacancies on the board of directors. Ballots will be sent to members next Tuesday, she said, and must be returned by May 30. Votes will be counted on June 2 and then a special meeting will be set to select officers.

The Novato Chamber of Commerce also:

FLY-IN — Agreed to publicize at Bay Area airports a fly-in to Gnoss Field by the Southern Marin Kiwanis Club Aug. 16-17.

CAREERS — Decided to study establishing a careers program for Novato high schoolers by expanding the annual tours of Novato businesses currently given foreign exchange students.

INFORMATION — Received a recommendation from a chamber member to set up a tourist information booth on Redwood Highway to furnish travelers information for the entire West Coast.

D.D.S. stands for Doctor of Dental Surgery.

Revised Library Plans Due Study

Marin County Librarian Bruce Bajema will show revised plans and a model of the proposed Novato Library to members of Friends of the Novato Library at 8 p.m. in the Novato Community House.

Bajema will also give a status report on efforts to secure new funds for the library as a result of the recent withdrawal of federal money, according to James McConnell, secretary of the library group.

Mrs. Aaron Counters Attacks In Magazine

Bella Aaron, chairman of the Marin County Personnel Commission, yesterday blasted the manager of the Marin County Employees Association for "scurrilous attacks on me and the commission" through the employee newspaper.

Mrs. Aaron took Randall M. Prevo to task for using "misstatements" in the May issue of MCEA News to attack her. She declared Prevo should criticize her in public, before Marin County supervisors or the commission instead of using the indirect medium of the employee newspaper.

"I'm sorry Mr. Prevo is not here today," flared Mrs. Aaron at the personnel commission hearing at the Civic Center. "He has been to almost every meeting, and today is one of the rare exceptions. . . . "He's had ample opportunities to attack me in the open. What bothers me is that he uses this paper to make scurrilous attacks on me and the commission."

Mrs. Aaron said she referred to two news articles in the May issue of the county employees association newspaper.

One article said that Mrs. Aaron "wishes the supervisors to express themselves on a philosophy of qualification of job applicants as related to special interest groups. Her position on the Human Rights Commission naturally lends itself to championing minority groups and she wants further commitment from the supervisors on this issue."

Mrs. Aaron said she is not alone in seeking a policy clarification on relaxing of requirements to help minority employment such as under the New Careers Program.

A second article by Prevo said in part: "Commissioners (Robert B.) McCreadie and (A. Bruce) McKenzie both appeared to question the advisability of adulterating the merit basis of government service with concessions to a special group."

These statements are completely erroneous, charged Mrs. Aaron. Both McCreadie and McKenzie said they did not make the statements attributed to them.

Flag Pole Plans At New Station

The Kentfield Fire Department plans to install a flag pole in front of its new station at 1004 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in about two weeks, Chief Kenneth Kamp said today.

Installation has been delayed awaiting outcome of a request by Union Oil Company for right-of-way across a portion of the fire station property where the pole was to be placed.

Now that the Marin County Planning Commission has turned down the oil company's permit to install a service station west of the fire department, the firemen plan to erect the pole, Kamp said.

Oakland Men Held On Burglary Count

Two Oakland men charged with a Petaluma burglary were denied release on their own recognizance yesterday in Sonoma County Superior Court.

Sherman Lee Shaw and Lonnie Cooper, both 23, were ordered held in lieu of $6,250 bail in the county jail to await a probation report May 27. Both had pleaded guilty to the April 30 burglary of the Western Auto Store, 120 Petaluma Boulevard North, Petaluma.

Two Boys, 18, Face Arraignment Monday

Michael R. Rundle and Phillip R. McFarren, both 18 and both of Novato, yesterday were bound over to Marin Superior Court on a charge of burglarizing the Lu Sutton School in Novato March 1.

They were told to appear in court Monday for arraignment.

$305,655 Office Contract Awarded

The job went to Speedspace Corp. of Santa Rosa, lowest of three bidders.

The buildings will be used to house offices displaced when Harlan Hall is demolished for construction of a new building, to be known as Harlan Center.

The buildings will be located in the main parking lot off College Avenue, resulting in the loss of 84 parking spaces.

Planning Director Dale A. Fleming had reported at past board meetings that the portables, when no longer needed for office space, could be moved to the north campus at Novato for classroom use.

The Marin Junior College Board Also:

CREEK WORK — Received a warning from Russell M. Ridge, biology instructor, that Corte Madera Creek flood control work at the east boundary of the campus was a threat to wildlife since water was cut off from a stretch of the creek. Trustees urged the staff to seek cooperation from the contractor to correct the condition.

CONCERT-LECTURE — Approved a proposed $29,275 budget for the concert-lecture program for 1969-70, with notice that it will be subject to modification.

LAPIDARY CLASS — Received a petition with 22 signatures and several comments protesting the proposed closing of the adult education lapidary class, and urged the staff to continue to seek space for the class scheduled to make way for credit sculpture classes.

MERIT SYSTEM — Set June 3 for an election by nonteaching employees, about 90 in number, to determine if they want to work under the state civil service system.

BID CALLS — Authorized calling bids for an expanded parking lot, 213 spaces, next to the physical education building, and for an enclosure for the kiln between the old Fine Arts Building and the Engineering Building.

NEW COURSES — Approved as new courses, business management with internship option, general oceanography, Western civilization, mathematics appreciation for the liberal arts student, string instrument workshop, urban community health, and directed studies, a social science unit.

RESIGNATION — Accepted the resignation of Calvin Riemcke, head basketball coach who has taken a job with Whitworth College in Spokane, Wash.

HIRING — Approved the hiring of William Tower as supervisor of grounds at $693 a month.

BUILDING LEASE — Approved renewing its lease of a building at 21 Mariposa Avenue, San Anselmo, which is used for storage and apprenticeship classes, for two years at a cost of $600 a month.

INSTRUCTIONAL EQUIPMENT — Approved seeking bids for instructional equipment for the 1969-70 college year, estimated to cost $75,435, with state and federal grants expected to reduce the local outlay to $55,557.

NEWSPAPER — Granted the College of Marin Times, the college newspaper, a $450 loan to be repaid from Associated Students funds so the newspaper can put out its three remaining editions.

VOCATIONAL FUNDS — Approved a movement to have state and federal grants for vocational-technical education be allocated on a percentage basis with community colleges getting 60 per cent. Trustee Harry J. Moore, vice principal at San Marin High School, abstained.

WORKSHOPS — Scheduled a board workshop session on capital outlay for 8 p.m. May 28, and a workshop on budget, salaries and priorities at 8 p.m. Thursday.

JUNE SCHEDULE — Decided to meet June 5 and June 26, because the regularly scheduled second meeting of the month, June 19, would conflict with commencement.

Trustee Donald K. Felt was absent.

Joint Performance

The combined orchestras, bands and choruses of Novato and San Marin High Schools will perform at a music festival at 3 p.m. May 25 in the boys gymnasium of Novato High School.

Collegians Hit 'Pigs' At Berkeley

A student's outburst against yesterday's events in Berkeley opened the Marin Junior College District board's session last night.

The student arose from the audience to report about "the pigs in Berkeley" and people being wounded with shotgun blasts.

Board president Theodore C. Wellman said he doubted it was relevant to the session.

"Yes, it is," the student replied, "Marin County pigs are over there," and it's information. "Mad dog Reagan and all his people had better wake up."

Then another student, Ed Stone of the Irish Student Union, said he felt the board had been intimidated at a meeting of the financial advisory committee. "A member of the staff has been threatened" and no action has been taken, he said.

Edward S. Schimberg, a member of the newly-formed Students for a Democratic Society, said: "I want to know who was threatened and by whom."

Wellman replied: "This is not a court of law and we're not going into that," and the board started on its agenda.

Library Session

The May meeting of the San Rafael Library board, canceled Monday for lack of a quorum, will be held next Monday at 7:45 p.m. in the library, secretary Vivian Smith announced today.

College Faculty Asks 10 Pct. Salary Hikes

The College of Marin faculty put in its bid last night for a 10 per cent hike in the salary schedule for 1969-70 which would add $185,000 to faculty salary outlay.

Other raises were requested by administrators and nonteaching employees.

Raynes also requested that part-time and evening instructors receive 65 per cent of full-time pay instead of 60 per cent, a boost he estimated would cost an additional $18,050.

Another proposal was that the requirements for moving up in the salary categories be less stringent, a change that would cost an additional $6,000, he estimated.

On behalf of all employees he asked they be given broader health plan coverage, which would cost an additional $6,261.

Raynes contended that the district during the current year had allocated less than 50 per cent of its operating budget to teachers salaries as required by law. As a consequence, he noted, the district had to return from $9,000 to $10,000 to the state.

Trustee Harry J. Moore said he wouldn't argue with the need for a pay increase for teachers, but didn't think "the board has the ability to raise any more money."

Ann Jack, representing the nonteaching employees, presented their request for a 5 per cent cost of living increase, which would cost an additional $34,866.

She also requested longevity increases for nonteaching employees, 3 per cent after five years and 5 per cent after 10 years, a change which would cost an additional $8,878.

Non-teaching employees also requested a dental plan, which would cost $6,756.

Dean of Students Irwin P. Diamond, representing the administrators, asked that their salaries be related to the faculty salary schedule on a ratio basis.

The system used this past year of granting administrative pay raises under a merit pay system hasn't been successful, Diamond said.

Under the ration system, an administrator's salary would be based on a certain percentage above the faculty salary schedule.

Raynes requested a workshop session with the board on salaries, and later the board set the workshop for 8 p.m. Thursday.

Board members later approved rehiring teachers for the 1969-70 year, but Trustee Elizabeth M. Deedy dissented on the list of probationary teachers because the board hadn't been given an evaluation report.

Family Life Film Series Is Approved

The Old Adobe School Board last night approved 3-2 the use of KQED's "Time of Your Life" film series and the teachers guide prepared for family life education classes.

The motion of trustee Dora Eldredge drew support from Margaret Kullberg and John Thompson, but negative voted from board president Albin Bionda and James Gambanini.

Supt. Dean D. Magowan said there was little board discussion on the matter and no participation from the audience. The film series, which was the subject of a stormy public session March 17, had not been listed on the agenda, but was brought up at the request of Mrs. Eldredge.

Trustees Bionda and Gambanini had previously opposed the series, saying the concluding segments of the film were too advanced for sixth grade students.

Under the approved resolution, the general guide prepared by the district administrators was approved and student participation in classes on human reproduction made optional.

The Old Adobe School board also:

SPECIAL CLASS — Approved the formation of a class for the educationally handicapped starting in September. Magowan said the class will be limited to eight children in grades one and two, and 10 children in grades three through six. He said $13,000 in state funds would be available.

SALARY RAISE — Granted a 5 per cent salary increase to classified personnel and medical benefits to be determined later.

VICE PRINCIPALS — Granted a 1.15 per cent salary increase to the district vice principals.

TEACHERS — Granted medical benefits to teachers with the amount to be determined during salary negotiations. The teachers were also granted a duty-free lunch period.

HIRED — Approved the employment of Elizabeth Kind and Patricia Morris as teachers with salaries not set as yet.

Credit Cards Taken

Burglars took credit cards belonging to Norman Owen Ash of 456 Ethel Avenue, Mill Valley, from Ash's truck while it was parked on Madrona Street between Throckmorton and Miller avenues between 8:30 and 10 p.m. Tuesday, police reported today.

Buses are replacing trolleys in Rio De Janeiro.

After 30 Volkswagens, Father Bittman still believes.

In the beginning, Father Aloysius Bittman bought a bug.

That was in 1957 when he joined the staff of St. Anthony's Indian Mission in Mandaree, North Dakota.

Since then, Father Bittman has gone a long way. In 30 Volkswagens.

Owning two or three at a time, the Bittman staff travels 600 miles per week in each. Over dirt and gravel roads and in temperatures that go to 55 below.

A few VWs ago, Father Bittman's '65 broke through the Garrison Reservoir ice.

"It was a good time for praying," he said.

Luckily, one 255 pound priest and one 1808 pound bug floated to safety. After the ice was chopped away and a quick oil change, the good father and his faithful companion were on their way.

He was a bit peeved about the oil change though.

"It set the Mission back $1.80," complained Father Aloysius Bittman.

Enrollment Of Foreign Students Brings Heated Trustee Exchange

Marin Junior College District trustees are in the unhappy position of parents forced to decide which child they will have to kick out of the house.

With limited funds, the district apparently will have to hold enrollment of full-time students at 3,800, and there probably will be up to 5,000 knocking at door.

Trustees took a first look at setting up priorities last night and got involved in a controversy over where foreign students should stand on the list.

There was general agreement that there wouldn't be any increase in the faculty for the 1969-70 year.

Then came the proposed priority list for students: First, continuing students; second, current Marin high school students; new foreign students up to a limit of 2 per cent of full-time enrollment and high school students enrolled in selected college classes; third, Marin students returning to college full-time after an absence; fourth, other new Marin full-time students; fifth, part-time students; sixth, students from areas in the state without a community college; seventh, students from other community college districts, and eighth, out-of-state students.

Dean of Students Irwin P. Diamond said there wasn't any question that those in the first three priorities could be accommodated, probably those in the fourth category, but the fifth category was questionable, and the others had no hope.

Trustee Harry J. Moore strongly opposed having foreign students in a higher category than some students from Marin.

He explained that he wasn't against foreign students, but felt the board "would be violating a trust" by giving them priority over Marin students.

Acting president Louis H. Herkenhoff explained that to place foreign students any lower on the priority list would in effect be phasing them out, because of the advance assurance of enrollment they need before they can get a visa.

"We have an obligation to the taxpayer," Moore said. "If we deny someone five miles away and give to someone 6,000 miles away, we'll be subject to real criticism."

Student John Ruchenski said that having foreign students on the campus provides educational opportunity, and Harry Gilbert, vice president of Associated Students, said they provide person-to-person relationships that "enlarge the horizon of students."

Del Mar Jackson, a member of the Black Students Union, said: "If you stop things from coming in, you stop your growth. Good things you get from people."

Student Michael McGinn said that placing part-time students in the fifth priority would be hardship on poor students, who have to work and can't carry a full class load.

These students would be discriminated against by an economic situation, McGinn contended.

Herkenhoff said there would be opportunity for these students to enter by appealing to the scholastic standards committee.

Board president Theodore C. Wellman said the board "wants to avoid any priority with discrimination."

Trustees decided to give full review to planning for the 1969-70 budget and setting priorities at a workshop session at 8 p.m. Thursday.

Police Arrest Teen Suspect On Warrant

A Petaluma teen-ager, facing burglary charges in San Rfael and Petaluma, was arrested again yesterday on a warrant issued by Southern Sonoma Municipal Court for violating the conditions of his release.

Johnny Slaughter, 19, was held on $6,250 bail to await a hearing today. He is accused of burglarizing three Petaluma businesses on April 10 and is scheduled for a jury trial in Marin on June 16 for the burglary of a San Rafael doctor's office on the same date.

Jewelry Is Taken From Novato Home

Novato police today reported the burglary of $205 worth of jewelry from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth E. Mitchell at 1337 Denlyn Street.

The theft of a watch and two rings occured between Tuesday morning and last night, police said.

Two Boats, Auto Reported Stolen

Burglaries of two boats and a car were reported by San Rafael police today.

A stereo player and 17 tapes valued at a total of $252 were stolen Wednesday night or yesterday from a car owned by Steven V. Stragnola of 217 Laurel Place, Apt. 10. The car was parked on Laurel Place.

A 34-foot boat docked at 135 Third Street owned by Lt. Col. Warren L. Andrews of 40 Juanita Court, Novato, was entered Wednesday night and binoculars, a barometer and fishing gear valued at $90 were taken, police said.

Entered Thursday was a boat owned by Gerald H. Smith of 124 Linden Lane, docked at Lowrie Yacht Harbor, 40 Point San Pedro Road. A depth finder and a chrome hatch cover valued at $155 were taken, police said.

All-Modes Study Of Transit Asked

Another study fo "all modes" of transit between Marin and San Francisco was recommended yesterday by the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District's commuters' affairs committee.

No estimate of the cost was discussed, but presumably it would be more than $1 million because the study is to include a $902,000 study of extending rail rapid transit across the bay into Marin, as well as studies of buses and water transportation.

Virtually the same study was done by the state Division of Bay Toll Crossings in 1967 at a cost of $850,000.

Committee members voted, 7-1, to recommend that the full board authorize the district to seek a federal grant to cover the entire cost of the study.

San Francisco Supervisor William C. Blake, noting that the Marin County Transit District is about to complete its planning of a bus system, and that San Francisco and Marin are about to complete a joint study of ferries for $45,000, said the new study should be only of rail transit to avoid duplication.

Committee chairman Joseph E. Sheeks of Belvedere commented, "We're always throwing up balloons that never seem to come down in any tangible form." He urged action on bus transit as "much more immediate."

Gen. Mgr. Dale W. Luehring suggested the federal government may be more interested in funding a study comparing rail and bus transit systems, but his suggestion won no response from the directors, who by then and argued for more than an hour about what the study should include.

dakis of San Francisco voted against the study on the grounds aginst the study on the grounds it would emphasize bus and rail transit, but largely ignore his pet, ferries.

The bus transit system, reported in detail in yesterday's Independent-Journal, envisioned an exclusive right-of-way for buses between Novato and downtown San Francisco for $313 million. Rail transit would cost $738 million, Luehring estimated. Both probably would require a special election in the district to issue general obligation bonds financed by property taxes, he said.

The committee also recommended a tiny step toward getting the district into the commuter bus business with a system that would use existing highways. This proposal, drawn by the district's former engineer Arthur C. Jenkins, would provide 150 buses for $8.5 million, and cost $1.4 million a year to operate from bridge revenue, according to Jenkins.

The committee, which has considered the Jenkins proposal for five months, carefully avoided endorsing it, but recommended that Luehring prepare "implementing plans for the acquisition and operation of a bus transit operation" by July 15.

Both committee recommendations will go before the full board next Thursday at 10 a.m.

Mill Valley Mayor Dean N. Meyer, who made the successful motion on the Jenkins proposal, said the step "puts the bit in our manager's mouth so he can tie the strings together."

Refugees Escape

HONG KONG (UPI)—Nine refugees escaped to Hong Kong from Communist China but three others were shot and killed by Red Chinese soldiers this week, Hong Kong newspapers reported today.

Cavanagh Is After Supervisor Seat

Petaluma City Councilman John W. Cavanagh Jr. announced yesterday he is seeking appointment to the vacant seat on the Sonoma County Board of Supervisors.

In the midst of his sixth year on the council, Cavanagh has been active on city committees and councils for nearly 15 years.

A Petaluma native, he operates the Cavanagh Lumber Co.

Gallinas Village Eyes Better Identity Name

Should the name Gallinas Village be changed to something else, like Venetia Village?

This question was posed by Albert Vaccaro, president of the Gallinas Village Improvement Association at last night's meeting of the Gallinas Village Community Services Districts at the Santa Venetia Presbyterian Church on Adrian Way.

District directors and improvement association members agreed Santa Venetia has a definite identity, but no one seems to know where Gallinas Village is located.

Marguerite F. Clark, secretary of the district, said no decision was reached, but the name Venetia Village seemed to be the most favored last night.

If a change is made, the new name would apply to the community services district, improvement association and perhaps the Gallinas Yacht Club.

The Gallinas Village Community Services covers the area from Birch Way to MacPhail School.

The services district directors also:

SUMMER RECREATION — Hired Mrs. Barbara Gregory of San Anselmo to head the summer recreation program at a pay of $900 for eight weeks, and authorized the hiring of three youths at $100 per week. Kickoff day for summer recreation is June 21. Herbert C. Belben Jr. and Mrs. Gregory will draw up a precise summer schedule.

APARTMENTS — Reaffirmed opposition to a 56-unit apartment project planned by P. J. Tarrant at North San Pedro Road and La Brea Way.

PARKS — Heard from park maintenance supervisor Donald S. Endemann that improvements are being made at Pueblo Park, such as installation of covers for water valves, returfing portions of the park and restaking of trees.

U.S. Accused

TOKYO (UPI)—North Korea charged yesterday the United States violated the Korean armistice by firing heavy weapons toward the North Korean posts in the demilitarized zone (CMZ).

Tiburon Man In Beating Case

A Tiburon man was arrested today for investigation of assault with a deadly weapon after Sausalito police allegedly found him beating up a woman friend.

Kent Lorenz Beardsley, 42, of 34 Terrace Court, was held in Marin County Jail pending $6,200 bail. He was scheduled to appear today in Marin Municipal Court.

Police were sent to the home of Donna Radford Wilkins, 37, of 136 Filbert Street, Sausalito, at 3:02 a.m. after receiving complaints about screaming and other noise inside the house.

Miss Wilkins told police Beardsley entered her home while she was asleep and started to beat her up, first with his fists and feet, later by throwing tennis racquets and other objects at her.

Miss Wilkins was treated for multiple bruises and a cut eyelid at Marin General Hospital.

8 Medi-Cal Claims Run Over $100,000

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Medi-Cal, the state program of health care for the poor, paid eight California doctors more than $100,000 each in 1968 fees.

That was one of the facts revealed in a report to the U.S. Senate Finance Committee, which requested a listing of all Medi-Cal payments totaling $25,000 or more to doctors, dentists and pharmacies.

The committee is investigating soaring costs for the federally supported medicaid program operating in 38 states at a cost of $5 billion a year.

The report for California-s Medi-Cal program was prepared by Blue Shield-California Physicians Service, the agency processing Medi-Cal claims and payments.

The report for California's Bert A. Ducote of Inglewood topped all medical practitioners in 1968 Medi-Cal collections with $152,458 total on 11,569 claims.

Galloways Pharmacy in San Diego was paid $240,817 in prescription fees on 52,679 claims. Three other pharmacies collected more than $175,000.

Dr. Dean L. Whitlow in Fresno collected $135,101, on 1,653 claims. He was one of four dentists paid more than $100,000 during the year.

As the fee report was being made public, the State Senate Finance Committee in Sacramento killed a Reagan administration bill intended to curb abuse in the Medi-Cal program.

The bill would have made the suspension of a practitioner from the Medi-Cal program grounds for suspension or revoking of his license to practice.

"I'm not going to vote to suspend a man's ability to earn a living just because he got himself crossways with an agency," said Sen. Stephen P. Teale, D-West Point, a physician.

The report listed 588 doctors paid more than $25,000 by Medi-Cal during 1968.

The Blue Shield report said these 588 doctors collected a total of $24.02 million on 1.19 million claims.

Thirty-three doctors collected $75,000 or more and 104 were paid $50,000 or more.

Eight-four medical groups were paid $4.6 million on 221,975 claims.

Boats, Cycles, Cars To Compete

Owners of more than 100 hot rods, "old timers," sports cars, motorcycles and boats will compete for 65 trophies in the Northern California Car Show to be held from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m., May 25 at the Northgate Fashion Mall, Terra Linda.

Mike Convis, president of the sponsoring Drake Scholarship Foundation, said a total of 40 Northern California cities will be represented. Many winners from indoor shows at Oakland, San Jose, San Mateo and Sacramento will also be on display.

The show's proceeds are used to award scholarships at Sir Francis Drake High School.

Sausalito Waterfront Plan Due Unveiling

The latest version of the Sausalito Central Waterfront Plan, unveiled more times than Little Egypt, will be presented at a public hearing by the Sausalito Planning Commission at 8 p.m. Wednesday at city hall.

The plan, prepared by planning consultant William Spangle and Associates, has been under construction for more than five years.

Driver Charged In Bus Deaths

NEWHALL (UPI) — Manslaughter charges have been filed against the driver of an excursion bus which skidded off Interstate 5 and killed three Girl Scouts.

The California Highway Patrol said Buster LeRoy Beebe, 32, Visalia, was accused of operating the Orange Belt Stages bus with unsafe equipment, specifically excessively worn tires, and at an unsafe speed.

Beebe is in satisfactory condition at Holy Cross Hospital with a fractured collarbone and bruises received in the crash last Saturday.

Dubuque was the first white settlement in Iowa.

Mill Valley Council Delays Budget Move

Residents, employees and staff all appeared before the Mill Valley City Council at a budget hearing last night, each group but one asking for its share of the city's tax dollar.

The council heard each group but delayed a decision until 8 p.m. Tuesday at city hall.

The revised 1969-70 budget presented by City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer called for a budget total of $2,098,767 to be financed by a property tax rate of $2.474 per $100 assessed valuation. The current tax rate is $2.31 per $100 assessed valuation for this year's budget of $2,000,406.

The only group who told the city to please stop trying to do them any favors were residents of Elm Street and Del Casa Drive who finally convinced the council they did not want improved streets in front of their houses if it meant having to pay any part of the estimated cost of $50,000 through an assessment district.

This prompted an outburst from Balmer, who said residents of the area had been "bugging" him for five years about the deteriorating street. Balmer said he thought it a "pretty shameful thing" that the residents were not willing to put a "small amount in now to develop a first class street."

Next before the council were representatives of 600 city tennis players who want two more tennis courts constructed in Boyle Park at a cost of approximately $30,000.

Their plea was backed by Recreation Director John Garber who said the city's three existing courts were overcrowded. Noting that interest in tennis is growing in the city, Garber said five years ago only 70 children signed up for the city's summer tennis program, but last year more than 200 children participated.

"As long as a child is on a court he's not going to be in a court," Garber said.

He added that the tennis courts at Tamalpais High School were inadequate because of a sloping and badly finished surface, nets in poor condition and a tremendous wind problem.

"Why, even the high school team plays their tournaments on our courts," he added.

About 20 persons in the audience said they would gladly support a 9-cent tax increase to finance the new courts.

"What can we do to convince you of the demand for these courts," one man asked the council.

"Well, if you bring a petition with 600 persons willing to pay the extra 9 cents, I might be more willing to listen," answered Councilman Jerome C. Hauke.

Mayor Dean N. Meyer, on the other hand, said a contribution from tennis players, "to get the project started and to show your interest" would help.

City employees appeared with a list of wage and fringe benefit requests totaling more than $110,000 in cost to the city.

Mill Valley Employees Association representatives asked for a 5 per cent salary increase across-the-board, estimated to cost $36,000; an additional salary increase to raise city salaries to the top one-third of the control group of 17 Bay Area cities used as a salary index, $36,000; four weeks vacation after 15 years, no cost estimate; paid hospitalization insurance for dependents, $10,138; paid dental plan insurance for employees and dependents, $10,440; overtime at time-and-a-half instead of compensatory time, $19,762.

City Engineer Stanley M. Bala outlined city street improvement and construction needs. The extension of Sycamore Avenue from Camino Alto to Highway 101 and Camino Alto between Miller and East Blithedale avenues are the two projects with top priority, Bala said, and both should be completed within the next four to five years.

Other important projects include a cross street between Miller and East Blithedale avenues in the vicinity of Forest and Millwood streets; East Blithedale Avenue widening from Forest to Carmelita streets; improvements to collector streets in the north ridge; Sycamore Avenue between Nelson and La Goma streets; East Blithedale Avenue from Lomita Drive to Ashford Avenue; extension of Madrona Street from Throckmorton to Miller avenues; Miller Avenue improvements, Reed Street to downtown; and street and sidewalk improvements to Montford, Molino and Edgewood avenues.

The final plea for city funds came from Public Works Director Ross Benson who urged the city to start a street maintenance fund of approximately $40,000 in the proposed budget, "so we can start maintaining the streets we already have before we build more streets we can't maintain."

Federal Approval To Marin Grants

I-J Special Report

WASHINGTON — Federal approval of $776,000 in grants to the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council and to the College of Marin were announced today by Rep. William S. Mailliard, R-Sixth District.

The council grant of $276,826 included funding of a three-month Head Start program by the Marin County Schools Office for 75 children and fundings of services for 2,500 elderly citizens by the Marin Senior Coordinating Council. Also included was money for a summer program for 500 youths.

The $500,000 grant to the college was for construction of a library to cost a total of $2,637,304.

Ear Cut In Crash

Robert E. Bohm, 43, of San Francisco, was treated at Marin General Hospital yesterday for a cut right ear after his car hit a pole and went into the ditch at 8:20 p.m. on South San Pedro Road east of San Rafael, the California Highway Patrol said.

Tip Leads To Arrest In Check Case

Acting on a tip from San Francisco police, San Rafael police yesterday arrested a Mill Valley man sought on bad check charges as he worked under a false name as an apartment house maintenance man.

James William Ferguson, 24, of 323 Molina Avenue, was booked at Marin County Jail on suspicion of passing bad checks, possessing a false driver's license, having a switchblade knife, and driving with a suspended license. The driving charge was on a warrant from Glenn County.

Ferguson was released on his own recognizance by Municipal Court Judge Hadden W. Roth to appear in court today.

Inspector Gerald Souza said Ferguson is suspected of passing bad checks for $55 Jan. 27 at Mayfair Market, for $11 April 16 at United Markets, and for $22 April 16 at Modern Eve.

Ferguson was arrested at 10 a.m. yesterday at Harbor Apartments where he was working as a maintenance man under the name of Teddy Ray Knowles, Souza said. He reportedly had a driver's license under that name, and the switchblade knife was reportedly found during booking.

Souza said San Francisco police passed along a tip about Ferguson's whereabouts because they are seeking him in connection with a burglary case.

Tam High Board In Budget Review

The effect of educational programs over a long period and keeping and adequate reserve were the concerns last night of the Tamalpais High School District board in continuing budget review.

A budget of $9.1 million has been proposed for 1969-70.

Edward J. Neumeier, district administrative assistant, said the board is trying to project needs over a three-year period to decide what to include in the budget for the coming fiscal year. At the same time, he said, the board would like to maintain a healthy budget reserve, possibly a minimum of $900,000.

Another budget session at 3:30 p.m. Tuesday in the district office will weigh the effect of salary requests from administrative and nonteaching personnel on the budget, Neumeier said.

No Cooperation Earns Jail Trip

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court yesterday sent a Vallejo man to jail and ordered him held without bail because he refused to cooperate with probation officers attempting to prepare a report to be used in his sentencing.

Jesse Jackson, 28, had earlier pleaded guilty to using another person's credit card at the Emporium to charge purchases totaling $54.59.

No new date for his sentencing has yet been set.

Water Plan Without Rate Hikes

General Plans for the long range improvement of the Petaluma water system — requiring no increase in rates — were presented to the Petaluma Water Commission.

David A. Young, city engineer, said Wednesday that more than $1 million in improvements have been made to the system since the city purchased it in 1959 from the California Water Co. He said there are portions that are deficient in supplying water to users and water pressure for firefighting.

For the future, Young recommended the commission consider adding a major storage tank in the McNear Avenue area and should replace many undersized lines, especially in the downtown business district.

Cecil Gealta, city finance director, said he is making a study of the self-supporting water system and how rates may be reduced while still making the needed improvements. The department now has $325,000 in the fund for modernization.

The Sonoma County Board of Supervisors recently increased rates in other areas of the county so that depreciation and improvement funds can be built as they have been in Petaluma and the North Marin areas.

ACCESS ROAD

Court Overturns Marincello Ruling

The First District Court of Appeals yesterday overturned a ruling two years ago by a Marin Superior Court judge that denied a referendum on the Marinello access road, but the ruling does not mean a referendum will be called.

The appellate court found that Judge Joseph G. Wislon erred when he ruled in April, 1967, that he must accept the determination of County Clerk George H. Gnoss that 94 of the signatures on the referendum petition were disqualified because of dissimilarities in handwriting with signatures on voter registration cards. The judge's own determination of the handwriting similarities should prevail, the court held. The 94 signatures would put the petition over the 6,090 total required under referendum law.

The ruling came in a suit brought by George W. Wheelwright and others in an attempt to block the Marinello development on the Golden Gate Headlands by forcing a referendum on the key access road — which subsequently was built.

It was one of three court attacks on the Marincello development. Of the others, one has been abandoned and the third, brought by the City of Sausalito on the contention of improper notice of hearing on the planned community ordinance for Marincello, is in the appellate court and probably will come up for hearing some time next year. Judge Harold J. Haley ruled against Sausalito in Marin Superior Court.

It's a long way from the appellate court ruling to a referendum, however — and the referendum itself might not decide much.

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney said today there are two routes which might be taken by the county, other than calling a referendum. Which route is taken will probably depend on attorneys for Frouge Corp. (the developer) and Gulf Oil Corp. (the landowner) "since they have their money involved," said Maloney.

One route, said Maloney, would be to ask a rehearing by the appellate court on the ground that it overlooked something. If that were denied, the case could then be carried to the state Supreme Court.

The other route would be to let the appellate court's ruling on the signatures stand, and attack the matter from another angle: the contention that a county ordinance establishing a route for a public road is not subject to referendum. This issue has never been before the courts, so if this route were taken the action would be brought in Marin Superior Court.

If the appellate court should deny a rehearing and the California Supreme Court should uphold the appellate court, and if the courts — superior, appellate and supreme — should hold that the road ordinance is subject to referendum, the resulting referendum still might not mean much.

If Marin County voters decided in referendum that they did not want the already-built Marincello access road, the developers could propose another road route, the board of supervisors could approve it, and the whole process could start all over again, Maloney explained.

The canceling machine used to process mail in the post office handles about 30,000 letters an hour.

Rohnert Park Homeowners Nominate

The Rohnert Park Homeowners Association last night nominated officers for the coming year and awarded prizes to youngsters who participated in the spruce-up campaign poster contest.

Nominated for president were James Cronin, Skyral Sweeney and Kay Hamann. They and the other nominees will be voted on at the June 19 meeting and take office in July.

Running for vice president are Dennis Oman, Dale Hummell and Henry Thomas. Nominated for secretary were Lorraine Latrielle, La Verne Thomas and Wanda Ayers. Norval Latrielle was nominated for treasurer.

Nominated for directorships were William Ayers, Frank Till, Bud Heth and Richard Day.

Abd-el Krim was the Moroccan leader of the Riffian revolts in 1921 and 1924.

$50,000 In Losses Recovered By ABAG

I-J Special Report

BERKELEY — Recovery of $50,000 of the $511,442 embezzled from the Association of Bay Area Government by its former assistant director was disclosed last night by its special counsel, Arthur Harris of Berkeley.

With the $65,000 received several months ago from ABAG's bonding company, the recovery cut the loss to $396,442.

The huge embezzlement by Thomas N. Truax was discovered in February 1968, and he was arrested months later in Florida after a nationwide manhunt. He is in prison serving a 2-to-20-year state sentence.

Harris told newsmen he had "a reasonably good chance to get the balance" of the funds, which Truax gambled away in Las Vegas. He declined to identify how the balance would be recovered, but said "generally, financial institutions" were involved. To be more specific in identifying them, he said, "would kind of louse up my bargaining position."

Harris reported the recovery to ABAG's executive committee at the Hotel Claremont.

In other business, the committee endorsed proposals to be included in legislation giving ABAG broad new powers over regional problems. The proposals, reported in detail last Friday by the Independent-Journal, are to be incorporated in an ABAG-sponsored bill by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael.

The proposals are to go before ABAG's general assembly at 7:30 p.m. June 11 in the hotel.

Bagley's bill would empower ABAG to plan and implement regional facilities for solid waste disposal, an airport system, open space and parks, air and water quality control, transportation and bay conservation and development.

Fairfax City Councilman Adelaide P. Wilson unsuccessfully urged that the governing board of the regional body include representatives elected directly by the voters "in order to be really responsive." ABAG wants it to be run like ABAG, that is by elected city and county officials.

Church School Plans Approved

Plans for construction of added classroom facilities to Novato's Bethel Baptist Church at 1929 Novato Boulevard were approved yesterday by the city's plan review committee.

The committee also conditionally approved a proposal by Dr. John R. Glassmaker to build an animal clinic building on the east side of Redwood Road near Lamont Avenue.

Planning director Brian Mattson said the committee's approval was subject to Glassmaker's resubmission of revised site and landscape plans.

Tennessee, from east to west, is 432 miles long but at the widest spot is only 115 miles north to south.

One-Act Plays To Be Given Tonight

The Terra Linda High School drama department will perform three one-act plays in a presentation called "Box" at 8 p.m. today and tomorrow in Room 802 of the school.

The plays, directed by students from Drama 5-6, will feature Colleen Degnan, Rikki Baum and Bob Turner.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Many Marinites Like Eating At Variety Of Sonoma Places

This is the time of year when Sonoma County dineries come into the season of their greatest popularity.

Marin County diners-out are loyal habitues of many of these restaurants and it is not uncommon on a sunny weekend to find them almost as numerous as the Sonomans at certain places. Food generally is good and prices are reasonable.

While most Sonoma restaurants are open the year round, some — Golden Bear Lodge in Kenwood, Mark West Lodge north of Santa Rosa and Cazanoma Lodge in Cazadero — operate on seasonal licenses beginning March 1 and extending through November.

CAZANOMA LODGE started a six-day-a-week schedule the first of this month (Tuesdays through Sundays). Dinners are from 5 p.m., and there is both lunch and dinner service Saturdays and Sundays, starting at noon.

During July, August and September, dinners will be served seven days a week.

It's an interesting, woodsy place with pools and a waterfall. Food's German and American.

IN THE RUSSIAN RIVER AREA, Hexagon House Restauant at the edge of Armstrong Woods near Guerneville reopened for dinners weekends April 26 and the schedule will continue through the remainder of May. During June, July and August dinners will be served seven days a week. Menu is continental. Rooms and grounds are pretty. Motel accommodations are available throughout the year.

ALONG THE SONOMA COAST, several good places are starting to fill their tables — The Tides Restaurant at Bodega Bay, Jenner By the Sea at the mouth of the Russian River and The Sea Ranch Lodge father north are all popular.

WITHIN THE NEXT five or six weeks, construction is expected to begin on a new McDonald's in Novato. This will be located on Highway 101 between Santa Rosa Savings and Loan Association and Denny's Restaurant.

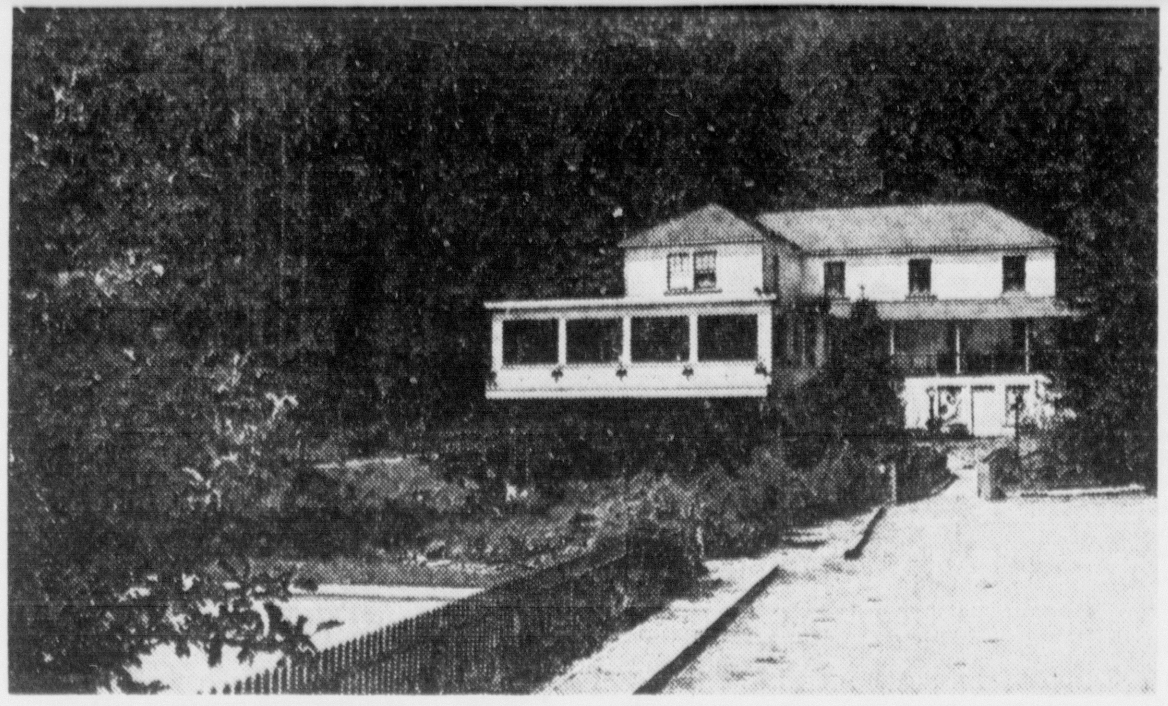
Planned is a completely new design in buildings for McDonald's, which usually has one style of facade. The Novato one, promises a brick exterior and tiled mansard roof, according to present plans. It will probably be the style for other McDonald's restaurants.

McDonald's is the famous hamburger chain, specializing in take-out food. And from that standpoint it is not actually a restaurant because there is no interior seating — and there are no carhops.

Property is part of the Redwood Realtors development. An investor has bought this lot, will put up a 1,600-square foot building and lease it to McDonald's. Probably there will be no opening before late summer.

REOPENED and back in business is Sabella's, which has had its kitchen completely remodeled after the recent fire, with new equipment installed.

And it just occurs to me that possibly one reason why Marin restaurants seemed to be so crowded on Mother's Day this year, could be because of Sabella's temporary closing. After all, over 1,000 hungry people (the customary Mother's Day crowd for this restaurant) had to eat elsewhere.



NOW OPEN SIX DAYS — Cazanoma Lodge near the Russian River is now open for dinners Tuesdays through Sundays during May and June.

Marin Dining And Wining

DOCTOR'S PRESCRIPTION. A surgeon from Walla Walla, Wash., in San Francisco for the recent American Urological Association Convention has a happy thought. He called a doctor friend and his wife in Tiburon and invited them to the "fabulour 10-course Gala Dinner, with all the wines, at Cafe Bon Vin in San Anselmo."

Imagine his astonishment on being told that they had "never heard of the place," although they live only about 12 miles away from it and in spite of local publicity.

The Walla Walla doctor had picked up the information in a national medical journal last February from an unsolicited review of the restaurant written by one of his contemporaries who had visited here. I guess the Tiburon doctor doesn't read either medical reviews or newspapers.

THE SEVEN SEAS in Sausalito had a big purveyors' party last week to show off its new Rollamatic roof over the patio, with chefs Wally Price and Eric Benson giving their best to the menu.

Not to be outdone, the headliner of the evening — the movable roof — came in for frequent demonstrations, alternately serving to ventilate and enclose the patio, which now becomes an all-weather dining room, similar to that of La Petite Auberge in San Rafael.

This increases the table capacity for Paul and Della De Moss almost 100 per cent. The space will be put to good use every night, I am sure. And at lunchtime too for this is one of the most popular restaurants in downtown Sausalito.

FOR A LIMITED TIME, Bernard's Executive Lounge in San Rafael has a two-for-one dinner special going every night it's open — Mondays through Thursdays from 6 to 9 p.m. and to 10 p.m. on Fridays and Saturdays.

As I understand it, this applies to any dinner on the menu and it's worth while checking out, as Don Bernard has added several new items to the menu recently.

URSULA VALAN, partner with her husband in the Grotto, San Rafael is the one who prepares that fine seafood. She's very fussy about it and says she intends to keep at it no matter how big the restaurant gets.

THERE IS NOW fresh grilled salmon on the menu daily at Franchini's Chateau, 101 Highway at Lucas Valley Road. And Franchini's de luxe seafood plate is also available nightly. These, by the way, are the two favorites of most guests ordering from the Friday night seafood menu.

I WILL BE AWAY on vacation for the rest of this month and there will be no restaurant column on this page until June 6.

Meanwhile, I'd suggest you check out the new Holiday Inn on Northgate Drive at the Terra Linda entrance from Highway 101. The restaurant is due to open shortly and may even be ready sometime next week. The telephone is listed in the new directory.

Chef Ben Fujihara has returned to Marin to take over the food operation.

LOOKING AHEAD, I also understand that San Rafael Joe's will close on Memorial Day, May 30. That is a Friday. The next day, Saturday, Joe's will be open and then close on the following Sunday, June 1, as usual.

THE NEW Senor Alfredo's Mexican Restaurant in San Anselmo is still celebrating its grand opening for the rest of the week (tonight through Sunday). Champagne is being served on the dinner.

Plan Reaction Is To Be Aired

The Educational Services Committee of the Marin County Board of Education will discuss reaction of Marin County high school districts to the county schools proposals for a coordinated program for educating pregnant teen-agers at 7:30 p.m., Monday.

Meeting at 7:30 p.m. also is the board's Administrative Services Committee which will have on its agenda a report by Robert E. Spain, director of administrative services, on final teacher salary proposals for 1969-70.

The Special Services Committee, which meets at 8:30 p.m., will discuss plans for the proposed child development center to be built at Dominican College.

Reagan Supports Personal Plates

SACRAMENTO (AP) — As far as Gov. Ronald Reagan is concerned, a California motorist should be able to name his car after a baseball team, his college, his wife — or even his mother-in-law.

That was the effect of the governor's announcement at a news conference yesterday that his administration backs proposed legislation allowing personalized license plates, at an unspecified extra cost.

The special plates could be any combination of two to six numbers or letters, except those which "violate common standards of decency or conflict with present plate number runs."

Corte Madera Council Approves Salary Hikes Costing $28,000

Salary increases for municipal employees which will cost Corte Madera approximately $28,000 next year were approved last night by the town council.

Councilmen tampered only slightly with the recommendations of Town Mgr. Ron Usher during a calm four-hour session in which the council studied each job classification individually.

The council made only five changes to Usher's recommendations and in each case called for a 2.5 per cent increase above the town manger's suggestion.

With a crowd of about 20 persons watching quietly, the council authorized 5 per cent raises for nine employees, 7.5 per cent increases for 23 employees, 10 per cent hikes for five employees and a 17.5 per cent jump for one employee.

Recipient of the 17.5 per cent raise was the town's director of public works, Art Morrison, who has taken on additional duties as the town's engineer. Beginning July 1, Morrison will fall in a bracket ranging from $1,155 to $1,405 per month.

Three of the five changes made by the council were in the public safety class. Usher had called for 5 per cent raises for the dispatcher-clerk, firemen and fire lieutenant, but the council hiked these positions to 7.5 per cent.

The council also raised the increases for the engineering aide and senior engineering aide from 5 to 7.5 per cent.

In each case, the changes made by the council were to keep the same differential between classes that had existed in the past.

The councilmen were in almost total agreement throughout the night, with only councilman Harold Wagstaff differing to any length.

"I think the minimum raises anyone ought to receive should be 5.5 per cent," he said. "I don't like the rationale of comparing what other cities are paying and then trying to fall somewhere in the middle. I think that the city can afford to pay its people well enough so that we don't lose good men."

The raises authorized were about 5 per cent under what the town's employee Association had requested, but the council's action drew no fire from association spokesmen.

Frank Nelson, who doubles as the town's fire and police chief, said he was "quite pleased with the increases given to the men in his departments.

The council spent nearly two hours juggling the salaries in the public safety catagory before restoring what mayor Edward W. Colthurst called the "historic differential of 2.5 per cent" between policemen and firemen, with policemen coming out on top.

The 2.5 per cent differential was also recommended by Nelson and the council changed Usher's recommendation which called for a 5 per cent difference.

Receiving 5 per cent increases were clerk typists, clerk stenos account clerks, the chief building inspector, the sewer maintenance inspector and the superintendent of public works.

Raises of 7.5 per cent went to steno-secretaries, senior clerks, dispatcher-clerks, firemen, policemen, fire lieutenants, police sergeants, engineering aides, senior engineering aides, maintenance men and groundskeepers.

Ten per cent hikes went to the city's finance director, police lieutenant, police chief, mechanic and assistant superintendent of public works.

The council also altered some of the fringe benefits by authorizing time-and-a-half pay for overtime (with minimum of two hours).

The council also upped the uniform allowance from $90 per year to $120 and doubled the employees life insurance from $5,000 to $10,000, providing the employee pays half the cost of the additional $5,000, which will amount to about $18 per year per employee, Usher said.

The council will take up general items in the budget next Monday night, discuss fire and police budgets Tuesday night and the public works budget on May 26.

Total salaries for the coming fiscal year are estimated at $440,000, according to Usher.

Bingo Booze Box Bounced Badly

The Elks Club's bingo committee booze box was burgled Wednesday night, but nothing appeared to be missing, club officials reported yesterday.

San Rafael police said the box was kept in the carriage house near the Elks Club, 1312 Mission Avenue, and was found at 5:40 a.m. today, smashed near the swimming pool. Scattered nearby was liquor, mix and other items such as dice, dice cups and band-aids.

Police said the closet where the box was kept was locked but there were pry marks around the lock. A bingo committee member was to check the box today to determine if anything was missing.

Bans, Limits Out On 66 Pesticides

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department has outlawed 10 pesticide chemicals for all use in food production and has tightened limitations on 56 others because of residue on food products.

The department's action involves withdrawal of federal registration, required when such chemicals are sold in interstate commerce.

Dr. Harry W. Hays, director of pesticide regulation, said the cancellations announced yesterday affect companies which received one-year extensions in 1968 but did not submit new information or progress reports.

A department spokesman said the 10 pesticide chemicals for which federal registration is canceled included: Anthracene oil, citronella, EMMI, nabam, phenylmercury monoethauol, ammonium acetate, phenylmercury nitrate, phenylmercury urea, potassium cresylate, 8-quinolinol benzoate, and sodium cresylate.

Seven Get Drunken Driving Fines

Seven persons have been sentenced in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving.

William Millard Woodyard, 38, of 940 Meadowsweet Drive, Corte Madera, was placed on one year probation and fined $240. He was arrested May 8 on Highway 101.

David Carlton Arsenault, 33, of 17 Midway Avenue, Mill Valley, who was arrested Monday in Sausalito, was also placed on one year probation and was fined $200.

Kenneth Silverside, 44, of 126 Endeavor Drive, Corte, was placed on one year probation and fined 200. He was arrested April 24 on Highway 101.

James Hudson Lenhart, 37, of 860 Pine Street, Novato, who was arrested Dec. 22 on Highway 101, was placed on one year probation and fined $125.

Russell Wallace Osterlye, 50, of Westlake, who was arrested Feb. 14 in Sausalito, was placed on one year probation and fined $250.

Paul Stephen Buckley, 29, of 220 Cleveland Avenue, Mill Valley, who was arrested April 7 on Highway 101, was placed on one year probation and fined $225.

Norman Kester, 51, of 393 Eliseo Drive, Greenbrae, who was arrested May 4 on Highway 101, was also placed on one year probation and fined $120.

Los Angeles Man Asks Diversion

An application to divert water from an unnamed tributary to San Antonio Creek for use in domestic, stockwatering and recreational purposes has been filed with the State Water Resources Control Board by J. F. Wolfram of Los Angeles.

He seeks 28 acre feet annually within the season of Oct. 1 to April 30. Cost of the project was set at $7,500.

Wolfram originally planned a beef cattle farm on the property he owns just south of the Marin-Sonoma county line but is now considering a dairy farm, a board spokesman reported.

NOVATANS TO STAGE 'SKIN'

Members of the teen drama department of the Jewish Community Center of Marin concentrate in rehearsals for their production of "The Skin of Our Teeth" by Thornton Wilder to be presented at Brown's Hall in Mill Valley at 8 p.m. tomorrow and May 24 and 25. Listening to directions from director Gregory Norgaard are (from the left) Kathi Davis, Dave Wagner, Craig Campbell, Sandy Morse, Kris Morse and Fred Joslin.

All-Day Consumer Assembly Slated Tomorrow In Hub

"Wanted Alive: Alert Consumers" will be the topic of David Shoenfeld, a consultant from the Consumers Union, at an all-day consumer assembly tomorrow at the Festival Theater on the San Francisco Theological Seminary campus in San Anselmo.

Schoenfeld is substituting for Walker Sandbach, executive director of the Consumers Union, who had been scheduled to speak.

The assembly — designed, according to its sponsors, the Berkeley and Marin Co-ops and the Association of California Consumers, to "educate and activate the buying public to make the best use of income" — will begin at 9:30 a.m.

Another speaker on the program is Professor William L. Rivers of the Stanford University Institute of Communications Research, who will discuss "Are Communications Media Facing Up to Their Responsibility?"

Tests quizzing consumers on food costs also will be held. A registration fee will be charged for the program. Information may be obtained from the Marin Co-op in Corte Madera.

111 To Graduate At Neil Cummins

Commencement exercises for 111 eighth grade students of Neil Cummins School in Corte Madera will be held at 7:30 p.m., June 11, in the Corte Madera Recreation Center.

Participating in the program will be Ingrid Scharpf, valedictorian; Alice Simon and Barbara Desmond, historians and Lyndon Larson, salutatorian.

Marin Mosquito District Votes Benefits Hike

Trustees of the Marin Mosquito Abatement District have voted employees a 5 per cent cost-of-living increase and fringe benefits, including full health plan coverage.

Dist. Mgr. Allan B. Telford said the district would pay $86,266 in salaries and benefits in fiscal 1969-70, compared to the current $84,562.

Telford said an additional raise might be possible in January. Benefits approved besides the health coverage were sick leave of up to 120 days, paid life insurance premium and three weeks vacation after five years and four weeks after 10 years.

Telford estimated the 1969-70 budget at $150,000, up about $6,000 from the current fiscal year. No increase in the district tax rate of 25 cents per $100 of assessed valuation is expected, Telford said.

Marin Processing Tax Refund Forms

Marin homeowners have another week, until May 23, to apply for the 1968 tax refund of $70 and the 1969 homeowner's tax exemption of $750 assessed valuation, Assessor Bert W. Broemmel announced yesterday.

He said the extension was approved Wednesday when acting Gov. Ed Reinecke signed AB 2344 to give homeowners who failed to file by the April 15 deadline another chance to get in on tax relief.

In Marin, 32,861 have filed for the 1968 refunds of $70 each, which represents a total refund of $2,300,270. The claims were delivered today in Sacramento, and the checks will be mailed by the state controller to individual homeowners about June 15, said Broemmel.

"Since April 15 we've been accepting applications for the 1968 refund and the 1969 homeowner's exemption, subject to the law being approved," said Broemmel. "Now that the law is passed, we will continue to process the filings through May 23." The late filers will not get their $70 refunds until about August, Broemmel estimated.

"Anyone who has any question about the tax refund or exemption or need application forms should contact the homeowners exemption section of the assessor's office in the Civic Center.

ANNUAL SPRING DEBRIS

The Fairfax Garbage Disposal Company will pick up debris on the regular routes during the week of May 19th, 1969. Debris such as garden cuttings, tree trimmings, brush, etc. (no refrigerators, stoves, remodeling debris or similar items) must be placed on the curb. If no curb exists, debris may be placed by the side of the road. Only paid-up accounts will be entitled to this free debris pick-up.

Grange Debris Boxes for other types of trash will be located in the area below the ball field on Saturday, May 24th, 1969. An attendant from Grange Debris Box Service will be on duty and proof of residency will be required.

FROM THE ROUNDED deck at the home of Mrs. Robert S. Green in Tiburon, a panoramic vista encompassing the East Bay, Angel Island, San Francisco and the Golden Gate Bridge delights the viewer. Mrs. James Atkin, left, shares the view with Mrs. Green, hostess. The house will be one of the six open for the house tour Wednesday. (Independent-Journal photos by Roger Bockrath)

HAND BLOCKED LINEN used on antique chairs and for draperies gives a unifying effect in the spacious living room of the Belvedere hillside home of Miss Barbara Bridge, which also features dark plank floors and Oriental rugs. House tour committee members Mrs. John Hofmann and Mrs. James Crittenden observe an antique sword guard as Miss Bridge details its history.

Six Belvedere Houses On Tour

By BETTY FROST

Six unusual houses will be on display when the Belvedere House Tour, given each spring by St. Stephens Guild, is held on Wednesday.

Tours will begin at the San Francisco Yacht Club in Belvedere and continue from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. A fleet of station wagons will provide shuttle service to the homes. Tea will be served at the yacht clubhouse from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m.

Two houses on Beach Road on Belvedere Cove will be shown. Of historic interest is the home occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Frederick G. Zelinsky, which was originally a salon of the Pacific Mail Line's China, a paddle-wheeler with balancing sails which made the run to the Orient from San Francisco a century ago. Hand carved paneling, Corinthian columns, and mementoes of the maritime past give interest to the living area. Colorful plantings on the deck frame the view of Belvedere's yacht harbor.

A few doors down is the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rod Taft. This is one of the cozy shingled cottages built over 50 years ago, and designed by architect Albert Farr. Mrs. Taft has brought the vibrant water colors indoors where the living room combines dark blue and kelly green, making a bold background for her antiques, including a collection of Canton china. A collection of owls in media ranging from ceramic to crewel work reflect one of Mrs. Taft's hobbies.

ON THE BELVEDERE hill are the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Harris and Miss Barbara Bridge. A private interior garden is the focal point of the Harris home. Living room, dining room and master bedroom open onto the secluded garden. Inherited and collected antiques, such as the English butler tray in the living room, a Sheraton bureau in the master bedroom, and a Wells Fargo desk in the study are noteworthy.

The stained redwood contemporary home of Miss Bridge is set in a green and white garden. A pool and waterfall are highlights of the garden enhancing its natural wooded location. Richardson Bay, Sausalito and Mt. Tamalpais can be seen from the house.

On the Belvedere Lagoon, house tourists will visit the home of Adm. and Mrs. M. P. Evenson. Built of Philippine mahogany set in individual panels, the house was designed by Allan Steinau, Belvedere architect in 1964. An outstanding feature is the Texas shell stone fireplace, where impaled marine fossils can be observed. Portraits of Admiral and Mrs. Evenson done by artists Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Leyghton are hung in the dining room, with other paintings by these artists and a seascape by Alex Djigurski prominently displayed in the living room. A collection of guns and swords can be seen in the den. Unusual is the muzzle-loading flintlock musket brought on a log canoe up the Mississippi River in 1847 by the admiral's grandfather. Off the inner patio is a studio where Mrs. Evenson, an artist, does her work, and where some of her paintings will be displayed next Wednesday.

St. Stephens Guild members planning the tour are Mmes. James C. Irwin, chairman; James B. Atkin, publicity; Doty Edouarde, reservations; James Derryberry, hostesses; Jack Welisch, interiors and flowers; Thomas Fleming Jr., tea reception; Mr. and Mrs. Willard Pittman, transportation; Margie Matson, brochures and art work.

The work of Marin artists and artisans will be on display at the San Francisco Yacht Club during the tour. Represented will be Mr. and Mrs. Fred Palmer, bonsai plants; Margaret Atchley, collages and wooden assemblages; Helen Steinau Rich, drawings; Suzanne Himmelwright, Hazel Stitt and Nelcy Tarics, paintings; and Janet Van Evera, stitchery.

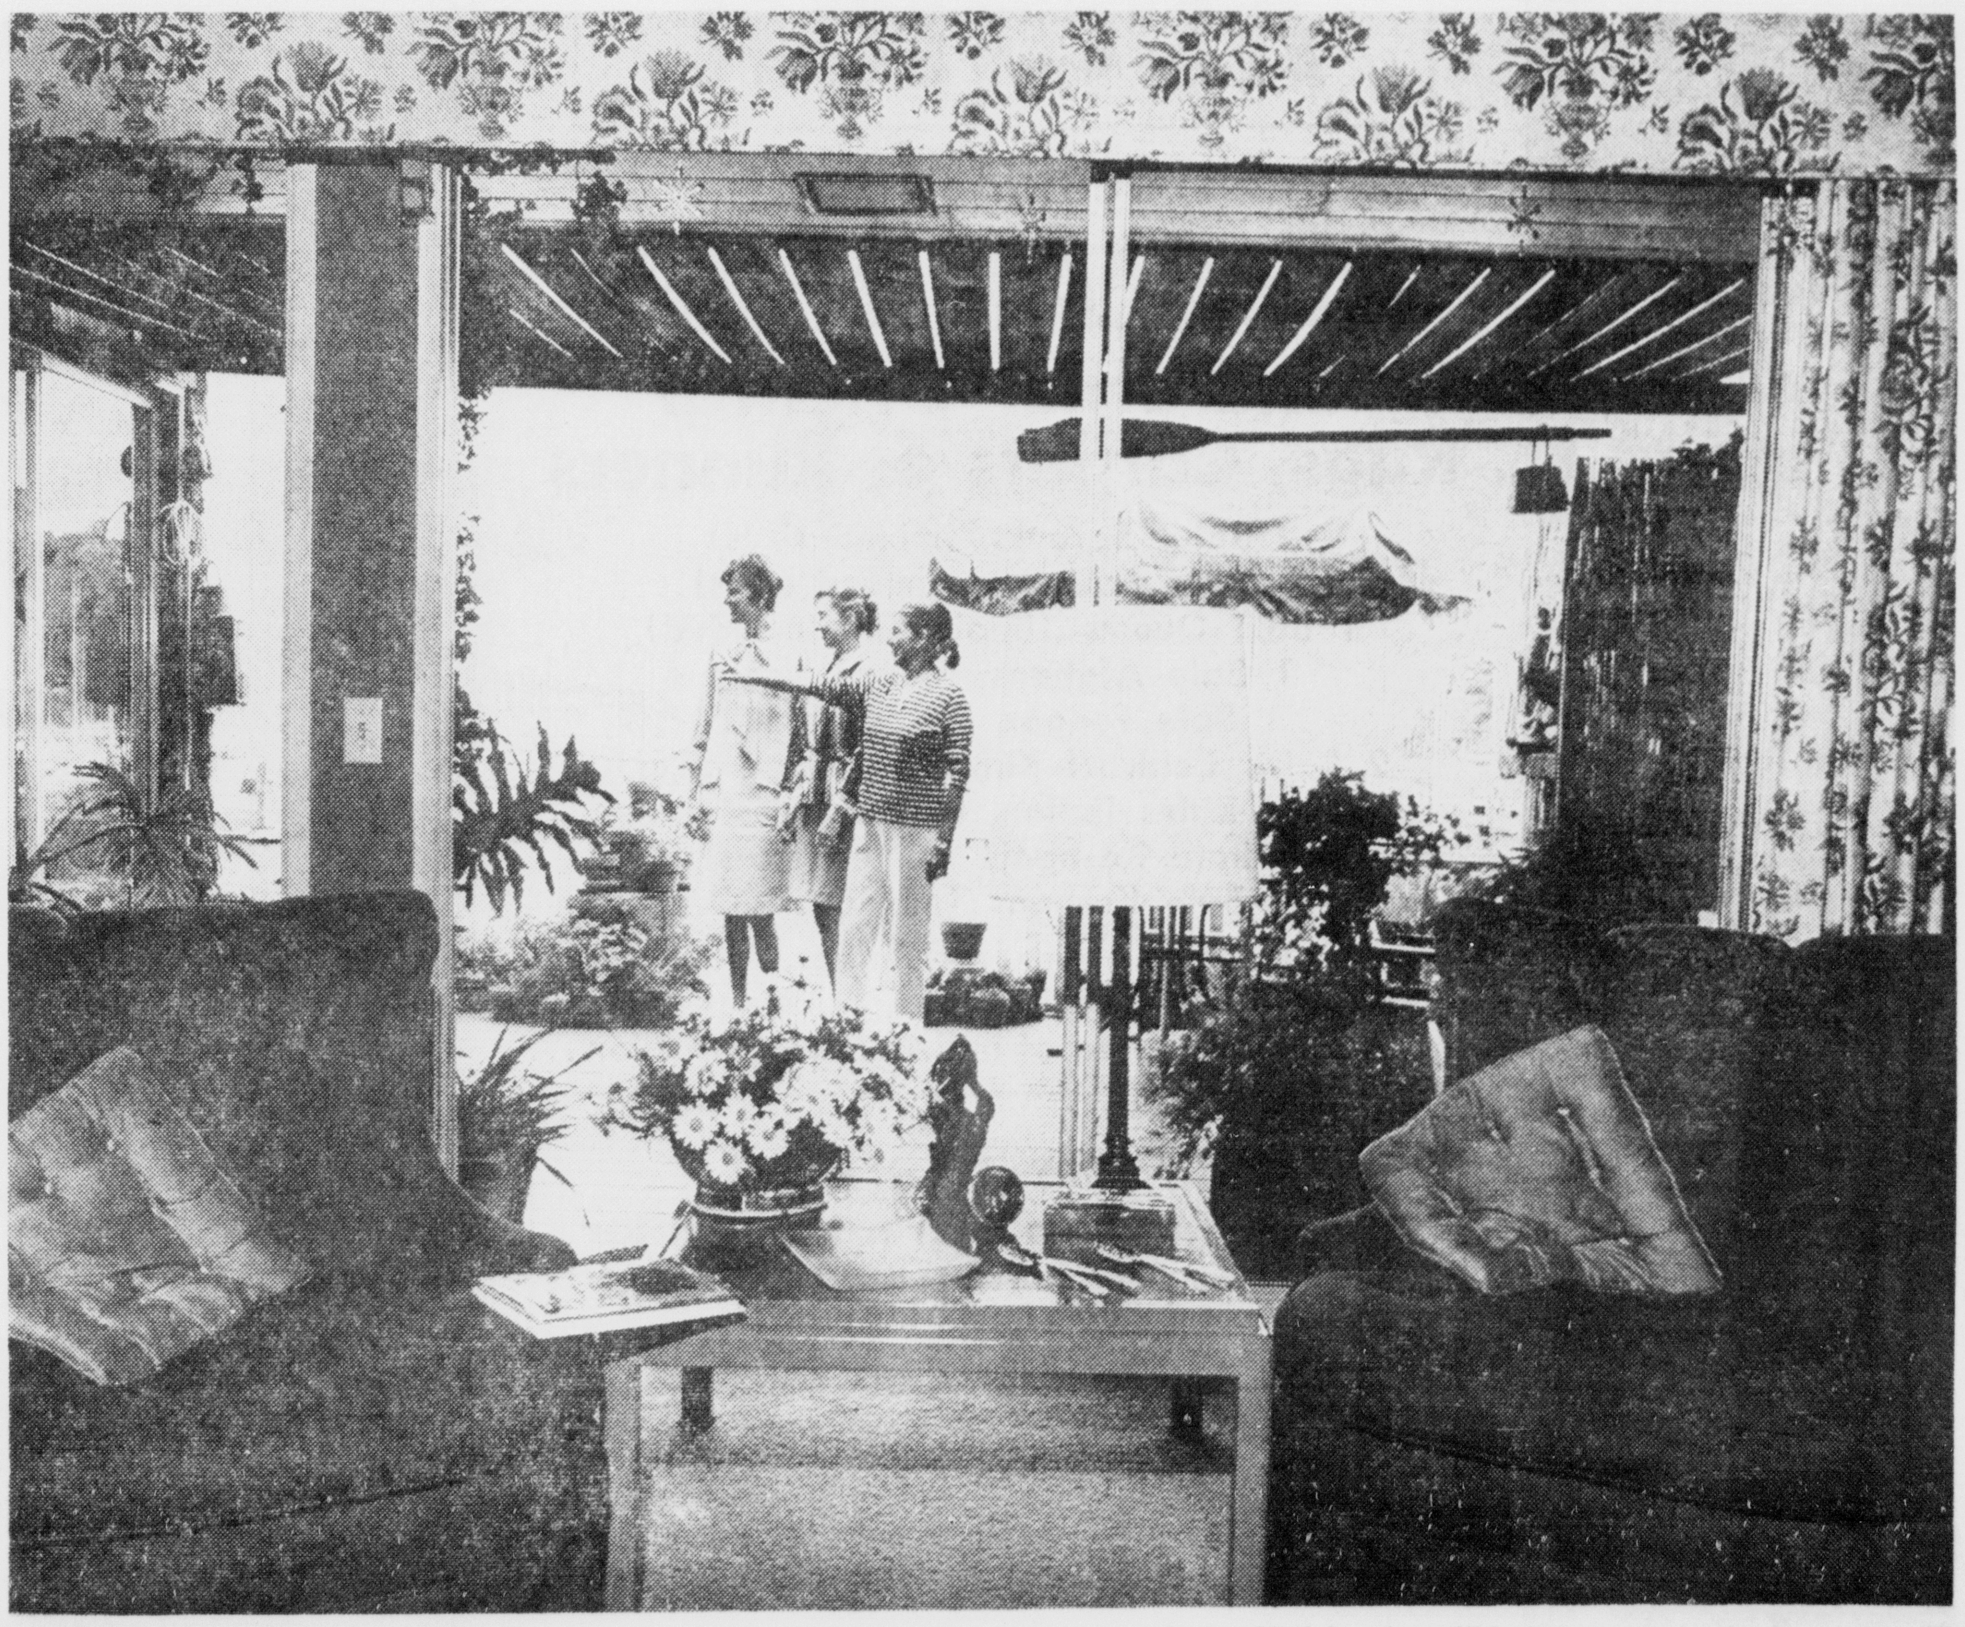
INSPECTING A SPINET made in England in 1804 is Joan Hofmann, 5. The unusual instrument in the home of Miss Barbara Bridge at Pelican Point, Belvedere, is one of the tastefully selected antiques in the home.



POINTS OF INTEREST in Belvedere Cove are indicated by Mrs. Rod Taft, right, from the deck of her home, to Mmes. Lawrence Daly and James Walsh, who will be hostesses at the home when it will be a stop on the Belvedere House Tour Wednesday. (Additional photo on page 21.)

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

She'll Stage Party Of Her Own If Excluded From Office Social

DEAR HELEN:

The office party hassle was most interesting, but none of the letters mentioned my gripe about them.

I'm not worried that some gal will swipe my husband because our arrangement has been that he has to take custody of the children, which scares off anyone with ideas.

What irks me is that wives are not included at office parties, even if their husbands want to bring them along, because the single gals feel odd about asking their boy friends to escort them. If parties were open to out-of-office invitations, the single fellows could bring their girls, the married women their husbands and that would leave the single gals out in the cold with no partners.

Here's the way to combat this: Next office party to which I'm not invited, I'll stage one of my own for other uninvited mates. And it will be a dinger. While my husband is cavorting with the little secretaries, I'll be dancing with the husband of his female boss. — MRS. M.B.

DEAR HELEN:

The letter from the lady who said her father whipped her with a switch at least once a day was the story of my life, except my father used a strap and my beatings continued until I was far into my teens.

When I was 17 I ran away and got married. Fortunately, my young husband was a kind and loving man and my mother and father-in-law treated me more like a daughter than my real parents had.

But even though I loved my husband dearly, I couldn't adjust to married life. I was very cold, and said and did mean things to him. Then I would feel terrible about it.

Our marriage was about to break up after a year, when my wonderful mother-in-law persuaded me to visit a psychiatrist. To my surprise, I found my case was not at all unusual among brides who had been overly punished and seemingly unloved as children. This treatment had made me hostile and resentful to all men.

As a teen, I was not allowed to date and when I got caught even talking with a boy I got a long lecture on morals and sex, as well as a whipping. This gave me a deep feeling of guilt about sex, even in marriage. Then I would try to hurt my husband because unconsciously I wanted to be punished.

The patience and understanding of my husband, combined with my new self-understanding, has finally brought us a very happy marriage.

Keep on telling married couples, Helen, that frigidity in either men or women is curable. It's often a childhood disease. — RUTH

DEAR HELEN:

I can't afford a baby-sitter and also get my hair done, so I bring Junior along with me. My shop changed hands recently and do you know that the new owner had the nerve to add breakage to my bill?

Junior tore a few magazines and upset some chemicals, but he didn't do any more than he always does and no one has complained before.

What can I do? — UPSET

DEAR UPSET:

Hire a baby-sitter. If you can't afford one, then do your own hair! — H

SALLY DAGGETT

Sally Daggett Engaged To Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Emerson L. Daggett of Mill Valley announce the engagement of their daughter, Sally Katharine, to Craig Thomas Blake, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reinhart J. Blake of San Rafael.

Sally was graduated from Tamalpais High School and attended College of Marin. She is a student at San Francisco State College.

The future bridegroom is the brother of Reid Blake of Novato. He is a graduate of Marin Catholic High School and the University of California, where he is enrolled as a graduate student.

Phi Beta Kappa

Barbara Scatena of Greenbrae has been elected to Phi Beta Kappa national honorary society. She was graduated from the University of California in December and is working on a master's degree in communication disorders at San Francisco State College. Barbara, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dismo Scatena of Greenbrae, is a Marin Catholic High School graduate.

Honor Society

Barbara Stout of San Rafael has been selected for Spurs, sophomore women's honorary service group, at University of Redlands. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Stout of San Rafael. Spurs members serve as official hostesses to visitors for the university.

DR. AND MRS. WILLIAM TREYTL

Donna Teuchert Is Bride Of Dr. William Joseph Treytl

A reception at Peacock Gap Country Club followed the ceremony.

Margaret Martin of San Francisco was maid of honor for the bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David A. Stevenson of Larkspur. Bridesmaid was Jennifer Siebert of Corte Madera.

Best man was Kurt Koehler of Richmond, and James Bradley of Castro Valley, Evan MacGibbon of Portland, Ore., and Louis Hayes of Garden Grove ushered guests to their seats.

The bride is a graduate of Redwood High School, College of Marin and Chico State College. She attended St. Joseph's School of Nursing in San Francisco.

William is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Treytl of South Pasadena. He was graduated from Loyola High School and Loyola University, both in Los Angeles, and received a doctorate degree from Carnegie Mellon University. The bridegroom is employed in the Stanford University Medical Department in Palo Alto.

The couple will live in El Cerrito following a wedding trip to Lake Tahoe and Kent, Wash.

and Gerald Ranghiasci.

Guests of the Charles O. Joneses are the Thomas Mallorys of Carmel, Michael Winters and the Sid Stockwells, while the Larry Bartholows of San Rafael will have as their guests Messrs. and Mmes. Ronald Antonioli, Ben Catanrutti, Richard Gaither, John Ribeiro, Al Lamperti, John Bassett and Allen Thomas.

Attending with Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Bunds of Novato will be Messrs. and Mmes. W. Douglas Johnstone, William House, Robert Smith, Dale W. Thomas, George Peterson and Lt. Col. and Mrs. Robert C. Beebe.

COCKTAILS AND supper will be served Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Max Thelen Jr. of San Rafael prior to the Marin Civic Ballet Association concert "Festival Encores."

Guests will include Messrs. and Mmes. Woodward Melone of Novato, Edward Ruff of Ross, Kirk Frederick, John Busterud and Dr. and Mrs. Edward Sargent, all of San Rafael.

SOME 150 guests have been invited to a cocktail buffet "May Party" tonight at the home of the Paul Lysaughts in Paradise Cay, co-hosted by the Jan Farnsworths of Ross. The Lysaughts will leave in early June for a three week trip to Naussau, so the celebration will also be a farewell for them. Musicians will entertain during the evening, as will Dr. Steve Walsh, jazz pianist.

A RECEPTION was given by the Russell G. Smiths at their home in Ross to honor Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Drath of Kent Woodlands, who were married last week in New York at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Freymann.

The new Mrs. Drath is the former Mrs. Erika Arzensek Weil of Buenos Aires, who was escorted for the ceremony by her son, Thomas Weil, who came from Buenos Aires for the wedding. Daniel Gilbert Drath was best man for his father, a widower. A reception followed the New York nuptials at the Metropolitan Club, where the couple greeted their Eastern friends. Both have lived in New York in past years.

After a wedding trip to South America the Draths will return to live in Kent Woodlands.

MARY TILDEN Morton, Sausalito sculptor now living in Hermance, Switzerland, writes that the big excitement in her life these days is the inclusion of her work and that of her husband, La Mont Morton, also a sculptor, in a Paris show this month.

The show is being held at the Galerie Saint Placid. She says they feel honored because the French rarely show Americans' work. They have 22 pieces in marble and bronze in the show.

FEATURED THIS SATURDAY

The subject of much recent controversy in Marin County has been the master plan for the development of Angel Island State Park recently approved by the California State Park and Recreation commission. It has been defended as a moderate program that will permit increased public use of the island without damage to its special character. But it has been severely criticized by many conservationists. Writer Gil Pearson reports on the plans for Angel Island in tomorrow's Marin Magazine.

There is only one non-governmental hospital in the West that makes braces and other orthotic devices for its patients on its own premises. And it is the Center Medical and Rehabilitation Hospital of Northern California, in Kentfield. There is an orthotics department, braces are made and fitted exactly to the special needs of the individual patient. As a result, weak legs sometimes walk and injured spines gain vital support. Tomorrow's I-J weekend supplement reports on this valuable service.

ON THE AGENDA

Retirement Reception Planned For Dixie School Official

A reception Sunday from 4 to 7 p.m. at the Marinwood Community Center will honor Dennie B. Willis, retiring superintendent of the Dixie School District.

The Parents Clubs of the Dixie School District are sponsoring the reception for adults only. The 10 hosts schools are Vallecito, Bernard Hoffman, Nova Albion, Santa Margarita, Don Timoteo, Oakview, Lucas Valley, Dixie, Mary E. Silveira and Miller Creek. Cohosts are the Council of Music and Arts, Dixie Teachers Association, California State Education Association and the Coordinating Council.

VOLUNTEERS for Marin Child Development Center will conduct a rummage and bake sale at Painter's Hall, 701 Mission Ave., San Rafael. Hours are 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. both tomorrow and Sunday.

Mrs. Stanley Kane, chairman of the organization, has announced Mrs. Jerry Walters of San Rafael will head the sale committee. She will be assisted by Mmes. Earl Bailey of Mill Valley, Fred Pracht of Mill Valley, Mel Berman of Terra Linda and Jack Tallman of Novato.

Items being offered for sale include a 1908 volume dictionary of the Bible; a complete 1907 30-volume Encyclopedia Britannica; water color drawings; pedal cars for children; clothing; electrical appliances; baby furniture; jewelry; cosmetics and others.

The Marin County Development Center assists marginally handicapped pre-school age children.

ON SUNDAY afternoon Mrs. Beatrice Atwood, grand guardian, and grand associate guardian of the state of California, Mr. Fay Bates, will visit Bethels 48 of San Rafael, 183 of Novato and 16 and 300, both of Santa Rosa, all of the International Order of Job's Daughters, at the Masonic Temple on Fourth and Lootens Place in San Rafael. Jointly conducting the initiation ceremony will be honored queens Sue Owens, Charissa Jaques, Terry Wilson and Debbie Neal.

Preceding the 2 p.m. meeting will be a salad luncheon at 12:30 p.m.

ON SUNDAY, San Rafael Assembly International Order of Rainbow for Girls will hold a tea at the F. R. Peterson home to welcome new members. They are Joyel Brown, Irene Vanden Bos, Pam Farley, Carla Schwartz, Roberta Foster, Sharon O'Leary and Leslie Corston. Jane Van Dyke, faith of the assembly, will be hostess.

Assisting Jane will be Jan Peterson, Patti Garbarino, Robin Campbell, Kathy Dougan, Nancy Garcia, Michelle Laird and Judy Jestadt. Mmes. Bev Irish, Robert Fourcade and E. H. Pullin will pour.

THERE WILL be a day of recollection on Sunday for all women of St. Rita's parish in Fairfax at the church on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Fairfax. Father Joel Gronowski, a passionist priest from the San Miguel Mission House, will lead the discussion group. Mass will be given at 4:15 p.m., and refreshments will be served in the parish hall following the service.

PI LAMBDA Chapter of Phi Beta National Fraternity of Music and Speech will present its founders day program and tea at the home of Helen Crowe Snelling in Belvedere-Tiburon Sunday at 2:30 p.m.

Carol Roth, artist pupil of Adolph Baller and piano instructor at Dominican College, will perform works of Beethoven, Brahms and Schubert.

Phi Beta members in the area are invited.

ST. ISABELLA'S Women's Guild of Terra Linda will hold a Mother-Daughter communion breakfast on Sunday. Mass will be at 9 a.m., followed by breakfast at Nero's.

Mrs. Frank Ratto is chairman with Mrs. Maurice Carmody as cochairman. They will handle reservations with all women of the parish invited.

PAST STUDENTS and friends are invited to an open house at the Union School from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday in Petaluma. Union School, five miles west of Petaluma on D Street, is the former San Antonio School, established in 1858. The Union School Mothers Club is sponsoring the open house.

A FAREWELL dinner will be held on Monday to honor the four exchange students who have been attending Terra Linda High School and four from the high school who will go abroad this summer to live with families, through the International Student Committee.

The committee is sponsoring the dinner for foreign students Fanny Margolis Kraychinski, returning home to Uruguay; Brigitte Petersen of Denmark; Doris Reckewell of Germany and Voltaire Tupaz of the Philippine Islands; and for Experiment in International Living students Carole Campbell, visiting Austria; Sue Giacomini, Italy; Gary Katz, Great Britain; and Pat Orsini, Germany.

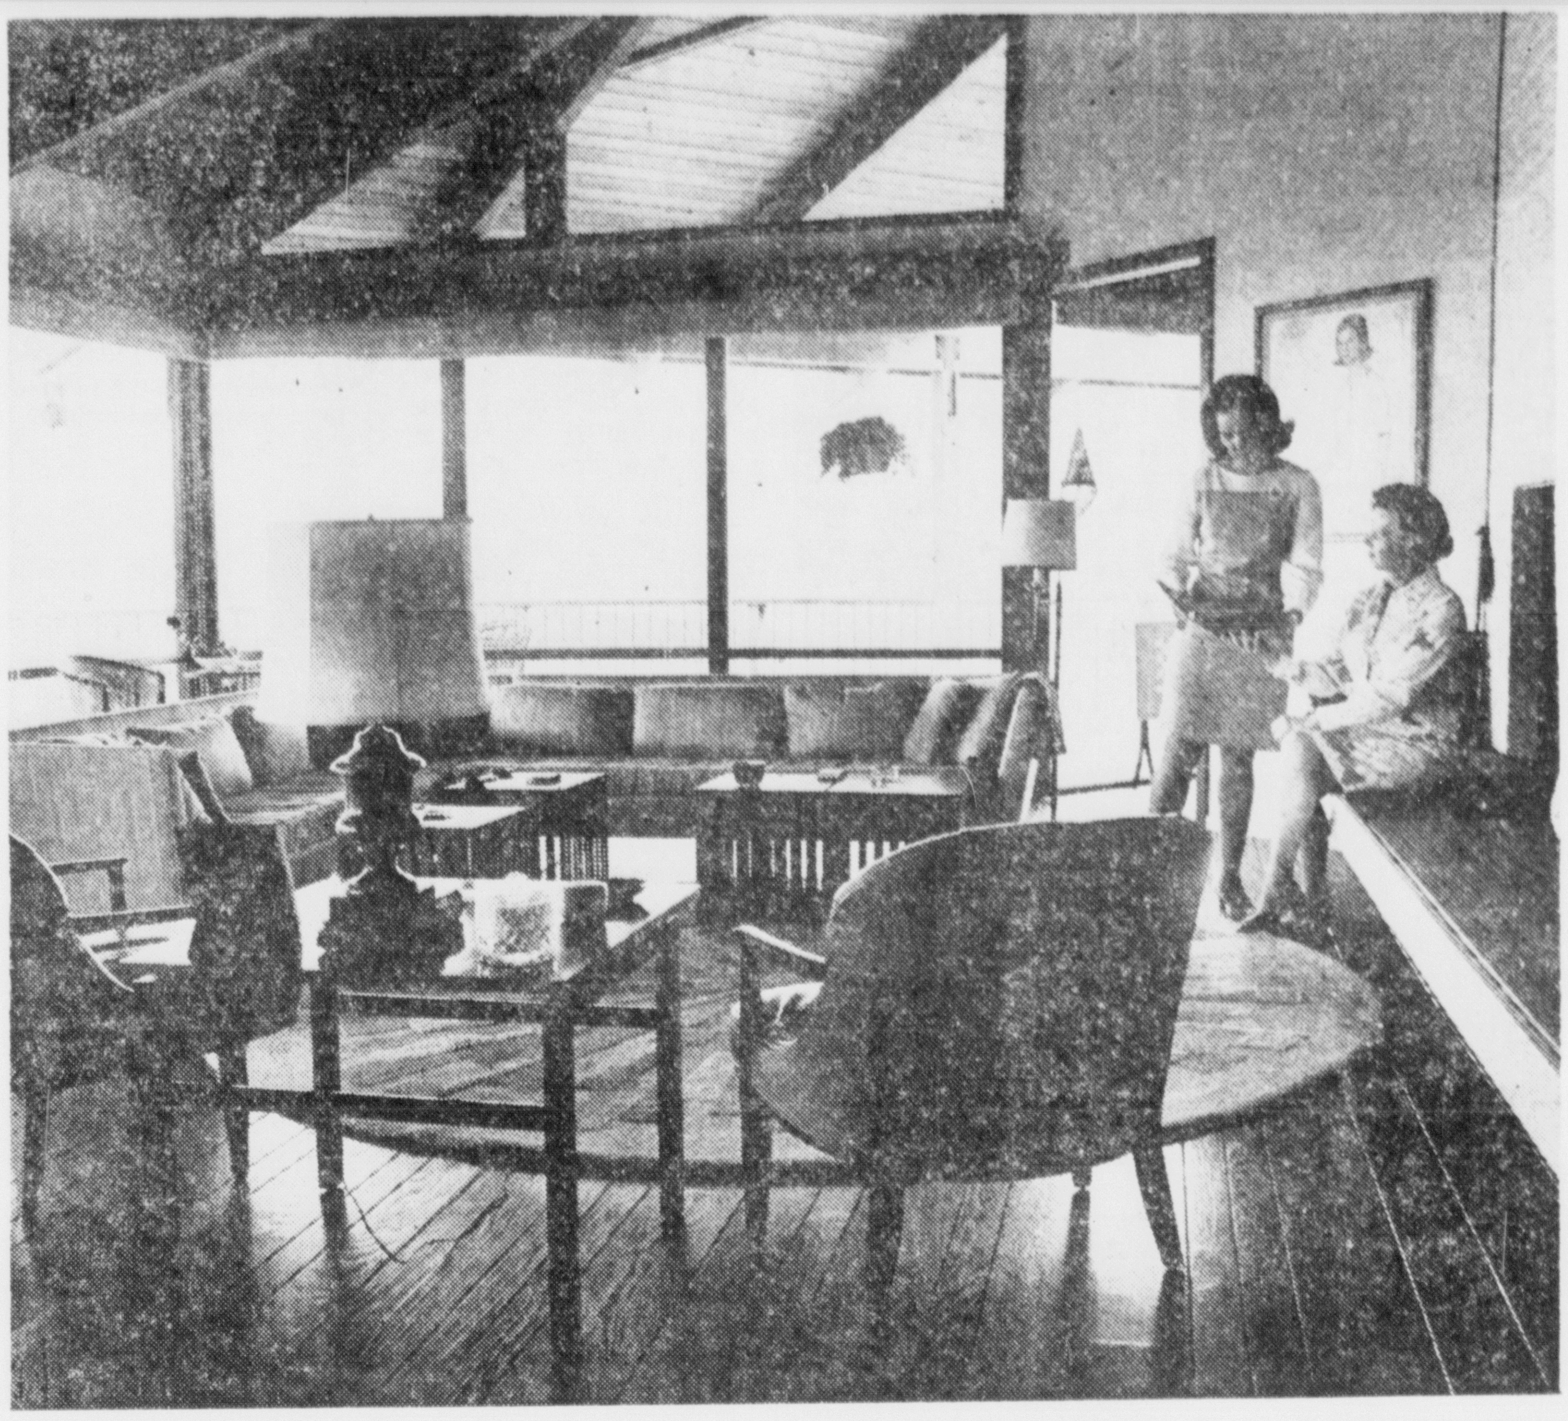
Clarence Leisure will be master of ceremonies for the dinner attended by students and parents, and entertainment will be by musicians and vocalists, Dan Jones, Marsha Bunney, John Pulsipher and Bill Hooks. The dinner will be given at the Terra Linda High School cafeteria.

THE LEAGUES of women voters of the Bay Area will hold their annual convention Monday at 9:30 a.m. at the Community Congregational Church of Belvedere-Tiburon, 145 Rock Hill Drive, Tiburon.

Anne L. Ellinwood, Tiburon councilwoman, will attend the convention as a special guest and will deliver a welcome address to delegates.

The 22 leagues of the bay area will give reports on regional problems particular to their area; steps they have taken in the past year to focus attention on these problems; and direction planned for the coming year.

The convention will adopt the scope for the second year of its current two-year study, evaluation of current proposals relative to regional government.



ON A GRAND SCALE in keeping with the "wide open spaces" setting on a Tiburon hilltop is the home of Mrs. Robert S. Green. Mrs. Vivian Whitney and Mrs. Dickerson McAfee preview the house for the Belvedere House Tour, sponsored by St. Stephen's Guild. The spacious living room is enhanced by antique pieces and a pair of Chinese paintings on silk purchased by the owner in Peking in 1935.

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

The Marin Motion Picture and Television Council provides these ratings of movies currently being shown in Marin County. The council's findings are from the California and National Parent-Teacher Association magazines and the Film Report of the Film Estimate Board. More complete reviews may be obtained by calling the San Rafael Library.

FAMILY

"African Safari" — Story covers a span of five years in central and East Africa of capturing live animals and snakes for zoos. Photographer records some awesome scenes. Incredible — a must see.

"Endless Summer" — Two surfers circle the globe in their quest for perfect surfing conditions. A beautiful and exciting film.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"Buona Sera, Mrs. Campbell" — For their 20th reunion, three fliers and their families return to an Italian village. Each flier has been paying generous child support to an Italian woman for her illegitimate daughter. Risque comedy.

"Changes" — A film about a youth searching for answers. He is a taker and never a giver, his immaturity prevents him from assuming responsibility.

"Charly" — Poignant dramatization of a fictional case history of first human subject of a new type of brain surgery on a mentally retarded young man. Thought provoking, sensitive performances from the cast.

"Elvira Madigan" — Tragic love story in a Swedish film of rare beauty.

"I'm Alright Jack" — Very funny British satire about the snafu which results from a strike in a missile factory. Cast is outstanding.

"Morgan" — Far out British sophisticated comedy about an immature character who knocks his head against the wall of social order.

"Nobody Waved Goodbye" — Thoughtful drama about lack of communication between generations. Film poses many questions but answers none.

"Romeo and Juliet" — The great tragedy is made vividly new and immediate in a superlative production.

"Twist and Sand" — Fortune hunters seek a cache of diamonds. A taut advanture suspense tale with skilful performances by the cast.

"Whispers" — A poignant study of impoverished old age. Role played superbly by Dame Edith Evans is a genuinely work of art.

BORDERLINE
(Most Sources Say Adults Only)

"Coogan's Bluff" — Lawman from Arizona goes to New York to bring back a murderer who is a dope addict. There is much violence and explicit sex.

"Fistfull of Dollars" — Skillfully developed action western. This Italian - German - Spanish production has an unusual amount of raw brutality and sadistic torture, not for the queasy.

ADULTS ONLY

"Accident" — Artistically produced film throws light on the empty lives of amoral people. Fascinating social commentary.

"For a Few Dollars More" — Beautiful photography and competent cast do not compensate for the agony of watching indescribable sadism and perverted violence.

"Night of the Following Day" — Taut thriller melodrama about internal pressures among four criminals during a kidnapping. Morbid violence, sadistic brutality with an illogical ending.

"Thomas Crown Affair" — Criminal and investigator become involved in a torrid love affair. Crime pays well in this case. Very modern treatment; all phases of immorality are taken for granted.

"Twisted Nerve" — Expertly produced British film follows a psychopathic killer as he sadistically murders. Nudity, and erotic fantasies add to shock of terror.

Famed British Actor Is Dead

Casson and Dame Sybil, now 77, married in 1908 and appeared together in scores of plays around the world.

Casson began his stage career in 1900 and shortly afterward met Miss Thorndike when both were members of "Miss Horniman's Gaiety Theater Company" in Manchester.

Their last stage appearance together was in a London revival of "Arsenic and Old Lace." After that Casson's eyesight was too poor for further acting.

Petaluman Due In Court June 2

John E. Barry, 36, of Petaluma, will appear in Southern Sonoma Municipal Court June 2 for a probation report concerning the charge of threatening with a deadly weapon.

Barry, who was scheduled to stand trial this week, changed his innocent plea to no contest. Judge Alexander J. McMahon dropped a charge of false imprisonment.

Barry, free on $1,250 bail, was arrested Feb. 23 and charged with kidnaping Steven Harr, 18, of Petaluma. Police said Barry forced Harr from a car at Wickersham Park and took him at gunpoint on a short drive in his camper truck to question him about another youth.

Astronauts Try Emergency Plan

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Apollo 10 astronauts Thomas P. Stafford and John W. Young climbed into a command ship trainer today to practice emergency actions they might have to take if their Saturn 5 rocket fails Sunday as it boosts them toward an orbit around the moon.

Their traveling companion, Eugene A. Cernan, slipped into a lunar landing ship simulator to run through a systems check. It was the final test in which the astronauts wore space suits.

Large Cast Slated For Mountain Play

One of the largest casts in this istory of the Mountain Play — more than 120 persons — will present "The World We Live In," a Czechoslovakian satire about man and his environment, at 2 p.m. Sunday and May 25 at the outdoor theater atop Mount Tamalpais.

The 52nd annual Mountain Play also will present live music for the first time — stereophonic sound that will surround the open air audience.

"The World We Live In," also called the "insect comedy" or "bug play," features large dance scenes with performers costumed as ants, crickets, butterflies and moths. Written in 1922 by Joseph and Karel Capek, the work is a dramatization of the similarity between insect and human drives.

This year's Mountain Play is directed by Robin Jackson in cooperation with the College of Marin drama department.

Tickets will be available at the gate.

'Great White Hope' Wins Third Award

NEW YORK (UPI)—"The Great White Hope" by Howard Sackler finished a sweep of the three major best play awards for the 1968-69 theater season yesterday when it was chosen as the outstanding drama by the N.Y. Drama Critics' circle.

The Circle chose "1776" as the best musical.

Lagunitas Artist Wins Lodi Awards

About 200 works will be exhibited at Barengo Cellars, three miles north of Lodi from 7 to 10 p.m. next Friday; 1 to 10 p.m. May 24, and 1 to 6 p.m. May 25.

St. Isabella's Revue

A variety show featuring songs and dances from around the world will be presented at 8 p.m. today, tomorrow and Sunday at St. Isabella's Parish Center, San Rafael, by students of St. Isabella's School.

"We do so have a buzzard at my school. They sound it every time we have a fire drill!"

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, May 16, the 136th day of 1969 with 229 to follow.

The moon is new. The morning stars are Venus, Mars and Saturn. The evening stars are Mercury and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1866 the treasury department was authorized to manufacture and place in circulation the first five-cent piece to be called the "nickel."

In 1958 Capt. Walter Irwin flew an F-104 starfighter jet at an average speed of just over 1,404 miles an hour, a record.

In 1962 American forces began landing in Thailand to bolster the Asian nation against any spread of fighting from neighboring Laos.

In 1968 the defense department said 562 Americans died in Vietnam during the week ended May 11. It was the highest weekly toll of the war to that time.

A thought for the day: Virgil said, "Yield not to misfortunes but press forward the more boldly in their face."

India's Population Still On Increase

NEW DELHI (UPI) — Despite extensive family planning measures taken in the past decade, the population of India is expected to reach 560 million when the next census is taken on March 1, 1971. The country's population was 439 million when the last census was taken in 1961.

Estimates indicate that the population will reach 695 million in 1981. Any substantial reduction in population growth will be seen only after 1981, according to experts.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

That Certain High Card Needed To Make The Finesse A Weapon

The finesse is a wonderful weapon but has its limitations. A finesse will succeed only if a particular high card is in favorable position. If it is in unfavorable position, you need something better than a mere finesse.

WEST OPENS

When today's hand was played West opened the ace of hearts and continued with a low heart to South's nine. Declarer then took the king and ace of clubs, hoping that the queen would fall.

When no miracle happened in clubs, South led a low spade from dummy, trying a finesse with the ten. He would develop a spade trick if East had the queen or jack.

WITH SPADE

West won with the jack of spades and got out safely with a diamond. South won with the king of diamonds, entered dummy with the jack of hearts and led another spade to try a finesse with the nine. West thereupon defeated the contract with three spade tricks and the ace of trumps.

AGAINST THE ODDS

South's plan would have succeeded if East had held any of the three missing spade honors, but the odds were against any such luck since West had bid the suit. South should have relied on a much surer weapon: the throw-in play.

After winning the second trick with the nine of hearts South should cash the top diamonds and the top clubs. Only then would it be correct to lead a spade from dummy to try a finesse with the ten.

West would win with the jack of spades but would be unable to make a safe return. If West returned a diamond, dummy would ruff while South discarded a spade. If West could return a club, declarer could easily develop a club trick in dummy. If West returned a spade, South's king would win a trick.

DAILY QUESTION

As dealer, you hold:
♠ A Q J 8 4
♥ A 8
♦ J 8 7 3
♣ 8 7

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid one spade.

You would have enough for this opening bid even if you had four low diamonds instead of four headed by the jack.

Bill To Require Auto Repair License

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UPI) — State Sen. Louis G. Hill believes most automobile repair businesses are honest, but he wants to bring the industry under state control through licensing in Pennsylvania.

His bill introduced in the legislature is designed to "further highway safety by promoting the proper and efficient repair of motor vehicles and to protect the consumers of this Commonwealth from dishonest and fraudulent practices in the repair of motor vehicles."

ON VIOLENCE: Philosophical Question Involved

By PETER J. GOLDSTONE

(Editor's note: Dr. Goldstone, 30, is an assistant professor of philosophy at the University of Maryland. One of the courses he teaches is called "The Philosophy of Violence," which he discusses below.)

COLLEGE PARK, Md. — (NEA) — When I first proposed a course on "The Philosophy of Violence," faculty committee eyebrows went up and thumbs went down.

It seemed my intentions were suspect. My colleagues feared that I planned (1) to circulate instructions on how to make Molotov cocktails or (2) to incite guerrilla warfare. I planned neither. Actually, ROTC classes and radical publications are much better at that sort of thing.

I wanted, rather, to help my students think clearly about violence: its causes and effects, what is being said about it and, finally, what is violence. With my colleagues' anxieties relieved, the course was sanctioned. Now 15 undergraduates take the course for credit and several former students also take part.

BUT THE QUESTION remains valid: Why a course on violence?

The answer is twofold. First, there is the academic approach. Violence whether depicted in assassinations or riots or Vietnam or student militancy or police brutality or crime in the streets, is indisputably an important problem in our society. Therefore, our schools have an obligation to consider this social and political dilemma, just as schools must seek to understand other problems of life.

Second, there is the personal aspect. Most of my students — as well as myself — are bothered by the question: "Should I be out there in the streets, too?" Others want to know whether there is justification for being drafted to fight in Vietnam.

These questions are sticky and must, of course, be solved individually.

THE STUDENTS are concerned with what, actually, is violence. To answer, it must first be determined who is committing what kind of action against whom. It is often said that institutions in our society, from college administrations to giant corporations to government agencies impose a quiet violence against underprivileged minorities. Spelled out, this is the assertion that economic exploitation, dehumanizing and irrelevant education, and unequal opportunity either are or should be regarded as violence.

An obvious reaction is that this is mere claptrap, that everyone knows the difference between knocking a man down and keeping him down. The first, it is said, is violence. The second, though admittedly unjust, is not violence.

But a counterargument is that economic exploitation, misguided education and so forth should be regarded as violence. Breaking a man's spirit incapacitates him as fully as breaking his arm.

JOHN LOCKE, whose ideas Thomas Jefferson relied upon to draft the Declaration of Independence, said that it is wrong to commit violence because it prevents a man from his inalienable right to live his life as he sees it, as long as he harms no one.

Locke went on to say that a man who commits violence sets himself against reason. else in nature. When a man And reason is what distinguishes man from anything commits violence he gives up his humanity. He becomes, then, an animal.

It is why Americans are so appalled at the upheavals in the schools. Yet they do not often consider the catalyst for physical violence, which is the subtle one imposed by the institutions themselves.

Issues of this kind are discussed in class. No student has yet constructed a Molotov cocktail (at least to my knowledge). But many, hopefully, are constructing balanced views on violence in today's society.

New And Hopeful Line In Nixon Peace Proposal

It is difficult any more to arouse much hope for peace in Vietnam. Hopes have been dashed too often. But President Nixon's proposal which was aired to the nation Wednesday night and presented to the Paris negotiators yesterday seems to offer more basis for hope than anything that has been presented before.

Nixon has faced up to two things which his predecessor in the White House refused to face: That we may have made a mistake in sending troops into Vietnam in the first place, and that to get them out of there with honor we must make some concessions.

The latter is true because a military defeat of North Vietnam would vouchsafe no honor to the United States, nor would it assure a non-communist future for that portion of Southeast Asia.

IF, AS HAS BEEN so often contended, we made our commitment in Vietnam to permit the people of that unhappy land to have self-determination, it follows that we must end that commitment in a manner which will make that self-determination possible.

Nixon's proposal, that the United States and North Vietnam phase out their military activity in South Vietnam over a year's time, would go far in clearing the way.

This in itself is, of course, not new (a six-month withdrawal was proposed by the United States and its allies in 1966). But other parts of the President's proposal are new and hopeful.

HE SAYS we would not require a formal treaty with Ho Chi Minh's government — only "an understanding."

He says all elements of the Vietnamese should be permitted to participate in elections if they foreswore the use of force or intimidation. This certainly opens the way for the Viet Cong to help shape the future of their country — which is what they say they are fighting for.

President Nixon goes farther yet. He says the program he outlined is not a "take it or leave it" proposition. He held the door wide open for counterproposals.

WE MAY AS WELL face the fact that Ho Chi Minh's government has become suspicious of United States' proposals with some reason. At various times during the Johnson administration, offers to move toward peace were made contingent upon certain moves by "the other side." But when "the other side" made what it deemed initial moves to meet the conditions, new conditions were introduced.

There was also the instance when major U.S. bombing raids in the north were undertaken at the very time that a proposal for peace negotiations by our government was given to Ho after long, difficult and devious efforts to get it to him.

This is not to suggest that Ho Chi Minh has kept all his promises. Quite the contrary! The story in Vietnam has been a sad story of each side so mistrusting the other that no progress toward peace was possible.

SO IT IS THE TONE of President Nixon's offer, even more than anything it contains, which gives some cause for hope. It is an offer made honorably in terms that recognize the adversary as also honorable. It is the very antithesis of the ridiculous, disgusting quarrel over protocol and table shape that marked the opening of the Paris talks.

It is a truism that to inspire trust, you must give trust. Because Nixon has presented his proposal in terms of trust, it may win trust from the adversary that no previous proposal has elicited.

It is on this that we can place some hope. It is for this that we may pray.

Valuable Project Goes Begging

A worthwhile project looking for sponsors is the "Guide for Youth and Parents" prepared by the Allied Juvenile Agencies of Marin.

This very useful booklet has been ready for the printer for several months, but the Allied Juvenile Agencies is without funds. And so far, according to Police Inspector Gerald Green, one of its leaders, it has been able to raise only $700 toward the $3,500 cost of printing the booklet for county-wide distribution.

This booklet could do a lot to close the gap between youth and law enforcement. It seems strange such a good work does not elicit financial support.

For reasons unknown this evidently will never be known.

Time Running Out For The Alligator

Your newspaper does an excellent job on local conservation issues. May I call to your readers' attention an issue of worldwide conservation of paramount importance.

Bills to prevent the importation of endangered species of animals, or their sale in interstate commerce, are now pending before the Senate Subcommittee on Energy, Natural Resources and the Environment, and the House of Representatives Subcommittee on Wildlife Conservation.

Time is running out for the alligator, the rhinoceros, the orang-utan, the leopard, and a host of other animals, and poachers do a lively business in their trade. Since the balance of nature is involved, man is also an endangered species.

Letters to both subcommittee chairmen (John Dingell in the House and Philip Hart in the Senate) and our own congressmen and senators are badly needed at this time.

What Circus Ticket Sales Accomplished

The Independent-Journal carried a routine article the other day calling attention to the circus to be held on June 21 at Marin Catholic High School under sponsorship of the Deputy Sheriff's Association of Marin County. The article mentioned that proceeds would be for the benefit of local charities, and that last year Marin Aid to Retarded Children received something over $7,300 from a similar circus. As president of MARC, let me elaborate a bit on the modest statement by the deputy sheriff's spokesman.

These fine people — the sheriff's deputies — were placed in an embarrassing position last year when their ticket solicitation, mainly by telephone, was misconstrued by several local people who understandably were wary of telephone promotion. Let there be no misunderstanding this year. The $7,300 donated to MARC was the largest single amount our organization, a purely voluntary one, has ever received. And what good did the money do? With such a meaningful amount, MARC was able to bring to reality a long cherished dream: the establishment of a respite home, "The Big R", which should open its doors in the next 60 days. The operation is a joint one with several other agencies serving the handicapped in Marin, aided materially by the Babcock Foundation. The Big R will provide a temporary away-from-home living experience for retarded and other mentally and physically handicapped children, and also give their families a temporary respite from the heavy responsibilities of constant care. . .

Zionists, Not Nasser, To Blame

I fear that Phil Newsom's column of May 8 contributed to the myth-information concerning the Middle East. He enumerates examples of the "new aggressiveness" of Egyptian troops which, he states, is encouraged by President Nasser. The headlines of his column also satisfy the brain-washed American liberal ("Nasser's Self Delusion Threatens Renewed War"). Pardon me, but what does Phil Newsom know about "the Arab ability at self delusion?" Americans have shut their eyes to the subversive growth of Zionism in this country. Americans refuse to understand any other side but that of Israel. These same American liberals continue to remain ignorant of the following facts:

The emergence of the U.S. as a major world power after WW II and the decline of British imperialsim brought about a gradual shift of Zionist orientation from Britain towards the U.S. A stong Zionist lobby was built up in Washington and at the same time the pro-American elements in world Zionism gained supremacy over the pro-British faction.

The combined effect of these economic and political factors precipitated the clash between the Zionists and the British government. The war had transformed the Jewish community in Palestine into a nation with its own economy, army, political organizations, language and ideology . . .

In this new situation the Zionist demanded political independence in Palestine. As a result there are over two million Palestinian Arabs today (half of whom are under 18 years of age) waiting for the day when they can return home to their towns, houses, jobs, offices, field, vineyards and orchards. . . .

Now Der Spiegel newsmagazine and other sources report that Israel has built 6 20-Kiloton atomic bombs in the Negev Desert. The Arabs can only wonder in what monstrous way the Zionists will use these bombs to gain their ends. . . .

TRY AND STOP ME

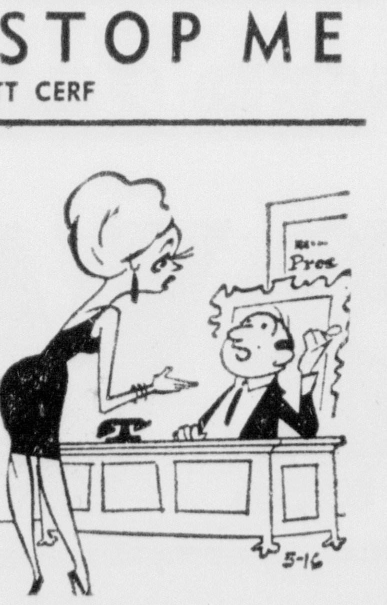
A CURVACEOUS young private secretary asked her immediate superior if she could have a week off to visit Las Vegas with a friend. "I admire your honesty," chuckled the superior, "but I think you ought to get an O.K. from the president of the firm for a jaunt like this. You go right in and check with him." "Oh, there won't be any trouble from that quarter," she assured him. "You see, he's the friend I'm going with!"



THE DRUMMONDS

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

SAN FRANCISCO — Dr. S. I. Hayakawa, the soft-spoken strong man of San Francisco State College is using the kind of backbone other university administrators need. The man belies his image — the image of one who uses force and likes it. That's not the Hayakawa of reality; that's the Hayakawa of the headlines.

His guide to meet student violence or other violence is a quotation from British pacifist Bertrand Russell: "The only excuse for the use of force is to reduce the total amount of force in the world."

Hayakawa's backbone is two-edged — firmness against violence and responsiveness to needed change without violence. That is the kind of backbone President Nixon is pleading for and that is the kind of backbone Hayakawa is showing.

IT'S WORKING. It's gettin results. San Francisco State is not yet a happy nor a comfortable campus. But it is a college which is beginning to repair the terrible turmoil which nearly took its life. Tolerance and mutual trust are slowly beginning to emerge.

The distance this college has come since Dr. Hayakawa took over as acting president six months ago is tremendous. He inherited the most turmoil-ridden campus in the United States. There had been faculty strikes, student strikes, violent confrontations with police, temporary cessations of classes — all of which brought the college close to total suffocation.

There is little doubt it would have gone under were it not for the double-edged backbone of Dr. Samuel Ichiye Hayakawa, world-renowned semanticist, author and student of human behavior, who was proved to be the right man in the right place at the right time.

How did he do it? That's what we need to see because his answers at San Francisco State are applicable elsewhere if other university administrators and teachers are willing to look and learn.

DR. HAYAKAWA does not readily put together an instant kit of how-to-do-it rules. But how he did it and how he is doing it emerged from our conversation with him:

1 — Be thoroughly ready. Think through in advance what as an administrator you will be willing to do and believe you must do if violence arises. Dr. Hayakawa was himself ready when he was catapulted into the president's chair. From the very beginning of the violent protest which had turned the nearby Berkeley campus of the University of California into a battleground, he began to ponder what he would do if he were in charge. He did make up his mind, though he never expected to be called on to do it.

2. — Don't let a little violence succeed when it is first tried. That is when action can stop it in its tracks. That is the warning of worse to come. If a little violence is rewarded, then the process of escalating non-negotiable demands and the force to compel them will mount.

3. — Don't delay the use of force — adequate force — to put down violence when that is the only means which can do it.

4 — Listen to the students. Provide clearly available means so their views can be better heard and better heeded by faculty and administration.

5— Have the backbone to remake the college curriculum and restructure the faculty to make education more meaningful to today's social needs. On this the students are often right — except those who want violence without change rather than change without violence.

That's what Dr. Hayakawa wants — needed change without violence — and he's beginning to get it.

Others can, too.

AN EDUCATOR'S VIEW

Special Privilege Concept Causes Campus Crises

By JOHN W. GILBAUGH
Professor of Education
San Jose State College

Solutions to college and university crises abound on every hand. But those who could resolve the problems are also the selfsame individuals to whom nearly all the blame for chaos can be traced. And they are not about to admit responsibility for the turbulence their decisions have yielded.

Who are the culprits? They are numerous. In a sense they are part of the establishment. Among them are politicians, for example, who sponsor legislation that results in enforced special privileges for members of so-called minority groups. And, there are college and university trustees and administrators who establish programs that offer special privileges to blacks and browns not open to equally disadvantaged whites.

THE FIRST ACT in a series of enforced special privileges has been the waiving of admission standards for "promising" blacks and browns. Some of those admitted to colleges and universities under this arrangement are so poorly prepared in basic skills when they enter they find themselves confronted with failure almost from the moment they report to their first class.

It is surprising that large numbers of these react with hostility? In their frustration they seek radical changes in the curriculum so the threat of failure to meet even minimum standards of performance will be removed.

What blacks and browns who lack basic skills to succeed in college need is precisely the same as whites need to succeed. History has long since taught us that reading, writing, and study skills are necessary for college success. To permit students, regardless of color, to enter college without these skills is to subject them to failure.

THERE MUST NOT be further delay in changing the direction of our tax-supported colleges and universities if they are to avoid the fate of becoming phony diploma factories. Some of them have already approached that level. A few excerpts from a test paper written by a black student, admitted to a major west coast college with academic qualifications less than those required of regular students, demonstrates the erosion of academic standards. This college junior was admitted on probation, in good standing (also, a special-privilege category) after having attended a two-year community college and a midwest four-year college. Here are some excerpts: "The Afrikaner discribtion of his govt. is very true as long as he is only talking about the white (pig) (people) . . . all they are interested in is exploitation of one of the rich nations in the world (natural rescource) . . ."

Kitten, Second Graders, And Gas Station Men Revive Confidence

We adopted a kitten last week. Free kittens, the ad said, referring only to the purchase price and not the upkeep.

Our dog, who has been sole beast of the house for 18 months, has reacted with aggrieved restraint, her only complaint being an occasional heartfelt sigh and a look that says "How could you do this to me?"

The kitten, which weighs about a pound but should reach a hundredweight soon judging from its appetite, has staked out its own territory and challenges the dog whenever it gets too close. It has even appropriated the dog's permanent bone.

The dog spent much of the week lying around the back yard, contemplating fate and possibly considering desertion. But as time wore on, the two animals began edging toward a timid rapproachement.

The kitten's hiss of protest has become a formality, and once or twice when no one was looking it even approached the dog with play in mind instead of warfare. In another week we expect them to be lifelong friends.

The dog is black and white. The kitten is calico. This doesn't seem to bother either of them at all. Poor dumb animals!

THE SECOND GRADERS at Bel Aire School in Tiburon have started a money-raising campaign for "Wings Over Africa," a private airlift of food and medicine to bush country natives in Kenya and Tanzania. Teacher Helen Garvin met the people running the airlift on an African visit last year, and used the airlift as the basis for a study unit in her class this year.

The children picked up on it and began earning money to support the project themselves. The collection is $14 to date, which is a lot of money for second graders, and today added to their trove with a cookies and punch sale at the school.

Maybe this country will make it after all.

SPEAKING of language and cliches, as someone was doing in this space last week, there are a few more illiteracies that should be stripped of their buttons and dismissed from service.

Among my favorites are the overworked jargonese terms "overview," "viable," "thrust," "relate" and "communicate." Another favorite of a local city councilman is "pointful," which appears to be his own unfortunate invention.

Among the writing set, we could do without those misspelled homonyms — flair when flare is meant, hoard for horde, and others too dreadful to bare.

Four Arraigned In Ridge Protest

Four persons arrested during a protest of logging on the Righetti Ranch on Bolinas Ridge were arraigned yesterday in Marin Municipal Court on charges of failing to yield the right of way to vehicles and failure to disperse.

Gregory Alan Brougham, 18, of Bolinas, was also charged with marijuana possession.

A spokesman for the group, Michael Alan Bond, 26, of Bolinas, said the four have a lawyer, who will appear with them May 23.

The other defendants are Gillian LeProvest Baxter, 18, and Lorraine Barrow, 35, both of Bolinas.

The group was arrested for allegedly interfering with logging operations on the ranch by lying in a road and preventing trucks from passing.

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Hearings In Southern Marin On Flooding In Ross Valley

Fusselman

On Monday, in an extensive group of letters to the editor, there was one which had quite a personal interest for me. It was written by Mrs. Jean S. Barnard of Mill Valley. Some of you may have read it, others may have missed it, so I will give some excerpts.

It started: "Having attended board of supervisors meetings regularly for almost four years, I feel qualified to say that your news articles about them are very good but your Friday column, 'County Comment' and your editorials misfired badly" (about the Zucker matter). . . "The author of 'County Comment' ceased to be a supervisor on Dec. 31, 1964. I suggest that three men went off the board on Dec. 31, 1968 whose views would stem from recent experience, if, indeed, it is appropriate at all for a kind of 'supervisor emeritus' to comment from the sidelines, which I have always doubted . . ."

WELL, I, IN TURN, find it very hard to understand the lady's attitude now. She telephoned me several years ago, introduced herself, and asked me to subscribe to one of the county weeklies. And she was quite surprised when I said that I knew who she was, as she had been very active in organizing hearings, in Mill Valley, on the Ross Valley Flood Control Project, during 1963 and '64.

I had always wondered, "if, indeed, it was appropriate" to hold hearings in the southern part of the county on a flooding situation through out valley, which never ever flowed upward and over the hills to them nor approached their thresholds in any way.

She has called me numerous times since and has expressed great interest in how I was able to have such pertinent information. And she again called a month or so ago and urged my wife to tune in the first broadcast over KTIM of one of the "three men who went off the board on Dec. 31, 1968." She said it was "reminiscent" of my column.

HERE IS an excerpt from the 1968 grand jury report about the planning director, Paul Zucker, which I ran across the other day.

"Mr. Zucker has stated that 34 per cent of his extensive budget represents current planning. This in spite of the drop in building in the past few years. He explained that whether a permit was issued or not, the same amount of work was involved in processing the request. After repeated requests by this committee for a list dating from Jan. 1, 1968 of (1) number of applicants for building permits, (2) number of permits issued, and (3) decisions not to build. Mr. Zucker finally advised us that he couldn't provide this information. The committee found it frustrating that these figures could not be produced to substantiate the need for this high budget cost."

THERE IS A MATTER to come before the board of supervisors, which is vital to the safety of every one in the county. I propose to discuss it and believe it would be well to give you my background in this field.

While mayor of San Anselmo in the '20s I promoted and brought to San Anselmo the first two-way police radio syster in Marin, in fact one of the first for a smaller community in the state. I personally worked throughout the nights while the installation was being tailored to work in this terrain. I drove police cars testing for quality reception from the top of Tamalpais down through the valley.

I was designated then by the FCC to conduct the examinations and then several years later to give them for the entire county police and sheriff personnel.

More of the background next week.

Heart Doctor's Salary Cut Off

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the two doctors who implanted an artificial heart in a patient April 4 has been suspended from the federally-supported artificial heart program at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston.

Dr. Domingo Liotta, the Argentine-born researcher credited by Dr. Denton A. Cooley with developing the artificial heart, was suspended and had his salary cut off from the federal project, according to Leonard F. McCollum, chairman of the institution's board of trustees.

McCollum also said, in two letters to Dr. Theodore Cooper, director of the National Heart Institute, that Dr. Cooley acted without prior review in implanting the heart which McCollum said was subject to federal guidelines governing investigation in human subjects.

However, since Cooley is not receiving a grant from the government he is not subject to any disciplinary action such as that levied on his colleague, Dr. Liotta.

The first successful hydrofoil was launched by Italian inventor Enrico Forlanini in 1905.

Cove Association To Back Ordinance

The Mariner Cove Improvement Association board has agreed to write the Corte Madera Town Council giving its support to the proposed town solicitors' ordinance, treasurer Ray C. Nann said yesterday.

The board also, at its Wednesday night meeting, suggested to the Corte Madera Park and Recreation Commission that the association, Boy Scout Pack No. 90 and the town work cooperatively to improve the tiny tot playground at San Clemente School.

A Young Man Who Likes To Run

By KIMO CAMPBELL

To the average sports nut, distance men are the mystics of track and field, as romantic and enigmatic as Lawrence of Arabia.

Milers and two-milers are known more for their sufferings, strange diets, and the torture of their events than any other trackmen, and have more mystique than any group of athletes outside professional wrestling. Every track fan knows about the "loneliness of the long distance runner," the agony undergone for success.

It is therefore surprising to meet a distance man who refutes all the popular bunk about distance runners, and backs up his opinion with the athlete's best criterion — victory.

George Stewart, College of Marin's mile and two-mile record holder, is a slight, bespectacled young man who likes to run, something he does so well that his coach, Tony Bailey, describes him as "the best junior college runner in Northern California." George doesn't train on seaweed or sleep on a bed of nails to build endurance. He runs —nine miles a day for the last year and a half — because he likes to run.

"It's hard sometimes," he says, "but I like to run, to be on the team. I like the competition and getting to know guys I'm running against at meets. It's a litte hard sometimes, but if I didn't like it I wouldn't be doing it. Some guys fish, some play the guitar . . . I run."

Last weekend, George won the junior college two-mile at the Fresno Relays over 35 other runners in 9:15.2, well off his best of 9:10.6. This is common for Stewart, who worries little about times, but more about position and winning. In tomorrow's Northern California Track and Field Finals at Allen Hancock College in Santa Maria, Stewart will go in both the mile and two mile, hoping to qualify for the J.C. State Finals on May 24, held in conjunction with the Modesto Relays.

Stewart was a late-comer to track, after being cut from the baseball team in his senior year at Tamalpais High in Mill Valley. Coach Bruce Grant and assistant Kraig Vezie at Tam had four top sprinters — Alan Lee, Luther Brown, Bill Hindman and Reggie Walker, who were one-two-three-five in the 100-yard dash at the Marin County Athletic League meet in 1967. So George became a half-miler.

He promptly adjusted to the 880 by breaking a Tam record

They Call Tom Thomas Menlo's 'Mr. Baseball'

Tommy Thomas of Novato is known as Mr. Baseball around the Menlo College campus. And rightfully so.

Just this week Thomas was unanimously named first team third baseman on the All-Conference squad after which his teammates voted him the school's "Most Inspirational Athlete" and "Most Valuable Player" in baseball.

Says his coach, Tom Crawford, a former San Rafael Military Academy star: "Coaches in our conference rate Thomas a can't miss professional prospect. He is one of the most coachable boys I've ever worked with and at the end of this season was a totally polished player."

In 15 games for the runner-up Oaks, Thomas batted .347, led the league in stolen bases with 10, was second in runs batted in with 18, had five doubles, one triple and four home runs, walked 15 times and fanned only four times.

Thomas hopes to attend Washington State next year and will play semi-pro ball in Yakima, Wash., this summer.

Marin County Infield

Two of his three infield teammates at Menlo also are Marin products. Mark Newsom of Novato, great grandson of former major league star "Bobo" Newsom, played second base and did some pitching for Menlo. He was named second utility team on the All-Conference selections. He also hopes to go on to WSU with Thomas.

And shortstop for the Oaks is Dave Edson of Terra Linda who batted .321 this season.

Menlo College is the only privately-owned junior college in the state.

AND NOW WE take you to Hanover, N.H. where Tamalpais High grad Barry Brink of Mill Valley is carving his name in two sports at Dartmouth College.

A defensive tackle in football, Big Barry also is doing a rather creditable job as a doubles player on the tennis team. Although he's had five different partners this season, Brink has the best won-lost record on the squad, 9-3. As a freshman last year Brink was the number two man on the Dartmouth squad in total victories, a 4-3 singles mark and 3-3 in doubles.

Coaches Want Stewart

DURABLE GEORGE STEWART, College of Marin's amazing one and two-miler, plans to further his education at Sonoma State College in Rohnert Park. But, several coaches have been talking to the bespectacled Mill Valleyan, hoping to lure his considerable track talents to their schools.

Stewart's tremendous stamina and recuperative powers are exemplified by his numerous triumphs in both mile and two mile races with only one hour, ten minutes between races. If he gets to the State J.C. finals in both events at Modesto May 24 he will have two hours of rest between races. Then, watch out!

Giants Vs. Phillies Tonight

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—The San Francisco Giants, who needed the extra off day more than most clubs, swing back into action against the Phillies tonight with lefty Mike McCormick entrusted with keeping alive a modest win streak.

The Giants defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates twice earlier this week and then relaxed yesterday. The idleness was especially welcomed by manager Clyde King who wanted to give some of his "walking wounded" extra time to rest from various ailments.

HOSPITAL LIST

The "wounded"—Willie Mays, Jim Hart, Bobby Bonds and Willie McCovey—aren't fully recovered but all except Hart should be in the lineup.

Ken Henderson, who helped pick up the hitting slack the moment he came off the disabled list, will start in left field tonight with lefty Woody Fryman pitching for the Phillies. Henderson gets the call because he is a switch hitter and, at the moment, hitting very well.

SECOND START

This will be McCormick's second start of the year. He went 7 1-3 innings in his other one —back on April 27 —and beat the Houston Astros.

At the moment, the Giants are 4-6 on this road trip. They play the Phillies, who have dropped their last six starts, again tomorrow and Sunday and then come home for an eight-day stand. The Giants need a sweep here to go over the .500 mark on the trip.

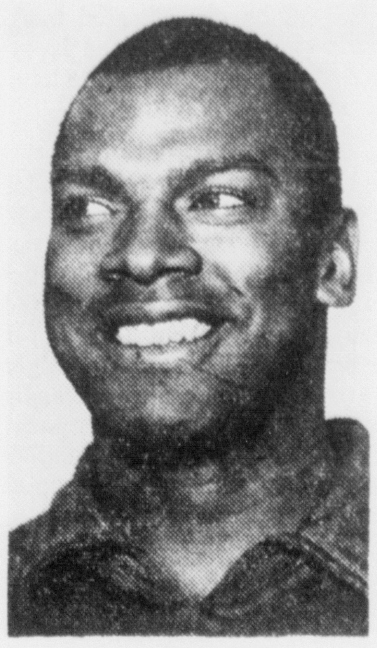
Hector Quits As Tam High Coach; Davlin Next In Line

Tamalpais High School is in the market for a new head football coach after Willie Hector turned in his resignation yesterday to take a job at City College of San Francisco.

Hector, 29, will teach physical education and assist head football coach Arthur "Dutch" Elston at the San Francisco junior college when he starts there in September.

A successor to Hector at the Mill Valley high school has not yet been named, although assistant coach Mike Davlin has a good chance to move up to the top job.

Hector, a graduate of Tam High, played football at University of Pacific and, after being graduated from the Stockton school, played professional football. He is one of the few men around who have played in all four professional football leagues — Los Angeles Rams of the National Football League, Denver Broncos of the American Football League, Calgary Stampeders of the Canadian League and San Jose of the Continental League.



WILLIE HECTOR
A move up

During his career in pro football, Hector played tackle, guard, defensive end and linebacker.

Four years ago Hector came to Tam High as a head grid coach, his first teaching job.

"I'm not leaving for good," Hector said. "I'll be back to watch the football games and basketball games and see some of my friends at Tam. It's been like a home to me."

But Hector, quiet and calm in his talk, just as he is in coaching, said he is looking forward to coaching at a college level. "I definitely feel it is a promotion," he said. "Because of the size of the staff at City College, I'll really be able to specialize my coaching."

His job will be closer to home, as he, his wife Joy, and their two children reside in San Francisco.

HUGE FIELD EXPECTED IN MARIN SWIM MEET

More than 700 young swimmers will be competing in the sixth annual Marin Invitational Class A Swim Meet tomorrow and Sunday in the Novato High School pool.

The meet is co-sponsored by Marin Swim Club, Independent-Journal and Novato Park and Recreation Department.

Santa Clara Swim Club is the heavy favorite to win team honors in the age-group meet.

It will start at 9 a.m. each day and run throughout the daylight hours. Admission is 50 cents for adults, with children admitted free.

Redwood, Tam Win In Tennis

Redwood High School and Tamalpais High School continued to run almost neck-and-neck in the Marin County Athletic League tennis race, both teams winning yesterday.

Redwood ran its record to 12-0 with an easy 5-0 victory over Marin Catholic while Tamalpais (11-1) swept the singles matches to nick Terra Linda 4-3.

In other matches, San Rafael downed Drake, 4-1 and Novato topped San Marin, 5-0.

Redwood and Tamalpais battle Tuesday at Redwood.

Courtney Leading Golf Field

FORT WORTH (UPI)—Even a burglar alarm which jangled noisily near the 18th green failed to shake the front-running poise of little Chuck Courtney's golf game in the opening round of the $125,000 Colonial National Invitation golf tournament.

The sandy-haired, 160-pound Courtney's opening 33-33—66 tour of Colonial Country Club's 7,100-yard, par 35-35—70 layout gave him a two-stroke edge going into today's second round and provided him with confidence.

Jack Nicklaus, Billy Maxwell and Dick Crawford were his closest pursuers with their two-under-par 68s, while Dave Stockton, Bob Charles, Miller Barber and Tony Jacklin rounded out the short list of sub-par shooters with their 69s.

Gary Player started his round eagle-birdie, but wound up having to sink a 30-foot birdie putt on the 18th to get into a nine-way tie at par 70.

Defending champion Billy Casper faltered on the back nine after an opening 34 and was jammed into a 15-player logjam at 71.

Marin Country Club Gal Golfers Advance

The Marin Country Club Women's Golf Club held the second round of its spring handicap tournament yesterday in Novato.

The results:

Mrs. William Wieland d. Mrs. Charles Gondak, 4-2; Mrs. William Sichel d. Mrs. Warren Betts, 3-2; Mrs. Felix Mola d. Mrs. Art Schallock, 5-4; Mrs. Clyde Rossi d. Mrs. Frank Carbone, two-up; Mrs. D. D. Altermatt d. Mrs. John McVey, 7-6; Mrs. Carl Johnson d. Mrs. R. O. Young, 4-3; Mrs. Stanley Friese d. Mrs. Maurice Antoine, 3-1; Mrs. Paul Williams d. Mrs. James Tarabbia, 3-2.

JUST WALKS OUT

"He's just emotionally upset or he wouldn't do that," said Manager Mayo Smith after the game, won by Detroit 2-1 on Dick McAuliffe's 10th-inning home run.

UNAWARE

Few were aware Horton, who grounded out and struck out twice in three at bats, had left the dugout. Rookie Ron Woods replaced him in the top of the eighth in a substitution not planned by Smith.

"He took himself out of the game," Smith said. "He came back into the clubhouse.

"Some of the guys came in to talk to him but he was just wild . . . He's got friends on the ballclub who couldn't even talk to him."

Horton led the Tigers in hitting (.285) and home runs (36) last year as they won their first pennant and World Series in 23 years. But he has slumped this year at the plate, hitting just .213 with four home runs and 13 runs batted in.

CLOSE TO FANS

He has struck out 34 times.

Horton always has had a special closeness with his fans, particularly children, many of whom show up time and again in the left field stands to cheer their hero.

"I've never had a guy take his uniform off in a game like that before," said a stunned Smith.

Smith said pitching coach Johnny Sain told him about Horton's departure.

"I didn't have time to go into the clubhouse to talk to him and find out what was wrong," Mayo said. "I had to worry about the game.

Tamalpais Golfers Win League Title

Tamalpais High School's unbeaten golf team officially clinched the 1969 Marin County Athletic League golf crown yesterday, running its record to 12-0 by downing Terra Linda, 178-185, at Mill Valley Municipal Golf Course.

That gave the Indians a three-game lead over second-place Novato (9-3) with only two meets left. The Hornets stopped San Marin, 207-230 at Indian Valley in Novato yesterday.

In another meet, San Rafael downed Drake, 209-222 at San Geronimo. Redwood and Marin Catholic were not scheduled.

Tamalpais 178, Terra Linda 185

San Rafael 209, Drake 222

A's To Open Road Trip, Happy To Leave Oakland

CLEVELAND (UPI)—Most baseball clubs hate to leave home. Not the Oakland A's.

Tonight, the A's open an eight-game road trip against the Cleveland Indians with John Odom (6-1) pitching against Mike Paul (1-0).

The A's soured on the East Bay for two reasons. First, because of a lack of support during a seven-game winning streak, and second because most of the fans who did come to see them wound up rooting for the opposition.

Through the A's first 17 home dates this season only 158,040 have turned out to watch them, which is about 50,000 down from last year's attendance. What makes it especially galling to the players is that they are all alone in first place in the American League West and are playing exciting baseball.

In the Indians, whom they also meet tomorrow and Sunday, they are facing a club with all kinds of troubles. The Indians go into tonight's game with the worst record in the majors — 6-22 — and the lowest attendance figures as well.

Redwood Girls Win

Redwood High School's girl basketball team downed Marin Catholic girls 42-38 at Kentfield yesterday behind 14 points by Roberta Butler and 13 by Nancy Costa. The Marin Catholic junior varsity won, 31-15.

Lakers' Hawkins Retires For TV

INGLEWOOD (UPI)—Tommy Hawkins isn't coming back to the Los Angeles Lakers next season.

Hawkins, 32, announced last night that he was retiring after 10 years in the National Basketball Association.

The 6-foot-5 forward from Notre Dame said he will go to work for a Los Angeles television station (KNBC-TV, Channel 4) as a sports reporter and commentator.

Marin Supply Whips Post Office, 10-3

Scott Moriarty hit a homer and a single to pace Marin Supply to a 10-3 win over the San Rafael Post Office in a C-II Division game in San Rafael Recreation Department softball play at Albert Field yesterday.

In a B division game, Marinwood Athletic Club downed Hamilton Athletic Club, 3-2.

McNally Only A Whisker Away From No-Hit Game

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Two years ago, Dave McNally's career was nearly ended because of a sore arm. Today he's one of baseball's premier left-handers.

He showed why last night as he pitched 8⅓ innings of no-hit ball and wound up allowing only one hit — Cesar Tovar's line single over shortstop — in hurling the Balitmore Orioles to a 5-0 victory over the Minnesota Twins.

McNally, one of the pitching stars in Baltimore's four-game sweep of the Los Angeles Dodgers in the 1966 World Series, sustained an arm injury the following season. His record dipped from 11-6 in 1966 to 7-7 and he spent more than three weeks on the disabled list.

STRETCHING MACHINE

After a number of physicians failed to provide a remedy for his ailing arm, veteran trainer Eddie Weidner suggested a stretching machine. It proved to be the answer as McNally rebounded with a 22-10 mark last season to win American League Comeback Player of the Year honors.

Elsewhere in the American League, Detroit edged Chicago, 2-1, in 10 innings and Kansas City downed Cleveland, 5-2. In National League action, Atlanta nipped New York, 6-5, and Philadelphoa blasted Cincinnati, 7-0.

KEY TRIPLE

Andy Etchebarren, McNally's batterymate, gave the Orioles a 2-0 lead in the second inning when he followed singles by Boog Powell and Dave Johnson with a triple. Powell drove in two more runs with a single and a sacrifice fly and Merv Rettenmund singled for the other Orioles' run.

Ed Kirkpatrick drove in four runs with his second homer of the season—a three-run blast in the fifth inning—and a sacrifice fly as Kansas City snapped a four-game losing streak with its victory over the Indians.

Kirkpatrick hit his homer off Luis Tiant, who suffered his seventh straight loss without a victory, after a walk, Mike Fiore's single and an infield out. Joe Foy singled, stole second, took third on Ray Fosse's wild throw into center field and scored on Kirkpatrick's fly ball in the seventh.

HOMER

Dick McAuliffe led off the 10th inning with his fifth homer of the season to lift Detroit over Chicago. McAuliffe's homer, off Bob Locker, helped Pat Dobson record his first victory of the season.

Sonny Jackson's two-run triple capped a three-run second inning outburst and Hank Aaron slammed two home runs—the 516th and 517th of his career—to power the Braves over the Mets.

PASSES GEHRIG

Aaron finished with nine total bases for the day and 5,061 for his career, surpassing Lou Gehrig's 5,059 for sixth place on the all-time list.

Richie Allen had four hits, including a tape-measure homer, and Deron Johnson drove in two runs to lift Dick Wise and Philadelphia to its victory over Cincinnati. Johnson singled and doubled to score Allen twice and Allen, knocked down by rookie John Noriega, slammed a 410-foot home run the next pitch.

HERB MICHELSON

A's Aggressive Catcher But Defensive Hitter

OAKLAND — Phil Roof has the sort of nightmares inimical to a major league baseball player who's never batted over .209 in five seasons.

"I just toss and turn in bed all the time trying to figure out why I can't hit," says the large Kentuckian. "It's amazing, I mean I can't understand why I can be so offensive and aggressive when I'm behind the plate and so defensive as hell as a hitter."

Phil got a so-far brief shot at being the A's number one catcher on the first of the month. Hank Bauer could no longer contend with young Dave Duncan's unfulfilled potential at bat and defensive inexperience. So the manager turned to the light bat but pitcher-handling expertise of Roof.

"IF I COULD hit .240, I could really help this club — and make myself some money," says Phil. The A's brain trust would be content if he could settle at .200.

Roof knows the Oakland pitchers better than Duncan or veteran receiver Jim Pagliaroni. Phil raised all of the toddling A's starters save Catfish Hunter. And the young hurlers seem to have confidence in Roof's handling. They say he's aggressive, adamant, sound defensively. Roof can bully them into staying calm in moments of stress.

"If I could only hit," Phil keeps moaning. "If I only knew how to improve."

STARTING BACK with the Milwaukee Braves in 1964, Roof has had big league averages of .188, .162, .209, .205 and .188. In the old days (the fifties, let's say), a guy like Phil would never have lasted long enough to be eligible for a major league pension.

But he's aware of the lack of catching talent in the majors. Even at the A's spring camp, with a half dozen fellows battling for the three jobs, Phil says he was never worried about continuing as a major leaguer.

"I KNOW I probably was on the expansion list," he says. "But why should a new club pay $175,000 for a 28-year-old catcher who doesn't hit when there are kids around who someday might hit? I figured that if I didn't stick with the A's, one of the expansion clubs would then pick me up later for a lot less money."

For a fellow who can never be quite certain from one fortnight to the next if he'll spend a game behind the plate or in the bullpen, Roof has surprising confidence. Perhaps it came when Alvin Dark managed Phil and the A's in Kansas City in 1966 and '67.

"ALVIN TOLD me I was his catcher. He told me not to worry about not hitting. He kept telling me, 'Don't give up out there. Keep trying.' "

Hand Bauer has given no assurances whatever to Roof. "I can understand that," says Phil. "But I could stick if I'd hit. I've come up so many times this season with men on base and two out. And you know what's happened. I go out, and the pitcher leads off the next inning with a hit."

DOES MR. ROOF feel he should perhaps be batting in the ninth spot?

"I know," he smiles, "I'm no hitting star. But let's not go that far."

Eligible In 1974

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Mickey Mantle, who retired at age 37 after 18 seasons with the New York Yankees, will be eligible to be voted into Baseball's Hall of Fame in 1974. A player must have been retired for five years to become eligible in the voting by members of the Baseball Writers' Association of America.

that had stood for 34 years, one of the oldest in County annals. His 1:57.5 was good enough to supplant the 1933 record of former State 880 champ Bill McCurdy, an Indian all-timer who later served as track coach at Harvard.

Moving to College of Marin that fall, Stewart ran cross-country and track, adjusting to longer distances. His best effort was a fourth in the Golden Valley Conference two-mile. But come 1968-69, and he has established at three distances, and in early meets he was competing — and winning — in the 880, mile, and two-mile. As the year went on, he concentrated more on the longer events, and is undefeated on the year at the longer stretches.

AT SONOMA

A physical education major with an idea of coaching track someday, Stewart plans to attend Sonoma State College next fall, concentrating on P.E. and art history. Bruce Grant, for one, thinks that George might have a few other alternatives by the time the big meets are over. "He'll win the meets, and if some big college doesn't leap at him, they're crazy."

The intriguing thing about Stewart is that he has yet to approach his full potential, in his coaches' eyes. Tony Bailey says: "George constantly surprises me. He's a real hard worker, a very fine young man, and I really can only see him getting better He can compete well at any level because he runs to win." Bruce Grant: "Not even George knows just how good he is."

LOVES COMPETITION

But Stewart isn't worried about his improvement — tension, as he sees it, can only make him run better. He loves the competition and the running, and had a quiet sort of confidence in his ability that has built up this season as his victories mounted.

"George has gained a tremendous amount of confidence in himself," says Bailey, "and this helps a great deal. He beat some good kids early in the year, and realized he can beat anyone if he has confidence."

Owners Ratify Pension Plan

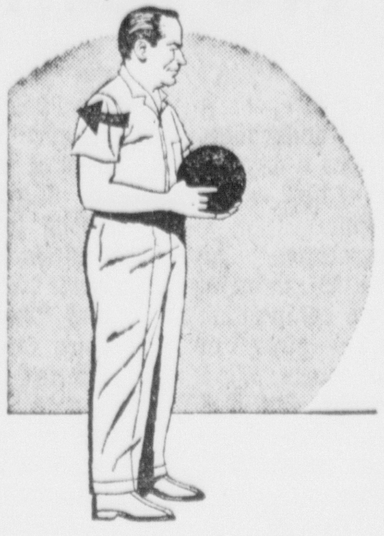
CHICAGO (UPI) — Major league baseball owners yesterday ratified the rich player pension plan that was negotiated in early March just in time to start spring training.

John J. Gaherin, an advisor for the 24 owners, said the owners also discussed the player-owner relationship agreement which expires Dec. 31, of this year.

The agreement covers such player grievances as the reserve clause and the scheduling of games which in many cases create hardships on players.

BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER



A chunky bowler may have trouble getting the ball to swing straight back. If such is the case, he should adjust his shoulders so he is facing slightly to the right as he gets set. The ball may also be held to the right of center.

MARIN BOWLING HIGHLIGHTS

Century Award For Marge; Ex-Cage Ace Hits Jackpot

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Marge, competing in the WIBC tournament in San Diego, rolled a 235 game, 106 pins better than her average, and won a "century" award for going more than 100 pins better than average. We couldn't get her series score, but understand she had all her pins in one basket.

THIS AND THAT — Walt Moreno, former J. C. All-American basketball player and now big rooter of the Warriors, saved everything for the last. In the 840 Scratch Sweeper, southpaw Walt rolled games of 222-256-191 for 669, his highest series of the season, and won the top money prize, $35. Sharing some of the loot were Al Dias, 236-641; Bill Nave III, 244-643, and Ron Baccei, 636.

While the money guys were rolling away, a championship match between the two half winners was going hot and heavy. Veteran 840 Scratch rollers called it the best title match the league has had. Hagen and Smith won it, scores of 968, 862 and 925 — 2755, over North Coast Distributors, 919, 896, 888—2703, big scores all.

STRIKES TO SPARE — Dennis Clivio was star of the Hi-Lo's, rolling 253-625 in the Country Club Bowl league . . . Linda Swann, 141 average, rolled 201-531 in the Daffodils League, also at Country Club . . . Olga Tomsky rolled her first 200, a 203 line in the Tuesday Women's Scratch at Nave Lanes . . . In the Classsy Lassie League at Nave Lanes, Carol Tyler had high score, 219; Elaine Lyons made good on the 4-7-10 split, and Cheri Cooney is still dreaming about that missed triplicate, 145-145-146 . . . Fred Ness was high man in the 555 Trios at Country Club Bowl, rolling a 256 game and 839 four-gamer . . . High rollers for the women at Nave Lanes this week were Ruth Perron, 234-636 in the Alley Kats League, and Dolly Nave, a 240 line.

Commission To Study DDT Health Hazards

In a report from Washington, D.C., this week many facts were released pertaining to DDT Secretary Robert Finch of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare has appointed a commission on pesticides and their relationship to environmental health.

FROM STANFORD University comes a statement signed by professors, research students and graduate students that DDT and related pesticides are a threat to human lives.

From Lake Michigan, a shipment of 28,000 pounds of Coho salmon were seized by the Food and Drug Administration. The fish had a DDT concentration range of 12 to 19 parts per million.

And a recent article showed that the legislators from California were now making studies of DDT and other pesticides. All this activity is good, and I hope in time. Improvement in methods of use, and changes of pesticides that work on human health directly or through contamination of our environment could be of the greatest benefit to all of us.

I RECEIVED a card this week from John Segale of San Anselmo who seems to be enroute home from Saigon. He reads the column and all he was worried about was that some trout would be left when he gets home sometime late this month.

With the wind and the fog, I don't think he has any worries. I went up to Lake Lagunitas Monday, (it had just been planted), but that darned keeper wouldn't let me fish near the dam and that's where the fish were planted.

Some other joker came along and was casting a hookless lure through the schools that I could see in this closed area and each time he got about 10 hits. I fished close by, but didn't get a hit or even see a fish in my area.

SO I thought I would watch some of the other anglers who might provide some business, but my Sherlock Holmes approach wasn't up to par. The friendly fellow without the hooks kept yelling, "Hay Al, get a hit yet?". Then a lady came along and said, "Hi, Al" and two other guys said the column was fine. The clincher was when "Hookless Joe" wanted to see my license! Then to top it off that darned keeper called my friend, Enos Foster of Woodacre, and filled him in on all of the above. Naturally Enos called me to get his licks in for sweet revenge, as I sometimes rib him in this column.

ANYHOW, I'VE got news for that keeper! I'm usually the one who gets fooled by a poacher one way or the other, so it was almost funny to hear about the high schoolers who crawled out of their car trunk after they had passed through the gate where they were selling lake permits. You don't believe it? Ask Dave Ennis from Drake High.

I then went up to Kent Lake, but seeing only one angler there fishing with a bobber, saying, "No hits," I gave it up as a bad day. One day this week I have to go to Rodeo Lagoon. Mrs. Georgia Quadros of Mill Valley has got the fishing bug from reading how easy it is to catch fish. She is afraid of all worms, bugs, spiders and anything else that moves, and she hates anything messy like salmon eggs or roe and she won't touch a fish that's wiggling, so I may have a big problem. You think everything about this job is all bad? No sir, I heard this Georgia is really a peach!

FOR THIS weekend, the lakes should be good with plants made this week at Phoenix, Lagunitas and Rodeo Lagoon.

Lake Berryessa, with its heavy pre-season plants of trophy fish, 230,000 of them, should also be good.

If you're in the mood for traveling, Lake Tahoe and Donner Lake are now approaching their peak and Davis Lake near Portola, Plumas County, is rated great for big fish. Ralph Chatoian of the I. J. sports department says that he had the biggest trout in his life up at Shasta Lake last week, but lost it.

IF YOU like crowds and want to watch lots of kids fishing, try Stafford Lake in Novato. Black bass, bluegill and catfish are the main fare there.

NICASIO IS somewhat the same.

For stripped bass try trolling some of the bay's previous hot spots. The Sisters, The Brothers, Racoon Strait, Marin Island and the Marin Rod and Gun Club Pier. Somewhere there's a fish waiting! Use a pet spoon or bugeyes.

SALMON SEEKERS should check with party boat headquarters on weather conditions. When not too windy, fishing has been excellent.

THERE'LL BE one foot minus tides at 7:12 a.m. tomorrow and 7:54 a.m. Sunday, excellent for taking clams, abalones and eels.

Redwood In Track Showdown

The "IF" word is out for Redwood High School's track team.

The Giants of Larkspur, champions of the Marin County Athletic League track and field meet, and winners of the dual meet competition, have a crack at winning the North Coast Section, Division III, meet at Santa Rosa Junior College tomorrow, 2:30 p.m., if a few things happen.

They will get stiff competition from North Bay League teams, particularly Vallejo High School and Montgomery of Santa Rosa.

The ifs, according to Redwood coach Gary Shaw, center around Judd Pillar winning the discus, Tom Poppin and Tom Estudillo placing in the 440 yard run, Kevin Pusser and Tom Russell doing more than well in the mile, the mile relay and some help from fellow MCAL hurdlers Luther Brown of Tamalpais and Terry Stempel of Marin Catholic.

STIFF COMPETITION

Pillar will get stiff competition in the discus from Stan Paul of Montgomery. Poppin won the 440 in the league meet in 51.2 while Montgomery's Rod Koshnik has run a 51.3.

The mile relay should be a dandy. Vallejo has run a 3:25.2 on faster tracks while Redwood's team did a 3:29 in the league meet and a 3:26 in the El Cerrito relays.

Vallejo picked up 22 points in the hurdles in the North Bay meet, but Brown and Stempel, both of whom clocked 15.0 in the league meet, could cut into that total and help Redwood.

Todd Norris of the Giants has his best chance ever to take the 880 with a 1:59.1 qualifying clocking. Competition, and then some, will come from Steve Trujillo of Del Norte, who's done a 1:56.0, and Bob Hagler of Vallejo, (1:57).

The pole vault could be a dandy with both Mark Jones of Terra Linda and Mike Wurtz of Redwood right in there at 13½. Brian Hicks of Redwood, who's done 13-3 earlier in the season, could be a dark horse, after barely making it to the meet by getting the fifth-place spot in the MCAL finals in a jump-off with Dave Melcon of Terra Linda.

Both Rich Smartt of Drake and Mark Lewis of Marin Catholic have a good chance in the high jump, where the best North Bay effort was six feet, same as Smartt and Lewis.

Teen, Vet To Clash At Tiburon

It will be 18-year-old Mike Machette of Belvedere against the veteran Tom Brown and 17-year-old Sharon Walsh of San Rafael against highly-regarded Marcie Louie in two of the featured semi-final matches tomorrow in the Bay Counties Invitational Tennis Tournament at the Tiburon Peninsula Club.

The Machete-Brown match will begin at noon following the other men's singles semi-finals clash between Eugene Cantin and Bob Murio at 10 a.m.

WOMEN'S MATCH

The Misses Walsh and Louie will meet in their women's singles semi-finals at 10 a.m. The other women's match will send Barbara Downs against Eliza Pande at 11 a.m.

Machette will compete in two doubles matches in the afternoon.

Trainer Longden Shows Confidence In His 'Prince'

BALTIMORE, Md. (UPI)—Trainer Johnny Longden was certain today that Majestic Prince, the undefeated Kentucky Derby winner he trains for Frank McMahon, was better now than at Churchill Downs two weeks ago and that one change of scene would not bother the colt one bit in the Preakness Stakes tomorrow.

"The turns are a little sharper here and the stretch is not as long but he went around the turn pretty good in the workout yesterday," said Longden in comparing Churchill Downs with Pimlico where eight 3-year-olds awaited the 94th running of the classic. Nor is the race, at 1 3-16 miles, quite as long as the 1¼ mile derby.

There was confidence in the rival camps, also, as Arts And Letters and Top Knight awaited another shot at Majestic Prince. Al Hattab, Jay Ray, Greengrass Greene, Captain Action and Glad's Flame will face the undefeated winner of eight races for the first time.

Arts And Letters was second in the Kentucky Derby, a neck behind Majestic Prince.

"I thought he ran his best race in the Derby and I look for him to do even better in the Preakness," said trainer Elliott Burch.

Top Knight was a big disappointment in the Kentucky Derby. The winner of the Flamingo Stakes and the Florida Derby was second choice. But after taking the lead after six furlongs, he fell apart and finished fifth.

Trainer Ray Metcalf expects Top Knight to give a much better account of himself this time.

Lester Fights Monday Night

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Jimmy Lester of San Francisco trades punches Monday night at the Civic Auditorium with battling Cuban expatrte Pedro Miranda in a middleweight bout.

Each fighter sports a classy record, having tasted defeat eight times. Lester has won 35 fights with 2 7 knockouts and Miranda has kayoed 28 opponents while piling up 40 victories.

Cyclone Barth of San Jose, formerly from Biafra, takes on Phil Garcia of Los Angeles in a companion 10-rounder.

THE WEEK'S BUSINESS

McDonald's Restaurant Chain Directors Vote Stock Split

Directors of McDonald's Corp. national restaurant chain have voted for a two-for-one stock split to be distributed June 13.

McDonald's also plans to file a registration statement with the Securities and Exchange Commission, effective after split shares are distributed, covering approximately 250,000 pre-split shares on behalf of certain stockholders.

The corporation has agreed in principle to acquire four outlets in Maine from a multiple outlet licensee. A new McDonald's outlet will soon get under construction in Novato.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC CO. stockholders have approved a corporate reorganization plan to form a holding company which would own the transportation company. They have also voted to merge Southern Pacific Co. into a new corporation, Southern Pacific Transportation Co. which will take over all activities now performed by Southern Pacific Co. Stockholders will hold the same amount of stock in the holding company they now hold in the transportation company.

GREEN GIANT CO., Minneapolis, and Spencer Packinc co., Spencer, Iowa, have agreed in principle on a merger of Spencer into Green Giant. Terms call for an exchange of common stock. Green Giant is traded on the New York Stock Exchange and Spencer common is traded over the counter.

PACIFIC SOUTHWEST AIRLINES and Adlaw Investment Co., Ltd. have discontinued their discussion on the purchase by PSA of the San Franciscan Hotel in San Francisco.

RESERVE OIL AND GAS CO. and Mohawk Petroleum Corp. have signed a definitive agreement to combine the two companies in an exchange of stock. Reserve will acquire the outstanding capital stock of Mohawk.

GENERAL BREWING CORP., San Francisco, plans to adopt the name "Lucky Breweries, Inc.," next month. The firm was known as Lucky Lager Brewing Co. from 1949 to 1963 when, as producer of the added Fisher and LaBatt's brands, it changed back to General Brewing Corp.

LONGS DRUG STORES, INC. has reported an 19 per cent increase in sales for the first fiscal quarter ended April 30. Sales for the three months were $30.8 million against $25.9 for the 1968 period. Directors have voted to increase the quarterly dividend from 11 cents to 13 cents per share, with the first increased dividend payable June 24.

INTERNATIONAL TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH CORP. has reported record world-wide sales and earnings for any first quarter in its 49-year history. Consolidated net income for the first three months of 1969 rose to $42 million, compared to $37 million in the like period of 1968. Earnings per share climbed from 52 cents last year to 59 cents. Consolidated sales and revenues reached $1.013 million from $937 million in the first quarter of 1968. Directors have declared a dividend of 23 and three-quarters cents per share on the common stock payable July 15.

SKAGGS PAYLESS DRUG STORES in the first quarter of 1969 increased net sales from last year's $16.2 million to $20.2 million, but net income dropped from 16 cents to 15 cents per share of outstanding common stock. PayLess Drug Store in San Rafael is not part of the Skaggs chain.

THE BEKINS CO. and Pierose Building Maintenance Co., Inc. have signed a formal merger contract in which Bekins will exchange up to 150,000 shares of its common stock for all the common stock of Pierose, which now becomes a wholly owned subsidiary.

Consumption Up

NEW YORK (UPI)—U.S. synthetic rubber consumption in 1969 is expected to reach 1.95 million long tons, compared with 1.85 million long tons in 1968, nearly a 5 per cent increase, according to the International Institute of Synthetic Rubber Producers.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

American Telephone Has New Reinvestment Plan

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I own 534 shares of American Telephone and am interested in your comments on the plan offered to shareholders for reinvestment of dividends. Should I continue, as in the past, banking my dividends at 5 per cent. From time to time, I could purchase 100 shares with the accumulated dividends. — E. E.

A. You would probably be better off financially to reinvest through the telephone plan. First of all, the commission costs to you would be substantially reduced and, second, you would be taking advantage of the compounding effect that continual reinvestment generates. However, without knowing the full particulars on any other holdings you might have, I could not venture an opinion on the wisdom of adding to this one issue. In this era of historically high interest rates, this new plan opens a sizable potential reservoir of untapped capital.

Q. A year ago I bought 300 shares of Lehigh Valley Industries, my first stock purchase. I do not need the money at present but partial retirement is not far off. Is the company sound and should it be held? — G. H.

A. In 1954, a new management group took control of an old-line company with an annual deficit running at about $1 million. Sale of coal mining properties and purchase of profitable businesses were undertaken simultaneously. Beginning with a tax loss of $35 million, management had whittled this to $15 million at the 1968 year end. Sales fall into four major categories: electrical and metalworking, 35 per cent; motivational marketing, 15 per cent; shoe manufacturing, 35 per cent, and textiles, 15 per cent.

AN EASY TECHNIQUE

Joy Gaterud, a technician at the Tile Council of America laboratories at Princeton, N. J., demonstrates the ease with which one may tackle a redecorating project with tile. Her task is made easier with a new process known as Dry-Set Mortar, a thin-set cement designed specifically for tile. (UPI Telephoto)

Stocks Drift Easier Despite News Scene

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks drifted easier today in the face of a mostly bearish economic news background and Communist denunciation of President Nixon's Vietnam peace plan. Trading was brisk.

At the seventeenth session of the Paris peace conference the Communists called Nixon's proposal "absurd," but chief U.S. negotiator Henry Cabot Lodge said they were at least considering it.

Meantime, the Commerce Department reported corporation profits in the March quarter registered their smallest quarterly gain in two years. It also reported a slower monthly rise in April's personal income compared to the previous month.

The UPI stock market indicator was off 0.02 per cent. Of the 1,582 issues traded, 700 declined and 630 advanced.

Northwest Industries edged higher among the mixed rails.

Piper was a firmer aircraft. Chris-Craft said it increased its offer for Piper shares. Chris-Craft also strengthened. Martin-Marietta and Grumman traded in small fractions and mostly on the easier side.

Capacity Good

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The Penn Central said this week its high speed metroliner trains carried 135,600 passengers to run at 80 per cent of capacity in the first four months of this year.

What You Don't Know About
OIL and GAS FUNDS
May Be Costing You Money

Particularly if you are in the middle to high income brackets. Oil and Gas Funds are speculative investments which offer one highly attractive feature — the same tax write-offs and depreciation allowances available to major oil companies.

A seminar on this little-known aspect of investing will be held in San Rafael, Monday, May 19, 8:00 p.m., Bank of Marin Building, 3rd Floor Conference Room.

Jack Phillip Investment Services, Petaluma, in affiliation with Bonner Bell Investment Services, Incorporated, Walnut Creek, are hosting the seminar. Reservations may be made by calling 479-5200 in San Rafael.

SPRING CLEAN-UP NOTICE
MARIN COUNTY RESIDENTS

Back yard burning terminates December 31, 1969.
Have you an accumulation of fire hazards —
Debris — Brush — Lumber
Combustible junk in storage areas

Is there adequate brush clearance around your home for fire protection?

Check with your local fire department before burning and then dispose of your accumulated combustibles before the critical fire season.

If combustible debris is not burned now, it will have to be hauled after December 31 when backyard burning terminates.

CONTEMPORARY MEDITERRANEAN VILLA

We are privileged to present one of the most distinctive and beautiful homes in San Rafael where man has vied with nature for superb effects, combining a level ½-acre with an unobstructed view and a 5000-sq.-ft. villa to bring you one of the finest marine pictures you will ever see. This magnificent home is only 2 years old and overlooks the bay and the San Rafael Canal, surrounded with terrazzo decks and balconies with wrought iron railings. The private driveway leads to a beautiful garden, with lawns, aggregate patios and a fountain. The entrance and reception hall are done in terrazzo, with a beautiful staircase and balustrade, 4 bedrooms, a family room, 4 bathrooms (all terrazzo floors), a study, family kitchen with too many features to describe, living room, formal dining room and a social room with a 15-ft. wet bar. This room you won't believe until you see it. We could go on and on describing this magnificent home. No cost has been spared in its construction, but seeing is believing. Forman Rips 'Racists' In The Church

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)—Introduced to the 181st assembly of the United Presbyterian Church as a "prophet of our time," black militant James Forman responded yesterday by denouncing the Christian Church as "white racists and a financial institution."

Forman, deputy director of the Students Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNC) and head of the national black economic development conference, has demanded $360 million in "reparations" from the Christian Church.

He appeared before the 3.2 million-member United Presbyterian Church Assembly with a leader of the "brown power" movement, Eleazar Risco, editor of the Los Angeles newspaper La Raza.

Forman told the Presbyterians he wanted more than $360 million and Risco demanded between $250,000 and $500,000, plus other financial demands that would cost millions of dollars.

The Presbyterians invited Forman and Risco to San Antonio and were reported to have paid their plane fares.

Church leaders promised an answer to their demands before the assembly ends next Thursday.

Several thousand Presbyterian leaders heard Forman and Risco. Forman said he interpreted the invitation to speak as a sign his demands were being taken seriously.

Summer Session Set For Tiburon Children

Summer session for pre-kindergarten age children will be held July 1-24 at the Little Lambs Nursery School, 9 Shepherd Way, Tiburon.

Classes will be held from 9 to 11:30 a.m. Tuesdays through Thursdays for the four-week period. Teachers will be Mrs. Duane W. Hallesy and Mrs. Charles Wetterman.

New Food Stamp Briefing Is Monday

The next-to-last briefing on the new food stamp program will be given Monday night at two locations in West Marin.

One will be at West Marin Elementary School auditorium, and the other at Tomales Elementary School library. Both briefings will be from 7 to 8:30 p.m.

By JOANNE GRANT

"Down at Tam everything is so tense it is unbelievable. You can sense when there is going to be trouble."

That is the assesemnt of senior Sue Peterson for whom a situation caused by a small number of younger black girls has become so unbearable she has left the high school to study at home.

Sue, who said she has several friends among the rest of the black student community, told her story in a letter to Supt. Chester G. Carlisle and members of the Tamalpais High School District board.

"I am a graduating B average student at Tamalpais High School," she wrote. "In all four years at Tam, I have been harassed by black girls. The most recent time was on Thursday, April 17. I went to the restroom between classes where I was verbally and physically attacked on my way out. I was then chased to my next class.

"Upon reporting this incident to the dean of girls, I was told to go to the back parking lot the next morning for 'safety precautions'. The following morning rocks were thrown at me, even until I reached the office.

"I have not attended school since, other than attempting to talk with the principal (Robert H. Prather). The principal's solutions to my problem were 'go to a different restroom, go to the library in the morning and at brunch, don't walk alone to class, avoid populated areas or transfer to Redwood'. In other words, run or seclude from places and things that are rightfully and equally open to me.

"As a conclusion, I feel that this trouble must stop. When I entered Tam, I came with an open mind; now I'm leaving unhappily with it closed.

"I have tried in every possible way to ignore these situations. Perhaps I would fight back physically but only if the odds weren't against me.

"This is the main reason that these girls still persist. They thrive on the white man's individual weakness. White girls walk away from trouble because they don't want to be involved. Nothing will be done about this until someone is seriously injured or killed," she ended.

Prather refused specific comment on the Peterson case. The matter will be brought to the Tamalpais High School District board Monday, he said, and he ethically could not comment on a matter pending before the board. If the board discusses the case it will probably be in closed session, Prather said.

He did say there "have been suspensions" in Miss Peterson's case, but did not elaborate.

He said there are several racial conflicts at Tamalpais every year, and suggested that Miss Peterson had over-reacted by withdrawing from the campus. Prather deplored the racial problems at the school, but said their incidence is minimal for a multiracial campus the size of Tamalpais.

Mary M. Baker, dean of girls at Tam, admitted such incidents do occur but "in other cases it usually irons itself out."

Miss Peterson didn't wait around to see if it would this time, as she remembered similar incidents in the past four years.

She could give no reason for the harrassment or why she was chosen instead of some other student. "Usually they pick people they know are going to talk back.

The problems follow a pattern, she explained in an interview in her Mill Valley home.

"Trouble always starts in hot weather," she said. It begins with verbal harrassment, then moves to kicking and pushing "and then finally the white people fight back."

It happens at the beginning and the end of the year, frequently at the attendance office "right under the nose of the authorities," she said.

Miss Peterson said she does have friends among the black students, mostly boys, and girls she was on the drill team with, but such friendships offer no insurance against problems.

She also noted that the troublemakers are a definite minority of the black students and are usually younger girls who have been in trouble previously.

School officials also searched for a reason for her harrassment, Miss Peterson reported.

One suggested the girls involved were jealous because she was friendly with some of the black boys, she said, while Prather said the ones involved were all mentally retarded.

Miss Peterson firmly disagreed with Prather's statement, although she has not been able to identify many of her attackers. She chose not to turn around when rocks were being hurled at her back and the back of a companion she had enlisted to walk her to class.

On jealousy, she said the attractive black girls are not the ones who cause trouble.

Her mother also was unable to figure out why Sue has been harrassed. About two years ago, a similar situation occurred with Sue's younger sister. It was much more understandable, said Mrs. Peterson, explaining the younger girl is extremely outspoken.

Mrs. Peterson said a meeting on Tam problems had been held recently at a Marin City church and suggested, "Maybe we will solve something if the community gets involved.

"I'm sure the black parents don't want it happening any more than we do," she said.

However, Mrs. Peterson pointed out, "It's so hard to get (Prather) to do anything." She and her daughter both hope something can be done.

Meanwhile, with shouts of "We're going to get you" ringing in her ears, Sue is finishing her senior year in the safety of her home.

Lagoon Transfer Bill Passed By Committee

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A bill to transfer jurisdiction over Bolinas Lagoon from the Bolinas Harbor District to the County of Marin won its first legislative test yesterday with a unanimous "do pass" recommendation by the Assembly Natural Resources and Conservation Committee.

But in an apparently unprecedented step, the committee amended the bill to require the county to come up with "a reasonable and workable plan" within three years to substantially improve, preserve and maintain the lagoon. Tideland grants traditionally provide 10 years to make improvements and have not contained planning deadlines.

The amendment came after Assemblyman Jesse M. Unruh, D-Los Angeles, objected that since the main objective of the county was to preserve the lagoon it simply should revert from the harbor district to the state.

The bill (AB 2295) was introduced by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, at the request of the Marin County Board of Supervisors after voters in the harbor district balloted in March to dissolve the district.

Thomas J. Barfield, a director of the harbor district, nevertheless urged the committee to bury Bagley's bill on the ground that the harbor district had not had a chance to complete its planning for improving the lagoon.

But Bagley countered that the committee did not need to get involved in a local dispute "that has been settled" by the March election dissolving the district.

The bill also provides that if the State Lands Commission does not accept the county's plan for the lagoon, then the lagoon grant will revert to the state.

The bill went to the ways and means committee before going to the Assembly floor.

Trio Arrested On Drug Charges

Two men and a woman, none giving Marin County addresses, were arrested by Novato police early today on suspicion of possession of marijuana and narcotics paraphernalia.

Booked into Marin County Jail and held in lieu of $625 bail were Laird Craig, 29, whose address was listed as Montpelier, Vt.; Diane Mary Juhr, 19, of Milwaukee, Ore., and George Seymour Riddle, 19, of Brea, Orange County.

They were to appear for arraignment in Marin Municipal Court this afternoon.

Novato police said they were arrested at 2:34 a.m. at highway 101 and Hill Road. Further details of the arrest were not available.

$12,000 Blaze To Apartments

Fire caused an estimated $12,000 damage last night to apartments on the top floor of u two-story frame building in downtown San Anselmo.

Two stores on the street floor of the building, at 8-10 Bank Street, escaped damage, firemen said.

The fire started shortly after 8:30 p.m. near a hot plate in one of the one-room apartments, firemen said. The name of the apartment occupant was unknown.

Firemen said a resident of another apartment, Jim Dayliss, suffered singed hair when he saw smoke coming from a second floor window and rushed inside to try to douse the blaze.

The room where the fire started suffered extensive damage while other apartments escaped with smoke and water damage. Two shops downstairs, Ten Bank Street Boutique and Viola's Beauty Salon, were not damadged.

Cause of the fire is unknown.

Cycle Leaves Road

Robert L. Hewett, 19, of 110 Scenic Road, Fairfax, was treated for bruises on the left arm at West Marin Medical Center yesterday after his motorcycle went off the road on a curve on the Shoreline Highway near Marshall at 12:30 p.m., the California Highway Patrol reported.

Alert Driver Helps Solve Auto Thefts

A radio broadcast and an alert woman helped solve three car thefts this week, San Rafael police reported.

Recovered were a car stolen Sunday from David Eiseman of 27 Woodland Avenue and two cars stolen Monday, one from Carlos Transmission of 585 Irwin Street, another from James D. Holmes of 13 Larch Drive, Petaluma.

The Holmes car was recovered by Stockton police, San Rafael police said.

The youth accused of taking the three cars, police said, is Robert Bruce Long, 16, of St. Vincent's School for Boys, Marinwood. Police found him in Juvenile Hall where he was sent by the California Highway Patrol Wednesday on suspicion of yet another car theft.

Police said the woman, whom they did not identify, was driving in Santa Venetia Sunday when she heard a KTIM broadcast describe the stolen Eiseman car. A moment later, she saw the car in front of her and followed it to a Santa Venetia house, police said.

She then notified sheriff's officers, who relayed the message to police. A patrolman learned from Santa Venetia residents yesterday that Long had visited a girl at the house — and that he was in Juvenile Hall for investigation of car theft.

Police questioning of Long at Juvenile Hall led to recovery of the three cars: Holmes's car in a Stockton alley, the Carlos Transmission car on Mission Avenue, and the Eiseman car in a used car lot at Grand Avenue and Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael.

The highway patrol arrested Long and two other teen-aged boys Wednesday in a car stolen from William E. Hildreth of Marinwood.

No Money Left To Fund Coffee House Program

The coffee house program at Terra Linda Recreation Center and the use of the drop-in room by church organizations were terminated last night by the Terra Linda Recreation and Park District directors.

The directors, headed by John A. Colistra, announced that the weekend coffee houses are eliminated effective immediately because of lack of funds to carry on an extensive summer program.

"We had hoped for a $1,200 summer teen program," said Director Cecelia Martz, finance committee chairman. "But without county help, we just can't do it."

On Wednesday, Mrs. Martz and youth program director George C. Croke appeared before the county Parks and Recreation Commission and pleaded unsuccessfully for $352 in "seed money" from the county

The Terra Linda Recreation and Park District directors also:

PANCAKES — Announced a pancake breakfast will be served by Scout Pack 67 from 9 to 11 a.m. tomorrow, and the swimming pool will open at 11 a.m.

POOL CHAIRS — Approved up to $200 fro purchase of deck chairs around the pool.

INDUCTED — Heard from recreation supervisor Stephen Anderson, hired May 1, that he will be inducted into the military service next week. Anderson said he would try to get a replacement from among his college classmates at San Francisco State College.

Edgington Girl's Condition Critical

The 9-year-old daughter of H. Joe Edgington, superintendent of the Reed School District, was reported in critical condition today in Marin General Hospital with injuries suffered when she tumbled off a bicycle.

Cynthia Edgington, of 20 Circle Drive, Tiburon, is being treated for a fractured skull and punctured ear drum, said her father.

Edgington said his daughter was riding on a bicycle driven by a friend on Hanfield Drive when the accident happened after school Tuesday. Cynthia is a student at Bel Aire School.

Motorcycle Stolen From Tiburon Man

Joseph Louis Ely of 34-B Circle Drive, Tiburon, reported to the sheriff's office Tuesday that someone had stolen his 1969 Honda motorcycle from his carport.

Officers said the cycle's license number is 754581.

SACRAMENTO ROUNDUP

Key Programs Gain Attention

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Gov. Ronald Reagan's key legislative proposals—including his $6.2 billion budget—are finally beginning to stir in the state Legislature.

The Assembly Ways and Means Committee was called into session today to put some more finishing touches on the budget bill, now slightly larger than when it was introduced.

The Senate Finance Committee also scheduled a meeting but not on the budget. That committee was wrestling with a series of bills.

It postponed action yesterday on a Democratic rival to Reagan's 10 per cent tax refund bill so they can be heard together, perhaps next week.

Reagan's annual attempt to change the method of selecting judges cleared the Finance Committee yesterday and moved to the Senate floor.

A constitutional amendment and companion bills, which cleared the Senate in two previous sessions but died in the then Democratic-controlled Assembly, establish commissions to screen possible bench appointees. The governor would make the final selections from a list of three.

The committee killed a rival plan by Sen. George Moscone, D-San Francisco, that would have given the judiciary a veto over any trial or appellate court appointee of a governor.

Earlier in the day, the Assembly denied Reagan's request for a two-term limit on the terms of governors. The constitutional amendment, needing 54 votes for approval, fell short ona 38-27 roll call.

Constitutional amendment proposals need approval of two-thirds of both Houses of the legislature.

Assemblyman Jess M. Unruh, D-Inglewood, said the people could simply vote a governor out of office when he became unpopular.

"The people themselves are quite competent to make that judgment," said Unruh, a possible 1970 challenger to an expected second term bid by Reagan.

"This is a sound measure to assure a reasonable continuation of good government while at the same time allowing new ideas to come along after a state interval," said Assemblyman Charles J. Conrad, R-Sherman Oaks, the plan's sponsor.

Reagan had sent the lawmakers a special message April 14 seeking approval of the measure and saying any governor should "step aside after eight years in office." This was taken as a hint that he expects to run for no more than a second term.

Reagan also asked in mid-April for legislation to allow the governor and lieutenant governor to be elected as a joint ticket after their separate selection in the primary.

A Conrad-authored proposed constitutional amendment to establish that system was defeated. It got only 40 of the 54 votes needed. Twenty-eight Assemblyman voted against it.

The lawmakers also defeated on a 42-18 vote a measure by Assemblyman L. E. Townsend, D-Torrance, that would have extended terms of state senators from four to six years and of Assemblyman from two to four years.

But the Assembly passed a bill by Assemblyman James A. Hayes, R-Long Beach, that would forbid a person from running for political office as an independent within a year after he was registered as a member of a political party.

Also the Senate Finance Committee yesterday defeated a resolution to designate a four-mile stretch of California 24 in Oakland the Martin Luther King Jr. Memorial Freeway in honor of the slain civil rights leader.

Sen. John G. Schmitz, R-Tustin, objected to naming the road after King, who he described as a "most controversial figure."

A bill pending in the Assembly would name the same stretch after Byron Rumford, a former Assemblyman who authored the state's open housing law.

Herpes-type Virus Implicated In Both Mononucleosis, Cancer

VAN DELLEN

Infectious mononucleosis is a common disease of children and young adults that strikes at any time of the year. Among college student, it is most prevalent in October and early spring. This may reflect the increased personal contracts at those times, justifying its nickname "kissing disease."

SOME EVIDENCE suggests that mono occurs frequently among children but is so mild that it is not recognized. This is why many adults have protective antibodies in their blood indicating a previous infection followed by immunity.

The disease varies from mild to severe. Most victims complain of sore throat and fatigue. The glands in the neck, back of the head, armpits, and groin enlarge. Fever usually is present.

But many internal changes ensue that are not visible. Almost all sufferers have liver involvement that escapes detection unless tests are done.

THE HEART, nervous system, bronchi, and skin may also be invaded by the causative virus. Changes in the blood and bone marrow occur and occasionally lead to the most serious complications.

The herpes-type viruses (EB virus) now thought to be the cause of mono, also are implicated in certain tumors (Burkitt lymphomas) of the lymph gland system, and cancer of the cervix and of the throat.

These disorders do not have too much in common but time will tell. The link to date is the discovery that victims of mono have protective antibodies against herpeslike viruses.

LEUKEMIA ALSO enters the picture in that persons with these antibodies may be protected from this blood disease. The National Cancer institute is now conducting a survey among 30,000 GIs of World War II who had mono to learn if any developed leukemia since then.

Almost everyone with mono recovers. When there is no fever, bed rest is not necessary. Those with severe manifestations and complications need the adrenal corticosteroids.

Insofar as bed rest is concerned a study of 131 persons showed that those who stayed in bed did not recover any faster than those who were up and about.

(Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

ALCOHOLIC NEURITIS

A reader writes: What are the symptoms of alcoholic neuritis? Can the condition be treated successfully?

REPLY

Pain, numbness, tingling, and muscle weakness are the most common manifestations of alcoholic neuritis. Treatment includes therapeutic doses of vitamin B complex, a nourishing diet, and no alcohol. Physical therapy utilizing massage, heat and whirlpool may restore muscle tone and strength. In severe cases, however, permanent nerve damage occurs and recovery never is complete.

HEAD PULSE: SEE DOCTOR

C. B. writes: A friend of mine says she can hear a heart beat in her head. Is this serious? She has had this sensation for three years. Lately sinking spells go along with it.

REPLY

When the pulse is felt in the head, a complete physical examination is in order because one of the vessels may be dilated or may be pressing on the skull or more solid portion of brain tissue. If this individual can hear the pulsation, the physician may also be able to detect it with a stethoscope.

COLD'S LONG NAME

A reader writes: What is nasopharyngitis?

REPLY

Inflammation of the nose and throat. It is a common upper respiratory infection.

Warrant Issued In Drug Probe

I-J Special Report

MARTINEZ — A bench warrant was ordered yesterday for former San Francisco policeman Richard Bergess when he and his attorney failed to appear in Contra Costa County Superior Court to plead to a charge that Bergess lit up a marijuana cigarette during a TV interview in his Walnut Creek home.

But Judge Martin E. Rothenberg withheld actual issuance of the warrant until Monday to allow Bergess or attorney Terence Hallinan to appear by then.

Bergess, widely known as Sergeant Sunshine, was fired from the San Francisco Police Department after lighting up a marijuana cigarette on the city hall steps last year.

Attorney Hired For Aid Program

A woman attorney from San Francisco was hired last night as assistant to James Kovacs, attorney in charge of the Marin County legal assistance program for low-income persons.

The appointment of Mrs. Cecelia Landon, who formerly worked in the San Francisco legal services program, was made by the board of the Marin Legal Aid Society, which administers the legal assistance program.

Mrs. Landon will receive an annual salary of $10,750. The funds were provided in a $50,000 grant received April 1 to continue the legal assistanct project.

The legal services office will move Monday from the Legal Aid Society headquarters at 1010 B Street in San Rafael to larger quarters in the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council multiservice center at 1327 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael.

In other business last night, the society board chose Lloyd Tunik as new president, Ronald Schenck as first vice president; Charlotte Stewart, second vice president; Helen Iles, secretary, and Robert Murphy as treasurer.

'64 Auto Taken

A 1964 aqua-colored Plymouth, license MKG 286, owned by Arild Litsheim of 45 Mercury Avenue, Tiburon, was stolen Wednesday night or yesterday from Oak Drive in San Rafael, police reported.

Dust spirals often whirl in from nearby hills to shroud Cairo.

Most Families Who Move, Trade Up Rather Than Down

By HARRY CRAFT

Whether a person's home is a house that he owns or an apartment that he rents, his reason for moving out of it is generally environmental.

This is particularly true in the case of home ownership. Two out of three families in this category change addresses because they want something better or larger, in another neighborhood, or smaller and cheaper — or simply because they have been renting and want to own the place they live in.

By far the great majority of these families trade up, not down.

Only one in six homeowning families moves for job-related reasons, compared with one in four families that rent.

And contrary to popular belief, only a few homeowners (7 per cent) move because a change in the family status requires it. Apartment dwellers are much more mobile because of job or family related reasons.

In Marin County, 71 per cent of the families own their own homes. Many are good homes — the best their mortgage money can buy. You will find them in well-planned subdivisions, some near golf courses or the water. One in six families has a swimming pool.

While new home construction here as elsewhere is still lagging behind the boom years it has picked up appreciably. And existing homes in excellent condition are still available in most residential areas of the county. The coming week is being pinpointed as a time to focus attention on these opportunities to buy.

Members of the Marin County Real Estate Board have prepared for it by screening their listings for the most desirable locations. And as we approach the season of heaviest moving activity, it will pay you to investigate the current market for new offerings.

Take It Easy On Waxing

When applying wax to floors, furniture and paneling most housekeepers make the mistake of applying it too liberally. This makes the wax hard to buff and results in a comparatively soft finish which is more likely to pick up dirt. For the toughest finish and the highest luster, wax should always be applied sparingly in thin layers. Allow to dry for about 20 minutes, then buff to the luster desired. For best results buff twice — once lightly and the second time with more pressure and preferably with a second cloth.

Ownership—
Foundation of the Nation

REALTOR® A professional in real estate who subscribes to a strict code of ethics as a member of the local and state boards and of the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

Ownership Foundation Of Nation

"Home Ownership — Foundation of the Nation" has been selected as the theme of Realtor Week, May 18-24.

The 713 members and associate members of the Marin County Real Estate Board are joining with more than 87,000 Realtors throughout the nation in community-wide observances and activities directing attention to the professional services they render and their efforts to help solve the major problems of our cities and towns.

Home ownership is enjoyed by more than two-thirds of the families across the nation, according to Robert A. Roumiguiere, president of the Marin board. It is a record of home ownership matched by few other countries of the world, he said, but it can become an even greater boon as it is extended to increasing numbers of low-income families through special programs and efforts.

Roumiguiere defined the term "Realtor" as applying only to a member of the National Association of Real Estate Boards and one of its more than 1,550 local boards. He said that under the Realtor's code of ethics he is pledged to keep the interests of both the buyer and seller uppermost in his mind during a transaction.

"Realtor" is capitalized because it is a service mark (trademark) registered in the U.S. Patent Office, Roumiguiere said.

How To Buy If You're On The Move

Maybe you are facing this problem: You are relatively mobile, and often move from city to city because of the demands of your job. Now you find yourself in a new town and you don't want to rent an apartment but you can't find a satisfactory horse to rent.

At this point, you are probably thinking of buying a house for a short period of time. If you are toying with this prospect, it will pay you to follow these pointers for the short-term home buyer.

Study the market, find out the type of house that sells quickly in the area. Buy the house that is most popular in design, size and location. The market demand, not your personal tastes, should determine your selection.

Purchase a house that doesn't require repairs or major renovation. A little redecorating is fine, but make only a minimum of improvements because you may not get back all of your investment.

Remember that the ability to resell is usually based on the terms of the loan. Check out all avenues of financing, and choose the one most applicable to your situation.

Roses Are Choice For Longer Color

One reason the rose is high on the most-liked list of garden flowers to improve the outdoor appearance of the home, is that it gives gardens color from June into October and even longer, in some areas.

Even the novice gardener can have a steady supply of insect-free roses, either in the garden or as cut flowers indoors throughout this long season.

There are two keys to success with roses: cutting and spraying.

Knowing where to cut a rose flower is the secret of continuous bloom. On the flower stem you will see both three-and five-leaflet leaves. Cut the stem a quarter of an inch above any of the five-leaflet leaves. A new flower-producing shoot will emerge from the point of leaf and stem. In less than six weeks you will have another flower.

Of course, for longer in-home enjoyment of cut roses, cut the flower before it is fully open.

To insure insect-free roses, entomologists recommend spraying on a regular basis — every seven to fourteen days during the growing season.

There are a number of different kinds of insects found on roses during the growing season — which takes in spring, summer and fall.

Accountant Is Important Consultant In Home Hunt

International Accountants Society, Inc., of Chicago suggests 10 questions to ask your accountant before buying a new home:

1. Do I have enough money to "get into" a new home (down payment, closing costs, moving expenses)?

2. Can I manage the carrying charges — amortization and interest, taxes, and insurance — compared with my present housing costs?

3. Can my income support the "hidden" costs (maintenance, commutation, utilities, etc.)?

4. What type of mortgage is best for me and how long a period should it span in order to realize the best financial advantages?

5. Should I make as large a down payment as possible in order to reduce interest costs or can my money earn more elsewhere if I make a minimum down payment and invest the difference?

6. Is there any difference in the cost if I purchase my home at different times of the year?

7. Is the financial condition of my real estate subdivider or contractor strong enough to complete special assessment improvements or make good on building defects?

8. What tax advantage will the purchase of a new home give me?

9. What affect will the purchase of a new home have on my personal estate?

10. If I need improvement in a re-sale home, what is the best way to finance it?

New Force Working On Problems

The Make America Better Program of the National Association of Real Estate Boards in just one year after its adoption in 1968 has become a potent force in social and economic improvement, according to Robert A. Roumiguiere, president of the Marin County Real Estate Board, in a Realtor Week statement.

Roumiguiere said that scores of the 1,550 boards throughout the nation have adopted Make America Better projects designed to help solve the major problems of America's cities and towns.

These projects range from "Light the Night" anticrime campaigns, to building housing for the poor, to activities on behalf of young people, to legislative drives which propose to right some of the wrongs in our taxing system.

Locally, the Make America Better Committee has been working with the Ecumenical Association for Housing in Marin County, to establish low-cost housing in the County for citizens of Marin. Chairman of this Committee is Lorraine Curley of San Rafael.

The range of activities is wide, Roumiguiere said, pointing out that the national program has six major objectives and 43 proposals for action.

One small board in Texas gave a plot of ground so that vocational students in the town could build a house as an educational project.

The Eau Claire, Wis., board built rent supplemtn apartments for the elderly. Real estate boards in scores of cities are building or rehabilitating housing for the disadvantaged families.

"We are not so presumptuous as to believe we can accomplish these goals all by ourselves," he said. "We offer cooperation, we offer leadership, and we offer a plan which already has proved itself in just one year.

"Realtors of America recognize that we must do more — much more — than wring our hands and shift the blame. So we adopted a positive program through which concerned citizens can work to build a better union.

"Are Mortgage Interest Rates Too High?"

by Tom B. Scott, Jr., President
United States Savings and Loan League

We have all read a number of stories decrying the "high price of mortgage money"; pitying the overburdened home purchaser; and complaining about "cold financial institutions." But did you ever read a story about the "neglected savers"?

We want to make a case for the savers. After all, it is their savings which make it possible for the people of the United States to have such a high standard of housing. It is their savings which make it possible for us to have one of the world's lowest mortgage interest rates. It is their savings which have enabled private enterprise to provide housing in fantastic quantities.

But do you ever read an article to the effect that the saver is entitled to a higher return on his money? No, the role of the saver in our economy is overlooked.

After all, it takes the savings of four savers to provide a borrower with the money he needs to buy a home for himself and his family.

Actually, the saver is getting a break in these days of tight money. The earnings have gone up on their savings funds because loanable funds are in short supply. Like any commodity, the price we pay for money goes up as it gets scarce, one of the unforeseen benefits to savers.

Our opinion is that the 44 million savers who save at savings and loans should receive a reasonable return on their savings.

We are just as firm in our belief that our own 10 million borrowers should be charged a reasonable interest rate on loans.

Let's look at the borrowers' side. Most savings and loan association borrowers are still paying rates which were prevalent before the current tight money market. In 1968 the average interest rate being paid by all borrowers on all outstanding mortgages held by savings and loan associations was around 6.01%.

Even the borrowers who are financing their homes with savings and loan mortgages in the current tight money market are getting a bargain. The average interest rate paid on mortgages by borrowers at savings and loan associations on new and existing homes during 1968 was 6.90%.

This is less interest than some nationally known corporations are paying to borrow money. As you may know, Aa Utility bonds are considered a yardstick for bond buying and often indicate the trend. Right now Aa Utility bonds which are optionally callable average 7.55% and the five-year callable bonds are now averaging 7.35%.

Specifically, on March 11, a $150 million bond issue by Aaa-rated New York Telephone Company of AT&T cost them 7.47%.

Closer to home, most people borrowing to pay for a car are now paying around 18% true interest.

So you see that, compared to those who borrow for other purposes, the man who borrows for a home is being charged a reasonable interest rate. And the four savers whose money he is using to buy the home are receiving a fair "wage" for their dollars.

We believe it is important to tell this story of the unappreciated savers. This explanation will provide the facts for those who don't know, don't remember, or don't care where their money for home loans comes from. Unfortunately, the uninformed are prone to think it is cash from "heartless corporations," "soulless lending institutions," etc. They never consider that it is the saver (although many are savers themselves) whose labor, denials, and prudent money-management accumulate the dollars to make such loans possible.

So, let's give some tribute—and fair profit—to the people who own the over 100 million savings accounts held by all types of financial institutions in the United States—the people whose important role is too often overlooked.

Homemakers can improve their cooking and save on fuel bills by following a few basic guidelines.

First, the high flame should be used sparingly in most food preparation. While it is true that foods will cook faster with a high flame, more heat will not raise the boiling temperature of water.

In fact, turbulent boiling over a high flame creates steam in the kitchen and often cooks away flavor and nutrients. When frying, too much heat can make foods scorch and burn.

The flame should not extend beyond the bottom of the pan, as the extra heat merely warms the panhandle and the kitchen. The gas flame can be tailored to hug the contours of any size utensil.

Where liquid is added in vegetable cookery, it is better to use a minimal amount of water. Some vitamins and other nutrients are lost in the cooking water if it is drained off and discarded. Frozen vegetables need little additional water for cooking since they contain considerable moisture.

It's Work To Get A Good Finish

A simple but effective finish on bare wood is sometimes called an "elbow-grease" finish. That's because the beauty of the finish depends almost entirely on how much work you put into it.

The finishing material is a mixture of two products with which you are familiar — turpentine and linseed oil. There are several theories on how much turpentine and how much linseed oil should be used in the mixture. The most popular is two parts of linseed oil to one of turpentine.

The finish must be applied to either new wood or old wood from which the paint or varnish has been removed. It will be a clear finish, allowing the grain of the wood to show through, but it will make the wood slightly darker than it naturally is. Buy a good quality turpentine and the type of linseed oil called "boiled."

Apply the mixture with a cloth or a dry, clean brush. As soon as it has been applied, go over the wood with a dry cloth, removing all the excess oil. Do not rub, just run the cloth over the wood so that the excess oil is picked up.

After about half an hour, take another dry cloth and start rubbing. You cannot rub too long or too hard. If you get tired, put the cloth down and come back to it a while later.

Wait a week and give the wood another dry-cloth rubdown. And the week after that, do the same thing. What you are doing with all this rubbing is hastening the development of a satin finish that wood ordinarily gets only after many years of tender care.

The finish can be given new life every year or two with the same mixture and same rubbing

It's Risky Using Long Ladder Alone

Insurance records show that most accidents with outside ladders around the home are caused by a lack of knowledge of the fundamentals of safety. You can eliminate or reduce the chance of an accident by remembering these things:

1. Whenever possible, have someone assist you in raising a long ladder against the side of a house.

2. When it is absolutely necessary to raise the ladder without help, push the base of it against the foundation of the house. Move back to the top of the ladder and raise it to the level of your eyes. Maneuver yourself under it, grab one of the rungs with both hands and walk forward slowly, moving your hands from rung to rung as you walk toward the house foundation. When the top is against the house, move out the base a few feet to get the ladder in proper position.

3. The distance from the foot of the ladder to the bottom of the house should be one-fourth the height of the ladder.

4. When on the ladder, work with one hand while holding on with the other. You're looking for an accident when you reach out too far. This is true even when you are using one of the gadgets that enables the top of the ladder to be attached to the house.

Take Care On Applying Of Lacquer

Professional wood finishers generally use lacquer with a spraying machine. But most do-it-yourselfers do not have the equipment to apply lacquer in this manner. They either purchase it in a pressure container, which permits use of the spraying technique, or they buy and use the ordinary brushing lacquer that comes in a can.

Applying lacquer with a brush requires a certain amount of care, since this finishing material dries so quickly. Because of this quality, the lacquer must be spread quickly and surely. Once you have reached a second area of the surface, the first area has begun to dry. You cannot, therefore, go back and attempt to repair any segment which does not meet with your approval. If you do, a patched-up appearance is inevitable. It is better to wait until the entire surface has dried thoroughly, sand it lightly and then give it a second coat — repeating the procedure a third time if necessary.

A common mistake with lacquer is to use it just as it comes from the can. Applied in this manner, lacquer is difficult to use. It does not spread easily and it often does not dry properly. Lacquer thinner should always be mixed with the lacquer before applying. A 50-50 mixture is recommended for the beginner. After becoming accustomed to the use of lacquer, it is easy to determine what proportions of lacquer should be used for each particular project.

SOON TO BE CONSTRUCTED

Designed by D. Hugh Coleman, this three-elevation home to be built in Meadowland, west of Fairfax, will be available with either three or four bedrooms. Other features are patio area off the dining room, two decks off the bedrooms, cathedral living room and all-electric kitchen. Homes in Meadowland, a development of Matt Farr and Associates, are cluster-built or free standing, depending on lot size and terrain.

"See, Mrs. Smedley, I told you there's an Oak Floor underneath."

Most home buyers insist on Oak Floors, even with wall-to-wall carpeting. This enables them to change their room decoration to accent rugs when the carpeting gets worn and shabby, or needs replacement as a result of damage. Oak floors also insure higher resale values . . . make homes more salable than ones with carpeting laid directly over concrete or plywood.

Rather than furnish carpeting with your homes, doesn't it make more sense to provide a permanent floor of solid Oak and let the owners choose their own floor covering . . . in colors to match their furnishings and personal tastes?

Both you and the buyer come out ahead when you use Oak floors in your homes and apartments. Think it over.

Personal Inspection Needed In New Interstate Land Law

The new law which requires many interstate land sellers to register with the federal government does not lessen the need for personal inspection of any property being considered for purchase, according to Robert A. Roumiguiere, president of the Marin County Board of Realtors advised today.

Roumiguiere said that under regulations implementing the Interstate Land Sales Full Disclosure Act, sellers of 50 or more unimproved lots must, in most cases, file a detailed statement of record or registration statement with the newly formed Office of Interstate Land Sales Registration in the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

"It is important for would-be purchasers to realize that this new law is designed to be a disclosure statute, and nothing more," Roumiguiere said.

"There is a tendency on the part of the public to assume that because the federal government agency has cleared a registration statement, the judgment of the government is that the property for sale is reasonably priced. This is erroneous."

The new law merely assures that the purchaser has all the facts about the property available to him before he enters into a transaction. It is still the responsibility of the buyer to study the data and make his decision accordingly.

"We members of the National Association of Real Estate Boards have for years advised property buyers to inspect personally any land they are considering buying," Roumiguiere commented.

"What is more, this advice is just as valid now, even with the new full disclosure law in effect, as it ever was. The success of the new Interstate Land Sales Full Disclosure Act as another consumer protection law will depend on the restraint exercised by developers, the government's land sales registration office, and the public.

"The best assurance for the buyer that he is getting his money's worth in any real estate transaction, however, is personally to inspect the property and to confer with a professional in real estate.

Professional Decorator Says Designer Is Needed

Every now and then in the life of the homeowner comes the big question. Should a professional designer be called in to deal with the decorating.

"The truth is, the facts speak for themselves," says La Verne Neil, an interior expert of Cleveland. "A designer's assistance will save money and time and insure that your personality is expressed in the best of taste."

Time is saved, she says, because a professional can go to the heart of the problem. He knows where to find that elusive gilded bird cage or just the right silk for draperies. He knows the field and doesn't waste hours searching for furniture or materials.

A professional also has a knack with saving money. For one thing, says Miss Neil, he is not apt to fall prey to bargains that in the end, are nothing more than a mistake. And designers make their profit, at least those who are retained without fee, by buying times at wholesale and selling to their customers at the retail price.

Cooking With Gas Is Going To Be Changed

Speedy and convenient as the gas appliances of today are, they will within the next decade be regarded as awkward and poky as we now think of the horse and wagon.

For example, designers are working on plans for an automatic dish-maker. This device would produce inexpensive, disposable dishes for every meal.

The dishes would be formed from plastic sheets by gas heat then stored in the appliance's cabinet section until needed. Thus, the homemaker may look forward someday to being rid of dishwashing, drying or shelving chores.

Gas appliances will be portable in homes of tomorrow. There are, in fact, coupling links already on the market. These enable one to hook portable barbecue sets, for example, to patio gas line extensions.

The gas range of the future, at least as one manufacturer plans it, will have a single, flat translucent cooking surface. It may be disconnected quickly and wheeled to another area, such as the dining room or patio. Food will come from the freezer to the table ready to eat in a matter of minutes after gas cooking.

Gas heating and air conditioning units will be combined with air circulation panels to provide year-round climate control, according to the designers. Many of the wall panels will have built-in filters to reduce indoor pollen and dust counts, just as today's gas central heating and cooling systems do.

Wherever nighttime temperatures limit outdoor living, radiant heaters will keep patios and play areas warm enough for use twelve months of the year. Some heaters like this are already in use.

Remote controls may be added to appliances enabling housewives to dial cooking and washing instructions to their kitchens from any point in the house or, possibly, even from a telephone booth at the supermarket.

Now Redecorating Is A Pleasure

Moving into a new home or thinking of redecorating your present home? Smile! The home furnishings industry has made redecorating a pleasure, what with all the new finishes, fabrics, textures and exciting styles and designs.

First things to do, before you shop for furnishings, wallcoverings, draperies and floor coverings is to make a master plan.

Consider the needs of your family so when you review the uses of each room you'll know what it will have to do. A living room, for example, may range in activities all the way from special entertaining and large gatherings to a haven for peaceful reading.

Then, too, think of how you want the rooms to look. Do you want a reflection of interests and travels? And consider the interests of others in your family as well. And along with this, think of the maintenance and care needed.

Your next step, before shopping, is to draw a simple plan of each room. This is easy. Draw the shape of the room, square or rectangular, and have one quarter of an inch equal one foot of the actual room. A room that is 12 feet long then would be represented by three inches on the plan. Mark the locations of window, doors, heating units, electrical outlets and other physical qualities such as a fireplace.

Then draw little squares and circles on a separate sheet of paper. Cut them out. Use them as symbols of your furniture, tables and lamps. The professionals refer to them as templates and use them in planning furniture placement.

When you begin furniture placement, remember that some rooms may have a natural point of interest which is the center of attraction. This may be an unusual window setting or architectural treatment or a fireplace. If you have such points of interest in your rooms, work your furnishings around them.

If you are going to create a local point, then it is wise to work it around a large piece of furniture such as a piano or sofa, or a grouping of matching chairs, a collection of paintings or sculpture exhibit.

Place your furniture —the smaller pieces around the point of interest. Finally, study the remaining areas of the room and use them for locating desks, chests, side tables, or storage units.

You may wish to move the smaller items around several times until they are "just right" in their location. Your last pieces will be the accessories such as ceramics, ashtrays, pillows, small lamps, paintings and books.

After you have studied your floor plans, review them with your family. Be sure in each case that the rooms have areas for movement and that they don't have a cluttered appearance.

Mark the locations of the furniture on your plan and take it with you when you shop. Also note the height of your ceilings. This is important so you will buy furniture in scale with the size of each room. Smaller scale furnishings for short, narrow rooms, and of course, more massive pieces in rooms that are deep, wide and spacious.

NEWLY COMPLETED IN TERRA LINDA

Located on an oak-strewn hillside at 1060 Lea Drive, this five-bedroom, four-bath home offered by Kenney Homes has not yet been given the landscape gardener's touch. Its 2,687 square feet of living area includes a two-story living room, formal dining room, large family room and electric kitchen.

Five-step Sanitation Plan Is A Big Help Around Home

Garbage!

It's not a pleasant word or a pleasant subject but the handling of everyday household refuse — better known as garbage — is the key to better sanitation.

By following a simple five-step home sanitation program, every householder can contribute substantially to a safer, more comfortable home, as well as an attractive and healthier community.

1. Provide and use proper refuse containers. Garbage cans should be (a) watertight; (b) equipped with a close-fitting cover; (c) rust-resistant; (d) rat-proof and fire-resistant; (e) structurally strong to withstand handling stress; (f) easily filled, emptied and cleaned; (g) of a size that when full can be conveniently handled by one man; (h) furnished with side handles or a bail.

The conventional galvanized steel garbage can with a recessed bottom most nearly fits these specifications set forth by the U.S. Public Health Service. For home use, the maximum size should be 30 gallons.

2. Maintain the containers in safe and sanitary condition Rinse the cans out periodically with soap and water and spray with an insecticide to prevent odors and to keep away flies and insects. Replace cans and/or covers when they become worn and damaged.

3. Drain and wrap garbage before storing in refuse cans. If you do not have a food waste disposer, the most desirable way to handle household garbage is to drain and wrap it in several thicknesses of newspaper before placing it into a garbage can. This practice prevents fly production, keeps the container clean, reduces offensive odors, and prolongs the container's usefulness.

4. Remove trash from yard, basement or attic regularly and set it out for collection. Keeping premises clean will assure greater protection from disease, accident, fire and vermin. Rubbish in the form of paper, paint cans, bottles, lumber and packing cases not only presents a fire hazard but it often provides harborage for rats and other pests.

5. Place containers in right place at right time. It is advisable to keep containers on stands, at least one foot off the ground, where collections are made from alleys. This will protect containers from damage, from being upset by stray animals and from rusting out. You can also use a single post, with hooks, for hanging garbage cans by handle or bail.

Where collections are made from basements, porches or sidewalks, place the containers where the local rules require at the appointed time.

If refuse cans are in public view, decorate them with acrylic paint or large decals.

STACKED APPLIANCES TAKE LESS SPACE

A no-vent dryer feature in stacked pairs of washers-dryers passes the moisture-laden air over a cooling condenser, removes the moisture and disposes of it by draining through the plumbing system for the washer. The stacked pair takes up only 27 inches of floor space.

Keep Tools Handy

Home mechanics who like to keep their tools mounted on wall brackets near the workbench are often at a loss when trying to decide how to hang an electric drill. One of the easiest ways is to insert a screweye in the chuck of the drill, then tighten this securely, with the loop sticking out. The drill can then be hung up by hooking the loop of the screweye over a nail, or over a straight hook.

Drill Press Popular Now For Home Worker

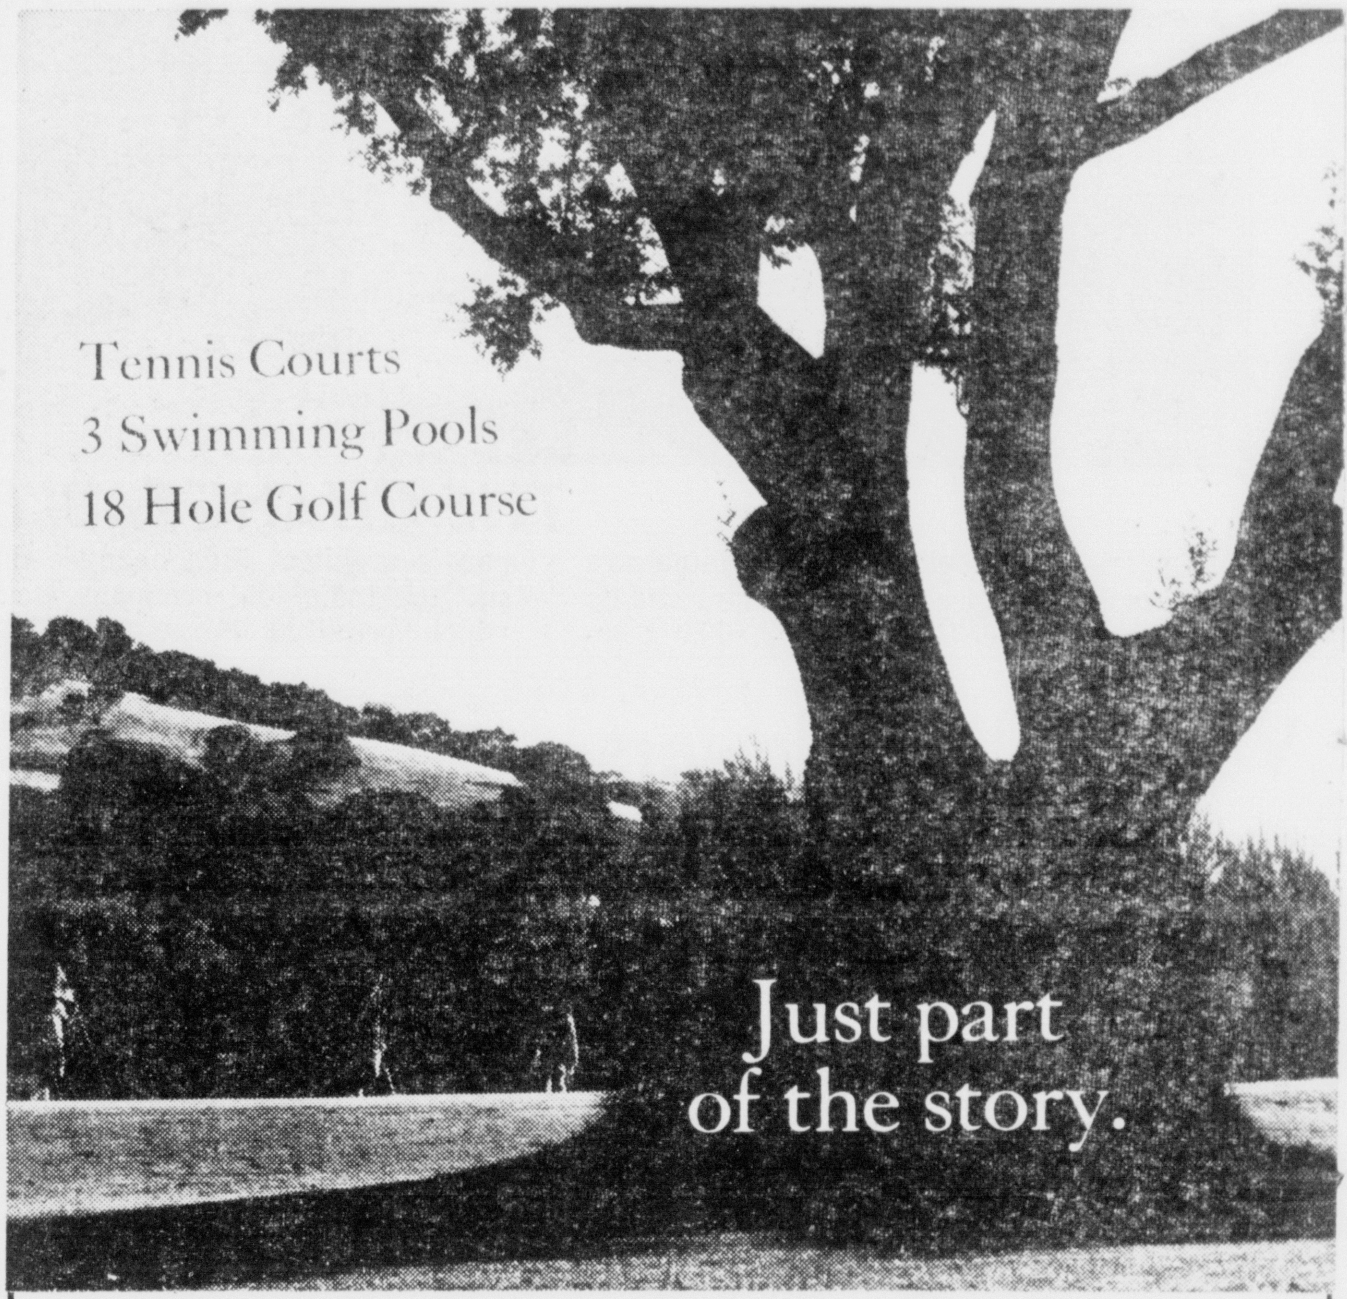
It is possible to attain a high degree of proficiency with a portable electric drill, but nothing equals the drill press for precision drilling. It disadvantage is that, unlike the portable machine, the material to be worked on must be brought to the drill.

Professional workers find it necessary to have both the portable and stationary types to utilize the assets of each. The sales figures show that more and more home handymen are doing the same thing.

In the purchase of a drill press, the first determination is the size and type you want. The size rating is indicated in inches. A 12-inch press means that the machine will work to the center of a 12-inch circle. And so on.

The general types are bench and floor. The bench model can be attached to the top of a work table or to a separate stand. The floor model, as the name makes plain, is placed directly on the floor in any place desired.

When wood is being drilled, chips on the underside can be avoided by placing a piece of scrap wood under the stock. A tilting arrangement permits holes to be drilled at various angles.



The rest is a story of a quiet valley spotted with rambling country homes. The golf, the tennis, the swimming are just part of the many social activities that center around the country club: Marin Golf & Country Club, which, by the way, is the focal point in our valley. The homes, Marin Golf & Country Club Estates, start out where the country club leaves off. They offer charm in great surroundings. Care is taken to preserve this appeal. Items like underground utilities and rough hewn redwood and stone fronts blend these homes into their natural setting. They're sprawling homes with such features as separate family rooms, Caloric double ovens, and perimeter heating. Visit us today, homes are now ready for inspection and selection from $38,700 to $48,700. A nominal deposit will assure the choice of your custom home and homesite.

THE CHANGEABLE HOME

Buyers at Peacock Crest, San Rafael are invited to discuss special family requirements with Boise Cascade Building Co. The company's architect then changes the model to suit the individual occupant. Boise Cascade, which acquired Perma-Bilt Enterprises in 1966, more than doubled its new home sales during the first quarter of 1969, compared with last year.

Vegetables, Flowers Can Grow Together

There is really no good reason why flowers should be grown in one bed and vegetables in rows nearby. The vegetables will taste just as delicious and the garden may look prettier if both are grown in the same beds. Try a few vegetables in with the flowers and see if you don't agree.

For instance, plant a row or groups of rhubarb chard with its deep crimson stems and leaf midriffs as a background for petunias of the same coloring as the chard stems.

Or try three plants of purplehead cauliflower to a group, evenly spaced with tall-growing yellow Zenith zinnias behind them and California poppies or Yellow Pygmy marigolds in front.

Plan a subtle color scheme with green peppers evenly spaced and groups of Sunset cosmos sown between the peppers. Even when the pepper fruits turn red the cosmos blooms will blend with them.

SIZE CAN BE CHANGED — This version of the family room in a Peacock Crest home of Boise Cascade Corp. has a game table, bar, desk and music system, and a pass-through makes it easy to serve snacks from the adjoining kitchen, but other features can be added in the company's custom-change plan.

MARINITES STRIKE GOLD

. . . and they'll share with you

If you're looking for a home away from home, just 2½ hours from Marin, nestled in the Mother Lode country, 3,500 ft. above the lowland heat and below the snow line so that you can enjoy it the year round, you're looking for Canyon View Ranch.

Three Marin businessmen discovered this nugget that glistens with the restful serenity of Sierra living. Canyon View Ranch, on the Ebbetts Pass Road (Highway 4) affords breathtaking mountain views, musical mountain streams, the quiet dignity of the mountain forest — yet, hunting, fishing, boating, swimming, golf and riding are just ten minutes away. In 25 minutes you are in Bear Valley — the closest major skiing area to Marin.

There are now a limited number of sites available. Paved roads and utilities are in. You buy direct from the owners who prefer to sell to Marin people (and for the present this offer is not being made elsewhere). Comparative study shows that sites, improvements, cost and financing are not being equaled in this area. Sites start at $4400. Financing Available. Pay as little as $60 per month. For additional information contact:

Require More Space? Clean Up The Garage

Garage getting you down? If your garage is good for nothing — including the family car — organize a family clean-up team and see how effective a garage can be.

1. Be daring with your throw-away operation. You'll be surprised how many products you intended to use are too old to be efficient or have evaporated in cans or bottles.

2. Make a clean sweep of the garage with the biggest broom you can find. Use a shovel for a dustpan.

3. After the sweep-up, mop the floor with a pine oil cleaner—disinfectant. This treatment degreases, disinfects and deodorizes all at once. Then use the hose. Remember to hose down after sweeping—if you use the hose before you've swept up, you'll have mud puddles from the dust and dirt.

4. Short or hanging up the car, get as many items off the garage floor as possible.

5. Organize with pegboard. Hang garden equipment from hooks, add shelves for paints, patio and garden products, car cleaning equipment and outdoor gear.

6. Spray storage hint: Hang up a shoebag for your aerosol products. That way they'll be easy to see and get to.

7. If the garage is still overcrowded after you organize, consider storing some necessary items in the attic. Garages are often damp and if there is anything which could be damaged by mildew, move it upstairs.

8. Be sure your garage smells as clean as it looks. After the clean-up, spray the garage with a pine disinfectant spray. Admire your handiwork and your pine-clean garage, now efficient as well.

There Are Different Ways To Mix In Applying Shellac

Anyone who has ever used shellac as it comes out of the container has probably regretted his selection of this ancient finishing material.

The secret to getting a good result with shellac is in the thinning, which is done with denatured alcohol. For most ordinary work, use two parts of shellac to one part of alcohol. For floors, a 50-50 mixture is fine. When the directions calls for a thin or "wash" coat of shellac, use two parts of denatured alcohol to one part of shellac.

Professional woodworkers all have their own favorites when it comes to mixtures of shellac and alcohol. After you have used shellac a few times, you probably will come up with your own pet formula. The big DON'T for beginners is: Don't make the common mistake of using too much shellac.

To prevent a clouded or whitened finish, don't apply shellac when high humidity is present. It also is important that any wax or oil remaining on the old finish be thoroughly removed before the shellac is applied.
